1,400 Sheep Die Near Test Site

ANTELOPE VALLEY, Utah (UPI)—A team of experts from the Atomic Energy Commission and biologists from the University of Utah joined forces today to try to determine what killed more than 1,400 sheep in two days.

"They're still dying," said Millard County Deputy Sheriff Merlin Jackson.

"A couple of them had just a little blood from the nose. None of them was dying with pain. None of them was kicking. No pain, no nothing. They just lay down and died peacefully," he said.

The deaths occurred about 180 miles northeast of the Nevada nuclear test site, where the AEC detonated a series of underground nuclear explosions in December. Radiation from two of the blasts escaped and spread fallout as far north as the Canadian border.

Based on a report by State Veterinarian James F. Schoenfeld, Gov. Calvin L. Rampton said Thursday night the possibility radiation caused the sheeps' death was remote, but not entirely ruled out.

The federally owned rangeland where the sheep deaths occurred also is 150 miles southwest of the Dugway Proving Ground area, where 6,400 sheep were killed in 1968 by nerve gas released in an Army test. But a spokesman at the Pentagon in Washington said the army has not tested toxic agents in open air at Dugway since 1969, when Congress banned such tests without permission. A spokesman at Dugway also said no tests were conducted.

In Las Vegas an AEC spokesman said a "trace" of radiation was found in melted snow in the area where the latest sheep kill was discovered Thursday morning. Radiation also was found in "forced air samples" taken after the tests, the AEC spokesman said.

A spokesman for Rampton said Antelope Valley is a winter range area. Reports from the scene said recent warm weather melted the snow cover and exposed the ground.

At last report, sheep in the area still were dying. The first indication of the deaths came Thursday morning when about 1,000 carcasses were found on the range.

After returning from the site, Schoenfeld, the state veterinarian, said: "My best opinion is that the sheep died from something they ate." He added there was no danger to any persons living in the area.

Biologists, veterinarians, law enforcement officials and the team from the AEC converged on Antelope Valley, south of Garrison, to try to learn the exact cause of the deaths.

Schoenfeld performed autopsies on several of the carcasses and obtained samples of vital organs and body fluids for further laboratory analysis.

The AEC sent its team to observe the carcasses and make tests and measurements of possible radiation.

An aide to U.S. Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, said recent measurements in the area showed no abnormal levels of radioactive material on the ground or in milk samples.

Also sent to the scene by the governor was Dr. Robert Pendleton, a radiation expert and biologst from the University of Utah.

SOME OPTIMISM EMERGES ON OIL

As the massive campaign to clean up Monday's oil spill entered its fifth day today, there was a spirit of organization about the effort and a cautious optimism emerging.

Standard Oil Co., owner of the two tankers which collided early Monday morning in heavy fog in San Francisco Bay, causing the oil spill, was directing the operation, manning masses of equipment and supervising hundreds of volunteers.

The company reported today that of the 840,000 gallons spilled, 336,000 is back in the Richmond refinery. This does not include, a company spokesman said, the oil that has been collected on beaches by shoveling it up or soaking it with straw.

The Coast Guard said on Monday that that spillage could run between 500,000 and 1,000,000 gallons and yesterday said that no information was available to confirm or contradict Standard Oil's figures.

The huge spill of bunker oil (a heavy fuel) occurred when the Oregon Standard was struck by her sister ship, the Arizona Standard at 1:45 a.m. in heavy fog under the Golden Gate Bridge.

Six of the Oregon Standard's 26 fuel oil compartments were torn open.

It appeared that tidal action was helping to dissipate the damage to waterfowl and beaches, and although oil-stained beaches remained today both in the bay and along the coast, things were looking up.

"It looks pretty good," Ranger Andreas Cathey, announced as he looked out at Stinson Beach State Park today. The park is closed indefinitely, however, while large equipment is used to clean up the beach.

The Coast Guard reported that there is "light to moderate" oil staining at Bolinas Bay, Muir, Baker and Pacifica beaches with oil streaks and debris floating off Bolinas and Muir beaches.

The cleanup going on today at Point Reyes National Seashore was typical of those on beaches elsewhere in the county and Bay Area.

"Standard Oil has equipment here and is also supervising the volunteers," a young woman volunteer said. At that beach college students and high school seniors (anyone younger is

Fairfax Splits On Backing Of Hub Unification Study

By DAVID DIETZ

The Fairfax City Council gave split-vote endorsement last night of tentative plans by the City of San Anselmo to study consolidation of communities in upper Ross Valley. (See another Fairfax council story, page 6.)

The five-man council, with Lee Nelder and Robert R. Souza dissenting, said it was "in accord in principle" with a preliminary application by San Anselmo for $20,000 in federal funds to look into amalgamation.

Nelder. who had sought to table the issue, felt the proposal was vague, and Souza termed it premature because he felt the matter had not yet been discussed by San Anselmo residents.

Mayor James F. Reed of San Anselmo, prime mover of the study as a route toward solving fiscal problems in the Ross Valley through combination of services. appeared before the council to make a personal appeal for support.

He stressed the proposed study was tentative and said consolidation was only one possible conclusion that could be reached. It might also recommend, he said, partial consolidation, implementation of joint powers agreements or annexation of surrounding unincorporated areas by cities involved.

Besides Fairfax and San Anselmo, areas proposed for inclusion in the study are Ross and the unincorporated areas of Kentfield, Sleepy Hollow and Oak Manor.

Reed said Fairfax could participate in the study, which would be performed by a consultant, by either donating funds toward its full $30,000 cost or by merely contributing data, but the council didn't decide that question last night.

Ross has said it is interested in the study but is loath to contribute funds or staff time, and the Marin County Board of Supervisors, responsible for the unincorporated areas, has withheld endorsement until the cities act.

Corps Outlines Plan For Flood Control

The Army Corps of Engineers last night outlined a preliminary plan for a $10.2 million Novato Creek flood control project that would leave most of the creek in its natural state.

Members of the Novato Creek Committee, opposed to having the creek transformed into a concrete channel, backed the plan as the best of five possible choices.

Generally, reaction of about 25 city and county officials was favorable, but there was concern about concrete channeling of Warner Creek, as shown in the preliminary plan.

There also were worried looks when it was estimated that local costs for the project could run to $2 million.

Jacob Harari, section chief, Army Corps of Engineers, said the preliminary plan was "economically feasible," meeting the federal standard that the benefits must exceed the costs.

"At this stage. we're only asking you to agree that this is the best plan. We're not asking you to approve the details," said Col. Charles R. Roberts. district engineer.

The plan calls for Novato Creek flood waters to be diverted east of Simmons Lane by a channel to Warner Creek, making it possible for the creek to remain in its natural state until it joins Warner Creek, near South Novato Boulevard.

Then the creek would run in a concrete channel, 38 feet wide and 14 feet deep, to Highway 101, but once again in open channel 180 feet wide from Highway 101 to Highway 37, levees would be built up along the banks of the creek and a "tie-back" levee swinging in a southeast arc from Deer Island back toward Highway 101.

Harari explained the "tie-back" levee was to make sure that any water flow in the area "doesn't back into land north of Highway 37, where 1120 acres of low land will be "enhanced" by the project.

Harari estimated the annual operating costs at $540,000 and the annual benefits at $607,000.

A concrete channel, 31 feet wide and 10 feet deep, was indicated for the entire length of Warner Creek, and Supervisor Arnold M. Bap-

6 P.M. Tonight: Nixon's State Of Union Address

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Nixon will outline to the nation tonight what he has termed the boldest and the most comprehensive domestic program in American history.

His 6 p.m. PST State of the Union speech before the two houses of Congress will set forth the domestic reform goals he hopes will form the record of his first term in office and be the basis for another term.

The economy, perhaps the most troublesome problem in his first two years in office, will be dealt with more extensively in his budget message January 29 and annual report to Congress on the state of the economy Feb. 1.

According to White House officials, tonight's address will outline ways of achieving the President's oft-stated view that the federal bureaucracy should be reshaped to make it more responsive to people.

The federal reorganization plan on which Nixon has been working envisions merging some existing Cabinet departments and some independent agencies into four newly named departments. These would be called the Departments of Community Development, Economic Development, Human Resources, and Natural Resources.

There have been differing reports on how many present departments and agencies would be affected. As originally presented to the President, six would be involved. Other reports said expansion of the plan by the White House now covered eight departments, which would be compressed into the four.

Controls On Ships Held Poor

There are few regulations to control ship movements in San Francisco Bay and most commercial vessels are not equipped with basic safety devices which would help prevent collisions, maritime officials revealed at a Sausalito meeting yesterday.

The session was called by Sausalito Mayor Alexander R. Imlay in the wake of Monday's disastrous oil spill, caused by the collision of two Standard Oil Tankers in the Bay. Attending were representatives of six oil companies, the ports of San Francisco and Oakland, the U.S. Coast Guard, conservationist groups, state and local officials and various martime agencies.

At the beginning, Imlay stressed the meeting was to look for ways to prevent future oil spills and not as "a stage for unhappy feelings. We are not here to seek culprits; we are here to seek solutions," the mayor said.

In the course of the two-hour meeting, representatives of the Coast-Guard, American Institute of Merchant Shipping and the San Francisco Bar Pilots Association and Standard Oil Co. revealed that:

1. There is no regulation governing movements of ships outside the Golden Gate Bridge and no rule for the speed or direction of vessels entering or leaving the bay.

2. There is no law requiring most large commercial ships to have radar systems and no effective rule for inspection of radar on ships which have it.

3. The Coast Guard does not have the authority to regulate when ships can go through the Golden Gate or at what speed.

4. A bill proposed in Congress last year to make

By MARY LEYDECKER

A Marin County naturalist today termed ecological damage from the oil spill an "emotional and dramatic thing" but not nearly so serious as constant pollution of the ocean with pesticides and other chemicals.

Clerin W. Zumwalt, chief naturalist for the Audubon Canyon Ranch at Bolinas, said that there has been "a lot of damage to kelp beds and along the rocky shores and beaches" of Marin but doubted that it would be longlasting.

Looking down the steep cliffs of West Marin yesterday, Zumwalt said it is "hard to assess" what kind of damage was being done by the pools of oil below.

Globs of oil and masses of seaweed and straw, he said, clung to the rocks below. Along the rocky shores live myriads of tiny creatures who are the food supply for larger sealife.

Most serious, he said, would be the death of these organisms which will create a dearth of food for such inhabitants of the sea as crabs, mussels and star fish.

"I don't think that adult creatures will be killed but certainly a lot of larvae will die," Zumwalt explained, leaving a shortage of food for sea creatures.

However, the naturalist predicted that life will slowly return to the oil-damaged areas.

"The ocean's awfully big, you know," Zumwalt added.

Much more insidious, he said, is the undramatic and unseen pollution of the sea with chemicals such as mercury and lead as well as pesticides pouring in from the agricultural areas of California.

The naturalist said he hopes that when the drama of the oil spill is over, people will continue to be concerned about pollution from other causes.

A cheerful note was sounded by Zumwalt about conditions at Bolinas Lagoon, vital feeding place for a multitude of birds.

"I made a careful check of the north end of the lagoon yesterday," he said. Among the birds feeding normally in the mudflats were "several thousand sandpipers and the most kildare I've ever seen."

When the tide went out in the lagoon, Zumwalt said that birds fed as usual in the mudflats.

He was also encouraged by spotting 21 great blue herons, the long-legged birds who arrive in Bolinas every year at this time for the nesting season.

College Board Will Try For $16.9 Million Bond

Four district trustee seats also will be on the ballot.

Voters turned down the bond issue in last November's general election. Trustees worried last night whether it might be rejected again. However, they unanimously agreed to try once more for the funds, needed for construction of the North Campus at Novato, and work on the Kentfield campus.

Trustee Charles Gray questioned Dr. John A. Grasham, district president-superintendent, about the risk of state matching funds not being available in time to use with the proposed bond issue to prepare the North Campus for a 1974 opening.

Grasham said that Sidney W. Brossman, state chancellor of community colleges, had warned that state matching funds might be delayed by a year. However, Grasham said, the chancellor also had "gone to bat for us" three times in the past year, to help preserve the North Campus timetable.

The board members formally adopted a resolution setting the election to fill the seats of Chairman Elizabeth Deedy, Gray, Harry J. Moore and Robert E. Rogers, whose terms expire this year.

Of the four, Gray has indicated he will seek reelection, and Rogers said he will not run again. Mrs. Deedy and Moore said earlier this month that they had not yet decided whether to be candidates again.

The trustee elections and bond issue ballot will be consolidated with other school districts' elections throughout the county.

Voters turned down the bond issue in last November's general election. Trustees worried last night whether it might be rejected again. However, they unanimously agreed to try once more for the funds, needed for construction of the North Campus at Novato, and work on the Kentfield campus.

Trustee Charles Gray questioned Dr. John A. Grasham, district president-superintendent, about the risk of state matching funds not being available in time to use with the proposed bond issue to prepare the North Campus for a 1974 opening.

Grasham said that Sidney W. Brossman, state chancellor of community colleges, had warned that state matching funds might be delayed by a year. However, Grasham said, the chancellor also had "gone to bat for us" three times in the past year, to help preserve the North Campus timetable.

The board members formally adopted a resolution setting the election to fill the seats of Chairman Elizabeth Deedy, Gray, Harry J. Moore and Robert E. Rogers, whose terms expire this year.

Of the four, Gray has indicated he will seek reelection, and Rogers said he will not run again. Mrs. Deedy and Moore said earlier this month that they had not yet decided whether to be candidates again.

The trustee elections and bond issue ballot will be consolidated with other school districts' elections throughout the county.

Swordfish Seized

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Federal agents have seized more than 12,500 pounds of mercury-contaminated swordfish in the Los Angeles area this week.

Agents said distributors voluntarily were holding 2.3 million pounds of frozen swordfish in storage around the nation for testing.

Lee Weddig, executive director of the National Fisheries Institute, predicted that between 75 and 90 per cent of the stored fish will exceed the legal limit of .5 parts of mercury per million parts of fish.

Mideast Impasse

Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir said today if Israel accepted all of the Egyptian demands for peace it would lead to another war in the Middle East.

In Cairo, Egyptian Foreign Minister Hahmoud Riad said "obstacles" raised by the Israelis were responsible for the lack of progress in the Middle East talks at the United Nations.

Mrs. Meir said in an interview in the Tel Aviv newspaper Maariv that anyone who thought the talks could be completed in a short time "is either misunderstanding the entire situation or taking for granted that Israel will give in to all that the Arabs want."

"If anyone thinks such a way will lead to peace, I submit it is the way to war," she said.

Test On Ike Coin

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Coin experts at the U.S. Mint here plan to conduct tests Monday on the Eisenhower dollar, a coin made of copper and nickel that is expected to succeed the silver dollar.

A spokesman said the trial striking here is to "see how they're going to look and to perfect the dies for the production of 150 million of them."

The coins probably will be manufactured for general circulation at the U.S. Mint in San Francisco.

Blastoff Near

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—A commercial communications satellite seven times more powerful than the best now in severce is set for launch tonight to kick off the busiest period of space activity here in almost two years.

The 1 1-2 ton, $13.5 million satellite is the first of a series of eight Intelsat 4s built for the Comsat Corp., and its 76 partner nations to greatly expand the glove-girdling communications network.

It is scheduled for launch at 7:01 p.m. EST on a $16 million Atlas-Centaur rocket. The satellite will be protected on its climb through the atmosphere by a nose cone similar to one that failed to separate and fall off as planned in a $98 million observatory launching in November. The observatory was lost as a result.

Snowdon Flight

"This is all part of my convalescence," Snowdon said. "I do not know how long I will be away."

Burning Ship Rescue

CAGLIARI, Sardinia (UPI)—Search vessels today rescued 38 crewmen from the 82,882-ton American-owned tanker Universe Patriot, which exploded and burst into flames in the gale-whipped Tyrrhenian Sea.

The rescue ships said the Liberian-registered ship was broken in two and half-submerged. The fate of the remainder of the ship's 50-member Japanese crew was not immediately known, although one man was reported still aboard the burned-out hulk.

The West German skipper, identified only as Capt. Schneider, was among those pulled from the raging seas.

10 Days Given In Pot Case

Cindy Lea French, 22, of Petaluma, has been sentenced in Marin Municipal Court to 10 days in Marin County Jail for possessing marijuana.

Judge Robert A. Smallman gave her credit for time already spent in jail.

She had pleaded guilty to the misdemeanor charge of possessing pot April 22.

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The lumber interests which operate on federal lands would get a tax break of up to $5 million from a bill in the Assembly today after zipping unopposed through the Senate.

Sen. Randolph Collier, a Democrat whose district includes many Northern California lumbering counties, authored the measure which sharply reduces the amount of taxes that counties can levy on companies cutting timber under federal contracts on U.S. government lands.

Legislative financial experts estimated the bill could cost the counties up to $5 million in lost revenue.

Collier, of Yreka, was not available for comment.

It took less than three days from the time the bill was introduced until it passed the Senate 29-0 Thursday and went to the Assembly.

Cambodian Air Power Destroyed

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops bombarded Phnom Penh with rockets, mortars and attacked with small arms today, wiping out 95 per cent of the Cambodian Air Force's operational planes. Fighting raged at the heavily damaged airport.

In Saigon, American spokesmen admitted U.S. planes and helicopters are flying "close air support" for the Highway 4 operation in Cambodia and that there are "friendly" troops aboard helicopters controlling air strikes. The U.S. spokesmen also admitted the reasons for their refusal to discuss details of Cambodian and Laotian operations "may be political."

Civilian hospitals in Phnom Penh reported more than 500 casualties from the worst fighting which continued around Pochentong Airport. The Air Force said 16 of its men were killed in the attack, the first on the Cambodian capital since the war broke out 10 months ago. More than 300 communist reinforcements took up positions in a village by the airport.

In the center of the city, public officials marshalled their staffs into defense squads and capital defense troops set up tents in parks and on grounds of government buildings. The Cambodian High Command said the situation was "serious."

Communiques said South Vietnamese Marines were moving closer to Pich Nil Pass on strategic High 4, 60 miles southwest of Phnom Penh. The Cambodian troops trying to recapture the highway took the pass from the south Thursday and only two miles separated the Allies from a linkup.

Russell, 73, Dies; Dean Of Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Richard Brevard Russell, never affected by the conceit of power nor the praise of Presidents, will be returned today to the red clay soil of his native Georgia for burial.

Russell, dean of the Senate, leader of the southern conservative coalition, and a power in shaping the country's destiny for much of his 37-year career, died Thursday at Walter Reed Army Medical Center of a respiratory infection complicated by emphysema.

Russell's family chose to forego funeral services in the Nation's Capital except for a brief military ceremony today at Andrews AFB before his body leaves aboard President Nixon's jet, Air Force One, for Atlanta.

The body will lie in state in the rotunda of the gold-domed Georgia Capitol in Atlanta for 24 hours before it is taken Saturday to Winder, Ga., where he will be buried in Russell Memorial Park behind his rural home.

The family requested that friends make donations to the Thornwell Orphanage in Clinton, S.C. —"a favorite charity" of the senator's —in lieu of flowers.

It was an axiom among his colleagues that the Senate was Russell's life. A life-long bachelor, he lived alone in a Washington apartment, often eating his meals in a nearby Howard Johnson's restaurant and never indulging in the whirl of Washington society.

One of his last acts, only hours before his death, was to give his proxy vote to Sen. Robert Byrd of West Virginia as Democratic Whip. Byrd, who defeated Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said he had considered Russell's proxy the tie-breaking vote in his favor and would not have challenged Kennedy if Russell had died before the 10 a.m. Democratic caucus. Russell's death came at 2:25 p.m. EST. He was 73.

In Atlanta, Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter said he probably would appoint a successor to the unexpired two-year term in about a week.

It was considered likely the appointment would go to former Gov. Ernest Vandiver, who married Russell's niece, and who is a close friend of Carter. It also was considered likely former Gov. Lester Maddox, now Georgia's lieutenant governor, would run for the Senate seat in 1972.

'Peace And Love' Demo Candidate

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI)—Dakin Williams, brother of playwright Tennessee Williams, has announced his candidacy on a platform of "peace and love" for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate.

"I'm going to emphasize things that appeal to young people, like peace and love," Williams, a Collinsville attorney, said Tuesday. "That might make me sort of a political flower child."

Williams, 51, challenged Adlai Stevenson III in the Democratic primary in 1970. The State Electrical Board disqualified his candidacy on grounds his petitions contained fraudulent signatures.

"They won't be able to do that to me again because I'm planning on having 10,000 signatures this time," Williams said. "I already have 2,000."

Planning Overseas Job? Look Into It

The Better Business Bureau has warned job seekers to investigate before investing their money in employment agencies offering overseas employment.

The bureau reports at least eight companies advertising work overseas in Bay Area newspapers but advises that most do not guarantee employment.

However, it says, the companies do require a sizeable advance fee for preparation of a resume and processing them to firms with overseas operations.

"If these agencies screen out those whose skills or experience leave them little or no chance of getting overseas work, and counsel closely with firms having job openings," the bureau said, "a useful service may be provided."

Some agencies, however, are quick to take the advance fee and then process the resume in a manner barely sufficient to cover contractual obligation, it explained.

It noted that a survey showed 86 per cent of the overseas companies contacted do their own recruiting.

Changes In Phone Listings Still Open

Changes in alphabetical listings or the addition of names of other members of a household may be made until Feb. 26 for the new telephone directory, Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. has announced.

Changes in the yellow pages may be made until Feb. 11 in the directory due for distribution in April.

Development Hinges On Rail Right

A 642-unit residential development on county lands near East Corte Madera hinges on acquisition of an abandoned railroad right-of-way, the town's planning commission has been told.

According to Ronald E. Bartels, town manager, the commission, at a special meeting Tuesday, previewed the planned development of town houses and apartment buildings only to discuss the concept of such a development and the possibilities of its future annexation to the town.

Proposed for the 71-acre Boyd property between Highway 101 and the Northwestern Pacific Railroad right-of-way northeast of the Koch property, the plans outlined Tuesday showed two four-story apartment buildings in the development.

E. C. Harter and Odenthal Investment Co., of Orinda, said the right-of-way was needed to provide access to the property from Paradise Drive and that answer is expected Feb. 15.

The special meeting was called without the 24-hour advance notice to the press required by the Ralph M. Brown Act.

Transmission Is Stolen From Truck

A GMC truck transmission was stolen from a truck parked behind a garage at 521 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, according to police.

Carl H. Setterberg of 972 San Anselmo Avenue reported he had partially bolted the four-speed 1953 transmission in his truck Tuesday night but found it missing when he returned the next morning to complete the job.

Police Services District Is Hit

Las Gallinas Valley Council opposes the proposed formation of a police services district in the unincorporated areas of Marin County.

The proposal for a county service area for police services will get a public hearing on Feb. 23 before the Marin County Board of Supervisors. The hearing had been set for next Tuesday, but supervisors decided that more time is needed to notify all communities.

Las Gallinas Valley Council, composed of 15 organizations from Los Ranchitos to Lucas Valley, this week asked the supervisors to reject the police services district.

The council charged that the proposal is designed to help cities at the expense of the unincorporated areas.

'Peace And Love' Demo Candidate

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI)—Dakin Williams, brother of playwright Tennessee Williams, has announced his candidacy on a platform of "peace and love" for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate.

"I'm going to emphasize things that appeal to young people, like peace and love," Williams, a Collinsville attorney, said Tuesday. "That might make me sort of a political flower child."

Williams, 51, challenged Adlai Stevenson III in the Democratic primary in 1970. The State Electrical Board disqualified his candidacy on grounds his petitions contained fraudulent signatures.

"They won't be able to do that to me again because I'm planning on having 10,000 signatures this time," Williams said. "I already have 2,000."

Planning Overseas Job? Look Into It

The Better Business Bureau has warned job seekers to investigate before investing their money in employment agencies offering overseas employment.

The bureau reports at least eight companies advertising work overseas in Bay Area newspapers but advises that most do not guarantee employment.

However, it says, the companies do require a sizeable advance fee for preparation of a resume and processing them to firms with overseas operations.

"If these agencies screen out those whose skills or experience leave them little or no chance of getting overseas work, and counsel closely with firms having job openings," the bureau said, "a useful service may be provided."

Some agencies, however, are quick to take the advance fee and then process the resume in a manner barely sufficient to cover contractual obligation, it explained.

$1 Million Angela Fund Drive Set

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A committee to raise $1 million for the defense of Angela Y. Davis has been formed with headquarters in San Francisco, according to attorney Terence Hallinan.

He said the United Committee to Free Angela Davis will be headquartered in two vacant stores in the city's Fillmore District.

James Bonds, a member of the Young Workers Liberation League, was named San Francisco chairman.

"We're going to hold a continuing series of rallies and fund-raising parties to build support to overcome the lynch mob atmosphere the authorities are trying to create," Hallinan said.

Meanwhile, in Los Angeles supporters of Miss Davis announced formation of a "national committee of the arts" to aid in her defense.

The committee includes Jane Fonda, Elliot Gould, Dalton Trumbo and Mark Lane, it was reported.

OIL

discouraged) are shoveling oil into cans and plastic bags which are then loaded into jeeps and other sand vehicles and dumped into debris boxes provided by the oil company.

The volunteers — both young men and women — are working in four-hour shifts and being sent home at nighttime.

The influx of volunteers to the beach areas — which in many cases had hindered more than helped cleaning operations and rescuing oil-soaked birds — has been controlled.

"We have our own bird-recovery teams," a spokesman at Point Reyes said. There trained persons went out with flashlights at 5 a.m. today, successfully rescuing birds. Earlier volunteers there as elsewhere had caused the death of birds by frightening them into deeper water where they drowned.

Concern was expressed, however, yesterday for the Bay Area crab industry. Dr. Cadet Hand, director of the University of California Marine Laboratory at Bodega Bay, said if the oil slick hovers a few more days off the intertidal zone, it probably will be fatal to crab now breeding there by cutting off their food supply.

Standard Oil reported that its multivessel cleanup fleet worked through the night in the bay and, although rough water forced vessels to abandon efforts in the ocean last night, skimmer operations were resumed this morning.

The company said that a new oil slick sighted southwest of Stinson Beach, one mile at sea, yesterday morning was vacuumed up before it reached beaches.

The public was cautioned against using straw to absorb oil without removing the straw as random drifts of straw have been clogging skimmer mechanisms, the company said.

Company officials also said that the Sausalito waterfront at Bridgeway is about free of oil but cleaning is continuing along the Fort Baker shoreline. There are 40 men and 17 pieces of heavy equipment at work in this area.

The inner harbor at Tiburon was essentially clean yesterday but oil still remained at the Corinthian Yacht Club where two skimmer boats and four vacuum trucks were working in the general area.

Bird cleaning operations also were better organized yesterday with many fowl taken to various stations in the county.

The Marin Ecology Center asked persons who want to volunteer to call the center at 383-6161 so they can be directed to places where they are needed.

About 2,000 oil-smeared birds are estimated to have been rescued and cleaned, some of them with a special compound called A-11. Since the compound not only effectively removes oil, but also natural weatherproofing of bird's feathers, fowl treated with A-11 must be kept and fed on land until at least September.

CREEK

Leroy M. Gerner, co-chairman of the creek committee, said he "was happy" with the plans for Novato Creek, but "wanted to see more what Warner Creek would look like."

Col. Roberts commented: "Warner Creek will look like Corte Madera Creek. If you've seen one concrete channel, you've seen them all."

The engineers will look at the possibility of having an earth channel for Warner Creek, Col. Roberts said.

Baptiste urged combining recreational facilities such as riding, hiking and bicycle trails and picnic areas with the project.

Col. Roberts pointed out the proposed project was a "bare project" and any recreational facilities would result in additional costs. Landscaping would be included in the project, he said.

The plan also calls for a concrete channel for Arroyo Arrichi from its mouth to a culvert near South Novato Boulevard.

Harari said the local cost for land enhancement would be $500,000, to be paid by the sponsoring agencies, in this case the city of Novato and Flood Control Zone No. 1, since the creek lies both in the city and the unincorporated area.

Col. Roberts said in the past the state has paid relocation and easement costs, but there is a move to change the law and have the local agenices share in this cost.

Relocation and easement costs for the proposed project would run about $3 million and the cities probably will have to pay a share of this, he said.

Harari said that only five buildings would have to be removed for the proposed project, three of them homes.

Representatives of the Bel Marin Keys Community Services District asked that a tidal lock at the mouth of Novato Creek to prevent silting be included.

Former Supervisor William A. Gnoss of Novato, noting that the project if undertaken was about "five years away," urged that Novato Creek be dredged this year.

Silt is filling in the creek and if it isn't dredged "there will be terrific flooding," he asserted.

Charles E. Murphy, Marin County flood control engineer, suggested that the Novato Creek Committee hold a public hearing to get the reaction of people in the area to be affected.

If reaction is favorable the corps would proceed with a public hearing in June, and then prepare a final report to be sent to Washington, D.C. by December, 1972, with hope for appropriation by 1974.

NIXON

touched would be State, Defense, Justice and Treasury, according to several published reports.

The reorganization was expected to be a major thrust of the speech which Attorney General John N. Mitchell has characterized as "the most important document since they wrote the Constitution."

It is expected to contain pleas for reform of the welfare system to guarantee a minimum income to all poor families, proposals for sharing federal revenues with state and local governments, a scheme for national health insurance and a plan for coping with pollution of the environment.

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, in a speech at Houston, Tex., Thursday night, said the message would include "a broad new approach to both the financing of health care and the expansion of its delivery systems." He did not go into details.

In remarks to his staff earlier this week on the second anniversary of his inauguration, Nixon said the address and the series of legislative proposals following it "will be by far the most comprehensive, the most far-reaching, the most bold program in the domestic field ever presented to an American Congress."

"It is time to seize this moment and present the American people a new approach to government, one that is relevant to our times," he told them.

Clerks Get Offer Under Strike Gun

I-J Special Report

WALNUT CREEK — Representatives of Bay Area supermarkets early today announced an eleventh-hour contract offer aimed at preventing a walkout by retail clerks in Marin and seven other counties.

Seven locals of the Retail Clerks' Union had threatened to walk out midnight Sunday unless an agreement is reached. The locals, including local 1119 of San Rafael, are to vote on the offer Sunday.

Terms of the offer were not announced pending the vote.

The bargaining session which ended at 4 a.m. today had stretched 18 hours before a proposed settlement was offered by the Food Employers Council to union representatives, according to Bernard Saccone, president of United Markets in San Rafael.

John Bacon, representative of the market owners, and spokesmen for local 1119 could not be reached for comment on the proposal.

Clerks had asked for a raise of about $2.25 to $2.50 per hour on a one-year contract plus concessions on seniority and other working rules, according to Saccone.

The clerks' three-year contract expired Dec. 31, but workers remained on the job while bargaining progressed.

CONTROL

radio telephone systems — for direct communications between vessels — compulsory in large ships was killed by the Senate.

5. The Coast Guard has set up no clear criteria on when to stop vessels from traveling in the harbor when visibility is very poor, even if those ships contain hazardous cargo such as explosives or oil. Coast guard officials revealed there is almost no effort to stop ship movement, even when visibility is zero.

6. The Port Safety Bill, which would have given the Coast Guard additional authority in matters of navigational safety in harbors, was killed in Congress last year.

7. The Coast Guard does not keep any regular record of ships leaving ports in San Francisco Bay.

8. Approximately 80 to 90 per cent of the domestic ships which travel in the bay are oil tankers.

9. The harbor advisory radar system — now operating in the bay on an experimental basis — does not advise vessels which way to proceed and at what speed; it only advises the ships of other traffic in the harbor.

"The lack of controls on all kinds of vessels, particularly those carrying dangerous cargo, is incredible," San Francisco Supervisor Robert H. Mendelsohn said after the meeting. "If the government can't learn from past tragedies, like the Torre Canyon disaster," then it seems to me the people are right in turning away from the government. (About four years ago in Torre Canyon off the coast of England a large tanker collision spilled thousands of tons of crude oil into the sea).

State Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, also expressed the need for additional safety regulations for shipping in harbors and along the coast. "We haven't caught up with the 20th Century in shipping," Behr said.

Freeway Crash Injures Two

Two San Francisco residents were treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday for minor injuries suffered in a collision on Highway 101 near the Civic Center, the California Highway Patrol has reported.

Officers said Teodoro M. Fisher, 26, of San Francisco, was driving south on the freeway at 2:15 p.m. when he started to change lanes and collided with a car driven by Michael J. Smith, 30, of 51 Ross Drive, San Rafael.

Fisher's car then swerved to the right shoulder and overturned, the patrol said. Fisher was treated for a sprained right leg while a passenger, Laurie Hennie, 26, was treated for multiple scrapes and bruises.

Fisher was to be cited by the highway patrol for making an unsafe lane change.

Rabies Clinic For Dogs Set

A rabies innoculation clinic for dogs will be held tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Fine Arts Building at the Sonoma-Marin Fairgrounds, Petaluma.

All dogs over four months will be immunized for a fee of $2. The clinic is sponsored by the Redwood Empire Veterinarians Association and the Sonoma County Public Health Service.

Dog licenses must be purchased by Jan. 31, according to William Matthews, Petaluma animal control officer. They may be purchased from local veterinarians or at the police department weekdays from 8 a.m to 5 p.m.

UNIFY

O'Connell said consolidation would be ideal but feared intrusion of state and federal officials. Councilman Cornelis Van Vliet said a study committee several years ago endorsed consolidation of police, fire and public works services in Fairfax and San Anselmo but the plan was stymied because a special district had to be formed.

Said Egger, "This study would show the advantages and disadvantages" of consolidation. "To my knowledge, no comprehensive study of this question has ever been made and at no time has the city put its money where its mouth is. . . to see if it can provide better services."

Persons in the audience saw consolidation as a means to ease traffic and pollution problems and one, John J. Hourihan, a city planning commissioner, said the study perhaps could be made without government financing to avoid bureaucratic snarls.

Master Plan Gets Village Square Nod

The Village Square Association of Corte Madera yesterday endorsed the proposed master planning of undeveloped lands east of Highway 101.

Janice Valk, association secretary, said today a letter will be forwarded to the town council calling for master planning as soon as possible.

Community Center Use Plan Told

A policy for use of and fees for the Marin City Community Center will be prepared for review, the Marin City Community Services District board has decided.

Secretary Reba G. Mason said the board Thursday instructed Executive Director Daniel Winters to prepare a policy for consideration at the next board meeting.

The policy, she said, would establish what groups may use the center without charge and what the fees will be for other groups. This will clear up "confusion on use of the building," Mrs. Mason said.

Board members also discussed the possibility of a monthly town meeting to air community concerns in Marin City, but came to no conclusion. The idea will be considered again at the board's next meeting, Feb. 18 at 8 p.m. at Manzanita Center.

A Non-Profit Agency Enters Employee Field

A nonprofit employment agency to find jobs for unemployed southern Marin residents — and particularly those who live in Marin City — has opened at St. Andrew Presbyterian Church in Marin City.

Manager Nesbit Crutchfield, a former supervisor for the San Francisco Neighborhood Youth Corps, said the service is available to persons of all ages and job experience and qualifications.

According to Crutchfield, the agency will attempt to get in touch with all Marin County employers who have jobs to offer. He said the service, which is sponsored by the church, will include assistance for all types of jobholders.

The office, located at Drake and Donahue avenues, will be open weekdays from 1 to 5 p.m.

Battery Charge Plea Date Set

Philip Arnold Jacobson, 53, of San Bruno, has been arraigned in Marin Municipal Court on a felony charge of battery on a police officer.

He will plead to the charge next Friday.

Jacobson was arrested Tuesday along Highway 101 in Novato where he was attempting to direct traffic. When a Novato policeman approached him, he allegedly hit the policeman in the cheek, knocking off his glasses and hat.

School Library Equipment Taken

Recording and visual aid equipment valued at $365 were stolen late Wednesday night from the one-story library of Don Timoteo School at 39 Trellis Drive, police reported today.

Principal William B. Van Winkle of 75 Santa Maria, Novato, told police that between 11 p.m. Wednesday and 8:15 a.m. Thursday the library was entered through sliding glass doors on the north side of the building which apparently had not been secured.

OBITUARIES

John Johnson Dies At 81

John August Emil Johnson, 89, a Petaluma resident for 30 years, died yesterday at a local convalescent hospital after a long illness.

A native of Minnesota, he was reared and educated there and had worked as a mill wright in Canada and Montana before moving to Petaluma in 1940.

Johnson had been employed as a machinist for Kresge Manufacturing Co., Petaluma, until his retirement 13 years ago. He was a member of the First Church of God, Petaluma, and the International Machinists Union.

He is survived by his wife, Hulda; three sons, Clarence of Petaluma, Clifford of Montana and Duane of Crescent City; two daughters, Ruby Shaw of Petaluma and Luane Bott of Montana; 19 grandchildren, 38 great-grandchildren and four great-great-grandchildren.

Funeral will be Monday at 2 p.m. at Parent Funeral Chapel, Petaluma, followed by burial at Cypress Hill Memorial Park. Contributions may be made to the building fund of the First Church of God.

MRS. SOLDAVINI

Bambina Soldavini, a resident of San Rafael for almost 50 years, died today at a local hospital after a short illness. She was 64.

Born in Italy, she moved to 121 Clorinda Drive about 1921.

Surviving are her husband, Ambrose Soldavini; four sons, Louis A. Soldavini of Fairfax, Robert R. Soldavini of Rohnert Park, Richard A. Soldavini and Kenneth J. Soldavini, both of Novato; a sister, Rosa Soldavini of San Rafael; 11 grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren.

Mass of the Resurrection will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m. Monday at Saint Raphael's Church in San Rafael followed by burial at Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Sunday at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

The family requested that memorial contributions be made to the American Cancer Society.

Ex-Hub Resident Promoted In Courts

Clifford C. Porter, a former San Anselmo resident, has been promoted to clerk of the state District Court of Appeal in San Francisco.

Porter, who has been chief deputy clerk, said today that he moved from Marin County to San Francisco slightly more than a year ago. He succeeded Lawrence R. Elkington, who was appointed to a newly created position of principal attorney in the appeals court. Elkington will head research and administrative work.

$1 Million Angela Fund Drive Set

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A committee to raise $1 million for the defense of Angela Y. Davis has been formed with headquarters in San Francisco, according to attorney Terence Hallinan.

He said the United Committee to Free Angela Davis will be headquartered in two vacant stores in the city's Fillmore District.

James Bonds, a member of the Young Workers Liberation League, was named San Francisco chairman.

"We're going to hold a continuing series of rallies and fund-raising parties to build support to overcome the lynch mob atmosphere the authorities are trying to create," Hallinan said.

Meanwhile, in Los Angeles supporters of Miss Davis announced formation of a "national committee of the arts" to aid in her defense.

The committee includes Jane Fonda, Elliot Gould, Dalton Trumbo and Mark Lane, it was reported.

OIL

discouraged) are shoveling oil into cans and plastic bags which are then loaded into jeeps and other sand vehicles and dumped into debris boxes provided by the oil company.

The volunteers — both young men and women — are working in four-hour shifts and being sent home at nighttime.

The influx of volunteers to the beach areas — which in many cases had hindered more than helped cleaning operations and rescuing oil-soaked birds — has been controlled.

"We have our own bird-recovery teams," a spokesman at Point Reyes said. There trained persons went out with flashlights at 5 a.m. today, successfully rescuing birds. Earlier volunteers there as elsewhere had caused the death of birds by frightening them into deeper water where they drowned.

Concern was expressed, however, yesterday for the Bay Area crab industry. Dr. Cadet Hand, director of the University of California Marine Laboratory at Bodega Bay, said if the oil slick hovers a few more days off the intertidal zone, it probably will be fatal to crab now breeding there by cutting off their food supply.

Standard Oil reported that its multivessel cleanup fleet worked through the night in the bay and, although rough water forced vessels to abandon efforts in the ocean last night, skimmer operations were resumed this morning.

The company said that a new oil slick sighted southwest of Stinson Beach, one mile at sea, yesterday morning was vacuumed up before it reached beaches.

The public was cautioned against using straw to absorb oil without removing the straw as random drifts of straw have been clogging skimmer mechanisms, the company said.

Company officials also said that the Sausalito waterfront at Bridgeway is about free of oil but cleaning is continuing along the Fort Baker shoreline. There are 40 men and 17 pieces of heavy equipment at work in this area.

The inner harbor at Tiburon was essentially clean yesterday but oil still remained at the Corinthian Yacht Club where two skimmer boats and four vacuum trucks were working in the general area.

Bird cleaning operations also were better organized yesterday with many fowl taken to various stations in the county.

The Marin Ecology Center asked persons who want to volunteer to call the center at 383-6161 so they can be directed to places where they are needed.

About 2,000 oil-smeared birds are estimated to have been rescued and cleaned, some of them with a special compound called A-11. Since the compound not only effectively removes oil, but also natural weatherproofing of bird's feathers, fowl treated with A-11 must be kept and fed on land until at least September.

CREEK

tiste suggested studying the possibility of an earth channel for Warner Creek.

Leroy M. Gerner, co-chairman of the creek committee, said he "was happy" with the plans for Novato Creek, but "wanted to see more what Warner Creek would look like."

Col. Roberts commented: "Warner Creek will look like Corte Madera Creek. If you've seen one concrete channel, you've seen them all."

The engineers will look at the possibility of having an earth channel for Warner Creek, Col. Roberts said.

Baptiste urged combining recreational facilities such as riding, hiking and bicycle trails and picnic areas with the project.

Col. Roberts pointed out the proposed project was a "bare project" and any recreational facilities would result in additional costs. Landscaping would be included in the project, he said.

The plan also calls for a concrete channel for Arroyo Arrichi from its mouth to a culvert near South Novato Boulevard.

Harari said the local cost for land enhancement would be $500,000, to be paid by the sponsoring agencies, in this case the city of Novato and Flood Control Zone No. 1, since the creek lies both in the city and the unincorporated area.

Col. Roberts said in the past the state has paid relocation and easement costs, but there is a move to change the law and have the local agenices share in this cost.

Relocation and easement costs for the proposed project would run about $3 million and the cities probably will have to pay a share of this, he said.

Harari said that only five buildings would have to be removed for the proposed project, three of them homes.

Representatives of the Bel Marin Keys Community Services District asked that a tidal lock at the mouth of Novato Creek to prevent silting be included.

Former Supervisor William A. Gnoss of Novato, noting that the project if undertaken was about "five years away," urged that Novato Creek be dredged this year.

Silt is filling in the creek and if it isn't dredged "there will be terrific flooding," he asserted.

Charles E. Murphy, Marin County flood control engineer, suggested that the Novato Creek Committee hold a public hearing to get the reaction of people in the area to be affected.

If reaction is favorable the corps would proceed with a public hearing in June, and then prepare a final report to be sent to Washington, D.C. by December, 1972, with hope for appropriation by 1974.

NIXON

touched would be State, Defense, Justice and Treasury, according to several published reports.

The reorganization was expected to be a major thrust of the speech which Attorney General John N. Mitchell has characterized as "the most important document since they wrote the Constitution."

It is expected to contain pleas for reform of the welfare system to guarantee a minimum income to all poor families, proposals for sharing federal revenues with state and local governments, a scheme for national health insurance and a plan for coping with pollution of the environment.

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, in a speech at Houston, Tex., Thursday night, said the message would include "a broad new approach to both the financing of health care and the expansion of its delivery systems." He did not go into details.

In remarks to his staff earlier this week on the second anniversary of his inauguration, Nixon said the address and the series of legislative proposals following it "will be by far the most comprehensive, the most far-reaching, the most bold program in the domestic field ever presented to an American Congress."

"It is time to seize this moment and present the American people a new approach to government, one that is relevant to our times," he told them.

Clerks Get Offer Under Strike Gun

I-J Special Report

WALNUT CREEK — Representatives of Bay Area supermarkets early today announced an eleventh-hour contract offer aimed at preventing a walkout by retail clerks in Marin and seven other counties.

Seven locals of the Retail Clerks' Union had threatened to walk out midnight Sunday unless an agreement is reached. The locals, including local 1119 of San Rafael, are to vote on the offer Sunday.

Terms of the offer were not announced pending the vote.

The bargaining session which ended at 4 a.m. today had stretched 18 hours before a proposed settlement was offered by the Food Employers Council to union representatives, according to Bernard Saccone, president of United Markets in San Rafael.

John Bacon, representative of the market owners, and spokesmen for local 1119 could not be reached for comment on the proposal.

Clerks had asked for a raise of about $2.25 to $2.50 per hour on a one-year contract plus concessions on seniority and other working rules, according to Saccone.

The clerks' three-year contract expired Dec. 31, but workers remained on the job while bargaining progressed.

CONTROL

radio telephone systems — for direct communications between vessels — compulsory in large ships was killed by the Senate.

5. The Coast Guard has set up no clear criteria on when to stop vessels from traveling in the harbor when visibility is very poor, even if those ships contain hazardous cargo such as explosives or oil. Coast guard officials revealed there is almost no effort to stop ship movement, even when visibility is zero.

6. The Port Safety Bill, which would have given the Coast Guard additional authority in matters of navigational safety in harbors, was killed in Congress last year.

7. The Coast Guard does not keep any regular record of ships leaving ports in San Francisco Bay.

8. Approximately 80 to 90 per cent of the domestic ships which travel in the bay are oil tankers.

9. The harbor advisory radar system — now operating in the bay on an experimental basis — does not advise vessels which way to proceed and at what speed; it only advises the ships of other traffic in the harbor.

"The lack of controls on all kinds of vessels, particularly those carrying dangerous cargo, is incredible," San Francisco Supervisor Robert H. Mendelsohn said after the meeting. "If the government can't learn from past tragedies, like the Torre Canyon disaster," then it seems to me the people are right in turning away from the government. (About four years ago in Torre Canyon off the coast of England a large tanker collision spilled thousands of tons of crude oil into the sea).

State Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, also expressed the need for additional safety regulations for shipping in harbors and along the coast. "We haven't caught up with the 20th Century in shipping," Behr said.

UNIFY

O'Connell said consolidation would be ideal but feared intrusion of state and federal officials. Councilman Cornelis Van Vliet said a study committee several years ago endorsed consolidation of police, fire and public works services in Fairfax and San Anselmo but the plan was stymied because a special district had to be formed.

Said Egger, "This study would show the advantages and disadvantages" of consolidation. "To my knowledge, no comprehensive study of this question has ever been made and at no time has the city put its money where its mouth is. . . to see if it can provide better services."

Persons in the audience saw consolidation as a means to ease traffic and pollution problems and one, John J. Hourihan, a city planning commissioner, said the study perhaps could be made without government financing to avoid bureaucratic snarls.

Master Plan Gets Village Square Nod

The Village Square Association of Corte Madera yesterday endorsed the proposed master planning of undeveloped lands east of Highway 101.

Janice Valk, association secretary, said today a letter will be forwarded to the town council calling for master planning as soon as possible.

Freeway Crash Injures Two

Two San Francisco residents were treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday for minor injuries suffered in a collision on Highway 101 near the Civic Center, the California Highway Patrol has reported.

Officers said Teodoro M. Fisher, 26, of San Francisco, was driving south on the freeway at 2:15 p.m. when he started to change lanes and collided with a car driven by Michael J. Smith, 30, of 51 Ross Drive, San Rafael.

Fisher's car then swerved to the right shoulder and overturned, the patrol said. Fisher was treated for a sprained right leg while a passenger, Laurie Hennie, 26, was treated for multiple scrapes and bruises.

Fisher was to be cited by the highway patrol for making an unsafe lane change.

Rabies Clinic For Dogs Set

A rabies innoculation clinic for dogs will be held tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Fine Arts Building at the Sonoma-Marin Fairgrounds, Petaluma.

All dogs over four months will be immunized for a fee of $2. The clinic is sponsored by the Redwood Empire Veterinarians Association and the Sonoma County Public Health Service.

Dog licenses must be purchased by Jan. 31, according to William Matthews, Petaluma animal control officer. They may be purchased from local veterinarians or at the police department weekdays from 8 a.m to 5 p.m.

Community Center Use Plan Told

A policy for use of and fees for the Marin City Community Center will be prepared for review, the Marin City Community Services District board has decided.

Secretary Reba G. Mason said the board Thursday instructed Executive Director Daniel Winters to prepare a policy for consideration at the next board meeting.

The policy, she said, would establish what groups may use the center without charge and what the fees will be for other groups. This will clear up "confusion on use of the building," Mrs. Mason said.

Board members also discussed the possibility of a monthly town meeting to air community concerns in Marin City, but came to no conclusion. The idea will be considered again at the board's next meeting, Feb. 18 at 8 p.m. at Manzanita Center.

A Non-Profit Agency Enters Employee Field

A nonprofit employment agency to find jobs for unemployed southern Marin residents — and particularly those who live in Marin City — has opened at St. Andrew Presbyterian Church in Marin City.

Manager Nesbit Crutchfield, a former supervisor for the San Francisco Neighborhood Youth Corps, said the service is available to persons of all ages and job experience and qualifications.

According to Crutchfield, the agency will attempt to get in touch with all Marin County employers who have jobs to offer. He said the service, which is sponsored by the church, will include assistance for all types of jobholders.

The office, located at Drake and Donahue avenues, will be open weekdays from 1 to 5 p.m.

Battery Charge Plea Date Set

Philip Arnold Jacobson, 53, of San Bruno, has been arraigned in Marin Municipal Court on a felony charge of battery on a police officer.

He will plead to the charge next Friday.

Jacobson was arrested Tuesday along Highway 101 in Novato where he was attempting to direct traffic. When a Novato policeman approached him, he allegedly hit the policeman in the cheek, knocking off his glasses and hat.

School Library Equipment Taken

Recording and visual aid equipment valued at $365 were stolen late Wednesday night from the one-story library of Don Timoteo School at 39 Trellis Drive, police reported today.

Principal William B. Van Winkle of 75 Santa Maria, Novato, told police that between 11 p.m. Wednesday and 8:15 a.m. Thursday the library was entered through sliding glass doors on the north side of the building which apparently had not been secured.

A Marin Call To Aid Ghetto Schools

Affluent Marin Catholics were asked last night to help underwrite financially troubled Catholic schools in the San Francisco ghetto.

The plea came at the end of the first open session of the Board of Education of the Archdiocese of San Francisco ever held in Marin.

Rev. John T. Dwyer of the board told more than 100 persons at Dominican College in San Rafael that parents in San Francisco poverty areas like the Mission District cannot afford more than the $12 a month tuition they pay now.

Yet, he said, "We can't stop the rising cost of education. What I am asking you is this: would you help us to establish some kind of central fund whereby we can help those schools in the poverty areas stay open?"

Dwyer, who is pastor of St. Paul's Church in San Francisco and a member of the board's finance committee, said questionnaires will be sent out to get reactions to the subsidy proposal.

His call for Catholics to pull together came after a wide schism developed during the meeting.

Norma Baumsteiger, representing Parents for Orthodoxy in Parochial Education (POPE), urged the board to forbid use of the controversial Dutch catechism beginning Feb. 1 at Marin Catholic High School.

Use of the method — which relies on experiencing rather than memorizing — she called "a definite threat to the souls of our children." She asked that the traditional Baltimore and Our Lady of St. Paul catechisms, both officially discouraged, be substituted.

Mrs. Baumsteiger also condemned sex education classes beginning at Marin Catholic as "dangerous."

Lengthy applause greeted her remarks, but the other side was also applauded.

Paul Boske of the school board at St. Isabella's School in Terra Linda and board member Sister John Marie S.H.F. of San Jose supported the Dutch catechism.

"I would say the Dutch catechism, in the hands of a cabable teacher, yes, can be used," the nun told Mrs. Baumsteiger.

While the only board comment on the catechism issue opposed her view, the majority of the 11 board members agreed with Mrs. Baumsteiger on junior high school school dances.

St. Isabella's had asked for such dances, but the board turned down the request and yesterday afternoon reaffirmed that vote 7-3.

The majority argued that eighth graders are not mature enough to handle coeducational parties.

The ban, according to chairman John J. Murray of San Francisco, applies even to parties not sponsored by the school held in private homes.

The majority stated that the rule had been carefully reviewed in 1967 and most parents favored it at that time.

Father Dwyer argued, "There is a tendency these days to deprive children of their childhood and try to make them adults too soon."

Delia Alavarez of Santa Clara, who cast one of the dissenting votes, countered, "I become very disturbed when a school board starts dictating what should happen in the home."

The board also heard representatives of three Marin parochial schools argue for autonomy in setting tuition as a means to solve financial difficulties.

Majority Of Inters Refuse To Work In Contract Dispute

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — All but 14 of San Francisco General Hospital's 63 interns are striking today in demands for improved patient care, better facilities and formal contracts covering their work.

Dr. Francis Curry, city health director, who announced 14 had worked Thursday, reported that despite the walkout "There is no problem regarding patient care."

At a news conference, Dr. Russell Buss said he and other interns believe patients are in jeopardy and contended most of the flaws in the city-owned institution resulted from mismanagement.

Dr. David Richman, another spokesman for the interns, declared the strike was designed to "dramatize the needs of the patients" and demands for more X-ray facilities, more doctors and nurses and more supplies.

Interns had been working under an agreement which paid them $8,300 a year for working 65 to 100 hours a week. They seek a contract carrying job descriptions, the amount of pay and fringe benefits.

Curry and Joseph Mignola, assistant public health director for hospital services, agreed with the interns' complaints.

"We're all concerned about the same things," Mignola said. "We know improvements have to be made. We're in agreement about almost everything they want, but we're dealing with City Hall hangups."

"Our workload is going up and we're under-appropriating."

San Francisco is planning a new hospital, but Mignola said, "The interns are young and they have to move fast ... they're not satisfied that a new hospital is going to be built."

He described the interns as the "top of the country," picked from 700 applicants last year.

The interns said they would not picket and would keep three of their members in the hospital at all times in case of an emergency.

Plea Set In Money Stealing

Solomon Marquez Jr., 31, of San Francisco, has been arraigned in Marin Municipal Court on a charge of attempting to steal about $400 in coins collected from Sausalito parking meters.

He is to plead to the charge next Tuesday.

A parking enforcement officer said he saw Marquez take the money from city hall and attempt to stuff it into a paper bag.

A Marin Call To Aid Ghetto Schools

Affluent Marin Catholics were asked last night to help underwrite financially troubled Catholic schools in the San Francisco ghetto.

The plea came at the end of the first open session of the Board of Education of the Archdiocese of San Francisco ever held in Marin.

Rev. John T. Dwyer of the board told more than 100 persons at Dominican College in San Rafael that parents in San Francisco poverty areas like the Mission District cannot afford more than the $12 a month tuition they pay now.

Yet, he said, "We can't stop the rising cost of education. What I am asking you is this: would you help us to establish some kind of central fund whereby we can help those schools in the poverty areas stay open?"

Dwyer, who is pastor of St. Paul's Church in San Francisco and a member of the board's finance committee, said questionnaires will be sent out to get reactions to the subsidy proposal.

His call for Catholics to pull together came after a wide schism developed during the meeting.

Norma Baumsteiger, representing Parents for Orthodoxy in Parochial Education (POPE), urged the board to forbid use of the controversial Dutch catechism beginning Feb. 1 at Marin Catholic High School.

Use of the method — which relies on experiencing rather than memorizing — she called "a definite threat to the souls of our children." She asked that the traditional Baltimore and Our Lady of St. Paul catechisms, both officially discouraged, be substituted.

Mrs. Baumsteiger also condemned sex education classes beginning at Marin Catholic as "dangerous."

Lengthy applause greeted her remarks, but the other side was also applauded.

Paul Boske of the school board at St. Isabella's School in Terra Linda and board member Sister John Marie S.H.F. of San Jose supported the Dutch catechism.

"I would say the Dutch catechism, in the hands of a cabable teacher, yes, can be used," the nun told Mrs. Baumsteiger.

While the only board comment on the catechism issue opposed her view, the majority of the 11 board members agreed with Mrs. Baumsteiger on junior high school school dances.

St. Isabella's had asked for such dances, but the board turned down the request and yesterday afternoon reaffirmed that vote 7-3.

The majority argued that eighth graders are not mature enough to handle coeducational parties.

The ban, according to chairman John J. Murray of San Francisco, applies even to parties not sponsored by the school held in private homes.

The majority stated that the rule had been carefully reviewed in 1967 and most parents favored it at that time.

Father Dwyer argued, "There is a tendency these days to deprive children of their childhood and try to make them adults too soon."

Delia Alavarez of Santa Clara, who cast one of the dissenting votes, countered, "I become very disturbed when a school board starts dictating what should happen in the home."

The board also heard representatives of three Marin parochial schools argue for autonomy in setting tuition as a means to solve financial difficulties.

Majority Of Inters Refuse To Work In Contract Dispute

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — All but 14 of San Francisco General Hospital's 63 interns are striking today in demands for improved patient care, better facilities and formal contracts covering their work.

Dr. Francis Curry, city health director, who announced 14 had worked Thursday, reported that despite the walkout "There is no problem regarding patient care."

At a news conference, Dr. Russell Buss said he and other interns believe patients are in jeopardy and contended most of the flaws in the city-owned institution resulted from mismanagement.

LIGHTNING FAST 'AIRTRAIN' MODELED

A Munich train locomotive factory built this model of a 'transrapid' express train without wheels which railroad planners expect to have operational in West Germany within 10 years. The 300-mph train will whiz along on magnetic 'pillows' produced by diesel electric generators. A Munich aircraft company has already built an experimental track for a similar train with 36 heavy cars traveling up to 240 mph.

78-Year-Old Hit By Car, Badly Hurt

A 78-year-old Tamalpais Valley woman was critically injured yesterday when she was struck by a car while walking along Shoreline Highway near her home, the California Highway Patrol has reported.

Maude M. Cochran, of 332 Shoreline Highway, was reported in critical condition today in the intensive care unit at Marin General Hospital. She suffered a fractured pelvis and two broken legs in the mishap.

Officers said she was walking along the highway at 6:50 p.m. when she was struck by a car driven by Glenn M. Jannilla, 21, of 341 Jean Street, Tamalpais Valley.

Jannilla told officers he was nearing a curve at about 30 miles an hour when he saw the woman in front of him. He could not avoid her, he said, and the impact forced her onto the hood of the car.

Inspector Revolts Against City Hall

The Fairfax City Council, after being accused of ignoring rundown conditions in city hall, voted $9,000 last night for repairs. (Another Fairfax Council story, page 1)

The move came after Dale W. Hostrup, city building inspector, rose unexpectedly during the council meeting to criticize the council for failure to take steps to correct long-standing defects in the aging building.

Citing an overloaded electrical system, sagging supports and cracking walls, Holstrup said, "I don't think any employee should be asked to work in that building. There is $9,000 in the budget (for repair work.) Let's get it fixed up."

Holstrup fumed that he was called upon in his official duties to enforce building standards for the private sector but forced to overlook conditions at city hall.

The council, in a 4-1 vote, Mayor Frank J. Egger dissenting, directed city officials to correct wiring defects, acknowledged to be the most critical problem, and then report back to the council on what other repairs can be made with what's left of the $9,000.

Egger, bemoaning voter defeat in 1968 of a $500,000 bond issue to build a new civic center, said the funds would do little to correct the problems.

He noted that the city's previous building inspector had said "in effect that the building should be condemned" and that the council several years ago received reports from other building experts that the structure should be closed.

Holstrup acknowledged the $9,000 would fall far short of bringing city hall up to building standards but said it would at least serve to make the structure more acceptable to employees.

The council also voted $90 to install a partition in the police department — the issue which brought Holstrup's complaints.

The Fairfax City Council also:

POLICEMAN — Voted, 3-2, Robert R. Souza and Lee Nelder dissenting, to hire John Cooper as a probationary patrolman at a monthly salary of $727. The council had gone behind closed doors to discuss the appointment after Nelder expressed fears that Cooper, fourth on an eligibility list, might not be best qualified. His subsequent bid to call for a new list was defeated. The first three on the list either accepted other police jobs or were not recommended for appointment by Chief James Orr.

STREET — Settling a long-standing dispute, voted, 3-2 — Souza and Nelder again opposed —to hire Neil Koch of Novato as a street maintenance man at $613 a month and to let the city's personnel board of review resolve the complaint of Louis Soldavini, who had sought the job but was turned down because he was serving on the city parks and recreation commission.

EXAMS — Voted to ask neighboring communities if they would conduct examinations for openings for police lieutenant and sergeant, as Fairfax is without a city administrator. Because of failure to hold the sergeant's exam, bad morale has developed in the police department, said Mel Dollahite, vice president of the policeman's association.

CABLE TV — Approved a new rate structure for Clearview Systems and altered the cable television firm's franchise with the city to increase city revenue from the pact from 2 per cent to 5 per cent and setting a termination date of 1979.

LABORATORY — Endorsed creation of a county crime laboratory.

STOP SIGN — Voted, 4-1, Egger dissenting, to place a stop sign on Park Road at Merwin Avenue. Egger noted there was a stop sign a block away.

EXTENSION — Allocated $6,000 for a fire line extension on Cypress Drive.

APPOINTMENTS — Renamed Charles L. Eckles to the design review board and Hugh Gallagher and William T. Benson to the personnel board of review. Egger said there was still an opening on the board of review, as well as one on the park and recreation commission.

SIGN — Set a public hearing on the city's proposed sign ordinance for Feb. 22.

DANCE — Denied the request of Headwell Productions to conduct a rock dance Feb. 13 at the Fairfax Pavilion, Nelder, Cornelis Van Vliet and Souza voting against the event.

BUDGET — Heard Egger direct city department heads to prepare preliminary budget requests for fiscal 1971-72.

OAK MANOR — Said Egger could proceed with a study of city annexation of the Oak Manor area.

MEETING — Set its next meeting for 8 p.m. Monday.

Old Adobe Board Eyes Fifth School

The Old Adobe School District board, Petaluma, decided last night that a fifth school will be on the drawing boards by the time construction begins on Miwok Valley School this spring.

District Supt. Dean D. Magowan said that by using the normal growth pattern set by the state, the district will be able to justify construction of another 14-room school by summertime.

Magowan said building plans will be generally the same as Miwok Valley School to speed the construction process. Miwok Valley is presently set to be a 14-classroom building, but Magowan told the board he would return to the State Building Committee in April or May to report enough growth to warrant a six-classroom addition before construction is even finished.

Magowan said the board would also begin a review of the ratio of staff members to students with the possibility of hiring an additional administrator and 10 staff members to accomodate the expected enrollment increase next September of between 300 and 600 students.

The Old Adobe School District Board Also:

ADVISERS — Approved the establishment of a 20-member citizens committee to study and make recommendations on district philosophies and goals. Magowan said letters would be mailed to prospective members with a meeting scheduled for Feb. 10.

BONDS — Approved the sale of $165,000 in bonds for construction of Miwok Valley School.

TEACHER — Approved the employment of Linda Horciza as a first grade teacher at La Tercera School at a salary of $4,435 for the remainder of the year.

DRESS CODE — Heard that the professional-relations committee of the Old Adobe Teachers Association had approved pantsuits for teachers, but said they must retain a neat appearance.

CUSTODIAN — Authorized an additional custodian position to improve building maintenance.

Scout Will Challenge Show Reply

An Explorer Scout in San Anselmo declared today he will appeal to the Marin County Board of Supervisors for permission to hold a giant sports show at the Civic Center fairgrounds from April 29 through May 3.

"I'm going to take my proposal to Mr. Arrigoni (Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr.) and then to the board of supervisors," said Terry Halbert, a senior at Sir Francis Drake High School. He is a member of Explorer Post No. 15, which wants to put on the show.

Assist. County Administrator Thomas F. Campanella said yesterday that the sports show at the Civic Center ground may be turned down because it has developed into a commercial type of activity, and the expected crowd of 100,000 will create problems in traffic control and security.

Young Halbert replied that the show was a commercial sports show from the beginning, and county officials knew it when they approved the show last November. As for the crowds, Halbert said his group planned all along to take care of its own crowds. "We're willing to pay for security of the show but not for Angela Davis."

The youth said the show will go on.

The San Anselmo Lions Club, which sponsors Halbert's post, is not so sure. George Fish of the club, who serves as liaison with the post, said he had advised the boys that the county had turned down the show. "I called Terry Halbert on Jan. 14 or 15 and gave him a definite no."

Reed Board Hires Aide Under Hollis

Another Marin County Schools office employee has been hired by the Reed School District to fill a district administrative post until a permanent superintendent can be found.

He is Lester Dunn, administrative assistant for the county. The Reed Board agreed Tuesday to pay the county office $80 a day for his services. Acting Supt. Irwin Karp said Dunn will work with him as acting assistant superintendent.

The first county schools employee to work for Reed, Stanley H. Friese, served as interim superintendent from June 8 until Jan. 4, when he was recalled to the county office by County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis.

Friese's stay in the district was the subject of some controversy in October when Reed trustees criticized him for taking time to deliver a report to the county school board.

Hollis reacted by cancelling Friese's contract, and then relented and agreed to allow him to remain on the job until Jan. 4, when the contract for Friese's services expired.

Tuesday's action was an extension of the expired contract, but at a reduced rate and for a different administrator.

In other business, the board heard teachers' comments on five personnel policies proposed for the district, and promised to take them into account before adopting the policies. They included tenure, probationary status, assignment within the district and evaluation of probationary and tenured personnel.

Fund Loss Blamed On Seashore

Shoreline Unified School District is suffering a $250,000 a year loss in tax revenue because of the Point Reyes National Seashore and the placing of land in agricultural preserves.

Supt. Charles A. McCully said the revenue has dropped because the seashore land is off the tax rolls and land in agricultural preserve is assessed about one-third its value.

Trustees last night called for legislation to reimburse the district for such revenue losses, McCully reported "It's having a strong, adverse effect on the district, he said.

McCully said he would seek state legislation on agricultural preserves and make federal officials aware of the tax loss resulting from the seashore.

The Shoreline Unified School District also:

TRUSTEES — Voted to consolidate the trustee election with the Marin County School Board election April 20. Terms of all seven trustees will expire, because it was decided when the district was formed that all would serve until the 1971 election.

OUTDOOR EDUCATION — Approved an agreement for sixth, seventh and eighth grade pupils to attend a Sonoma County outdoor education program May 20-June 4 at Camp Cazadero at a cost of $19 per pupil.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted the resignation of Ralph Nixon, principal at Tomales Elementary School, effective the end of the school year, and the resignations of Thomas Joynt and Joseph Chiara, teaching assistants at Tomales High School.

HIRED — Authorized hiring Susan Eggling as a part-time teacher at Tomales High at a salary of $3,280 for the remainder of the school year.

Plea Today In Cruising Club Arrest

Four men have been arraigned in Marin Municipal Court on a charge of burglarizing the Sausalito Cruising Club Tuesday.

Eric Ansley Van Horn, 20, of 24 Sunnyside Avenue, Mill Valley, was to plead to the charge today.

The cases of Newton Byrd McCarthy, 20, of Gate 5, Sausalito; Steven Pope Coleman, 18, of no known address, and Mark Rolland McCready, 19, of 47 Coronet Avenue, Mill Valley, were referred to the probation department for a report Feb. 11 on whether they are acceptable to juvenile court.

They were arrested around 3 a.m. Tuesday when a Sausalito resident went to check his boat, docked near the club, for damage from the bay oil spill. He noticed a figure in a window of the club house and apprehended McCarthy at gunpoint.

Sausalito police were called and found Van Horn a short time later on the Napa Street pier. McCready and Coleman were arrested later after they had jumped into the bay to escape

Study Zone Idea Hit By Cotati

A proposal to declare the entire City of Cotati a study zone was rejected last night by the city council, saying it would await a recommendation from professional planners.

The council had received the proposal from the citizens planning advisory committee, which has been working with planning consultants Herman D. Ruth and Associates of Berkeley on a new general plan.

The council said that a study zone may be necessary later, but that it preferred to wait until May when the planning Consultants' report is scheduled for completion.

The committee had suggested the study zone as a means of putting a freeze on rezonings and development until all facts have been gathered and decisions can be made with more information.

The council set special meetings to review the planning progress for Feb. 23, March 9 and March 23.

The Cotati City Council also:

DOGS — Heard that police officers had difficulty enforcing the new 24-hour leash ordinance because city pound facilities can accommodate only four dogs. The council suggested that an agreement be worked out with private kennels to house the animals.

JOINT MEETING — Set a joint meeting Monday with the Rohnert Park City Council at 7:30 p.m. at the Cotati Veteran's Memorial Building to study a planned residential development and a possible merger of the police departments.

EXTENSION — Granted an extension of a month to Gem Construction Co. to complete the sewer line hook-up with Rohnert Park.

Harbor Tours Challenges Span Board's Ferryboats

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Harbor Tours and Harbor Carriers filed suit yesterday in superior court seeking an order to prevent the Golden Gate Bridge District from operating tours of San Francisco Bay.

The plaintiff said the district, which recently began operating a commuter ferryboat service, was offering special group rates. The complaint also said the district sold round-trip tickets to persons who have no intention of dismounting from the ferryboat.

These practices, the private tour operators said, are illegal because they are not authorized by laws giving the district its powers. A permanent injunction against the district was requested.

Youths Are Cited For Burglaries

Three youths have been cited by Corte Madera police on suspicion of burglarizing six schools last weekend.

The three youths, Andrew E. Jacobsen, 13, of 30 Kensington Road, San Anselmo; Randy Sturgeon, 13, of 1 Park Way, Lagunitas, and Joe Gardner, 12, of 76 Madrone Avenue, San Anselmo, were cited to juvenile authorities Wednesday after an anonymous tip linked them to the crimes, officers said.

Detective William E. Obershaw said today the youths are suspected of burglarizing Red Hill and Wade Thomas schools in San Anselmo Friday. They also are suspected of entering Adaline Kent and Wolfe Grade schools inKentfield, Del Mar School in Tiburon and Neil Cummins School in Corte Madera on Saturday.

About $40 in cash was taken from Del Mar School, four microphones valued at $95 each from the Neil Cummins School, pocket watches from Wolfe Grade School, small change from Adaline E. Kent School and undetermined matter from Redhill and Wade Thomas schools.

Extension Of Water Channels Wins Approval

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Planning Commission yesterday approved proposals by the Sonoma County Water Agency to extend two water channels in Petaluma.

The planners approved the alignment extending the existing storm drain off Shasta Avenue to serve an additional portion of Shasta Avenue, Petaluma Boulevard North and Cemetery Lane at the Petaluma city limits.

Also approved was the proposed alignment to extend the Capri Creek channel from the Petaluma River eastward across Highway 101 to North McDowell Boulevard to a mile south of Corona Road. The planners suggested that additional trees and landscaping be included in final plans.

Lund Marriage Is Dissolved

The eight-year marriage of Erik H. Lund, former Bolinas-Stinson School District trustee, has been dissolved in Marin Superior Court.

Lund's wife, Deanne, filed for the dissolution.

Mrs. Lund was given custody of the couple's three children, David, 8, and Kristin and Karen, both 6, and was awarded the family home at 9 Avenida Olema, Stinson Beach.

Lund, 30, a pharmaceutical products salesman, served on the school district board from July 1969 until he resigned last October, saying he was moving to Portland.

Possession Charge Is Dismissed

A charge of possessing marijuana against Kimberley Mitchell, 21, of Tiburon, has been dismissed in Marin Municipal Court.

Judge David Menary Jr. dismissed the charge when the district attorney's office said it was not ready to proceed with prosecution of the case.

Motion To Drop Counts Is Denied

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A motion to set aside criminal contempt charges against four unions involved in the strike against the Independent-Journal was turned down yesterday.

U.S. District Judge William T. Sweigert also refused a motion for a new trial on the charges.

Three of the unions, Local 21 of the International Typographical Union, Teamsters Locals 70 and 85, were found guilty of criminal contempt. The three, along with ILWU Local 10, were also found guilty of civil contempt.

Officers of the union appeared yesterday to hear sentences but Sweigert continued the matter until this afternoon after a two-hour hearing.

During the session, Leon Olson, president ITU Local 21, offered to submit all of the strike issues to Sweigert for binding arbitration.

Hotel Slaps Storer With $25,000 Suit

A $25,000 breach of contract suit has been filed in Marin Superior Court against former Marin County supervisor Thomas T. Storer by the owners of the Marshall Hotel in Marshall.

The suit charges that Storer, and ten John Does, took over the operation of the hotel and tavern in March 1969 and agreed to pay $1,000 monthly rent, as well as to pay all the debts of the hotel.

Storer and others opened the hotel on April 18, 1969, as the Lion's Share, formerly of Sausalito and now operating in San Anselmo.

The suit, filed on behalf of the Marshall Hotel Inc., charges that the hotel operation was closed by the Internal Revenue Service in January 1970 because Sorer and his unnamed partners failed to pay federal withholding taxes.

The regular meeting of the Sausalito Planning Commission, scheduled for Wednesday, was canceled because of a lack of quorum, Planning Director H. Eric Borgwardt reported.

Man Arrested In Assault Case

Brian Lee Gilbert, 20, of 808 Reichert Avenue, Novato, was arrested by Novato police yesterday on suspicion of attempted rape of a 20-year-old Novato woman Dec. 27 at the Nave Shopping Center.

Gilbert, sought for questioning in connection with the alleged rape, was arrested on a traffic warrant at 11:15 a.m. near 1410 South Novato Boulevard.

He was booked into Marin County Jail in lieu of $10,000 bail and scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

LIGHTNING FAST 'AIRTRAIN' MODELED

A Munich train locomotive factory built this model of a 'transrapid' express train without wheels which railroad planners expect to have operational in West Germany within 10 years. The 300-mph train will whiz along on magnetic 'pillows' produced by diesel electric generators. A Munich aircraft company has already built an experimental track for a similar train with 36 heavy cars traveling up to 240 mph.

78-Year-Old Hit By Car, Badly Hurt

A 78-year-old Tamalpais Valley woman was critically injured yesterday when she was struck by a car while walking along Shoreline Highway near her home, the California Highway Patrol has reported.

Maude M. Cochran, of 332 Shoreline Highway, was reported in critical condition today in the intensive care unit at Marin General Hospital. She suffered a fractured pelvis and two broken legs in the mishap.

Officers said she was walking along the highway at 6:50 p.m. when she was struck by a car driven by Glenn M. Jannilla, 21, of 341 Jean Street, Tamalpais Valley.

Jannilla told officers he was nearing a curve at about 30 miles an hour when he saw the woman in front of him. He could not avoid her, he said, and the impact forced her onto the hood of the car.

Inspector Revolts Against City Hall

The Fairfax City Council, after being accused of ignoring rundown conditions in city hall, voted $9,000 last night for repairs. (Another Fairfax Council story, page 1)

The move came after Dale W. Hostrup, city building inspector, rose unexpectedly during the council meeting to criticize the council for failure to take steps to correct long-standing defects in the aging building.

Citing an overloaded electrical system, sagging supports and cracking walls, Holstrup said, "I don't think any employee should be asked to work in that building. There is $9,000 in the budget (for repair work.) Let's get it fixed up."

Holstrup fumed that he was called upon in his official duties to enforce building standards for the private sector but forced to overlook conditions at city hall.

The council, in a 4-1 vote, Mayor Frank J. Egger dissenting, directed city officials to correct wiring defects, acknowledged to be the most critical problem, and then report back to the council on what other repairs can be made with what's left of the $9,000.

Egger, bemoaning voter defeat in 1968 of a $500,000 bond issue to build a new civic center, said the funds would do little to correct the problems.

He noted that the city's previous building inspector had said "in effect that the building should be condemned" and that the council several years ago received reports from other building experts that the structure should be closed.

Holstrup acknowledged the $9,000 would fall far short of bringing city hall up to building standards but said it would at least serve to make the structure more acceptable to employees.

The council also voted $90 to install a partition in the police department — the issue which brought Holstrup's complaints.

The Fairfax City Council also:

POLICEMAN — Voted, 3-2, Robert R. Souza and Lee Nelder dissenting, to hire John Cooper as a probationary patrolman at a monthly salary of $727. The council had gone behind closed doors to discuss the appointment after Nelder expressed fears that Cooper, fourth on an eligibility list, might not be best qualified. His subsequent bid to call for a new list was defeated. The first three on the list either accepted other police jobs or were not recommended for appointment by Chief James Orr.

STREET — Settling a long-standing dispute, voted, 3-2 — Souza and Nelder again opposed —to hire Neil Koch of Novato as a street maintenance man at $613 a month and to let the city's personnel board of review resolve the complaint of Louis Soldavini, who had sought the job but was turned down because he was serving on the city parks and recreation commission.

EXAMS — Voted to ask neighboring communities if they would conduct examinations for openings for police lieutenant and sergeant, as Fairfax is without a city administrator. Because of failure to hold the sergeant's exam, bad morale has developed in the police department, said Mel Dollahite, vice president of the policeman's association.

CABLE TV — Approved a new rate structure for Clearview Systems and altered the cable television firm's franchise with the city to increase city revenue from the pact from 2 per cent to 5 per cent and setting a termination date of 1979.

LABORATORY — Endorsed creation of a county crime laboratory.

STOP SIGN — Voted, 4-1, Egger dissenting, to place a stop sign on Park Road at Merwin Avenue. Egger noted there was a stop sign a block away.

EXTENSION — Allocated $6,000 for a fire line extension on Cypress Drive.

APPOINTMENTS — Renamed Charles L. Eckles to the design review board and Hugh Gallagher and William T. Benson to the personnel board of review. Egger said there was still an opening on the board of review, as well as one on the park and recreation commission.

SIGN — Set a public hearing on the city's proposed sign ordinance for Feb. 22.

DANCE — Denied the request of Headwell Productions to conduct a rock dance Feb. 13 at the Fairfax Pavilion, Nelder, Cornelis Van Vliet and Souza voting against the event.

BUDGET — Heard Egger direct city department heads to prepare preliminary budget requests for fiscal 1971-72.

OAK MANOR — Said Egger could proceed with a study of city annexation of the Oak Manor area.

MEETING — Set its next meeting for 8 p.m. Monday.

Old Adobe Board Eyes Fifth School

The Old Adobe School District board, Petaluma, decided last night that a fifth school will be on the drawing boards by the time construction begins on Miwok Valley School this spring.

District Supt. Dean D. Magowan said that by using the normal growth pattern set by the state, the district will be able to justify construction of another 14-room school by summertime.

Magowan said building plans will be generally the same as Miwok Valley School to speed the construction process. Miwok Valley is presently set to be a 14-classroom building, but Magowan told the board he would return to the State Building Committee in April or May to report enough growth to warrant a six-classroom addition before construction is even finished.

Magowan said the board would also begin a review of the ratio of staff members to students with the possibility of hiring an additional administrator and 10 staff members to accomodate the expected enrollment increase next September of between 300 and 600 students.

The Old Adobe School District Board Also:

ADVISERS — Approved the establishment of a 20-member citizens committee to study and make recommendations on district philosophies and goals. Magowan said letters would be mailed to prospective members with a meeting scheduled for Feb. 10.

BONDS — Approved the sale of $165,000 in bonds for construction of Miwok Valley School.

TEACHER — Approved the employment of Linda Horciza as a first grade teacher at La Tercera School at a salary of $4,435 for the remainder of the year.

DRESS CODE — Heard that the professional-relations committee of the Old Adobe Teachers Association had approved pantsuits for teachers, but said they must retain a neat appearance.

CUSTODIAN — Authorized an additional custodian position to improve building maintenance.

Scout Will Challenge Show Reply

An Explorer Scout in San Anselmo declared today he will appeal to the Marin County Board of Supervisors for permission to hold a giant sports show at the Civic Center fairgrounds from April 29 through May 3.

"I'm going to take my proposal to Mr. Arrigoni (Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr.) and then to the board of supervisors," said Terry Halbert, a senior at Sir Francis Drake High School. He is a member of Explorer Post No. 15, which wants to put on the show.

Assist. County Administrator Thomas F. Campanella said yesterday that the sports show at the Civic Center ground may be turned down because it has developed into a commercial type of activity, and the expected crowd of 100,000 will create problems in traffic control and security.

Young Halbert replied that the show was a commercial sports show from the beginning, and county officials knew it when they approved the show last November. As for the crowds, Halbert said his group planned all along to take care of its own crowds. "We're willing to pay for security of the show but not for Angela Davis."

The youth said the show will go on.

The San Anselmo Lions Club, which sponsors Halbert's post, is not so sure. George Fish of the club, who serves as liaison with the post, said he had advised the boys that the county had turned down the show. "I called Terry Halbert on Jan. 14 or 15 and gave him a definite no."

Reed Board Hires Aide Under Hollis

Another Marin County Schools office employee has been hired by the Reed School District to fill a district administrative post until a permanent superintendent can be found.

He is Lester Dunn, administrative assistant for the county. The Reed Board agreed Tuesday to pay the county office $80 a day for his services. Acting Supt. Irwin Karp said Dunn will work with him as acting assistant superintendent.

The first county schools employee to work for Reed, Stanley H. Friese, served as interim superintendent from June 8 until Jan. 4, when he was recalled to the county office by County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis.

Friese's stay in the district was the subject of some controversy in October when Reed trustees criticized him for taking time to deliver a report to the county school board.

Hollis reacted by cancelling Friese's contract, and then relented and agreed to allow him to remain on the job until Jan. 4, when the contract for Friese's services expired.

Tuesday's action was an extension of the expired contract, but at a reduced rate and for a different administrator.

In other business, the board heard teachers' comments on five personnel policies proposed for the district, and promised to take them into account before adopting the policies. They included tenure, probationary status, assignment within the district and evaluation of probationary and tenured personnel.

Fund Loss Blamed On Seashore

Shoreline Unified School District is suffering a $250,000 a year loss in tax revenue because of the Point Reyes National Seashore and the placing of land in agricultural preserves.

Supt. Charles A. McCully said the revenue has dropped because the seashore land is off the tax rolls and land in agricultural preserve is assessed about one-third its value.

Trustees last night called for legislation to reimburse the district for such revenue losses, McCully reported "It's having a strong, adverse effect on the district, he said.

McCully said he would seek state legislation on agricultural preserves and make federal officials aware of the tax loss resulting from the seashore.

The Shoreline Unified School District also:

TRUSTEES — Voted to consolidate the trustee election with the Marin County School Board election April 20. Terms of all seven trustees will expire, because it was decided when the district was formed that all would serve until the 1971 election.

OUTDOOR EDUCATION — Approved an agreement for sixth, seventh and eighth grade pupils to attend a Sonoma County outdoor education program May 20-June 4 at Camp Cazadero at a cost of $19 per pupil.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted the resignation of Ralph Nixon, principal at Tomales Elementary School, effective the end of the school year, and the resignations of Thomas Joynt and Joseph Chiara, teaching assistants at Tomales High School.

HIRED — Authorized hiring Susan Eggling as a part-time teacher at Tomales High at a salary of $3,280 for the remainder of the school year.

Plea Today In Cruising Club Arrest

Four men have been arraigned in Marin Municipal Court on a charge of burglarizing the Sausalito Cruising Club Tuesday.

Eric Ansley Van Horn, 20, of 24 Sunnyside Avenue, Mill Valley, was to plead to the charge today.

The cases of Newton Byrd McCarthy, 20, of Gate 5, Sausalito; Steven Pope Coleman, 18, of no known address, and Mark Rolland McCready, 19, of 47 Coronet Avenue, Mill Valley, were referred to the probation department for a report Feb. 11 on whether they are acceptable to juvenile court.

They were arrested around 3 a.m. Tuesday when a Sausalito resident went to check his boat, docked near the club, for damage from the bay oil spill. He noticed a figure in a window of the club house and apprehended McCarthy at gunpoint.

Sausalito police were called and found Van Horn a short time later on the Napa Street pier. McCready and Coleman were arrested later after they had jumped into the bay to escape

Study Zone Idea Hit By Cotati

A proposal to declare the entire City of Cotati a study zone was rejected last night by the city council, saying it would await a recommendation from professional planners.

The council had received the proposal from the citizens planning advisory committee, which has been working with planning consultants Herman D. Ruth and Associates of Berkeley on a new general plan.

The council said that a study zone may be necessary later, but that it preferred to wait until May when the planning Consultants' report is scheduled for completion.

The committee had suggested the study zone as a means of putting a freeze on rezonings and development until all facts have been gathered and decisions can be made with more information.

The council set special meetings to review the planning progress for Feb. 23, March 9 and March 23.

The Cotati City Council also:

DOGS — Heard that police officers had difficulty enforcing the new 24-hour leash ordinance because city pound facilities can accommodate only four dogs. The council suggested that an agreement be worked out with private kennels to house the animals.

JOINT MEETING — Set a joint meeting Monday with the Rohnert Park City Council at 7:30 p.m. at the Cotati Veteran's Memorial Building to study a planned residential development and a possible merger of the police departments.

EXTENSION — Granted an extension of a month to Gem Construction Co. to complete the sewer line hook-up with Rohnert Park.

Hotel Slaps Storer With $25,000 Suit

A $25,000 breach of contract suit has been filed in Marin Superior Court against former Marin County supervisor Thomas T. Storer by the owners of the Marshall Hotel in Marshall.

The suit charges that Storer, and ten John Does, took over the operation of the hotel and tavern in March 1969 and agreed to pay $1,000 monthly rent, as well as to pay all the debts of the hotel.

Man Arrested In Assault Case

Brian Lee Gilbert, 20, of 808 Reichert Avenue, Novato, was arrested by Novato police yesterday on suspicion of attempted rape of a 20-year-old Novato woman Dec. 27 at the Nave Shopping Center.

Gilbert, sought for questioning in connection with the alleged rape, was arrested on a traffic warrant at 11:15 a.m. near 1410 South Novato Boulevard.

He was booked into Marin County Jail in lieu of $10,000 bail and scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Harbor Tours Challenges Span Board's Ferryboats

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Harbor Tours and Harbor Carriers filed suit yesterday in superior court seeking an order to prevent the Golden Gate Bridge District from operating tours of San Francisco Bay.

The plaintiff said the district, which recently began operating a commuter ferryboat service, was offering special group rates. The complaint also said the district sold round-trip tickets to persons who have no intention of dismounting from the ferryboat.

These practices, the private tour operators said, are illegal because they are not authorized by laws giving the district its powers. A permanent injunction against the district was requested.

Youths Are Cited For Burglaries

Three youths have been cited by Corte Madera police on suspicion of burglarizing six schools last weekend.

The three youths, Andrew E. Jacobsen, 13, of 30 Kensington Road, San Anselmo; Randy Sturgeon, 13, of 1 Park Way, Lagunitas, and Joe Gardner, 12, of 76 Madrone Avenue, San Anselmo, were cited to juvenile authorities Wednesday after an anonymous tip linked them to the crimes, officers said.

Detective William E. Obershaw said today the youths are suspected of burglarizing Red Hill and Wade Thomas schools in San Anselmo Friday. They also are suspected of entering Adaline Kent and Wolfe Grade schools inKentfield, Del Mar School in Tiburon and Neil Cummins School in Corte Madera on Saturday.

About $40 in cash was taken from Del Mar School, four microphones valued at $95 each from the Neil Cummins School, pocket watches from Wolfe Grade School, small change from Adaline E. Kent School and undetermined matter from Redhill and Wade Thomas schools.

Extension Of Water Channels Wins Approval

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Planning Commission yesterday approved proposals by the Sonoma County Water Agency to extend two water channels in Petaluma.

The planners approved the alignment extending the existing storm drain off Shasta Avenue to serve an additional portion of Shasta Avenue, Petaluma Boulevard North and Cemetery Lane at the Petaluma city limits.

Also approved was the proposed alignment to extend the Capri Creek channel from the Petaluma River eastward across Highway 101 to North McDowell Boulevard to a mile south of Corona Road. The planners suggested that additional trees and landscaping be included in final plans.

Lund Marriage Is Dissolved

The eight-year marriage of Erik H. Lund, former Bolinas-Stinson School District trustee, has been dissolved in Marin Superior Court.

Lund's wife, Deanne, filed for the dissolution.

Mrs. Lund was given custody of the couple's three children, David, 8, and Kristin and Karen, both 6, and was awarded the family home at 9 Avenida Olema, Stinson Beach.

Lund, 30, a pharmaceutical products salesman, served on the school district board from July 1969 until he resigned last October, saying he was moving to Portland.

Motion To Drop Counts Is Denied

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A motion to set aside criminal contempt charges against four unions involved in the strike against the Independent-Journal was turned down yesterday.

U.S. District Judge William T. Sweigert also refused a motion for a new trial on the charges.

Three of the unions, Local 21 of the International Typographical Union, Teamsters Locals 70 and 85, were found guilty of criminal contempt. The three, along with ILWU Local 10, were also found guilty of civil contempt.

Officers of the union appeared yesterday to hear sentences but Sweigert continued the matter until this afternoon after a two-hour hearing.

During the session, Leon Olson, president ITU Local 21, offered to submit all of the strike issues to Sweigert for binding arbitration.

Possession Charge Is Dismissed

A charge of possessing marijuana against Kimberley Mitchell, 21, of Tiburon, has been dismissed in Marin Municipal Court.

Judge David Menary Jr. dismissed the charge when the district attorney's office said it was not ready to proceed with prosecution of the case.

Sausalito Meeting Halted; No Quorum

The regular meeting of the Sausalito Planning Commission, scheduled for Wednesday, was canceled because of a lack of quorum, Planning Director H. Eric Borgwardt reported.

Two Plead Guilty To Charges In Valentine's Day Fracas

I-J Special Report

VALLEJO — Two men arrested at the violent Valentine's Day demonstration against the Independent-Journal pleaded guilty yesterday to misdemeanor charges before Judge William E. Jensen in Vallejo Municipal Court.

Sherwin M. Thomas, 29, of San Francisco, and Conrad H. Pallellas, 56, of Daly City, withdrew innocent pleas and entered guilty pleas to counts of failing to disperse from the scene of a riot after being lawfully warned. Judge Jensen ordered both men to appear Feb. 18 for sentencing.

Marin County Deputy Dist. Atty. Gary Ragghianti moved to dismiss other misdemeanor counts against the two men — three against Thomas and four against Pallellas.

Two other men arrested last Feb. 14 also are to appear before Judge Jensen Feb. 18 for probable disposition of their cases.

They are Renaldo R. Batz, 22, of 101 Carlotta Circle, Mill Valley, and Frank D. Chism, 36, of Fremont.

Batz originally was accused on three counts, but not the failure to disperse charge. Ragghianti yesterday filed an amended complaint adding the fourth count. Batz's attorney, Robert D. Carrow of Novato, indicated that Batz would plead guilty to the failure to disperse count on Feb. 18. Carrow and Ragghianti agreed the other three counts would be dismissed.

The Marin district attorney's office said it planned to ask dismissal of all five charges against him on the basis of insufficient evidence to prosecute.

Disposition of the four misdemeanor cases will complete court action on all 12 arrests made at the rally against the I-J.

The demonstration was organized by Bay Area labor organizations in support of San Francisco International Typographical Union Local 21, which struck the I-J on Jan. 7, 1970.

Eight persons were charged with felonies. One of them, AWOL soldier Robert Henry Watkins, 20, pleaded guilty to assualting a police officer last March and was turned over to the Army.

Four others were convicted of felonies by a Solano Superior Court jury in Fairfield on Jan. 8 after more than 11 weeks of trial. They were among seven persons on trail. Two of the other defendants were convicted of misdemeanor offenses and one defendant was acquitted of all charges.

Judge Jensen, who presided over the trial, has set Feb. 5 for sentencing of those convicted.

All the cases were transferred to Solano County because defense attorneys argued their clients could not receive fair trials in Marin County.

Still pending in Vallejo Municipal Court are the cases of a dozen persons arrested in strike-related incidents, either before or after the riot. All are to appear before Judge Jensen Thursday for setting of jury trial dates.

Innocent Plea To Pot Charge

Gary Joel Rosenberg, 24, of no known address, has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of possessing marijuana.

He is to return to court Tuesday for setting of a date for a preliminary hearing.

A plastic bag allegedly containing hashish was found in Rosenberg's possession when he was booked at Marin County Jail for traffic warrants.

Sonoma Bid To Exclude Part From District

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Board of Supervisors has asked the California Air Resources Board to exclude the northern portion of the county from the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District.

The supervisors reasoned that only Southern Sonoma is in the air basin controlled by the district.

The board said it would ask Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Eureka, and Assemblyman Frank P. Belotti, R-Eureka, to introduce legislation separating the county into separate districts.

James Botz, deputy Sonoma county counsel, warned the supervisors at their meeting Monday that the resources board may insist that the north section become part of the Mendocino Air Pollution District.

Board Chairman Ignazio A. Vella said the county would also ask the district to permit a two-year phase-in to convert two open burning dumps and to eliminate backyard burning.

Two Plead Guilty To Charges In Valentine's Day Fracas

I-J Special Report

VALLEJO — Two men arrested at the violent Valentine's Day demonstration against the Independent-Journal pleaded guilty yesterday to misdemeanor charges before Judge William E. Jensen in Vallejo Municipal Court.

Sherwin M. Thomas, 29, of San Francisco, and Conrad H. Pallellas, 56, of Daly City, withdrew innocent pleas and entered guilty pleas to counts of failing to disperse from the scene of a riot after being lawfully warned. Judge Jensen ordered both men to appear Feb. 18 for sentencing.

Marin County Deputy Dist. Atty. Gary Ragghianti moved to dismiss other misdemeanor counts against the two men — three against Thomas and four against Pallellas.

Two other men arrested last Feb. 14 also are to appear before Judge Jensen Feb. 18 for probable disposition of their cases.

They are Renaldo R. Batz, 22, of 101 Carlotta Circle, Mill Valley, and Frank D. Chism, 36, of Fremont.

Batz originally was accused on three counts, but not the failure to disperse charge. Ragghianti yesterday filed an amended complaint adding the fourth count. Batz's attorney, Robert D. Carrow of Novato, indicated that Batz would plead guilty to the failure to disperse count on Feb. 18. Carrow and Ragghianti agreed the other three counts would be dismissed.

The Marin district attorney's office said it planned to ask dismissal of all five charges against him on the basis of insufficient evidence to prosecute.

Disposition of the four misdemeanor cases will complete court action on all 12 arrests made at the rally against the I-J.

The demonstration was organized by Bay Area labor organizations in support of San Francisco International Typographical Union Local 21, which struck the I-J on Jan. 7, 1970.

Eight persons were charged with felonies. One of them, AWOL soldier Robert Henry Watkins, 20, pleaded guilty to assualting a police officer last March and was turned over to the Army.

Four others were convicted of felonies by a Solano Superior Court jury in Fairfield on Jan. 8 after more than 11 weeks of trial. They were among seven persons on trail. Two of the other defendants were convicted of misdemeanor offenses and one defendant was acquitted of all charges.

Judge Jensen, who presided over the trial, has set Feb. 5 for sentencing of those convicted.

All the cases were transferred to Solano County because defense attorneys argued their clients could not receive fair trials in Marin County.

Still pending in Vallejo Municipal Court are the cases of a dozen persons arrested in strike-related incidents, either before or after the riot. All are to appear before Judge Jensen Thursday for setting of jury trial dates.

Innocent Plea To Pot Charge

Gary Joel Rosenberg, 24, of no known address, has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of possessing marijuana.

He is to return to court Tuesday for setting of a date for a preliminary hearing.

A plastic bag allegedly containing hashish was found in Rosenberg's possession when he was booked at Marin County Jail for traffic warrants.

Sonoma Bid To Exclude Part From District

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Board of Supervisors has asked the California Air Resources Board to exclude the northern portion of the county from the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District.

The supervisors reasoned that only Southern Sonoma is in the air basin controlled by the district.

The board said it would ask Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Eureka, and Assemblyman Frank P. Belotti, R-Eureka, to introduce legislation separating the county into separate districts.

James Botz, deputy Sonoma county counsel, warned the supervisors at their meeting Monday that the resources board may insist that the north section become part of the Mendocino Air Pollution District.

Board Chairman Ignazio A. Vella said the county would also ask the district to permit a two-year phase-in to convert two open burning dumps and to eliminate backyard burning.

Robbery At Lagunitas Commune

Four men, armed with a shotgun and a pistol, last Thursday robbed what Marin County sheriff's deputies described as a Lagunitas hippie commune, the sheriff's office have reported.

The men forced five residents of China House, 25 Park Lane, plus a visitor, to lie on the floor as they demanded money and drugs.

There were no drugs in the house, one of the residents, James E. Brewster, 34, told deputies, but the men did get $80 in cash.

While the robbers were still in the house, another resident, Cherry L. Philippett, 28, arrived home, saw the men, and ran to a neighbor's house to call the sheriff's office.

As the men fled from the house, Brewster got his .45-caliber automatic and engaged in a short gun battle with the culprits, but no one was injured, deputies said.

The men eluded deputies who arrived at the house a short time later and escaped, apparently in an automobile, deputies said.

Marin Media Asked To Hold Names

Names of juvenile offenders should not be published by the County press, Marin youth commissioners declared Wednesday night at a meeting held at Marin General Hospital.

The commissioners asked Youth Coordinator L. Charles Smith to draft a letter to the newspapers, asking them not to publish names of juveniles who are arrested.

Smith said the commissioners did not specify the age below which names should not be revealed but decided that all those who are subject to juvenile court proceedings should be protected.

Marin youth commissioners also:

AREA MEETING — Appointed Chairman Paul Cohen and Sheila Maloney to arrange for countywide rap session at Tamalpais High School during the third week in February.

PUBLICITY — Named Charles Saul and Howard Hodes, both of San Rafael, to a committee to improve publicity for youth commission activities.

NEXT MEETING — Set the next meeting for 8 p.m. Feb. 2 at Marin General Hospital.

Four Adult Classes Still Have Openings

Four classes at Sir Francis Drake Adult Evening High School still have openings, according to Evelyn Leedy of the school.

They are Conversational Spanish and Women's Physical Education on Tuesdays and Bookkeeping and Typing, and Classical Guitar on Thursdays. The spring semester ends March 11.

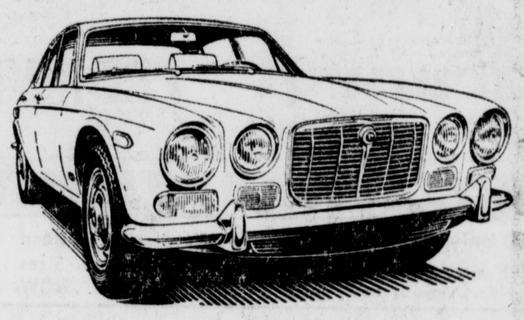
Car Is Looted Of Personal Items

Personal items including jewelry and clothes, and tape equipment were reported stolen Dec. 19 from a car parked on Hoag Avenue near Front Street, police said yesterday.

Owner of the car, Larry E. Herrenkohl of 407 Clubhouse Drive in Aptos told police that because he was sick he was unable to make the report earlier. He reported that the items were taken between 8 p.m. and 3 a.m. while he was at the Pepperland Dance Hall on Hoag Avenue.

Jaguar XJ6



It's Here!

"Not only is the XJ6 far away the best saloon that Jaguar have ever made - and their standards have always been high - but we believe that in its behaviour it gets closer to overall perfection than any other luxury car we have yet tested, regardless of price."

Motor 10th. May 1969

Most automotive experts would find that description hard to dispute. And it's our opinion that you'd be of the same opinion once you test drive the new Jaguar XJ Sedan for yourself.

You'll find the XJ's performance extraordinary. The appointments truly luxurious. And the ride so quiet it's literally unnerving.

Innocent Pleas To Pot Counts

Karen Scott and Gary Haggett, both of San Rafael, have pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to charges of possession marijuana.

A preliminary hearing was set for Feb. 16.

The charges, stemming from their arrest at their home last September, were dismissed in December when the district attorney's office was unable to have the suspected pot analyzed, but refiled yesterday.

Robbery At Lagunitas Commune

Four men, armed with a shotgun and a pistol, last Thursday robbed what Marin County sheriff's deputies described as a Lagunitas hippie commune, the sheriff's office have reported.

The men forced five residents of China House, 25 Park Lane, plus a visitor, to lie on the floor as they demanded money and drugs.

There were no drugs in the house, one of the residents, James E. Brewster, 34, told deputies, but the men did get $80 in cash.

While the robbers were still in the house, another resident, Cherry L. Philippett, 28, arrived home, saw the men, and ran to a neighbor's house to call the sheriff's office.

As the men fled from the house, Brewster got his .45-caliber automatic and engaged in a short gun battle with the culprits, but no one was injured, deputies said.

The men eluded deputies who arrived at the house a short time later and escaped, apparently in an automobile, deputies said.

Marin Media Asked To Hold Names

Names of juvenile offenders should not be published by the County press, Marin youth commissioners declared Wednesday night at a meeting held at Marin General Hospital.

The commissioners asked Youth Coordinator L. Charles Smith to draft a letter to the newspapers, asking them not to publish names of juveniles who are arrested.

Smith said the commissioners did not specify the age below which names should not be revealed but decided that all those who are subject to juvenile court proceedings should be protected.

Marin youth commissioners also:

AREA MEETING — Appointed Chairman Paul Cohen and Sheila Maloney to arrange for countywide rap session at Tamalpais High School during the third week in February.

PUBLICITY — Named Charles Saul and Howard Hodes, both of San Rafael, to a committee to improve publicity for youth commission activities.

NEXT MEETING — Set the next meeting for 8 p.m. Feb. 2 at Marin General Hospital.

Four Adult Classes Still Have Openings

Four classes at Sir Francis Drake Adult Evening High School still have openings, according to Evelyn Leedy of the school.

They are Conversational Spanish and Women's Physical Education on Tuesdays and Bookkeeping and Typing, and Classical Guitar on Thursdays. The spring semester ends March 11.

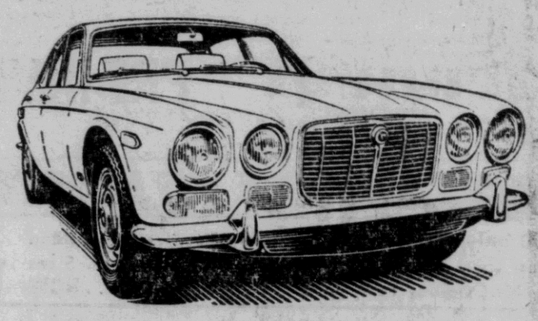
Car Is Looted Of Personal Items

Personal items including jewelry and clothes, and tape equipment were reported stolen Dec. 19 from a car parked on Hoag Avenue near Front Street, police said yesterday.

Owner of the car, Larry E. Herrenkohl of 407 Clubhouse Drive in Aptos told police that because he was sick he was unable to make the report earlier. He reported that the items were taken between 8 p.m. and 3 a.m. while he was at the Pepperland Dance Hall on Hoag Avenue.

Jaguar XJ6



It's Here!

"Not only is the XJ6 far away the best saloon that Jaguar have ever made - and their standards have always been high - but we believe that in its behaviour it gets closer to overall perfection than any other luxury car we have yet tested, regardless of price."

Motor 10th. May 1969

Most automotive experts would find that description hard to dispute. And it's our opinion that you'd be of the same opinion once you test drive the new Jaguar XJ Sedan for yourself.

You'll find the XJ's performance extraordinary. The appointments truly luxurious. And the ride so quiet it's literally unnerving.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Some Changes Are Noted In Restaurants In Marin

This is the time of the year for recording changes among the Marin restaurants.

It is one reason why we publish our annual dining and wining guide during the middle of February — to inform readers as early as possible in the year.

After Jan. 1 menus are often changed, new hours or policies are adopted, personnel changes may occur and in some cases the entire business operation may be altered.

Since the first of the year in contacting restaurant owners to up-date copy for the dining guide we have come across several new situations — or events not previously brought to your attention. We are mentioning a number of these today and will add more during the next few weeks.

FOR ONE THING, it happens that Ray and Dee Brunal are in the process of selling their liquor license at Oak Tree Inn in San Geronimo. It means they will give up the restaurant here — but will continue its operation and that of the bar until the sale is consummated, which may take another 30 days.

After that they plan on taking a trip to Australia. How long this will be is not yet certain. Who knows? They may decide to stay there.

Application for their license has been made by Harold and Lilo Heller owners of the Palate in Mill Valley.

WE'VE ALREADY MENTIONED that Bill and Adolph's West End Villa has new chef, Gerhard Sterkel, and you are bound to see some new additions to the menu here as he gets into his stride.

Bill Bisson always seem to be turning up some new way or different way to prepare chicken. Try his chicken Toscana, but give him at least a half-hour to prepare it — or his chicken saute Cappellini with baby clams.

THERE IS NEW ENTERTAINMENT at Le Tonneau in Corte Madera on Friday and Saturday nights from 9:30.

This is Joe Speck on the accordion and he probably will have a man on bass to back him up. Joe started out in a big way with a trio in 1960 in Chicago after he was discharged from the Navy. He tookit around the country, traveling about 35,000 miles a year. Eventually he became one of the musical conductors of Ice Capades until last May when he accepted an offer to front a group at the Holiday Inn on Waikiki, Hawaii.

Under its new schedule, breakfasts and lunches are served from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. and a limited dinner menu is served from 5 to 8 p.m. This will not have more than four or five items, including steaks and steak sandwiches. Breakfast and luncheon groups (up to 50) will be accepted by reservation.

Meanwhile, Ed Hannegan has arranged to have live music here in the evenings, with a combo Wednesday, Friday and Saturday nights. And on Sundays from 2 to 8 p.m. there will be a jam session. Bar and cocktail lounge is now open from noon to 8 p.m. on Sundays.

ALFIE'S BOARDWALK RESTAURANT in Tiburon now has a Wednesday night special — spaghetti and meat sauce and garlic bread, all you can eat for $1.50. On Friday nights try the crab cioppino at $4.25. Alfie's has a wine and beer license.

TWO SPECIALS being served at the Kettle in the Montecito Shopping Center, San Rafael:

JOE SPECK
Now at Le Tonneau

The Manager's Special — a "double-necked" hamburger with French fries and salad at $1 — and the Stockbroker's Special — a $2.95 rib-eye steak.

ROMULUS ITALIAN RESTAURANT in San Rafael now serves complete dinner specials all through the week.

Monday through Thursday nights you'll find veal parmigiana or cross ribs of beef at $3.50 and roast chicken is $3.25.

These are in addition to the regular menu.

LE VIVOIR in the Old Casa Madrona Hotel in Sausalito is not observing its usual January closedown this year, although a number of changes are being planned for the next few months.

Both imported French and California wines are now served and M. Deschamps left for Bordeaux and other parts this week where he hopes to line up some exclusive labels. Dinner hours are now from 6 to 10:30 p.m. (5 to 9:30 on Sundays). Make reservations. Closed Mondays.

THE DECK HOUSE in Sausalito now has entertainment Wednesday through Sunday evenings.

LONDON ARMS on the San Anselmo Miracle Mile is now open seven days a week. The Johnsons have a private room here which will seat 50 or 60 and there is equipment for darts, cribbage, checkers and chess. The Marin County Chess Club uses it every Tuesday night from 8 p.m.

Guitarist Fritz Von Gluck plays in the main dining room Saturday and Sunday nights.

THE WINDJAMMER in Tiburon will have its annual winter closing starting next Monday and extending to Feb. 10. The Dock will remain open as usual during this period.

SENOR ALFREDO'S MEXICAN RESTAURANT in San Anselmo has a new bebida made with white wine and orange juice and some other ingredients called Senorita Tania.

And there will be a new menu with several additions including chicken in a few days.

AT TIBURON LODGE, buffet dinners at $1.50 are now served from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m.

IN CASE YOU haven't already discovered it, The Galley at 402 Third Street, San Rafael, has given up being a self-service restaurant. Waitresses now take your order at the table for breakfast combinations, a la carte lunches and dinners. New hours are from 7 a.m. to midnight, with an extra hour added Friday and Saturday nights.

JEAN VACCARO'S paintings are still on display at Eugene's Country Club Restaurant in San Rafael. One of them is the historical Russian church at Fort Ross, painted about six months before it burned down.

One of Eugene's most popular specials is his bacon cheeseburger at $1.65. And still on the menu is his apple pie, just as he made it 25 years ago.

Bike Repair Shop Opening

Mill Valley youth commissioners have set the opening of a bicycle repair center for Sunday at 10:30 a.m. at the Mill Valley Drop-In House, 550 Miller Avenue.

Secretary Mark Noguchi said the commission, at its Wednesday meeting, decided the center would be open until 5:30 p.m. Sundays and from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m. on Mondays. Hours will be expanded if the use warrants it, Noguchi said.

Volunteer workers at the center will teach bicycle repairing and render assistance. Special tools and a bicycle holding jib have been donated, Noguchi reported.

A special feature of Sunday's opening will be a bicycle ride through Mill Valley beginning at 11 a.m. A longer ride along Paradise Drive is planned if enough older riders are present.

Marin Catholic Athletic Boosters second annual dinner dance will be held tomorrow night beginning at 6:30 in the Kentfield high school's cafeteria.

College Board Eyes Funds For Oil Study

College of Marin has an unique opportunity to learn what damage an oil spill can do to shoreline ecology, and should ask for state and federal funding for the study, Marin Junior College District trustees agreed last night. (Another college board story, page 1)

Russell Ridge, chairman of the college's biology department, gave a brief summary of activities of the marine biological laboratory at Bolinas. A Standard Oil Co. tanker collision Monday spilled about 800,000 gallons of oil into the Pacific and San Francisco Bay. Much of the oil reached the Stinson Beach-Bolinas shore.

Ridge reported that the laboratory had become a community center for the battle to keep oil from invading Bolinas Lagoon, as well as a main station for treating oil-damaged wildfowl. He had high praise for Craig Hansen, a technologist and adult class teacher at the laboratory, for the way he coordinated operations.

Ridge proposed that the board consider providing staff assistance to Hansen both during the crisis and later, to help evaluate the effects of oil on marine life.

Trustee Robert E. Rogers urged going a step further, in view of the large amounts of data the college amassed earlier on the coastal ecology. He urged action to obtain federal and state funding for studies of the oil's impact.

Standard Oil Co. has paid for additional telephone lines into the laboratory, and has pledged to reimburse the college for other expenses in the oil battle, Ridge noted. He said the firm might also help fund studies of the oil's effects.

The Marin Junior College District board also:

SPECIAL MEETINGS — Set a workshop for board, staff, faculty and students on master planning the north campus, for 8 p.m. Tuesday; a workshop on working drawings for the Kentfield Campus library for 8 p.m. Thursday, and a workshop on the Kentfield campus plan for 5,000 students, for 7:30 p.m. Feb. 1.

BIKE TRAILS — Approved "in principle" county proposals for bicycle paths along both sides of Corte Madera Creek, but stressed the need of preventing motorbikes and scooters from using the trails.

FINANCIAL AID — Postponed to Feb. 4 proposals for addition of a financial aid committee to the college policy and procedures handbook. Student Jerry Coleman spoke, telling the board that the Bible urges help for the poor.

POLLUTION — As the board approved proposals to use glass pipes to handle corrosive waste materials in the Science Center, debated trustee Charles Gray's question as to what extent the materials pollute the Ross Valley. College Supt.-President John A. Grasham said that community sewage treatment facilities always have handled the materials, apparently with no difficulty.

PERSONNEL — Approved a raise, retroactive to Sept. 1, for instructor Eduardo Bodipo-Malumba; agreed to limit part-time teachers' to nine teaching units each, granted faculty members Dorothy Kinkaid and Murray Peterson the right to participate in tax sheltered annuity programs, and received but postponed to Feb. 4 action on sabbatical leave proposals for seven faculty members. Dean of Students Irwin P. Diamond was granted a sabbatical April 1 through June 30.

GIFTS — Accepted donation of a printing press from R. G. Fontana of San Anselmo, and of $500 "for the protection of district property" from the Marin County Association of Insurance Agents.

REPRESENTATIVES — Was introduced to Diane Wickstrom, anthropology instructor and first woman president ofthe Academic Senate, and Bob Mayer, new Associated Students representative and College Center commissioner.

OLD BUSINESS — Approved course changes, the 1971-72 school year calendar and plans to repair storm damage to a service road near the College Center, all discussed at earlier meetings.

Trustee Harry J. Moore was absent due to illness.

Bay Area Banks Cut Savings Interest Rates

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Bank of America and the Wells Fargo Bank announced Tuesday they were cutting prime interest rates paid to their savers.

Both had been paying 5½ per cent interest rates on one-year time deposits and 5¾ per cent to two-year time deposits.

The banks said those rates would be paid until the maturity of present contracts but that then such rates would be 5 per cent, as compared to the 4½ per cent passbook rate.

Revised Station Plan Approved

The Fairfax Design Review board has approved a revised plan for a Standard Oil gas station at the intersection of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Bank Street and Broadway.

The plan was turned down April 10, 1970, according to board secretary Ernestine Healy, but accepted on Wednesday night because the oil company reversed the positions of three repair stalls and an office to provide more open space.

Conditions of approval were that vine planting be done on the Broadway frontage; that at least two trees be planted on the Drake side; and that glare under the pump canopy be reduced as much as possible, Mrs. Healy said.

Plea Set On Theft Of Car

Steven Terry Odom, 20, of Santa Rosa, was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on a charge of car theft.

He will enter a plea to the charge next Thursday.

Odom was arrested Monday when the car he was driving developed engine trouble on Highway 101 in San Rafael. A California Highway Patrol officer who stopped to assist him noticed there was no key in the ignition. A check revealed the auto had been stolen.

Director Is Selected For Clinic

Dr. Thomas E. McCormick, a Kentfield psychiatrist, was appointed clinical director of the Ross Psychiatric Center, directors of the Marin Mental Health Foundation announced yesterday.

Dr. McCormick succeeds Dr. William J. Dickerson of Kentfield who held the position for over five years.

A member of the staffs of Marin and Ross general hospitals, McCormick is also medical director of the San Francisco Psychodrama Institute, and member of the American Psychiatric and Northern California Psychiatric Associations.

McCormick, who resides in Ross, has practiced in Marin since 1960. He was also in psychiatric residency at Presbyterian Hospital in San Francisco and in Herrick Memorial Hospital in Berkeley.

Lecture To Feature Educational Theories

George von Hilsheimer, founder of a free experimental school in Florida, will speak tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Unitarian Fellowship, San Rafael, on his theories of education.

Hilsheimer, author of the book "How to Live With Your Special Child" is a supporter of the theory that children's problems in education are physical not mental. He heads the Green Valley School in Orange City, Fla.

Harry Guggenheim, Philanthropist, Dies

SANDS POINT, N.Y. (UPI)— Harry F. Guggenheim, a noted financier, philanthropist and former publisher of Newsday, died at his Long Island estate today, police reported.

Cause of death was not immediately known. He was 80 years old.

Guggenheim was publisher of Newsday, a Long Island newspaper, until last year when he sold his controlling interest in the company to the Los Angeles Times. He was the senior partner in the mining and metallurgical firm of Guggenheim Brothers, the head of several foundations, a former ambassador to Cuba, an author and a naval aviator in World Wars I and II.

Guggenheim was born on Aug. 23, 1890, at West End, N.J. After graduating from the Columbia Grammar School in New York City, he studied briefly at Yale University but left to serve an apprenticeship in mining and metallurgy with the American Smelting and Refining Co. in its plants in Mexico from 1907 until 1910.

His great-grandfather, Simon Meyer Guggenheim had begun building the family fortune in mining after he emigrated to the United States from Switzerland in 1848.

In 1910, Guggenheim resumed his education at Cambridge University in England, receiving a BA degree in 1913 and an MA degree in 1918. He played on the Cambridge tennis team.

Also in 1910, he married the first of his three wives, Helen Rosenberg of New York, who gave him two daughters, Mrs. Joan Van de Maele and Mrs. Nancy Williams.

On Feb. 3, 1923, he married Caroline Morton, also of New York, and one daughter, Mrs. Diane Meek, was born to them. On July 1, 1939, Guggenheim married Alicia Patterson of Port Washington, N.Y., the daughter of the late Joseph Medill Patterson, founder and publisher of the New York Daily News, and great-granddaughter of Joseph Medill, founder of the Chicago Tribune.

He and the third Mrs. Guggenheim established Newsday in 1940 with him as its president and Mrs. Guggenheim as editor and publisher until her death on July 2, 1963. He became publisher then and editor two years later. He relinquished his posts at Newsday with its sale to the Los Angeles Times.

Guggenheim also operated a timber and cattle plantation at Cain Hoy, S.C., and bred thoroughbred race horses at Lexington, Ky. His horse, Dark Star, won the Kentucky Derby in 1953, handing Native Dancer the only defeat of his career. He also owned Bald Eagle, the winner of the Washington, D.C., International in 1959 and 1960.

College Forum For Angela Davis

Attorney Terence Hallinan will speak at a forum on the Angela Davis case at 7:30 p.m. today in the student center of the College of Marin in Kentfield, according to Walter Turner of the Marin Steering Committee to defend Miss Davis.

Turner said other speakers will include Carolyn Hughes, a spokesman for Women's Liberation, and Cassandra Davis of the Bay Area Committee to Defend Angela Davis.

Miss Davis is charged with murder, kidnapping and conspiracy to murder and kidnap in the Aug. 7 attempt to free prisoners at the Marin Hall of Justice. During the abortive escape try, Judge Harold J. Haley, Jonathan Jackson (who allegedly brought the guns into Judge Haley's courtroom) and two San Quentin convicts, James McClain and William Christmas were killed.

Leaders Of Scouts Get Top Honors

Three adult Boy Scout leaders received Silver Beaver awards and officers of the Marin Council of Boy Scouts of America were installed for 1970.

The Silver Beavers are the highest honors a local council can bestow. They went to George L. Daum, scoutmaster of Troop 80 in Corte Madera; Richard S. Goldsmith, assistant scoutmaster of Troop 37 in Mill Valley, and Russell F. Dwyer, Kentfield resident and former Boy Scout district chairman and council vice president.

Carroll Walker of San Rafael was installed for a second term as council president. Vice presidents seated were Herbert K. Walton Jr. and Robert A. Roumiguiere of San Rafael, Dr. C. Ray Leininger of Greenbrae and H. J. Haynes of Kentfield. Elmer S. Palmquist of San Rafael began a new term as treasurer, and Robert A. Joy of San Rafael was seated as council commissioner.

Cerruti To Lead Ecumenical Group

Elmo Cerruti of Greenbrae, marketing manager for the Del Monte Corp. has been elected to head the Marin Ecumenical Association for 1971.

He succeeds Douglas P. Ferguson.

Elected with Cerruti were vice president Jean Lovejoy of San Rafael, representing the League of Women Voters of Marin, and secretary-treasurer Jackie Parnell of Tiburon, representing the co-op of Marin.

Named to the executive committee were Henry Arian, Jerry A. Cannon, Ferguson and Ned Weed.

The Marin Ecumenical Association also:

FUNDS — Heard from housing consultant E. Morton Schaffran that more federal funds have been released for lower income housing units and that $4,000 would go toward design of a 66-unit housing development for the elderly planned on Lincoln Avenue in San Rafael by the Catholic Social Service Agency.

HILARITA — Approved a loan of $2,000 to the Tiburon Ecumenical Association to proceed with engineering design for 112 units of family housing planned at the Hilarita Housing Project in Tiburon. This loan supplements $3,000 raised in Tiburon as part of a drive for $7,500 in engineering funds.

Novato Industrial Park Name Backed By Chamber

The Novato Chamber of Commerce Board recommended yesterday that the name Novato Industrial Park be restored for the industrial development planned by Marin Soiland in Ignacio.

Directors were disappointed that the development, formerly known as Novato Industrial Park, had been renamed Ignacio Industrial Park, reported Billie Garl, chamber secretary.

It is the only industrial park planned in the Novato area and directors felt it should be identified with Novato, Mrs. Garl said.

Soiland and associates plan to develop the park on 260 acres along Bel Marin Keys Boulevard, east of Hamilton Industrial Park.

The Novato Chamber of Commerce board also:

MEMBERSHIP — Announced that Richard Oddie of the area department of the Bank of America, San Francisco, will talk about growth in the North Bay at the membership luncheon at noon Feb. 4 at Alvarado Inn.

MEETINGS — Voted to change its meeting time from evenings to noon on the third Thursday of each month, with meetings to be at various restaurants.

An Optimistic Report On Releases Of Radiation

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A Federal Atomic Energy Commissioner says the quantities of radiation released from nuclear power plants "are quite low and will remain low for the next generations."

James T. Ramey, a member of the Atomic Energy Commission, made the statement Thursday to the State Environmental Quality Council, a conservation advisory board which is investigating the potential impact on the natural environment of nuclear-powered electric plants.

Helen B. Reynolds, a council member, asked Ramey how the AEC could be "confident" that radiation exposure to humans at a certain level was safe "when it takes 10 to 20 years for cancer and leukemia to appear."

He replied that radiation had been studied by scientists for "25-odd years" and that much more is known about the effects than is known about other scientific phenomenon.

Ramey said as far as radiation from nuclear plants was concerned, "we believe these levels are quite low and will remain low for the next generations and will be safe."

He also pointed out "there hasn't been a significant accident in the whole history of licensed nuclear plants."

Government monitoring of atomic power plants, he said, has shown that quantities of radiation "released are so small that it has been difficult to measure any increase in radioactivity above natural background levels in the rivers and streams."

May's Comedy Set Feb. 2

Elaine May's comedy "Adaptation" will be presented Feb. 2 at Dominican College in San Rafael by the American Conservatory Theater touring company.

Scheduled for 8 p.m. at Angelico Hall, "Adaptation" employs the format of a television game show in which the contestant is confronted with numerous moral and emotional situations.

Rec Group Names New Officers

The Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission has elected David R. Seyler as "permanent" chairman for the two remaining years of Seyler's terms as commissioner.

Mrs. Joan Walla was elected secretary.

The commission voted to co-sponsor a youth dance Feb. 19 in the Fairfax Youth Commission. The recreation commission said it would require at its next meeting an audit of dance finances from the youth commission, as well as reports from the city recreation director, Police Chief James R. Orr and Fire Chief Charles F. Thornton on their attendance at the dance.

Commissioners also decided Tuesday to require personal appearances by youth spokesmen making any future requests because letters previously received were felt to lack sufficient information for decisions.

The Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission also:

RESTROOMS — Ordered public works crews to begin installation of toilets at the city ballfield before Little League season begins in April.

Assault Case Plea Slated

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Morgan Gilbert Doyle of Ross is to plead next Friday in Superior Court to a charge of assaulting a police officer.

Doyle, 19, a student at the University of California, was indicted earlier this month for allegedly attacking a San Francisco patrolman during the tumultuous finale to an antiwar demonstration on Nob Hill.

The demonstration was to protest the speech of Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky before the Commonwealth Club at the Fairmont Hotel.

At Least Two More Years For Hamilton

I-J Special Report

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Hamilton Air Force Base, widely rumored to be facing a shutdown, has at least two more years of life, according to an Air Force spokesman.

Maj. David J. Shea, an Air Force public information officer in the Pentagon, said yesterday that while he could not assure the life of the base in the event of drastic trims in defense spending, there is no plan to close Hamilton in either the next fiscal year or in fiscal 1972-73.

Shea said Hamilton's immediate future would be imperiled only if Congress chose to make unforeseen drastic cuts in military spending. Only then, it was emphasized, would Hamilton face possible shutdown, as would other military installations.

Congress is under increased pressure to make trims in defense spending, and Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird is expected within the new few weeks to announce cutbacks and possibly closings at Armed Forces installations.

Whether Hamilton faces cutbacks, which would be effective in the coming fiscal year, is not known, although it has been strongly rumored that Two Rock Station in Petaluma will be phased out.

Mailliard said Laird told him at a recent conference that the Defense Department intends to keep Hamilton open.

Restaurant's Register Looted

Money amounting to $100 was taken from the cash register of the Chinese Kitchen at 4220 Redwood Highway, police reported yesterday.

Manager Tom Dai Hon of 1615 Grand Avenue, San Francisco, told police that the burglary occurred between 9:30 p.m. Tuesday and 10:30 p.m. Wednesday. No other items were reported taken.

Country Club Owners Elect

Col. Ralph R. Patterson has been reelected president of the Marin Country Club Estates Homeowners Association.

Don B. Curran was elected vice president. Treasurer Harold W. Collin and secretary Joan E. Kett, secretary, were reelected.

Membership was reported Tuesday at a record 215 as compared to 189 last year. The association donated $25 toward formation of a cub scout troop.

Hearing Planned In Possession

A preliminary hearing has been set in Marin Municipal Court for David Raymond Minard, 18, of no known address.

Minard is charged with possessing marijuana Dec. 15 when Novato police stopped his car because of a broken tail light.

Dismiss Charges In Property Case

Charges of possession of stolen property against Robert Gordon Baldwin, 27, of Richmond, and Albert Roy Roberts, 39, of San Pablo, have been dismissed by Judge David Menary Jr. of Marin Municipal Court.

The two were arrested Dec. 9 by Berkeley police who said they saw the men unloading televisions and stereo equipment allegedly stolen only hours before from Braverman's Furniture Store in San Anselmo.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Milton Hyams said an investigation disclosed the men were not responsible for the burglary and so could not be tried in Marin.

The possession of stolen property case will be referred to Alameda County authorities, Hyams said.

Houseboat Motor Reported Stolen

A motor, valued at $300, was stolen from a houseboat parked at a service station on Redwood Highway near Mill Valley Jan. 6 or 7, Marin County Sheriff's Office reported yesterday.

The motor and the boat were owned by Kenneth S. Garwick of 245 Richardson Drive, Strawberry, deputies said.

Her Campaign For Tiburon Bike Path

By PAT BALMES

"Don't be afraid of your ideas to keep our environment healthy," urges Mrs. Bonnie Raisin of Tiburon, who brought to a swift, successful conclusion a lengthy effort to obtain the two-mile strip of Northwestern Pacific Railroad right-of-way for a bicycle and pedestrian path along heavily traveled Tiburon Boulevard.

"Write letters! Call up and be put on your city council's agenda! City councils are only as effective as their interested citizens," Bonnie advises.

The mother of four says,

"I had very strong feelings when I heard the condemnation hearing had been postponed again. I was sad when I thought we weren't going to get a safe bike path because I was riding to work in Tiburon, with my flats on, along that busy state highway. Me and my worry beads! And my 10-year-old daughter was riding with me to Reed School."

BONNIE KNEW a safe bicycle path would link friends in different neighborhoods, shoppers to downtown merchants and exercise-seeking businessmen to bike racks at the ferry harbor. An increasing number of students prefer to ride their bicycles to school instead of traveling by crowded school busses, according to the Tiburon mother. "With a safe bike path, more people will find it feasible to ride bikes: that will clean our air," says conservation-minded Bonnie.

Rearing four children single-handed and working as secretary in a Tiburon real estate firm, Bonnie has little time for causes.

"But I wanted to help my children. I could do a simple thing like arranging a safe place for them to ride bikes; that could be the most important thing," says Bonnie pointing out recent accidents to bicyclists.

"Young people need to see results," she says, noting the great satisfaction she felt from her work to raise funds for one operation for one of the Napalm victims.

Influenced toward community affairs by her family background, Mrs. Raisin relates,

"My father was a criminal attorney and, later, judge in Santa Barbara where I was reared on a five-acre fruit ranch. I had my own horse, learned to swim in the Pacific and backpacked with my family. My great grandfather was sheriff of Lompoc, 50 miles north of Santa Barbara. Even my sister, who lives in Oregon, is attending city council meetings to urge building an indoor tennis court."

A graduate of University of California at Los Angeles, Bonnie did modeling in Los Angeles and came to San Francisco to work in an advertising agency in 1955.

"I used to walk up the hills to work with my high heels in my hand," says Bonnie, who avails herself of the outdoors whenever possible.

BONNIE BIKES, swims at Tiburon Peninsula Club and plays touch football with her children, John, 12; Sally, 10; Preston, 8 and Capp, 5. She runs at 7 a.m. — almost every morning for the past two years. With neighbors she covers a mile-and-a-half to two miles along Tiburon's ridge.

"I particularly enjoyed running in Mill Valley recently and jogging into a pancake breakfast at the First Baptist Church, served on the last Thursday of each month."

Fifth-generation Californian Bonnie says,

"I would like to feel I had done a few things to contribute to this environment," indicating boxes of cans and bottles ready for her children to pedal to Tiburon Recycling Depot on Saturday.

A woman of many enthusiasms, Bonnie would love to see residents cultivate an organic garden for a greenbelt in Tiburon, similar to Santa Barbara's. And she is delighted that a 4-H chapter is forming in Tiburon.

ATTENDING A CITY council meeting, she heard two Belvedere girls, Leslie Anixter and Jany Nyhan, students at Del Mar School, plead,

"Presently many Del Mar students are riding their bicycles along Tiburon Boulevard to and from school. We feel this is a hazardous situation and would appreciate your help in securing a safer route for bicycles. We have heard of two incidents of bikes being struck by cars so far this school year . . ."

They offered to sell chocolates to defray expenses of blacktopping.

So Bonnie launched her whirlwind campaign at Thanksgiving. First she wrote to Larry Hoyt, vice president of Northwestern Pacific Railroad, stating in part,

"We are deeply concerned that these delays are endangering the safety of increasing numbers who are presently bicycling and walking on Tiburon Boulevard."

With encouragement from Tiburon's City Council, Bonnie got officials endorsement, or separate letters sent to Mr. Hoyt, from Belvedere City Council, Tiburon Planning Commission, Reed Union School District board of trustees, Tiburon Peninsula Advisory Committee and Belvedere-Tiburon Committee for Environment. She explained the impact for children of a safe bicycle path to new interim superintendent Stanley Friese.

Bonnie printed stacks of copies of her letter to be circulated for signatures in Tiburon.

"We had to start a separate one for poeple who wanted to endorse the petition, but lived in other areas."

Card tables were set up in shopping centers and staffed by children, soliciting signatures.

A TIBURON resident for the past 13 years, Bonnie knew key people in different neighborhoods who would recruit neighbors to distribute about 20 letters each. Their children usually did the leg work of soliciting signatures. She knew these key people through her work for Mother's March of Dimes and the Democratic Party.

Two thousand, eight hundred signatures were sent with Bonnie's letter to the railroad.

"We were promised five minutes to talk to Mr. Hoyt, but we got half an hour," remembers Bonnie, remarking on the good will earned by the railroad because negotiations were amicable.

Bonnie's only setback was the failure of the new interim superintendent of Reed Union School District to expedite her effort.

"It was an exasperating thing, after my letter was endorsed by Reed Union School District's board of trustees, not to have support of the schools. I was discouraged by the difficulty in getting approval for what seemed an obvious need of the children," Bonnie relates.

"The superintendent would not approve my poster contest in the schools in time to promote the festival, or a free period for student discussion of the bike path or allow my letter to be circulated freely in the schools. He would only put me on the next agenda of the board of trustees, which was too late! Nor would he take the phone vote of the trustees or give his O.K." reports Bonnie.

HER NEXT step was a pep rally, "Festival for Pedalers." To attract bicyclists Bonnie started a children's poster contest. A unicycle was donated by a Mill Valley cyclery to the winner and the posters were displayed in Tiburon stores.

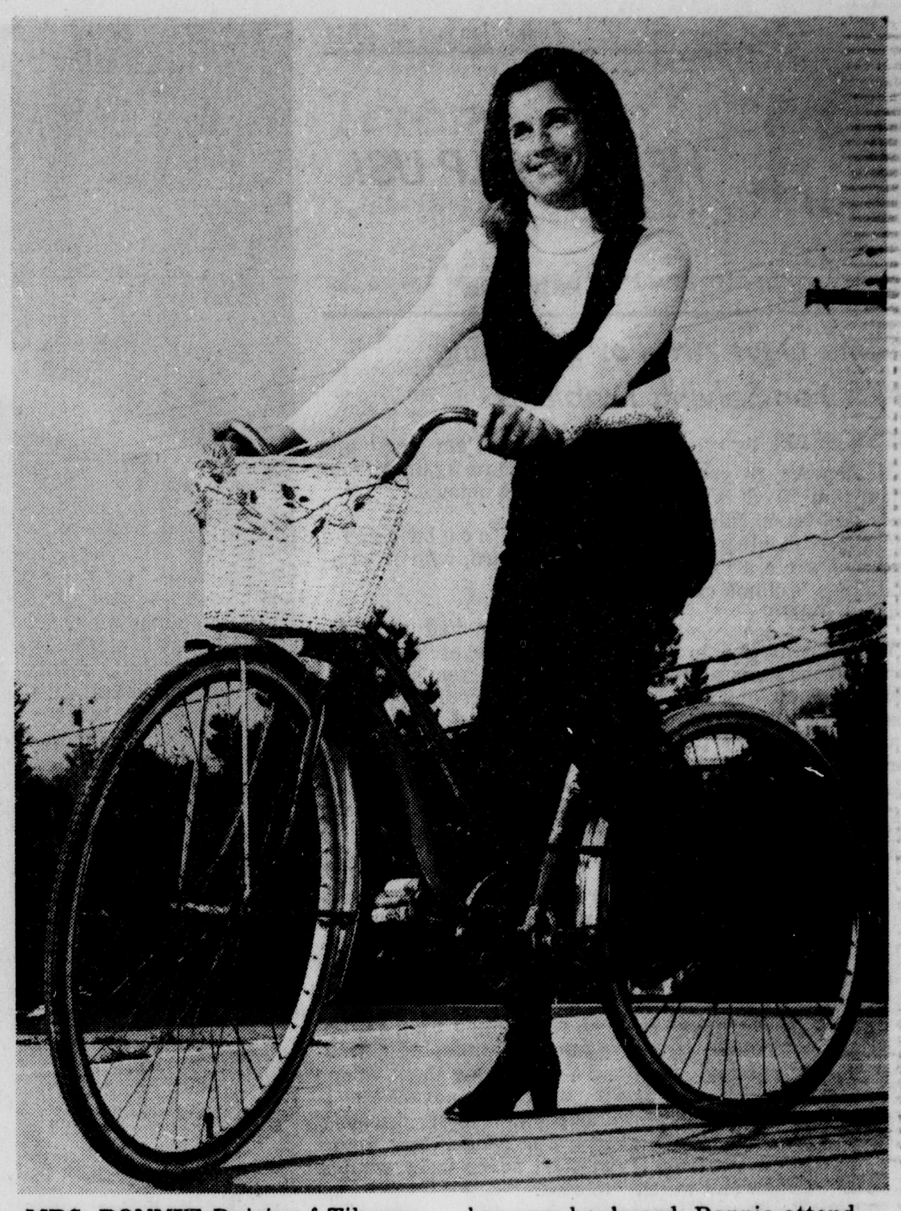
About 700 bicyclists started from a grocery store at the point of Tiburon on Dec. 13 at 12:30 p.m. to dramatize the need for safe bicycle paths in Marin by riding to Richardson Bay Park behind a Sheriff's Department escort. Pedalers brought bag lunches and stayed for Dixieland music, speeches and prizes for youngest and oldest participants.

"Our churches and young people encourage such getting together. The spontaneous community effort helped push this bike path through," says Bonnie.

BONNIE'S TRIUMPH came at Tiburon City Council meeting Jan. 11 when deeds were accepted to a 60-foot wide right-of-way from Trestle Glen to Mar West Streets, thus ending the long effort to obtain the strip for use as a bicycle path.

But Bonnie warns,

"It's imperative that the bike path be finished before something else takes precedence. Individuals who said they wanted the bike path should watch its progress. It gets very lonely at city council meetings! The bike path could be put on the agenda at an early hour, so students could attend."



MRS. BONNIE Raisin of Tiburon lured Northwestern Pacific Railroad out of court and to the bargaining table, after a near-stalemate on a bicycle and pedestrian path on its right-of-way along Tiburon Boulevard. Showing what a woman can do from her own backyard, Bonnie attended city council meetings, drafted a letter to the railroad, recruited adults and children to get 2,800 signatures for her petition and ran a poster contest and a pep rally.

Former Miss America: 'Pageant Is Relevant'

By BETH GAEDDERT

The Miss America pageant is not exploitive of women, says Debbie Bryant Wilson, Miss America of 1966, who was at the I-J yesterday promoting a food product.

"There are pageants, I grant, that do judge women only on beauty and do exploit them to an extent," she said, explaining that 50 per cent of the judging for the Miss America pageant is on talent and a great deal depends on the personal interview.

"The interview is not necessarily to judge intelligence," she said, but rather to ascertain whether the contestant "is able to meet people, think on her feet, things like that."

"Miss America is not supposed to be the most beautiful girl in the country," said Debbie who came dressed in rose velveteen pants with matching midi coat.

She said Miss America appears throughout their year for the three main sponsors of the pageant who use advertising time on the television show and who are responsible for $250,000 in scholarships distributed on local, state and national levels.

"That's all the sponsors have to do with it," she said.

"Her duties vary," said Debbie. "She does make appearances for those three sponsors, but she also attends fund-raising events for civic organizations, sponsored by groups like the Jaycees and Chambers of Commerce."

In her year Debbie Bryant, former Miss Kansas also appeared for United Fund, cancer crusades and for U.S. Savings Bonds.

"There are a lot of things to which she just gives her time," she said.

The Miss America pageant is relevant, she said, because it is directed toward girls who are interested in furthering their education. But Debbie admitted that meeting her husband ended the ambition to be a pediatrician, which she professed during the contest.

Many former Miss Americas "simply want to become homemakers," said Debbie who, when not traveling on promotion trips for several companies, lives in Maitland, Fla., a suburb of Orlando, with Rod Wilson, her attorney husband.

"I'm home for three or four months and I'm ready to travel again," she said.

A native of Kansas City, Mo., she returned to attend the University of Kansas after her "reign" and then changed her major from chemistry to English. She was graduated from Christian College in Columbia, Mo., in 1965 and from KU in 1969.

She met Rod Wilson at the university through a friend who was dating one of his fraternity brothers. He survived being labeled, "Mr. America" of the law school because he is very outgoing, she said. He was treated as a celebrity by his friends when he started dating her but later they realized the experience didn't really change him and, just like movie stars, he was really the same "before he made it big," she laughed.

Debbie enjoys the public life, making appearances and traveling. She would like to continue for a while but does "see a claming down" in the future. She wants to go back to school to get a masters degree in English.

"I'd like to do some writing, analazying and critiquing literature," she said.

Debbie claims she was unaware that as Miss America she would be expected to travel for a year, although she said she had always wanted to enter the competition, and became seriously interested in it in high school when she did some free lance modeling in Kansas City.

"I guess I should have known about the traveling because as a state winner you travel a lot," she said, adding that she enjoyed the "excitement of being in new and different cities, staying in the hotels and going to Broadway plays."

Lack of privacy and time to be alone were the only things she missed during her year. "Very often you are recognized and it's usually when your hair doesn't look right or you slept late and weren't ready." Also, in 1966 it wasn't proper for Miss America to be seen in slacks. Now she can wear a pantsuit, however. "Always being 'on' was tiresome," Debbie remarked.

In Florida, where she isn't recognized, she goes shopping in shorts and can

Her Campaign For Tiburon Bike Path

By PAT BALMES

"Don't be afraid of your ideas to keep our environment healthy," urges Mrs. Bonnie Raisin of Tiburon, who brought to a swift, successful conclusion a lengthy effort to obtain the two-mile strip of Northwestern Pacific Railroad right-of-way for a bicycle and pedestrian path along heavily traveled Tiburon Boulevard.

"Write letters! Call up and be put on your city council's agenda! City councils are only as effective as their interested citizens," Bonnie advises.

The mother of four says,

"I had very strong feelings when I heard the condemnation hearing had been postponed again. I was sad when I thought we weren't going to get a safe bike path because I was riding to work in Tiburon, with my flats on, along that busy state highway. Me and my worry beads! And my 10-year-old daughter was riding with me to Reed School."

BONNIE KNEW a safe bicycle path would link friends in different neighborhoods, shoppers to downtown merchants and exercise-seeking businessmen to bike racks at the ferry harbor. An increasing number of students prefer to ride their bicycles to school instead of traveling by crowded school busses, according to the Tiburon mother. "With a safe bike path, more people will find it feasible to ride bikes: that will clean our air," says conservation-minded Bonnie.

Rearing four children single-handed and working as secretary in a Tiburon real estate firm, Bonnie has little time for causes.

"But I wanted to help my children. I could do a simple thing like arranging a safe place for them to ride bikes; that could be the most important thing," says Bonnie pointing out recent accidents to bicyclists.

"Young people need to see results," she says, noting the great satisfaction she felt from her work to raise funds for one operation for one of the Napalm victims.

Influenced toward community affairs by her family background, Mrs. Raisin relates,

"My father was a criminal attorney and, later, judge in Santa Barbara where I was reared on a five-acre fruit ranch. I had my own horse, learned to swim in the Pacific and backpacked with my family. My great grandfather was sheriff of Lompoc, 50 miles north of Santa Barbara. Even my sister, who lives in Oregon, is attending city council meetings to urge building an indoor tennis court."

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Some Days Are For Dreaming, Not For Solving Problems

DEAR HELEN:

Remember 10 years ago when you lived in Oregon and the rains came down for three months straight, and you wrote a "cabbages and kings" column called "I Wish, I Wish"?

Well, I still live in Oregon, and the skies still endlessly open up, and I wish, I wish, I wish you'd reprint that column. As I remember, it started "Today isn't for problems, but for ng . . ." — PLEASE???

DEAR PLEASE:

Be glad to, since your letter arrived during a dreary California rain — just right for "wishing." Forthwith:

I wish I could lie in tall grass and name the cloud people and perhaps see a V-neof wild geese flying; or fashion necklaces from ohnny-jump-ups and whises out of hollow weeds; or naybe find a doodlebug's ole and blow in it to make im surface. (But instead I it at the window and watch ne gutters flood).

I wish peanut butter sandviches didn't give me the iccoughs.

I wish I'd look out the indow and see an elehant, with a turbanned Maharaja on top, plodding p the front walk — but not n the lawn.

I wish my daffodils would l blossom pink and blue ith lavender stripes and g around as dahlias, and ouldn't that wow the local arden club?

I wish just once I could atch a television mystery riller without someone sking, "What happened hile I was out of the oom?"

I wish the U.S. mails ould go on strike for three d one-half weeks except r greeting cards, gifts and ecks.

I wish I'd take the next irt road I see and it ouldn't get me stuck in a ud hole, but would lead to tree-enshrined farmhouse here a motherly lady rves huckleberry wine d homemade bread and arhound candy.

I wish I were the zany pe who would jet to New ork just for a blintz (where they make 'em best) and then fly home again without even going uptown.

I wish I could catch a hummingbird, with or without salt.

I wish we had an automatic conveyor from our woodpile to the fireplace, and not unpredictable kids either.

I wish I had the perfect answer to every problem in my mail. (And for every question our kids ask.)

I wish an airplane would crash (gently) in our back yard and its unhurt passengers were world leaders, and lasting peace would be arranged in our front room.

I wish I had taken up parachute jumping (well . . . sky-diving then) when it was the adventure I longed for most, because now I no longer long for it and I'll never know what I missed.

I wish I could wish my ironing done.

I wish my husband would tell me I'm the most beautiful, desirable, glamorous, delectable woman on earth without me first reminding him with a small kick on the shins.

I wish I could find all those fabulous quips I have written on envelopes, bills and margins torn from magazines, so I could produce just one perfect column.

I wish I were a famous comedienne, and could sing and dance, and write like Mark Twain with Leacock overtones, and also that my hair would stay curled in dry climates.

Italians Contribute Both Romantic Dresses, Shorts

By BRENDA W. ROTZOLL

ROME (UPI)—The big word in Roman high fashions this year was an old and much-used one —romance.

Shorts grabbed the headlines but romantic dresses in soft fabrics adrift with pleats and ruffles garnered the most applause during the six days of shows by some 40 designers.

Paris designers went severe after the 1968 "Paris Spring" of student riots. Then came the hang-up on how to get off the miniskirt craze. The counsels of moderation did not prevail, and skirts tumbled to midcalf or even the ground.

That was fine for Italy, but bad for sales in the prime market of the United States, where women loved their short skirts. What Italy proposes as the next answer is double-barrelled approach—shorts for the woman who wants to bare, and the old "normal" just below the knee length skirt for the woman who does not care to.

VALENTINO HAD both shorts and skirts to the top of the calf in his collection which wound up fashion week Wednesday night — a fitting timing as he still ranks as Rome's top designing name.

The glittering crowd jamming his white and brown salon included actress Gina Lollobrigida, who sported an evening gown with a full red chiffon skirt and a sleeveless bodice made of tiny metal squares. Half the crowd was in red as he asked friends invited to an after-show party to appear in that color.

Red white and blue—in the shades of the U.S. flag — were Valentino's pet colors. He combined them in twos and threes for daytime in a series of dresses with coats, dresses with jackets and gilets (tight short vests), and suits with skirts which unbuttoned over coordinated shorts.

EVENING WEAR was 1930s and 40s glamor girl style with Ginger Rogers hairdos of huge soft curls framing the face and falling to the shoulder.

Long white skirts came slit over black shorts outfits, but the biggest applause of the night came for an ante bellum collection of drifting chiffon field flower prints, all ruffly. They were worn with huge-brimmed hats weighted down with masses of artificial flowers.

Summing up for the Italian summer 1971 — shorts, yes, but also shorter fuller skirts and a move toward the cool cotton shirtwaist dress.

Just 'Quiet Day At Home' On Their 81st Anniversary

They spent a quiet day in their small cottage, just as they have done for most of the 29,585 other days of their married life. The McDaniels wanted no celebration.

"They decided they would just rather spend a quiet day at home," said their son Cyril. "After all, there have been a lot of other anniversaries.

"They really get along pretty well," he said. "Dad's sight is poor and mother is deaf, but he is her ears and she is his eyes and they get along."

The odds, according to the U.S. Census Bureau, of both a wife and husband surviving to celebrate their 81st wedding anniversary are 34.4 million to one.

The McDaniels live by themselves, and in a secluded house with no telephone.

Cyril McDaniel, 70, and other members of the family have urged the elderly couple to move for years, and for years they have refused.

Cyril, therefore, drives the 200-mile round trip from his home in Columbia, Mo., at least once a week and sometimes more often to check on his mother and father. He, and other family members, made the drive Thursday.

"But we have finally persuaded them to come live with me and my wife in an apartment I'm building for them in our house in Columbia," Cyril said.

He said his mother continues to do most of her house work and reads, while his father often takes walks in good weather.

remain anonymous. But on a trip home to Kansas City during the holidays she was noticed everywhere, she said.

While traveling she calls her husband every night.

"He tells me he exists on bologna sandwiches, shw said. Debbie freezes some dinners such as lasagne and tuna casserole, and this trip left him some of the quick dinners she is promoting now.

She says she likes to try new recipes but doesn't do much gourmet cooking.

"All those sauces — and of course clean-up afterward is terrible," she said.

She doesn't think former Miss Americas necessarily have an obligation to continue in some kind of public life unless they enjoyed it to begin with.

"A lot of doors are open to you and a lot of opportunities are made available," she said, adding that some Miss Americas don't take advantage of them and "afterward they just melt into oblivion."

Debbie isn't ready to melt yet.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Some Days Are For Dreaming, Not For Solving Problems

DEAR HELEN:

Remember 10 years ago when you lived in Oregon and the rains came down for three months straight, and you wrote a "cabbages and kings" column called "I Wish, I Wish"?

Well, I still live in Oregon, and the skies still endlessly open up, and I wish, I wish you'd reprint that column. As I remember, it started "Today isn't for problems, but for ing . . ." — PLEASE???

DEAR PLEASE:

Be glad to, since your letter arrived during a dreary California rain — just right for "wishing." Forthwith:

I wish I could lie in tall grass and name the cloud people and perhaps see a V-neof wild geese flying; or fashion necklaces from ohnny-jump-ups and whis-es out of hollow weeds; or naybe find a doodlebug's ole and blow in it to make im surface. (But instead I t at the window and watch e gutters flood).

I wish peanut butter sandviches didn't give me the iccoughs.

I wish I'd look out the window and see an elehant, with a turbanned Maharaja on top, plodding p the front walk — but not n the lawn.

I wish my daffodils would l blossom pink and blue ith lavender stripes and g around as dahlias, and ouldn't that wow the local arden club?

I wish just once I could atch a television mystery riller without someone king, "What happened hile I was out of the oom?"

I wish the U.S. mails ould go on strike for three d one-half weeks except r greeting cards, gifts and ecks.

I wish I'd take the next irt road I see and it ouldn't get me stuck in a ud hole, but would lead to tree-enshrined farmhouse ere a motherly lady rves huckleberry wine d homemade bread and arhound candy.

I wish I were the zany pe who would jet to New ork just for a blintz (where they make 'em best) and then fly home again without even going uptown.

I wish I could catch a hummingbird, with or without salt.

I wish we had an automatic conveyor from our woodpile to the fireplace, and not unpredictable kids either.

I wish I had the perfect answer to every problem in my mail. (And for every question our kids ask.)

I wish an airplane would crash (gently) in our back yard and its unhurt passengers were world leaders, and lasting peace would be arranged in our front room.

I wish I had taken up parachute jumping (well . . . sky-diving then) when it was the adventure I longed for most, because now I no longer long for it and I'll never know what I missed.

I wish I could wish my ironing done.

I wish my husband would tell me I'm the most beautiful, desirable, glamorous, delectable woman on earth without me first reminding him with a small kick on the shins.

I wish I could find all those fabulous quips I have written on envelopes, bills and margins torn from magazines, so I could produce just one perfect column.

I wish I were a famous comedienne, and could sing and dance, and write like Mark Twain with Leacock overtones, and also that my hair would stay curled in dry climates.

I wish just once I wouldn't get a static electric shock when I take synthetics out of the dryer.

I wish there'd come a time when I'm wearing my slinky hostess gown instead of blue jeans when unexpected guests arrive.

I wish our cat's nesting instincts wouldn't take him to the back of my top file because green eyes shining from darkness is worse than electric shocks from synthetics.

ON THE AGENDA

Opportunities For Women To Be Topics At AAUW Meeting Tuesday

Equal opportunities for women in the fields of education and employment will be the the subject of the public general meeting of the Mill Valley Branch of the American Association of University Women Tuesday at 10 a.m. in the gallery of the Mill Valley Library.

Speakers will be Jacqueline Bradford, deputy regional director of the Equal Employment Opportunities Commission in San Francisco, and Mrs. Doris Zimmerman of Pleasanton, chairman of the Status of Women Section of the California State Division of the AAUW.

Miss Bradford will discuss recent developments in California for the equal education and employment of women, and Mrs. Zimmerman will present the AAUW position on legislation pending in this field.

SAN RAFAEL Assembly 195, International Order of Rainbow for Girls will hold a faith's tea Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m. at the home of Miss Irene Vanden Bos.

DIANE JESSUP, a Redwood High School junior, will be installed worthy advisor of the Tamalpais Assembly of the International Order of Rainbow for Girls tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Masonic Temple in Larkspur. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowden Jessup of Greenbrae.

DIANE JESSUP

Other officers to be installed are Marilyn Thompson, worthy associate advisor; Linda Holtz, charity; Susan Suomi, hope; Marybeth Boerger, faith; Jill Butscher, recorder; Terri Guasco, treasurer; Kellie Oneal, chaplain; Susanne Andrews, drill leader; Debbie Lewis, love; Lo Mae Mathis, religion; Cheryl Guasco, nature; Cindy Lamberg, immortality; Debbie Morgan, fidelity; Patti Stahl, patriotism; Donna Rose, service; Alicen Smith, confidential observer; Lois Colmstock, outer observer; Ruth Edgar, musician; Bonnie Burke, choir director; Kathy Lazurus, banner bearer; and Vickie Landerville, historian.

Hostess is Mrs. Howard Stahl, and members of Ross Valley Chapter, Order of DeMolay, will act as ushers and flag escorts.

A reception and dance will follow the ceremony.

AN ART demonstration by Lawyers' Wives of Marin members will highlight the group's luncheon meeting Wednesday at noon at the Kentfield home of Mrs. Joseph Wilner.

THE PETALUMA Coordinating Council will have a luncheon Monday at 12:30 at the Lamplighter Smorgette in Petaluma.

Speaker will be Mrs. Albert Battaglia Jr., who will explain the purpose of the new Volunteer Bureau of Sonoma County.

MARY FISCHER of San Rafael will be the speaker at the third session of the Marin YWCA's "Electoral Sampler" series Tuesday at 10 a.m. at Co-Op of Marin in Corte Madera.

Mrs. Fischer will present "An Introduction to Grapho-Analysis." Through the use of slides, she will illustrate handwriting characteristics so that those attending may discover what their own handwriting reveals. The signatures of well known personalities will also be analyzed during the session.

For information or registration for this or future sessions call the Marin YWCA.

DOUGLAS J. MALONEY, Marin County Counsel, will discuss "The Legal Aspects of Zoning" at a public luncheon meeting sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Central Marin on Tuesday at the Pepperwood restaurant in San Anselmo.

Mr. Maloney, a San Franvisco native and graduate of the University of San Francisco, has been involved for a decade with the legal problems relating to zoning and planning.

Mrs. Leo Wagner of Novato is chairman of the league committee studying and evaluating local zoning ordinances and practices in Marin County.

Reservations chairman is Mrs. David Applen of Novato.

Mrs. Quadros Serves Again

Mrs. Leo Quadros of Mill Valley has been chosen for the third time as president of the Star of the Sea Institute 97, Young Ladies Institute, of Sausalito. Her previous terms were in 1944 and 1965.

The new president says a celebration is planned in October to mark the 50th anniversary of the Sausalito unit. Its long history accounts for the fact that officers and members who formerly lived in Sausalito now live all over the county and in San Francisco.

Other new officers are Miss Catherine Grinsell of Sausalito, first vice president; Mrs. Adelino Ferrera of Novato, second vice president; Mrs. George King of Santa Venetia, Marshal; Mrs. Matt Grbac of Tiburon, outside sentinel; Miss Eleanor Mortinez of Mill Valley, financial secretary; Miss Mary Folli of San Francisco, recording secretary; Mrs. Arthur Jewett of Sausalito, treasurer; and Mmes. Walter Silva and Harry Bowers of Sausalito, trustees.

ON BEING BLACK

Young Blacks Should See Classical Ballet

By SANDRA HAGGERTY

"How come we keep seeing all these colored people, Mommie?" the little blonde girl gave us a look of puzzlement as we stood in the theater lobby during the intermission of the "Nutcracker Suite" ballet.

The mother was woefully embarrassed and tried in vain to change the subject. The other people in the lobby, most of whom happened to be white, became silent, seemingly embarrassed for the unexpected faux pas.

Similar incidents have occurred on numerous occasions, and smiling at my group of multi-hued nieces and nephews I said to them quietly, but distinctly, "Okay, come all ye colored people; back to our seats."

THE CHILDREN'S eyes shone as they tried to suppress their giggles — for this particular group of black children, the word colored is passe, laughable.

The surrounding crowd was obviously relieved and smiled as the children obediently headed back into the theater.

The fact of the matter is, the little blonde's observation was well taken. For not only were there more than the usual handful of blacks in the audience, but there were even blacks in the performance. Can you imagine black snowflakes?

Even for me, this appearance was notably different, for in all the years that I have gone to see the "Nutcracker" — the 19th-centry Russian ballet that has become a traditional part of Christmas entertainment — this was the first year I had seen blacks perform in a professional rendition of the ballet.

BLACKS HAVE not formerly participated in classical ballet for a number of obvious reasons — among them, lack of exposure, training and money.

Many contemporary blacks feel that a ballet such as the "Nutcracker" (a white Russian ballet) is not relevant to today's blacks. Bah, humbug! Not only is the magical fairy tale a delight to all children, but the "Nutcracker" is, indeed, "one of dancing's most beautiful gifts to the world." Tchaikovsky's music is revelant to the world.

Classical ballet is an arena that more young blacks should be exposed to. This is certainly not to say that we should not have a knowledge and apprecaition of our own ethnic dance heritage — African ballet and tribal traditions. On the contrary, the ideal would be to have an awareness and appreciation of the best of all worlds.

The discipline involved in classical ballet instruction is particularly impressing and the whole of dance instruction comes to mind when I think of the "needed arena" for black girls to excel in, which could be comparable to athletics for boys.

Watching the mesmerized faces of my young theater party as they watched the "Nutcracker" performance solidified its relevancy. Any and everything that is a part of this world is relevant to our children.

Wendy Wilder Is Engaged

The engagement of Wendy Elizabeth Wilder to William Yamokoski has been announced by her mother Mrs. Ruthe Olds Wilder of San Rafael.

Wendy is a graduate of Terra Linda High School. She attended Chico State College and is employed in San Angelo, Tex. Grant Wilder of San Rafael is her brother.

William, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Yamokoski of Silver Lake, Ohio, is a graduate of the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo. He is attending school in Goodfellow, Tex., and is the brother of Tom Yamokoski of New Jersey and Gary Yamokoski of Ohio.

Mrs. Theodore Wight Is New President Of Guild

The new president of Mill Valley's Tamalpais Guild of Sunny Hills is Mrs. Theodore Wight.

A member of the guild for nearly two years, Suzie Wight has served as knitting chairman and recording secretary. Her hobbies include gourmet cooking, needlework, knitting, horseback riding and bridge. She is also an active member of the Marin General Hospital Volunteers.

The new president was educated at Washington State University and Monterey Peninsula College, majoring in fine arts.

Her husband is an investment banker in San Francisco. The Wights came to California in 1967 and have a daughter, Leslie, who is 3 years old.

Mrs. Wight says this year guild members will be working on their annual fund-raising dinner dance in May and on the hand sewn and knitted children's clothes featured at the Grape Festival in the fall. The Sesame Puppets will again be a special feature.

Other new officers this year are Mmes. Susan Nickerson, vice president; Lloyd Yates, recording secretary; Edward Ober, corresponding secretary; and Robert McVey, treasurer.

MRS. THEODORE WIGHT

Lorang-Sims Vows Exchanged

MRS. JOSEPH LORANG

Elizabeth Adams Sims Belvedere became the bride of Joseph John Lorang of Colfax on Jan. 9 at the century-old Dutch Flat Methodist Episcopal Church in Dutch Flat, Placer County.

The bride is the daughter of Justice and Mrs. Richard M. Sims Jr. of Belvedere. Her maid of honor was Jacqueline Miles of Colfax. Bridesmaids were Margaret Airola of Sacramento and Aptos, Mrs. J. Kenton Brown of Dutch Flat and the bride's sister Alice Sims of Belvedere.

Joseph is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lorang of Eden Valley, Colfax.

Best man was Michael Lorang, the bridegroom's cousin. Ushers were John S. Fonseca of Dutch Flat and brothers of the bride, Robert Sims of Belvedere and Richard Sims III of San Francisco.

Dutch Flat Community Center Center was the scene of the reception. The couple left on a wedding trip to Nevada and Baltimore, Md., where they plan to live.

ON THE AGENDA

Opportunities For Women To Be Topics At AAUW Meeting Tuesday

Equal opportunities for women in the fields of education and employment will be the the subject of the public general meeting of the Mill Valley Branch of the American Association of University Women Tuesday at 10 a.m. in the gallery of the Mill Valley Library.

Speakers will be Jacqueline Bradford, deputy regional director of the Equal Employment Opportunities Commission in San Francisco, and Mrs. Doris Zimmerman of Pleasanton, chairman of the Status of Women Section of the California State Division of the AAUW.

Miss Bradford will discuss recent developments in California for the equal education and employment of women, and Mrs. Zimmerman will present the AAUW position on legislation pending in this field.

SAN RAFAEL Assembly 195, International Order of Rainbow for Girls will hold a faith's tea Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m. at the home of Miss Irene Vanden Bos.

DIANE JESSUP, a Redwood High School junior, will be installed worthy advisor of the Tamalpais Assembly of the International Order of Rainbow for Girls tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Masonic Temple in Larkspur. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowden Jessup of Greenbrae.

DIANE JESSUP

Other officers to be installed are Marilyn Thompson, worthy associate advisor; Linda Holtz, charity; Susan Suomi, hope; Marybeth Boerger, faith; Jill Butscher, recorder; Terri Guasco, treasurer; Kellie Oneal, chaplain; Susanne Andrews, drill leader; Debbie Lewis, love; Lo Mae Mathis, religion; Cheryl Guasco, nature; Cindy Lamberg, immortality; Debbie Morgan, fidelity; Patti Stahl, patriotism; Donna Rose, service; Alicen Smith, confidential observer; Lois Colmstock, outer observer; Ruth Edgar, musician; Bonnie Burke, choir director; Kathy Lazurus, banner bearer; and Vickie Landerville, historian.

Hostess is Mrs. Howard Stahl, and members of Ross Valley Chapter, Order of DeMolay, will act as ushers and flag escorts.

A reception and dance will follow the ceremony.

AN ART demonstration by Lawyers' Wives of Marin members will highlight the group's luncheon meeting Wednesday at noon at the Kentfield home of Mrs. Joseph Wilner.

THE PETALUMA Coordinating Council will have a luncheon Monday at 12:30 at the Lamplighter Smorgette in Petaluma.

Speaker will be Mrs. Albert Battaglia Jr., who will explain the purpose of the new Volunteer Bureau of Sonoma County.

MARY FISCHER of San Rafael will be the speaker at the third session of the Marin YWCA's "Electoral Sampler" series Tuesday at 10 a.m. at Co-Op of Marin in Corte Madera.

Mrs. Fischer will present "An Introduction to Grapho-Analysis." Through the use of slides, she will illustrate handwriting characteristics so that those attending may discover what their own handwriting reveals. The signatures of well known personalities will also be analyzed during the session.

For information or registration for this or future sessions call the Marin YWCA.

DOUGLAS J. MALONEY, Marin County Counsel, will discuss "The Legal Aspects of Zoning" at a public luncheon meeting sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Central Marin on Tuesday at the Pepperwood restaurant in San Anselmo.

Mr. Maloney, a San Franvisco native and graduate of the University of San Francisco, has been involved for a decade with the legal problems relating to zoning and planning.

Mrs. Leo Wagner of Novato is chairman of the league committee studying and evaluating local zoning ordinances and practices in Marin County.

Reservations chairman is Mrs. David Applen of Novato.

Mrs. Quadros Serves Again

Mrs. Leo Quadros of Mill Valley has been chosen for the third time as president of the Star of the Sea Institute 97, Young Ladies Institute, of Sausalito. Her previous terms were in 1944 and 1965.

The new president says a celebration is planned in October to mark the 50th anniversary of the Sausalito unit. Its long history accounts for the fact that officers and members who formerly lived in Sausalito now live all over the county and in San Francisco.

Other new officers are Miss Catherine Grinsell of Sausalito, first vice president; Mrs. Adelino Ferrera of Novato, second vice president; Mrs. George King of Santa Venetia, Marshal; Mrs. Matt Grbac of Tiburon, outside sentinel; Miss Eleanor Mortinez of Mill Valley, financial secretary; Miss Mary Folli of San Francisco, recording secretary; Mrs. Arthur Jewett of Sausalito, treasurer; and Mmes. Walter Silva and Harry Bowers of Sausalito, trustees.

ON BEING BLACK

Young Blacks Should See Classical Ballet

By SANDRA HAGGERTY

"How come we keep seeing all these colored people, Mommie?" the little blonde girl gave us a look of puzzlement as we stood in the theater lobby during the intermission of the "Nutcracker Suite" ballet.

The mother was woefully embarrassed and tried in vain to change the subject. The other people in the lobby, most of whom happened to be white, became silent, seemingly embarrassed for the unexpected faux pas.

Similar incidents have occurred on numerous occasions, and smiling at my group of multi-hued nieces and nephews I said to them quietly, but distinctly, "Okay, come all ye colored people; back to our seats."

THE CHILDREN'S eyes shone as they tried to suppress their giggles — for this particular group of black children, the word colored is passe, laughable.

The surrounding crowd was obviously relieved and smiled as the children obediently headed back into the theater.

The fact of the matter is, the little blonde's observation was well taken. For not only were there more than the usual handful of blacks in the audience, but there were even blacks in the performance. Can you imagine black snowflakes?

Even for me, this appearance was notably different, for in all the years that I have gone to see the "Nutcracker" — the 19th-centry Russian ballet that has become a traditional part of Christmas entertainment — this was the first year I had seen blacks perform in a professional rendition of the ballet.

BLACKS HAVE not formerly participated in classical ballet for a number of obvious reasons — among them, lack of exposure, training and money.

Many contemporary blacks feel that a ballet such as the "Nutcracker" (a white Russian ballet) is not relevant to today's blacks. Bah, humbug! Not only is the magical fairy tale a delight to all children, but the "Nutcracker" is, indeed, "one of dancing's most beautiful gifts to the world." Tchaikovsky's music is revelant to the world.

Classical ballet is an arena that more young blacks should be exposed to. This is certainly not to say that we should not have a knowledge and apprecaition of our own ethnic dance heritage — African ballet and tribal traditions. On the contrary, the ideal would be to have an awareness and appreciation of the best of all worlds.

The discipline involved in classical ballet instruction is particularly impressing and the whole of dance instruction comes to mind when I think of the "needed arena" for black girls to excel in, which could be comparable to athletics for boys.

Watching the mesmerized faces of my young theater party as they watched the "Nutcracker" performance solidified its relevancy. Any and everything that is a part of this world is relevant to our children.

Wendy Wilder Is Engaged

The engagement of Wendy Elizabeth Wilder to William Yamokoski has been announced by her mother Mrs. Ruthe Olds Wilder of San Rafael.

Wendy is a graduate of Terra Linda High School. She attended Chico State College and is employed in San Angelo, Tex. Grant Wilder of San Rafael is her brother.

William, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Yamokoski of Silver Lake, Ohio, is a graduate of the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo. He is attending school in Goodfellow, Tex., and is the brother of Tom Yamokoski of New Jersey and Gary Yamokoski of Ohio.

Mrs. Theodore Wight Is New President Of Guild

The new president of Mill Valley's Tamalpais Guild of Sunny Hills is Mrs. Theodore Wight.

A member of the guild for nearly two years, Suzie Wight has served as knitting chairman and recording secretary. Her hobbies include gourmet cooking, needlework, knitting, horseback riding and bridge. She is also an active member of the Marin General Hospital Volunteers.

The new president was educated at Washington State University and Monterey Peninsula College, majoring in fine arts.

Her husband is an investment banker in San Francisco. The Wights came to California in 1967 and have a daughter, Leslie, who is 3 years old.

Mrs. Wight says this year guild members will be working on their annual fund-raising dinner dance in May and on the hand sewn and knitted children's clothes featured at the Grape Festival in the fall. The Sesame Puppets will again be a special feature.

Other new officers this year are Mmes. Susan Nickerson, vice president; Lloyd Yates, recording secretary; Edward Ober, corresponding secretary; and Robert McVey, treasurer.

Lorang-Sims Vows Exchanged

MRS. JOSEPH LORANG

Elizabeth Adams Sims Belvedere became the bride of Joseph John Lorang of Colfax on Jan. 9 at the century-old Dutch Flat Methodist Episcopal Church in Dutch Flat, Placer County.

The bride is the daughter of Justice and Mrs. Richard M. Sims Jr. of Belvedere. Her maid of honor was Jacqueline Miles of Colfax. Bridesmaids were Margaret Airola of Sacramento and Aptos, Mrs. J. Kenton Brown of Dutch Flat and the bride's sister Alice Sims of Belvedere.

Joseph is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lorang of Eden Valley, Colfax.

Best man was Michael Lorang, the bridegroom's cousin. Ushers were John S. Fonseca of Dutch Flat and brothers of the bride, Robert Sims of Belvedere and Richard Sims III of San Francisco.

Battle Of The Environment: It Must Be World-Wide

(This is the last in a five-part Drummond series — "The Battle of the Environment.")

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — Many Americans seem to think the United States suffers from environmental decay more than any other nation.

Not so.

The blight of pollution of air, water and land is worldwide. The cure will have to be the same.

The world is deeply divided on the pollution issue. The advanced industrial countries feel an acute need to deal with the environmental crisis. The developing countries feel an acute need to get industrialized even at the expense of their environment.

NO NATION can alone adequately arrest the dire consequences of pollution unless the other nations will act together.

An encouraging start has been made through the United Nations, NATO and a score of other international agencies. But so far it is mostly talk — useful talk but not much more.

Just as pollution is no respecter of state lines, it doesn't stop at national or ideological frontiers. It falls on Communist and capitalist countries alike.

The United States has plenty of company. At stake isn't the survival of just part of the human race: it is the survival of man himself.

The Rhine is filthier than the Hudson.

The average lifespan of a eitizen of Milan is three years shorter than that of other Italians because of smog.

In some parts of Rome's Tiber River, a fish will die in 15 minutes.

CONSIDER ANOTHER vivid example of how far pollution has gone. The Baltic Sea is already sick almost beyond recovery. It is choked with industrial and human waster flowing steadily from the economically dynamic countries on its shores — Germany, Denmark, Sweden, Finland, Poland and the Soviet Union.

These countries are talking about doing something to clean up the Baltic. The Russians appear interested. That itself is significant. It suggests that ideology need not stand in the way of averting ecological disaster.

Even an alliance of several states could not shield itself from the polluted winds which carry man's poisons to the outer boundaries of the planet. Example:

The winds have carried pesticides 3,600 miles from Africa to the Caribbean and during the past 25 years have dropped 2,600 tons of DDT onto the Antartic ice where penguins and fish now carry this poison in their bodies.

THERE ARE TWO urgent and paramount matters which can be dealt with only on a worldwide basis:

1 — How to arrest the world's population growth which is continuing to rise at a rate this planet simply cannot sustain.

2 — How to encourage and help the developing nations — where the population pressures are the greatest — to achieve a critically needed, ordered industrialization without bringing down upon themselves and the rest of the world the environmental perils which the advanced nations failed to avert as they moved into the Industrial Age.

The population problem is grim in the extreme. If the growth rate continues as is, in another 30 years there will be twice as many people — seven billion — trying to live on the earth. They will not be able to do so. There is not enough habitable living space. There will not be enough food. There will be mass starvation unless drastic reductions in population growth are achieved and there will be considerable starvation even if they are.

At the rate children are being born today in most countries, the ravages of pollution will be doubled by the year 2000. If the environmental blight is not steadily reversed by that time, there may well not be enough clean air to breathe or enough drinkable water to drink, or enough energy and natural resources to support western man in the style to which he has been accustomed or enable the developing countries to industrialize.

IN THE CAUSE of our own survival, the United States will have to take the lead in both of these critical areas.

We can persuade other nations to limit population growth only if we limit it ourselves. The United States with 6 per cent of the world's population, cannot indefinitely keep using more than 40 per cent of the world's output of scarce or nonreplacable resources and expect the have-nots to sit idly by.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

20,000 In Marin Lose Franchise By Not Voting

About one of every five Marin voters forfeited his or her voting rights by failing to cast a ballot in the November election.

Statewide, the figure was closer to one of every four.

This offers a sad commentary on the importance that Marinites and Californians attach to the right to vote — the basic right upon which representative, democratic government is based.

STATEWIDE FIGURES released this week by Secy. of State Edmund G. Brown Jr. showed the voting rolls declined 23 per cent as result of purging those who did not cast ballots in November. This means more than two million Californians who had been on the voting rolls failed to go to the polls. It takes no account of those who are eligible to register to vote but never have done so; their number is unknown.

In Marin, about 20,000 forfeited voting rights by not balloting in November. Only about 2,000 have reinstated their rights by re-registering. But, pointed out Peter C. Meyer, county elections supervisor, they have until Feb. 25 to do so to vote in school board elections and the San Rafael city election.

THESE ELECTIONS, upcoming April 20, should show the heaviest voter turnout; but past experience has shown they will not. The registration rolls will not recover to last year's total until the 1972 presidential campaign reawakens many people's consciousness of the importance of the ballot.

There is an anomaly in this.

In presidential elections, the individual vote has a tiny influence. And even those millions do not vote directly for the President, the final decision being based on the electoral vote which may not accurately reflect the popular vote.

In elections for local school boards and city officials, every vote counts a great deal. It is not unusual for such elections to be decided by margins of half a dozen votes — or even one vote. It has happened often in Marin County.

DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT must grow from the grass roots; it cannot filter down from the top.

It will be interesting to see how many of those 20,000 in Marin, who for some reason or no reason did not go to the polls in November, consider their local voting rights important enough to re-register by Feb. 25 so they can vote in April.

And it will be interesting to see how many of them then cast the votes for which they are eligible.

Titmice or Titmouses?

A friend of ours with a feeling for proper English recently pointed out that we were in error using titmice as the plural for titmouse. He pointed out that the "mouse" in titmouse did not refer to the small gray mammal, nor for that matter did the ''tit'' refer to the mamary gland. The "mouse" derived from the French and German and refers to a family of small birds. And the ''tit'' is from Old English and means small, like in tidbit. All of this our friend quoted to us from a book about the romance of words.

While feeling grateful for our friend's interest, this is to let him know that the word-nuts haven't told the bird-nuts. We have half a dozen bird books that call these feathered creatures titmice.

But regardless, we think everyone will agree the titmouse, taken singly or in the plural, is a charming little bird.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Nothing's Safe Any More — Not Even Getting Potted

By JACK COOPER

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Life is getting to be a scary proposition these days, what with all the dire warnings about things we have taken for granted up to just recently.

We never put the detergent in our dishwasher without a quick glance at the morning paper to see if the signals have changed overnight about which kind is best for the environment.

And we regarded our canned tuna with suspicion until we learned that some New York researchers found higher mercury levels in fish caught 43 years ago, far from any industrial sites.

Now we aren't sure we would take a drink of water over in Lake or Mendocino counties, where all those cinnabar deposits are. Maybe they leak mercury into the streams.

WE ARE PUTTING on weight because the Department of Health, Education and Welfare undertook to save our pancreas at the expense of our paunch by taking away the cyclamates we used to put in our coffee.

We don't know whether or not to expect catastrophic results from our daily bacon and eggs. One newspaper doc says watch the cholesterol. Another says to forget it.

At our age we would feel embarrassed to go out jogging, and we confess to feeling nervous about not having a can of DDT around the place against the open declaration of war by the insects.

Now and again we console ourself with a drop of something or other because the authorities say it opens the capillaries and relaxes us. Although other authorities say it will turn up our blood pressure.

WE SHARE MANY of these concerns with a number of our friends in the artsy-craftsy set, many of whom jog, bike and have hobbies — like making pottery.

And comes now the California Department of Public Health to warn us that the pottery may poison us, especially the handcrafted kind made by the artsy-craftsy set.

Acid in food can dissolve the glaze on improperly fired earthenware, releasing toxic lead, Dr. Louis Saylor advises us. Only an expert can tell if the glaze is safe, and the cost of testing is higher than the cost of the earthenware.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Cost Precludes Use Of Orchestra

On Jan. 5, your reader Alan Lees of Greenbrae lamented the lack of a live orchestra to accompany the Marin Civic Ballet in its production of the "Nutcracker." Nothing would please the ballet more than to perform with a live orchestra. The problem is a simple and universal one: money.

At present, the "Nutcracker" is presented in Marin County each year at a ticket price of $2. This price is made possible by the fact that the dancers are not paid, and much behind-the-scenes work is done by volunteers. Each year between 2,000 and 3,000 people attend; a substantial percentage are children. Their value received for this $2 is considerable: a fine, well-trained group of young dancers, performing with increased polish and style each year, a handsome production, the excellent facilities of the College Of Marin Theater, and Peter Tchaikowsky's Christmas Ballet, although, indeed, the music is on tape. When all is considered, it would seem to be a production of which Marin County can be proud at a reasonable price.

If the Marin Civic Ballet Association were to hire an orchestra, the production would certainly be enhanced. But any orchestra available to us would have to be paid, with the result that the cost of tickets would have to be raised much above the current $2. We wonder, then, how many parents would feel they could treat their children to this delightful artistic experience.

Pollution Poses Basic Problem

The Marxists of 100 years ago were wrong. It was not the capitalist system that degraded workers, it was the low technological level of society. Our use of technology and high energy has raised the living standards of so much of society that class war has been foreclosed by it.

But now the by-products of this high energy society in the form of waste and pollution is likely to make the world eventually uninhabitable.

So now all the advanced nations of the world including the Marxist nations are between the Scylla of pollution if we continue with our high energy society and the Charybdis of class war if we revert to a lower technological social level.

It is this, not Vietnam nor the Middle East nor East-West rivalry, that is the core problem in the world today. All other problems are peripheral parts of this basic one.

Society Sick; Is It Terminal?

A short time ago, if I recall correctly, you published an editorial to the effect that there was little, if any, evidence to support pronouncements that ours is a "sick" society.

Well — when the vice president of the United States advocates seriously, and in public, that the indigent sick, who are suffering from so-called "terminal" diseases, be let die "natural" deaths rather than burden the taxpayer with the cost of treating these illnesses, and perhaps prolonging their lives, I submit that our society is not only sick, but that it is just about morally bankrupt.

The very fact that there has not been a wave of indignation in response to Agnew's incredibly callous remarks is merely further indication, in my opinion, that ours is indeed a very, very sick society. Let's hope this sickness is not terminal.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Jan. 22, 1961

The U.S. Supreme Court, in a 5-to-4 decision, refused to strike down city and state movie censorship powers.

A state Senate committee attacked almost every agency involved in selection of Squaw Valley as a Winter Olympics site, charging the contract unnecessarily burdened the state.

20 YEARS AGO

Jan. 22, 1951

Allied forces retook Wonju air strip in Korea, and Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgeway said the situation "is getting better all the time."

Marin County supervisors turned down a resolution advocating a pay raise for superior court judges from $12,000 to $15,000 a year.

BY NO MEANS NEUTRAL

Early Candidate Rush Is Commentary On Nixon

By ERNEST B. FURGURSON

WASHINGTON — The most professional testimony so far offered on Richard Nixon's political performance up to the halfway point in this term comes from about half a dozen senators of the opposition party — those who have ambitions to succeed him in the White House.

Not that what they say publicly will be anything but self-serving (it can be that and eloquent and true, too). It is what they are doing that speaks most realistically, and what they are doing is cranking up early and eager because they think the President will be beatable next year.

THAT CONVICTION, which crowds the competition with announced, taken-for-granted and toe-dabbling candidates, assures that the long 1972 primary season will be contested with heat from New Hampshire to California. For of the whole group only two have any foreseeable chance of being nominated by the Democratic convention after bypassing the primary route. They are Edward Kennedy and Hubert Humphrey.

Despite the disparity in their ages and experience, each of these two would offer to a divided and frustrated convention an opportunity to return to the womb of familiar things past. Each has good reason to avoid the primaries if possible: The name of Kennedy's is Chappaquiddick; the name of Humphrey's is 1968.

When they think of the former vice president, more poeple still think of the Chicago convention nightmare than of the fact that Humphrey fought back from the crushing disadvantage to come within half a million votes of catching Mr. Nixon.

DIFFERENT disadvantages borne by the other aspirants, even including the far-out-frontrunner, Edmund Muskie, have the opposite effect of forcing them to undergo primary trials if their ambitions are serious.

The one shortcoming they share — Muskie less than the rest — is relative lack of familiarity to the national public. All the early announcements of candidacy, foreign trips and Senate crusades they can schedule in the coming year will not give them the kind of day-to-day publicity they will gain from primary competition in state after state.

Muskie, acknowledged by all to be the man to beat, is encumbered among many Democrats by the fact that he has never been willing to stick his neck out first on any dangerously controversial issue. His overcautious image was made more so when he came back from his visit to Moscow, the Middle East and Western Europe and called a press conference — but refused to give any but the vaguest answers to questions about what he had heard and said abroad. He wanted the publicity (his press conference was on the day George McGovern announced he would run) but didn't want to take any chances.

His potential challengers also think Muskie is not hard-hitting enough to rouse a partisan crowd to nominate him to get out there and smite Mr. Nixon. Sincere and thoughtful through the tube, yes. But lacking fire.

MCGOVERN'S EARLY announcement was an acknowledgement that he needs more media exposure. He intends to contrast his forthrightness on the issues with Muskie's temporizing. In so doing, he will continue his vulnerability for taking so many risky stands, but he hopes the effort will help erase his identification as a one-issue (Vietnam) candidate. He also suffers from a lack of telegenic star quality which may not be overcome by the candor he projects firthand.

Battle Of The Environment: It Must Be World-Wide

(This is the last in a five-part Drummond series — "The Battle of the Environment.")

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — Many Americans seem to think the United States suffers from environmental decay more than any other nation.

Not so.

The blight of pollution of air, water and land is worldwide. The cure will have to be the same.

The world is deeply divided on the pollution issue. The advanced industrial countries feel an acute need to deal with the environmental crisis. The developing countries feel an acute need to get industrialized even at the expense of their environment.

NO NATION can alone adequately arrest the dire consequences of pollution unless the other nations will act together.

An encouraging start has been made through the United Nations, NATO and a score of other international agencies. But so far it is mostly talk — useful talk but not much more.

Just as pollution is no respecter of state lines, it doesn't stop at national or ideological frontiers. It falls on Communist and capitalist countries alike.

The United States has plenty of company. At stake isn't the survival of just part of the human race: it is the survival of man himself.

The Rhine is filthier than the Hudson.

The average lifespan of a eitizen of Milan is three years shorter than that of other Italians because of smog.

In some parts of Rome's Tiber River, a fish will die in 15 minutes.

CONSIDER ANOTHER vivid example of how far pollution has gone. The Baltic Sea is already sick almost beyond recovery. It is choked with industrial and human waster flowing steadily from the economically dynamic countries on its shores — Germany, Denmark, Sweden, Finland, Poland and the Soviet Union.

These countries are talking about doing something to clean up the Baltic. The Russians appear interested. That itself is significant. It suggests that ideology need not stand in the way of averting ecological disaster.

Even an alliance of several states could not shield itself from the polluted winds which carry man's poisons to the outer boundaries of the planet. Example:

The winds have carried pesticides 3,600 miles from Africa to the Caribbean and during the past 25 years have dropped 2,600 tons of DDT onto the Antartic ice where penguins and fish now carry this poison in their bodies.

THERE ARE TWO urgent and paramount matters which can be dealt with only on a worldwide basis:

1 — How to arrest the world's population growth which is continuing to rise at a rate this planet simply cannot sustain.

2 — How to encourage and help the developing nations — where the population pressures are the greatest — to achieve a critically needed, ordered industrialization without bringing down upon themselves and the rest of the world the environmental perils which the advanced nations failed to avert as they moved into the Industrial Age.

The population problem is grim in the extreme. If the growth rate continues as is, in another 30 years there will be twice as many people — seven billion — trying to live on the earth. They will not be able to do so. There is not enough habitable living space. There will not be enough food. There will be mass starvation unless drastic reductions in population growth are achieved and there will be considerable starvation even if they are.

At the rate children are being born today in most countries, the ravages of pollution will be doubled by the year 2000. If the environmental blight is not steadily reversed by that time, there may well not be enough clean air to breathe or enough drinkable water to drink, or enough energy and natural resources to support western man in the style to which he has been accustomed or enable the developing countries to industrialize.

IN THE CAUSE of our own survival, the United States will have to take the lead in both of these critical areas.

We can persuade other nations to limit population growth only if we limit it ourselves. The United States with 6 per cent of the world's population, cannot indefinitely keep using more than 40 per cent of the world's output of scarce or nonreplacable resources and expect the have-nots to sit idly by.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

20,000 In Marin Lose Franchise By Not Voting

About one of every five Marin voters forfeited his or her voting rights by failing to cast a ballot in the November election.

Statewide, the figure was closer to one of every four.

This offers a sad commentary on the importance that Marinites and Californians attach to the right to vote — the basic right upon which representative, democratic government is based.

STATEWIDE FIGURES released this week by Secy. of State Edmund G. Brown Jr. showed the voting rolls declined 23 per cent as result of purging those who did not cast ballots in November. This means more than two million Californians who had been on the voting rolls failed to go to the polls. It takes no account of those who are eligible to register to vote but never have done so; their number is unknown.

In Marin, about 20,000 forfeited voting rights by not balloting in November. Only about 2,000 have reinstated their rights by re-registering. But, pointed out Peter C. Meyer, county elections supervisor, they have until Feb. 25 to do so to vote in school board elections and the San Rafael city election.

THESE ELECTIONS, upcoming April 20, should show the heaviest voter turnout; but past experience has shown they will not. The registration rolls will not recover to last year's total until the 1972 presidential campaign reawakens many people's consciousness of the importance of the ballot.

There is an anomaly in this.

In presidential elections, the individual vote has a tiny influence. And even those millions do not vote directly for the President, the final decision being based on the electoral vote which may not accurately reflect the popular vote.

In elections for local school boards and city officials, every vote counts a great deal. It is not unusual for such elections to be decided by margins of half a dozen votes — or even one vote. It has happened often in Marin County.

DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT must grow from the grass roots; it cannot filter down from the top.

It will be interesting to see how many of those 20,000 in Marin, who for some reason or no reason did not go to the polls in November, consider their local voting rights important enough to re-register by Feb. 25 so they can vote in April.

And it will be interesting to see how many of them then cast the votes for which they are eligible.

Titmice or Titmouses?

A friend of ours with a feeling for proper English recently pointed out that we were in error using titmice as the plural for titmouse. He pointed out that the "mouse" in titmouse did not refer to the small gray mammal, nor for that matter did the "tit" refer to the mamary gland. The "mouse" derived from the French and German and refers to a family of small birds. And the "tit" is from Old English and means small, like in tidbit. All of this our friend quoted to us from a book about the romance of words.

While feeling grateful for our friend's interest, this is to let him know that the word-nuts haven't told the bird-nuts. We have half a dozen bird books that call these feathered creatures titmice.

But regardless, we think everyone will agree the titmouse, taken singly or in the plural, is a charming little bird.

Nothing's Safe Any More — Not Even Getting Potted

By JACK COOPER

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Life is getting to be a scary proposition these days, what with all the dire warnings about things we have taken for granted up to just recently.

We never put the detergent in our dishwasher without a quick glance at the morning paper to see if the signals have changed overnight about which kind is best for the environment.

And we regarded our canned tuna with suspicion until we learned that some New York researchers found higher mercury levels in fish caught 43 years ago, far from any industrial sites.

Now we aren't sure we would take a drink of water over in Lake or Mendocino counties, where all those cinnabar deposits are. Maybe they leak mercury into the streams.

WE ARE PUTTING on weight because the Department of Health, Education and Welfare undertook to save our pancreas at the expense of our paunch by taking away the cyclamates we used to put in our coffee.

We don't know whether or not to expect catastrophic results from our daily bacon and eggs. One newspaper doc says watch the cholesterol. Another says to forget it.

At our age we would feel embarrassed to go out jogging, and we confess to feeling nervous about not having a can of DDT around the place against the open declaration of war by the insects.

Now and again we console ourself with a drop of something or other because the authorities say it opens the capillaries and relaxes us. Although other authorities say it will turn up our blood pressure.

WE SHARE MANY of these concerns with a number of our friends in the artsy-craftsy set, many of whom jog, bike and have hobbies — like making pottery.

And comes now the California Department of Public Health to warn us that the pottery may poison us, especially the handcrafted kind made by the artsy-craftsy set.

Acid in food can dissolve the glaze on improperly fired earthenware, releasing toxic lead, Dr. Louis Saylor advises us. Only an expert can teil if the glaze is safe, and the cost of testing is higher than the cost of the earthenware.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Cost Precludes Use Of Orchestra

On Jan. 5, your reader Alan Lees of Greenbrae lamented the lack of a live orchestra to accompany the Marin Civic Ballet in its production of the "Nutcracker." Nothing would please the ballet more than to perform with a live orchestra. The problem is a simple and universal one: money.

At present, the "Nutcracker" is presented in Marin County each year at a ticket price of $2. This price is made possible by the fact that the dancers are not paid, and much behind-the-scenes work is done by volunteers. Each year between 2,000 and 3,000 people attend; a substantial percentage are children. Their value received for this $2 is considerable: a fine, well-trained group of young dancers, performing with increased polish and style each year, a handsome production, the excellent facilities of the College Of Marin Theater, and Peter Tchaikowsky's Christmas Ballet, although, indeed, the music is on tape. When all is considered, it would seem to be a production of which Marin County can be proud at a reasonable price.

If the Marin Civic Ballet Association were to hire an orchestra, the production would certainly be enhanced. But any orchestra available to us would have to be paid, with the result that the cost of tickets would have to be raised much above the current $2. We wonder, then, how many parents would feel they could treat their children to this delightful artistic experience.

Pollution Poses Basic Problem

The Marxists of 100 years ago were wrong. It was not the capitalist system that degraded workers, it was the low technological level of society. Our use of technology and high energy has raised the living standards of so much of society that class war has been foreclosed by it.

But now the by-products of this high energy society in the form of waste and pollution is likely to make the world eventually uninhabitable.

So now all the advanced nations of the world including the Marxist nations are between the Scylla of pollution if we continue with our high energy society and the Charybdis of class war if we revert to a lower technological social level.

It is this, not Vietnam nor the Middle East nor East-West rivalry, that is the core problem in the world today. All other problems are peripheral parts of this basic one.

Society Sick; Is It Terminal?

A short time ago, if I recall correctly, you published an editorial to the effect that there was little, if any, evidence to support pronouncements that ours is a "sick" society.

Well — when the vice president of the United States advocates seriously, and in public, that the indigent sick, who are suffering from so-called "terminal" diseases, be let die "natural" deaths rather than burden the taxpayer with the cost of treating these illnesses, and perhaps prolonging their lives, I submit that our society is not only sick, but that it is just about morally bankrupt.

The very fact that there has not been a wave of indignation in response to Agnew's incredibly callous remarks is merely further indication, in my opinion, that ours is indeed a very, very sick society. Let's hope this sickness is not terminal.

Early Candidate Rush Is Commentary On Nixon

By ERNEST B. FURGURSON

WASHINGTON — The most professional testimony so far offered on Richard Nixon's political performance up to the halfway point in this term comes from about half a dozen senators of the opposition party — those who have ambitions to succeed him in the White House.

Not that what they say publicly will be anything but self-serving (it can be that and eloquent and true, too). It is what they are doing that speaks most realistically, and what they are doing is cranking up early and eager because they think the President will be beatable next year.

THAT CONVICTION, which crowds the competition with announced, taken-for-granted and toe-dabbling candidates, assures that the long 1972 primary season will be contested with heat from New Hampshire to California. For of the whole group only two have any foreseeable chance of being nominated by the Democratic convention after bypassing the primary route. They are Edward Kennedy and Hubert Humphrey.

Despite the disparity in their ages and experience, each of these two would offer to a divided and frustrated convention an opportunity to return to the womb of familiar things past. Each has good reason to avoid the primaries if possible: The name of Kennedy's is Chappaquiddick; the name of Humphrey's is 1968.

When they think of the former vice president, more poeple still think of the Chicago convention nightmare than of the fact that Humphrey fought back from the crushing disadvantage to come within half a million votes of catching Mr. Nixon.

DIFFERENT disadvantages borne by the other aspirants, even including the far-out-frontrunner, Edmund Muskie, have the opposite effect of forcing them to undergo primary trials if their ambitions are serious.

The one shortcoming they share — Muskie less than the rest — is relative lack of familiarity to the national public. All the early announcements of candidacy, foreign trips and Senate crusades they can schedule in the coming year will not give them the kind of day-to-day publicity they will gain from primary competition in state after state.

Muskie, acknowledged by all to be the man to beat, is encumbered among many Democrats by the fact that he has never been willing to stick his neck out first on any dangerously controversial issue. His overcautious image was made more so when he came back from his visit to Moscow, the Middle East and Western Europe and called a press conference — but refused to give any but the vaguest answers to questions about what he had heard and said abroad. He wanted the publicity (his press conference was on the day George McGovern announced he would run) but didn't want to take any chances.

His potential challengers also think Muskie is not hard-hitting enough to rouse a partisan crowd to nominate him to get out there and smite Mr. Nixon. Sincere and thoughtful through the tube, yes. But lacking fire.

MCGOVERN'S EARLY announcement was an acknowledgement that he needs more media exposure. He intends to contrast his forthrightness on the issues with Muskie's temporizing. In so doing, he will continue his vulnerability for taking so many risky stands, but he hopes the effort will help erase his identification as a one-issue (Vietnam) candidate. He also suffers from a lack of telegenic star quality which may not be overcome by the candor he projects firthand.

Birch Bayh's principal liability is that he looks even younger than his age (his 43rd birthday is Friday) and is not well known nationally. Where he is well known, it is mainly because of his successful leadership of the drives to reject Mr. Nixon's Clement Haynsworth and Harrold Carswell nominations last year. That is a heavy millstone in the South but a strong plus among the blacks, organized labor, intellectuals and younger voters. Bayh is yet to announce, but he is assertively "exploring" his prospects and opening a Washington precampaign office this month.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Brasilia And Stop-Work Order: Recital From 'Remember When'

The I-J editorial of Dec 22, "Cuts In Private Sector — How About Public One?" was what I had planned to comment on this week. However, a phone call has caused a change.

Late Wednesday afternoon the fine, eager voice of a high school student was on the line when I answered. He is writing a term paper and must have it ready by next Wednesday. His topic is the Civic Center. He wanted to have a chat with me and record it on his tape machine and said the I-J had opened their files for him and that he would like to record why I voted against the project.

It was impossible to arrange a time so I told him I would write about the recent "Remember When's,," which were about the Civic Center. Here goes:

"JAN. 12, 1961 — An angry gathering of more than 300 Marinites formed the 'Citizens for the Civic Center' to battle for resumption of work on the Frank Lloyd Wright building after it was halted by a 3-2 vote."

"Jan, 14, 1961 — Immediate start of a campaign to recall Supervisor William D. Fusselman was demanded at a mass meeting of Citizens for the Civic Center."

"Jan. 16, 1961 — The Marin County Board of Supervisors ordered resumption of work on the Civic Center after receiving a report from architects Eugene E. Craford and George V. Banning that it would not be feasible to convert the partially completed building into a county hospital.

"Dec 7, 1960 — The Marin County Board of Supervisors received from Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell a report that $1,212,309 would have to be raised next fiscal year for Civic Center construction."

THESE ARE the phases I will comment on now, although there were basic factors that guided my thinking and voting on the project. And as long as Brasilia is in the center of attention now, it would seem that for the benefit of the taxpayers who were not here 10 or 12 years ago it would well to carry the story along in the manner I did with the British Columbia Indians transition.

For some 12 years prior to that time I had been chairman of the health and welfare committee of the board of supervisors, so the things I will relate are from personal knowledge.

THE BUILDING at the county farm out Lucas Valley way, in which the indegent sick were housed, was constructed in such a manner that it was a crime to leave those poor and helpless ones even one day there. The outer walls were constructed with two tiers of bricks. There were no upright girders to carry the load. The mortar was a dry crumbly type. Any stress could have brought the upper floor, filled with beds, down on those below. When I discovered this, I tried to have remedial construction authorized, but received no support whatever for several years.

The hospital was operated under a state permit. They became aware of the condition and gave us a deadline to construct some guards or else we would have to close it up and place the patients in private hospitals. This would have been a staggering expense. Fiscally things were bad, as well as the humanities involved. Two bond issues for construction of decent housing for both the hospital and juvenile hall had been defeated.

ONE DAY, as I was driving out Highway 101, I noticed that construction on the Civic Center had been stopped because of the stormy weather. The first floor was in and the girders were sticking up all over the layout.

This is when the idea occurred to me that by partially constructing this building, as designed, a slight conversion could make it possible to use it for hospital purposes until we could work out the finance problem to construct out at Lucas Valley.

The stop order was for not to exceed two weeks, while we submitted it to the architects who had been working on the plans for the hospital before we had submitted it for a vote by the folks who would have to validate the bond issus — the taxpayers. When these architects gave a negative opinion, we cancelled the stop order and resumed construction. Contrary to claims made by the Civic Center proponents, this didn't cost the county a penny.

Unless other matters of overpowering import take place this story will be told in its entirety. Many who lived here then were never aware of all the factors involved.

Grapefruit Bill Signed Into Law

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —Gov. Ronald Reagan Tuesday signed the first bill of the 1971 legislative session —a measure allowing the sale of California grapefruit which are slightly more sour.

But the author, Sen. Gordon Cologne, R-Indio, said the consumer will hardly notice the difference because the change permitting less sweet grapefruit was mostly "technical."

The measure is designed to put California into a better competitive position with Arizona and Texas grapefruit. Cologne said the unusually cool autumn in California produced grapefruit with a higher than normal amount of acid.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By GEORGE NEVIN

Anti-Commune Zoning Ordinance May Be Case Of Overkill

Mill Valley city councilmen, in their campaign to keep communes out of the city, may be going in for overkill.

The council heard on first reading Monday an ordinance that defines family as no more than five unrelated persons living together as a single housekeeping unit, and further prohibits any but a family from living in a single-family residential zone. The law obviously is aimed at hippie-style communes.

Second reading and adoption could come at the council's Feb. 1 meeting. It appears the ordinance will pass easily, as all five councilmen voted for the measure on first reading.

COUNCILMAN ROBERT H. Andresen had some very good points in mind when he first proposed the ordinance last year: increased density in residential zones, noise and littering associated with communes, and the parking of cars on narrow city streets.

However, Mill Valley already has tools to cope with these problems.

Noise and litter? It's unfair to say that all communes are guilty of these sins, and that all conventional families are blameless, but even assuming that hippies are noisy and dirty the city has a nuisance abatement procedure to eliminate noise and filth.

Overcrowding and high density? Plenty of conventional families, including those of two Mill Valley city councilmen, have more than five persons. I come from a family of eight. This argument just doesn't hold water.

Blocking of streets? This point perhaps has some validity, in that commune members are likely to own more automobiles than a family of similar size.

But council could take Councilman Jean S. Barnard's advice and charge residents a fee for parking cars on city streets.

THERE ARE some very definite reasons against the ordinance:

1. It will add an enforcement burden on the police and planning departments. "We just don't have the staff to enforce this law," said a city worker.

2. The City of Larkspur, which adopted a similar ordinance in 1969, has been involved in a costly suit for almost a year over its enforcement.. Despite a federal court ruling that held a similar Palo Alto ordinance constitutional, the Mill Valley law might also be challenged in the courts.

The real reason for the ordinance, I suspect, is that the councilmen object to the immorality of communes. But legislating morality is a tricky business, doomed to failure.

Israel is increasing exports of canned fruits and vegetables.

Hearing Listed On Police Issue

A public seminar on police-community relations has been scheduled for Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Campbell Hall, Christ Episcopal Church in Sausalito.

The workshop is to include a film showing a sensitivity session of the San Francisco police with militant radicals and a panel discussion with Sausalito police, businessmen, Councilman Robin Sweeny and members of the street ministry.

The film is to be at 10 a.m. followed by the panel discussion at 11 a.m.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Brasilia And Stop-Work Order: Recital From 'Remember When'

The I-J editorial of Dec 22, "Cuts In Private Sector — How About Public One?" was what I had planned to comment on this week. However, a phone call has caused a change.

Late Wednesday afternoon the fine, eager voice of a high school student was on the line when I answered. He is writing a term paper and must have it ready by next Wednesday. His topic is the Civic Center. He wanted to have a chat with me and record it on his tape machine and said the I-J had opened their files for him and that he would like to record why I voted against the project.

It was impossible to arrange a time so I told him I would write about the recent "Remember When's,," which were about the Civic Center. Here goes:

"JAN. 12, 1961 — An angry gathering of more than 300 Marinites formed the 'Citizens for the Civic Center' to battle for resumption of work on the Frank Lloyd Wright building after it was halted by a 3-2 vote."

"Jan, 14, 1961 — Immediate start of a campaign to recall Supervisor William D. Fusselman was demanded at a mass meeting of Citizens for the Civic Center."

"Jan. 16, 1961 — The Marin County Board of Supervisors ordered resumption of work on the Civic Center after receiving a report from architects Eugene E. Craford and George V. Banning that it would not be feasible to convert the partially completed building into a county hospital.

"Dec 7, 1960 — The Marin County Board of Supervisors received from Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell a report that $1,212,309 would have to be raised next fiscal year for Civic Center construction."

THESE ARE the phases I will comment on now, although there were basic factors that guided my thinking and voting on the project. And as long as Brasilia is in the center of attention now, it would seem that for the benefit of the taxpayers who were not here 10 or 12 years ago it would well to carry the story along in the manner I did with the British Columbia Indians transition.

For some 12 years prior to that time I had been chairman of the health and welfare committee of the board of supervisors, so the things I will relate are from personal knowledge.

THE BUILDING at the county farm out Lucas Valley way, in which the indegent sick were housed, was constructed in such a manner that it was a crime to leave those poor and helpless ones even one day there. The outer walls were constructed with two tiers of bricks. There were no upright girders to carry the load. The mortar was a dry crumbly type. Any stress could have brought the upper floor, filled with beds, down on those below. When I discovered this, I tried to have remedial construction authorized, but received no support whatever for several years.

The hospital was operated under a state permit. They became aware of the condition and gave us a deadline to construct some guards or else we would have to close it up and place the patients in private hospitals. This would have been a staggering expense. Fiscally things were bad, as well as the humanities involved. Two bond issues for construction of decent housing for both the hospital and juvenile hall had been defeated.

ONE DAY, as I was driving out Highway 101, I noticed that construction on the Civic Center had been stopped because of the stormy weather. The first floor was in and the girders were sticking up all over the layout.

This is when the idea occurred to me that by partially constructing this building, as designed, a slight conversion could make it possible to use it for hospital purposes until we could work out the finance problem to construct out at Lucas Valley.

The stop order was for not to exceed two weeks, while we submitted it to the architects who had been working on the plans for the hospital before we had submitted it for a vote by the folks who would have to validate the bond issus — the taxpayers. When these architects gave a negative opinion, we cancelled the stop order and resumed construction. Contrary to claims made by the Civic Center proponents, this didn't cost the county a penny.

Unless other matters of overpowering import take place this story will be told in its entirety. Many who lived here then were never aware of all the factors involved.

Grapefruit Bill Signed Into Law

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —Gov. Ronald Reagan Tuesday signed the first bill of the 1971 legislative session —a measure allowing the sale of California grapefruit which are slightly more sour.

But the author, Sen. Gordon Cologne, R-Indio, said the consumer will hardly notice the difference because the change permitting less sweet grapefruit was mostly "technical."

The measure is designed to put California into a better competitive position with Arizona and Texas grapefruit. Cologne said the unusually cool autumn in California produced grapefruit with a higher than normal amount of acid.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By GEORGE NEVIN

Anti-Commune Zoning Ordinance May Be Case Of Overkill

Mill Valley city councilmen, in their campaign to keep communes out of the city, may be going in for overkill.

The council heard on first reading Monday an ordinance that defines family as no more than five unrelated persons living together as a single housekeeping unit, and further prohibits any but a family from living in a single-family residential zone. The law obviously is aimed at hippie-style communes.

Second reading and adoption could come at the council's Feb. 1 meeting. It appears the ordinance will pass easily, as all five councilmen voted for the measure on first reading.

COUNCILMAN ROBERT H. Andresen had some very good points in mind when he first proposed the ordinance last year: increased density in residential zones, noise and littering associated with communes, and the parking of cars on narrow city streets.

However, Mill Valley already has tools to cope with these problems.

Noise and litter? It's unfair to say that all communes are guilty of these sins, and that all conventional families are blameless, but even assuming that hippies are noisy and dirty the city has a nuisance abatement procedure to eliminate noise and filth.

Overcrowding and high density? Plenty of conventional families, including those of two Mill Valley city councilmen, have more than five persons. I come from a family of eight. This argument just doesn't hold water.

Blocking of streets? This point perhaps has some validity, in that commune members are likely to own more automobiles than a family of similar size.

But council could take Councilman Jean S. Barnard's advice and charge residents a fee for parking cars on city streets.

THERE ARE some very definite reasons against the ordinance:

1. It will add an enforcement burden on the police and planning departments. "We just don't have the staff to enforce this law," said a city worker.

2. The City of Larkspur, which adopted a similar ordinance in 1969, has been involved in a costly suit for almost a year over its enforcement. Despite a federal court ruling that held a similar Palo Alto ordinance constitutional, the Mill Valley law might also be challenged in the courts.

The real reason for the ordinance, I suspect, is that the councilmen object to the immorality of communes. But legislating morality is a tricky business, doomed to failure.

Israel is increasing exports of canned fruits and vegetables.

Hearing Listed On Police Issue

A public seminar on police-community relations has been scheduled for Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Campbell Hall, Christ Episcopal Church in Sausalito.

The workshop is to include a film showing a sensitivity session of the San Francisco police with militant radicals and a panel discussion with Sausalito police, businessmen, Councilman Robin Sweeny and members of the street ministry.

The film is to be at 10 a.m. followed by the panel discussion at 11 a.m.

Concerts Planned In Mill Valley

Two Bach-to-Mozart concerts will be performed Sunday at Brown's Hall in Mill Valley.

At 2:30 p.m. children of school age will hear a program of baroque and other music. Raymond Duste will explain part singing in chorale, march rhythms and melodies and dances in three-quarter time, and some of the Bach-to-Mozart group will demonstrate with music by Mozart, Bach, Handel, Beethoven, Tchaikovsky, Mendelssohn and Bartok.

Children who took part in the coloring contest at the first junior concert this season are to bring their art work to be judged for prizes, marking each piece with name and age.

The adult candlelight concert at 8 p.m. will feature music by some little-known composers, such as the cantata "Veni Consolator" of Damian Stachovicz, who composed in Poland around 1699, and the Concerto for Piccolo Clarinet of Joachim Melchior Molter, who composed in Manheim, Germany, around 1757.

Frealon Bibbins, San Francisco Symphony clarinetist, has composed a suite of four songs for soprano Gwen Curatilo, with clarinet, which will be premiered at this concert.

Other numbers on the program are a suite from Handel's "The Water Music"; Haydn's Quartet No. 28, Opus 74, No. 1, and the Cantata No. 202 (Wedding) of J. S. Bach.

Musicians performing will be Gwen Curatilo, Soprano; Raymond Duste, oboe; Edward Haug, trumpet; Frealon Bibbins, clarinet; George Nagata and Donna Salarpi, violins; Asbjorn Finess, viola, and Teressa Adams, cello.

Youth Orchestra To Perform On Sunday

The first concert of its season will be presented by the Marin Youth Orchestra Sunday at 3 p.m. at the San Rafael High School auditorium with two Marin high school sophomores, violinist Carol Tomlinson of Terra Linda and cellist Jed Barahal of San Rafael, as soloists.

The orchestra, composed of some 78 outstanding musicians from music departments of all public and private schools in the county, will perform: "La Grande Paque Russe" (Russian Easter) by Rimsky-Korsakov; Tchaikovsky's Variations on a Roccoco Theme, with Barahal as soloist; the Mendelssohn Violin Concerto first movement featuring Carol Tomlinson; and Beethoven's Symphony No. 7

Carol has won Marin Music Chest scholarships, a Pepsi-Cola Young Musicians contest and soloed in a youth concert of the San Francisco Symphony.

Jed the outstanding scholar at San Rafael High School, maintained a straight A record and work load that places him so far ahead that he can take the next year off to accompany his family to Europe next fall. He hopes to devote full time to studying at the Music Academy in Vienna.

Truman Wants To leave Hospital: Little Pain

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)— Former President Harry S Truman still is experiencing some mild pains, but has told his doctors he wants to go home.

Truman, 86, was hospitalized Thursday with stomach pains. Doctors say he will remain in Research Hospital for "a few days" pending the outcome of tests.

Doctors said Truman's condition is good, and his "vital signs are stable and within normal limits. It also means the patient's progress is good or excellent."

The exact nature of his illness was not diagnosed.

"The situation is not alarming," said Dr. Wallace D. Graham, Truman's personal physician since his White House days. "I expect to run tests and will have more information when results are available."

John P. Dreves, a hospital spokesman, said Truman was experiencing only mild pain late Thursday. He said Truman expressed a desire to return home only a few hours after being rushed by ambulance 15 miles to the hospital from his home in Independence.

President Nixon sent Truman a telegram and wished him a speedy recovery.

"Our thoughts and prayers are joined with those of all your countrymen as Mrs. Nixon and I wish you quick recovery from your illness," the telegram said.

Truman, who was America's 33rd president from April 12, 1945—the day Franklin D. Roosevelt died—until Jan. 20, 1953, was admitted to the hospital at 9:28 a.m. EST Thursday.

He was carried on a stretcher to a private room on the third floor of the hospital. But, at the door to his room, he got off the stretcher and walked to his bed.

His wife, Bess, who will be 86 Feb. 13, at his side.

Westwood was asked if "things are looking up" shortly after Truman was admitted.

"Things were never looking down," Westwood replied.

Truman's hospitalization was his sixth since Gen. Dwight D.. Eisenhower succeeded him as president in 1953. His last illness two years ago stemmed from a stomach disorder.

Mary Jane Truman, his younger sister, said from her home in Grandview' Mo.: "He has these little setbacks every once in a while. He's going to be all right."

Nonwhites Near 5th Of Federal Workers

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Civil Service Commission reports that nonwhites, who comprise 12 per cent of the nation's population, held 19.4 per cent of the nearly 2.6 million federal jobs as of last May.

The commission said the figure was an increase from the 19.2 per cent reported in the last previous survey, November of 1969. The commission classifies Negroes, Spanish-surnamed, oriental and American Indians as nonwhite.

Dominican Season To Open

The spring concert season at Dominican College of San Rafael will open Tuesday with the University of Nevada Concert Jazz Band performing in Angelico Hall at 11 a.m.

The 22-member band is one of six bands on the Reno campus under the direction of Dr. John Carrico. The group on tour will be conducted by Eugene Isaeff, trombonist for six years with the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra and a former member of the faculty of the University of Minnesota.

Included in the program will be blues, some rock and solo improvisations on special compositions and arrangements provided for the concert jazz band by prominent composers and band leaders such as Louis Bellson, Stan Kenton, Raoul Romero and Rick Davis.

Experts, CIA: Real Khrushchev

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The State Department says a group of experts on the Soviet Union has studied the published memoirs of former Soviet premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and determined the writings are essentially authentic.

The experts included Llewellyn E. Thompson and George F. Kennan, both former ambassadors to Moscow, plus other authorities and representatives of the Central Intelligence Agency. The memoirs were published last month by Little, Brown & Co. of Boston after excerpts appeared in Life Magazine.

FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

Tryouts Are Set For Thurber Play

Tryouts for the San Geronimo Valley Player's production of "Thurber Carnival" will be tomorrow and Monday, according to Barbara Scott of the theatrical group.

Auditions will begin at 7:30 p.m. each night at the San Geronimo Valley Art Center on the Lagunitas School grounds, she said.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies now being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and the Parent's Magazine unless otherwise noted. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY

"Out-Of-Towners" — Refreshingly funny spoof on the big city life is glimpsed through hilarious misadventures of a small city businessman who takes his wife with him for his final job interview in New York City.

"Twelve Chairs" — Slapstick historical comedy about family jewels that were hidden in a chair before the revolution in Russia. Motivated by pure greed the frantic search provides a delightfully entertaining treat. Don't miss it.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Fools" — Two lonely people, one married, chance to meet and fall in love while exploring San Francisco. An interesting background and script make this romantic film entertaining. Some sex scenes well handled.

"Patton" — Excellent characterization by George C. Scott who portrays an indomitable spirit that could achieve its destiny only in wartime. A strong film makes use of violence and frequent profanity.

"Private Life of Sherlock Holmes" — Hitherto "suppressed" story about another side of famous sleuth's character. It questions his sexuality as well as the cocaine binges he goes on when bored or distressed, plus mystery tale involving top secret government project.

"Take The Money and Run" — Woody Allen's fans will love this hilarious farce that pokes fun at a little sad sack and the foibles of the world around him as he tries to climb the crooked ladder to dishonest success.

"You Only Live Twice" — In Japan James Bond does a workmanlike job of probing volcanic craters to discover launching pad of a missile that is swallowing up U.S. and Russian Space ships. Usual quota of girls, gunfights and gadgets.

BORDERLINE

(Most sources say Adults Only)

"I Love My Wife" — Satirical comedy about sexual activities of young marrieds. Very well defined characterizations. Not a profound film but pleasantly entertaining. (Motion Picture Herald)

"Little Fauss and Big Halsy" — Contemporary motorcycle drama about two men who compete both off and on the track. Fast pace covers shallow content. Lots of nude girls, a Johnny Cash soundtrack and a predictable ending.

"Lovers and Other Strangers" — Amusing and touching story about what happens to friends and family of two young people who decide to marry. Some nudity.

"Thunderball" — This time James Bond is underwater in the Bahamas trying to locate a NATO training plane and two atomic bombs. Sex is casual and salacious. Unpalatable cruelty is passed off as "spoof." Many amazing gadgets and much violence.

ADULTS ONLY

"Black Angels" — Two rival motorcycle gangs massacre each other when it is revealed that one of the "white" gang is really black. Police watch the blood bath from a hilltop. (Boxoffice Magazine).

"Diary of a Mad Housewife" — Acidly funny look at the disintegration of a modern marriage in New York. Good comedy with sex and dialogue that is very frank.

"Five Easy Pieces" — Free-form portrait of an exile from a highbrow musical family who cops out of a routine lower middle class existence. Explicit sex and frank dialogue.

"Joe" — Chilling but excellent tragi-comedy about our troubled society. Two men form an unlikely alliance founded on their envy and hatred of today's youth. Language and sex scenes are shockingly bold and violence of the ending will haunt the viewer.

Diarrhea Babies Are Released

All four babies which contracted a mysterious viral diarrhea this week at Marin General Hospital have been released, a hospital spokesman said yesterday.

Ray K. Bolinger, hospital administrator, said no new case has been reported but precautionary measures established several weeks ago at the hospital will continue.

Concerts Planned In Mill Valley

Two Bach-to-Mozart concerts will be performed Sunday at Brown's Hall in Mill Valley.

At 2:30 p.m. children of school age will hear a program of baroque and other music. Raymond Duste will explain part singing in chorale, march rhythms and melodies and dances in three-quarter time, and some of the Bach-to-Mozart group will demonstrate with music by Mozart, Bach, Handel, Beethoven, Tchaikovsky, Mendelssohn and Bartok.

Children who took part in the coloring contest at the first junior concert this season are to bring their art work to be judged for prizes, marking each piece with name and age.

The adult candlelight concert at 8 p.m. will feature music by some little-known composers, such as the cantata "Veni Consolator" of Damian Stachovicz, who composed in Poland around 1699, and the Concerto for Piccolo Clarinet of Joachim Melchior Molter, who composed in Manheim, Germany, around 1757.

Frealon Bibbins, San Francisco Symphony clarinetist, has composed a suite of four songs for soprano Gwen Curatilo, with clarinet, which will be premiered at this concert.

Other numbers on the program are a suite from Handel's "The Water Music"; Haydn's Quartet No. 28, Opus 74, No. 1, and the Cantata No. 202 (Wedding) of J. S. Bach.

Musicians performing will be Gwen Curatilo, Soprano; Raymond Duste, oboe; Edward Haug, trumpet; Frealon Bibbins, clarinet; George Nagata and Donna Salarpi, violins; Asbjorn Finess, viola, and Teressa Adams, cello.

Youth Orchestra To Perform On Sunday

The first concert of its season will be presented by the Marin Youth Orchestra Sunday at 3 p.m. at the San Rafael High School auditorium with two Marin high school sophomores, violinist Carol Tomlinson of Terra Linda and cellist Jed Barahal of San Rafael, as soloists.

The orchestra, composed of some 78 outstanding musicians from music departments of all public and private schools in the county, will perform: "La Grande Paque Russe" (Russian Easter) by Rimsky-Korsakov; Tchaikovsky's Variations on a Roccoco Theme, with Barahal as soloist; the Mendelssohn Violin Concerto first movement featuring Carol Tomlinson; and Beethoven's Symphony No. 7

Carol has won Marin Music Chest scholarships, a Pepsi-Cola Young Musicians contest and soloed in a youth concert of the San Francisco Symphony.

Jed the outstanding scholar at San Rafael High School, maintained a straight A record and work load that places him so far ahead that he can take the next year off to accompany his family to Europe next fall. He hopes to devote full time to studying at the Music Academy in Vienna.

Truman Wants To leave Hospital: Little Pain

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)— Former President Harry S Truman still is experiencing some mild pains, but has told his doctors he wants to go home.

Truman, 86, was hospitalized Thursday with stomach pains. Doctors say he will remain in Research Hospital for "a few days" pending the outcome of tests.

Doctors said Truman's condition is good, and his "vital signs are stable and within normal limits. It also means the patient's progress is good or excellent."

The exact nature of his illness was not diagnosed.

"The situation is not alarming," said Dr. Wallace D. Graham, Truman's personal physician since his White House days. "I expect to run tests and will have more information when results are available."

John P. Dreves, a hospital spokesman, said Truman was experiencing only mild pain late Thursday. He said Truman expressed a desire to return home only a few hours after being rushed by ambulance 15 miles to the hospital from his home in Independence.

President Nixon sent Truman a telegram and wished him a speedy recovery.

"Our thoughts and prayers are joined with those of all your countrymen as Mrs. Nixon and I wish you quick recovery from your illness," the telegram said.

Truman, who was America's 33rd president from April 12, 1945—the day Franklin D. Roosevelt died—until Jan. 20, 1953, was admitted to the hospital at 9:28 a.m. EST Thursday.

He was carried on a stretcher to a private room on the third floor of the hospital. But, at the door to his room, he got off the stretcher and walked to his bed.

His wife, Bess, who will be 86 Feb. 13, at his side.

Westwood was asked if "things are looking up" shortly after Truman was admitted.

"Things were never looking down," Westwood replied.

Truman's hospitalization was his sixth since Gen. Dwight D.. Eisenhower succeeded him as president in 1953. His last illness two years ago stemmed from a stomach disorder.

Mary Jane Truman, his younger sister, said from her home in Grandview' Mo.: "He has these little setbacks every once in a while. He's going to be all right."

Nonwhites Near 5th Of Federal Workers

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Civil Service Commission reports that nonwhites, who comprise 12 per cent of the nation's population, held 19.4 per cent of the nearly 2.6 million federal jobs as of last May.

The commission said the figure was an increase from the 19.2 per cent reported in the last previous survey, November of 1969. The commission classifies Negroes, Spanish-surnamed, oriental and American Indians as nonwhite.

Dominican Season To Open

The spring concert season at Dominican College of San Rafael will open Tuesday with the University of Nevada Concert Jazz Band performing in Angelico Hall at 11 a.m.

The 22-member band is one of six bands on the Reno campus under the direction of Dr. John Carrico. The group on tour will be conducted by Eugene Isaeff, trombonist for six years with the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra and a former member of the faculty of the University of Minnesota.

Included in the program will be blues, some rock and solo improvisations on special compositions and arrangements provided for the concert jazz band by prominent composers and band leaders such as Louis Bellson, Stan Kenton, Raoul Romero and Rick Davis.

Experts, CIA: Real Khrushchev

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The State Department says a group of experts on the Soviet Union has studied the published memoirs of former Soviet premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and determined the writings are essentially authentic.

The experts included Llewellyn E. Thompson and George F. Kennan, both former ambassadors to Moscow, plus other authorities and representatives of the Central Intelligence Agency. The memoirs were published last month by Little, Brown & Co. of Boston after excerpts appeared in Life Magazine.

FAMILY

"Out-Of-Towners" — Refreshingly funny spoof on the big city life is glimpsed through hilarious misadventures of a small city businessman who takes his wife with him for his final job interview in New York City.

"Twelve Chairs" — Slapstick historical comedy about family jewels that were hidden in a chair before the revolution in Russia. Motivated by pure greed the frantic search provides a delightfully entertaining treat. Don't miss it.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Fools" — Two lonely people, one married, chance to meet and fall in love while exploring San Francisco. An interesting background and script make this romantic film entertaining. Some sex scenes well handled.

"Patton" — Excellent characterization by George C. Scott who portrays an indomitable spirit that could achieve its destiny only in wartime. A strong film makes use of violence and frequent profanity.

"Private Life of Sherlock Holmes" — Hitherto "suppressed" story about another side of famous sleuth's character. It questions his sexuality as well as the cocaine binges he goes on when bored or distressed, plus mystery tale involing top secret government project.

"Take The Money and Run" — Woody Allen's fans will love this hilarious farce that pokes fun at a little sad sack and the foibles of the world around him as he tries to climb the crooked ladder to dishonest success.

"You Only Live Twice" — In Japan James Bond does a workmanlike job of probing volcanic craters to discover launching pad of a missile that is swallowing up U.S. and Russian Space ships. Usual quota of girls, gunfights and gadgets.

BORDERLINE

(Most sources say Adults Only)

"I Love My Wife" — Satirical comedy about sexual activities of young marrieds. Very well defined characterizations. Not a profound film but pleasantly entertaining. (Motion Picture Herald)

"Little Fauss and Big Halsy" — Contemporary motorcycle drama about two men who compete both off and on the track. Fast pace covers shallow content. Lots of nude girls, a Johnny Cash soundtrack and a predictable ending.

"Lovers and Other Strangers" — Amusing and touching story about what happens to friends and family of two young people who decide to marry. Some nudity.

"Thunderball" — This time James Bond is underwater in the Bahamas trying to locate a NATO training plane and two atomic bombs. Sex is casual and salacious. Unpalatable cruelty is passed off as "spoof." Many amazing gadgets and much violence.

ADULTS ONLY

"Black Angels" — Two rival motorcycle gangs massacre each other when it is revealed that one of the "white" gang is really black. Police watch the blood bath from a hilltop. (Box-office Magazine).

"Diary of a Mad Housewife" — Acidly funny look at the disintegration of a modern marriage in New York. Good comedy with sex and dialogue that is very frank.

"Five Easy Pieces" — Free-form portrait of an exile from a highbrow musical family who cops out of a routine lower middle class existence. Explicit sex and frank dialogue.

"Joe" — Chilling but excellent tragi-comedy about our troubled society. Two men form an unlikely alliance founded on their envy and hatred of today's youth. Language and sex scenes are shockingly bold and violence of the ending will haunt the viewer.

Diarrhea Babies Are Released

All four babies which contracted a mysterious viral diarrhea this week at Marin General Hospital have been released, a hospital spokesman said yesterday.

Ray K. Bolinger, hospital administrator, said no new case has been reported but precautionary measures established several weeks ago at the hospital will continue.

Tanker Terminal Asked Outside Bay

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Removal of oil tanker operations from San Francisco Bay to a terminal outside the Golden Gate was proposed yesterday by the Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

Dr. William F. Upton of San Rafael made the proposal, noting he had pushed five years ago for the same proposal. Monday's tanker collision that spilled 800,000 gallons of oil in the bay was inevitable, he said.

"What's a disaster in the ocean is a catastrophe in the bay," Dr. Upton declared.

Dr. Upton said it was fortunate that the spill came at a time of the year when there was a heavy flow of fresh water from the delta to help flush the bay of the oil.

An offshore ocean terminal, he said, would be far less costly to the oil companies than the cost of cleaning up from such a spill.

Dr. Upton wrly read from the BCDC plan for the bay, drawn in 1968, which said that such a spill was "unlikely" for several reasons, including "constantly improving navigation aids."

The BCDC plan envisioned a supertanker terminal in the central bay, but Dr. Upton suggested that the idea be discarded in favor of an ocean terminal.

The commision's staff will draft changes to the bay plan and set them for a public hearing.

Innocent Plea In Car Chase

Kathryn Ann Ours, 27, of San Francisco, has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to misdemeanor charges of reckless driving and failure to heed a red light and siren.

A jury trial was set for March 1.

She was arrested Jan. 1 after a high-speed chase which began in Kentfield and ended when she rammed two Marin County sheriff's cars with her auto on Waldo Grade.

Marin City Youngsters Will Have Reading, Math Chances

Marin City youngsters having trouble with reading or mathematics will receive special help in both subjects in Saturday classes which begin tomorrow at 10 a.m. in the Manzanita Center, Marin City.

Mrs. Royce McLemore said the Marin City Learning Center has been organized by concerned parents of Marin City, a group which has in past months criticized the quality of education in the Sausalito School District.

About 125 children have signed up for the three-hour classes which will be held each Saturday "for as long as there is a need."

Mrs. McLemore said six credentialed teachers and about 30 volunteers, many of them with teaching experience, have agreed to instruct the children.

"We want to compensate for what the children are missing in the Sausalito School District," Mrs. McLemore said. "Black children in the district are the ones who have the most difficulty with reading and math. We think we can help correct that situation."

The reading classes will stress phonetics (sound of words) and utilize many of the same texts the district uses. Math classes will start out "with basic fundamentals," according to Mrs. McLemore, including addition, subtraction, division, multiplication, decimals, fractions and the new math.

The school, which has almost no funds for operation, is sorely in need of about $500 in contributions for materials, she said. Persons who wish to contribute can send donations to the Marin City Learning Center, 975 Drake Avenue, Marin City.

Final Bike Path Link Wins Approval

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The final link in Southern Marin's bicycle path won final and unanimous approval yesterday from the Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

The county's application was for a permit to fill 2,700 square feet of Richardson Bay for a path 450 feet long and six feet wide, the final link between the Richardson Bay Bridge and Sausalito.

Pierre Joske, county director of parks and recreation, said yesterday's action culminated a four-year effort involving the county, Army, Golden Gate Bridge District, Northwestern Pacific Railroad, Marin Municipal Water District, San Francisco, Sausalito, Mill Valley and the state.

The state is expected to grant $30,000 to pay for the project.

It was endorsed yesterday by the Marin Conservation League and Marin Cyclists Club. There was no opposition.

Fears by the BCDC staff that the railroad could revoke its lease with the county for the right-of-way were met by county assurances that the county would resume condemnation proceedings against the railroad if the $1,000-a-year lease were canceled.

The BCDC fill permit stipulated that the county must remove the fill if it ever is used for any other purpose.

The county's lease from the railroad is renewable on a year-to-year basis after the first three years.

No Closed Talks On Pay Scales

San Rafael City Council will not attempt to meet behind closed doors to discuss salaries for elected city department heads.

The council last Monday night decided to take up the pay of city attorney, clerk and treasurer at a closed session, provided the city attorney held it to be legal.

However, City Atty. Frederick C. Robbins Jr. has advised that such a session would be contrary to the Ralph M. Brown Act, so it will not be held, City Mgr. James H. McCown said today.

Salaries for the three elected officials for their next four-year terms must be set prior to the April 20 city election. This requires enactment of a salary ordinance, involving two reading, before that date.

McCown said he is working on a salary proposal which he hopes to have ready for submission to the council at its next meeting, Feb. 1.

In the past, the police chief's salary also had to be set by ordinance prior to election, but that position becomes appointive at the end of the current term, under a charter change voted by the electorate in 1969. The council therefore can set the police chief's pay annually.

Petaluma Burglary

Cash and checks totaling $412 were stolen yesterday from the Lane Medical Building, 9 West El Rose Drive, Petaluma.

Plans to Ease Two Fill Restrictions Attacked

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Proposals to ease two restrictions on bay filling yesterday were criticized sharply before the Bay Conservation and Development Commission by the legislator who wrote the law under which the commission operates.

Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, branded the proposed changes as "extremely dangerous" and "not advisable at this time."

The first change would allow filling for water-oriented commercial-recreation when an amount of existing fill equivalent to the new fill is removed from the bay.

The second change also would extend to publicly owned land the right, now limited to private holdings, of filling for water-oriented commercial-recreation where the property is "substantially on existing land."

The changes were suggested by the BCDC staff after the commissioners last month rejected a permit for the Ferry Port Plaza project north of the ferry building. It included an office building and hotel, and the attorney general ruled that such projects were not water-oriented.

As for San Francisco's threat to seek legislation to allow such projects, Knox predicted that the city's move would be defeated in Sacramento.

Teen-Ager Recovers From Broken Back

A San Rafael teen-ager was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital with a spinal fracture suffered in a fall from a second-story porch Jan. 15.

San Rafael police said Adrienne Josephine Arago, 19, of 1563 Lincoln Avenue, was leaving her residence when she tumbled over a railing.

Behr To Bay Panel

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, yesterday was named as the Senate's representative on the Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

Behr previously served on the commission as a representative of the now defunct Bay Area Transportation Study Commission. He was a leader of the citizens' campaign that successfully backed legislation in 1969 making the BCDC a permanent agency.

Behr's appointment by the Senate Rules Committee filled a BCDC vacancy left by the retirement of Behr's predecessor, John F. McCarthy of Belvedere.

Behr was endorsed unanimously for the appointment in a caucus of Bay Area senators.

Arraignment On Burglary

David Mathew Sliney, 18, of San Rafael, was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on a charge of burglary.

He will plead to the charge next Thursday.

Sliney was arrested Monday after having been identified as the man who allegedly was in a home at 832 Tamarack Drive, San Rafael, when the owner returned home Sunday evening.

BOB, THE COPY CAT

A frequent visitor to the Independent-Journal's Mill Valley office, Bob looks up from his accustomed position in a desk-top copy basket. The first office employee to arrive each morning usually finds Bob waiting to be let in, and the cat often stays the whole day. A sign announcing "The Cat Is In" has been prepared for the times when Bob is cat-napping in his basket.

Tanker Terminal Asked Outside Bay

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Removal of oil tanker operations from San Francisco Bay to a terminal outside the Golden Gate was proposed yesterday by the Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

Dr. William F. Upton of San Rafael made the proposal, noting he had pushed five years ago for the same proposal. Monday's tanker collision that spilled 800,000 gallons of oil in the bay was inevitable, he said.

"What's a disaster in the ocean is a catastrophe in the bay," Dr. Upton declared.

Dr. Upton said it was fortunate that the spill came at a time of the year when there was a heavy flow of fresh water from the delta to help flush the bay of the oil.

An offshore ocean terminal, he said, would be far less costly to the oil companies than the cost of cleaning up from such a spill.

Dr. Upton wrly read from the BCDC plan for the bay, drawn in 1968, which said that such a spill was "unlikely" for several reasons, including "constantly improving navigation aids."

The BCDC plan envisioned a supertanker terminal in the central bay, but Dr. Upton suggested that the idea be discarded in favor of an ocean terminal.

The commision's staff will draft changes to the bay plan and set them for a public hearing.

Marin City Youngsters Will Have Reading, Math Chances

Marin City youngsters having trouble with reading or mathematics will receive special help in both subjects in Saturday classes which begin tomorrow at 10 a.m. in the Manzanita Center, Marin City.

Mrs. Royce McLemore said the Marin City Learning Center has been organized by concerned parents of Marin City, a group which has in past months criticized the quality of education in the Sausalito School District.

About 125 children have signed up for the three-hour classes which will be held each Saturday "for as long as there is a need."

Mrs. McLemore said six credentialed teachers and about 30 volunteers, many of them with teaching experience, have agreed to instruct the children.

"We want to compensate for what the children are missing in the Sausalito School District," Mrs. McLemore said. "Black children in the district are the ones who have the most difficulty with reading and math. We think we can help correct that situation."

The reading classes will stress phonetics (sound of words) and utilize many of the same texts the district uses. Math classes will start out "with basic fundamentals," according to Mrs. McLemore, including addition, subtraction, division, multiplication, decimals, fractions and the new math.

The school, which has almost no funds for operation, is sorely in need of about $500 in contributions for materials, she said. Persons who wish to contribute can send donations to the Marin City Learning Center, 975 Drake Avenue, Marin City.

Innocent Plea In Car Chase

Kathryn Ann Ours, 27, of San Francisco, has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to misdemeanor charges of reckless driving and failure to heed a red light and siren.

A jury trial was set for March 1.

She was arrested Jan. 1 after a high-speed chase which began in Kentfield and ended when she rammed two Marin County sheriff's cars with her auto on Waldo Grade.

Petaluma Burglary

Cash and checks totaling $412 were stolen yesterday from the Lane Medical Building, 9 West El Rose Drive, Petaluma.

Final Bike Path Link Wins Approval

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The final link in Southern Marin's bicycle path won final and unanimous approval yesterday from the Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

The county's application was for a permit to fill 2,700 square feet of Richardson Bay for a path 450 feet long and six feet wide, the final link between the Richardson Bay Bridge and Sausalito.

Pierre Joske, county director of parks and recreation, said yesterday's action culminated a four-year effort involving the county, Army, Golden Gate Bridge District, Northwestern Pacific Railroad, Marin Municipal Water District, San Francisco, Sausalito, Mill Valley and the state.

The state is expected to grant $30,000 to pay for the project.

It was endorsed yesterday by the Marin Conservation League and Marin Cyclists Club. There was no opposition.

Fears by the BCDC staff that the railroad could revoke its lease with the county for the right-of-way were met by county assurances that the county would resume condemnation proceedings against the railroad if the $1,000-a-year lease were canceled.

The BCDC fill permit stipulated that the county must remove the fill if it ever is used for any other purpose.

The county's lease from the railroad is renewable on a year-to-year basis after the first three years.

No Closed Talks On Pay Scales

San Rafael City Council will not attempt to meet behind closed doors to discuss salaries for elected city department heads.

The council last Monday night decided to take up the pay of city attorney, clerk and treasurer at a closed session, provided the city attorney held it to be legal.

However, City Atty. Frederick C. Robbins Jr. has advised that such a session would be contrary to the Ralph M. Brown Act, so it will not be held, City Mgr. James H. McCown said today.

Salaries for the three elected officials for their next four-year terms must be set prior to the April 20 city election. This requires enactment of a salary ordinance, involving two reading, before that date.

McCown said he is working on a salary proposal which he hopes to have ready for submission to the council at its next meeting, Feb. 1.

In the past, the police chief's salary also had to be set by ordinance prior to election, but that position becomes appointive at the end of the current term, under a charter change voted by the electorate in 1969. The council therefore can set the police chief's pay annually.

NOTICE INVITING SEALED PROPOSALS OR BIDS
LUCKY ROAD ASSESSMENT DISTRICT

Pursuant to the Municipal Improvment Act of 1913 and the resolution directing this notice adopted on January 4, 1971, by the Sanitary Board of Sanitary District No. 2 of Marin County, a Subsidiary of the Town of Corte Madera, said Board invites sealed proposals or bids for the construction of improvements in said District in accordance with the plans and specifications entitled, "Sanitary Sewers-Lucky Road Assessment District" dated December, 1970, as more particularly described in Resolution of Intention No. 28-70 adopted by said Board on October 19, 1970, as subsequently amended, which resolutions are on file in the office of the Secretary and to which reference is hereby expressly made for a more particular description of the work to be done.

All of said work is to be done at the places and in the particular locations, of the forms, sizes and dimensions and of the materials and to the lines and grades and at the elevations as shown and delineated on the plans, profiles and specifications made therefor and preliminarily approved by said Board on October 19, 1970 and revised and modified by said Board on January 4, 1971.

Payments will be made in cash by said District to the contractor in accordance with the provisions of the specifications and on itemized estimates duly certified and approved by the District Engineer, submitted in accordance therewith, based on labor and materials incorporated into said work during the preceding month by the contractor. However, notice is given that a period of 30 days is given to the property owners in which to pay their assessments, and if cash collections are insufficient to meet such monthly estimates, there will be a delay in making such payments until money is received from the sale of bonds issued upon the unpaid assessments.

Notice is hereby given that on October 19, 1970, the Board adopted a resolution determining the general prevailing rate of per diem wages to be paid to the various craftsmen and laborers required to construct said improvements, a copy of which wage scale is hereto attached and made a part hereof, and also contained in and made a part of the specifications for said work, to which reference is hereby made for further particulars.

All proposals or bids shall be accompanied by cash, cashier's or certified check payable to the order of the District Secretary, amounting to ten percent (10%) of the bid, or by a bond in said amount and payable to said District Secretary signed by the bidder and a corporate surety, or by the bidder and two sureties who shall justify before any officer competent to administer an oath, in double said amount and over and above all statutory exemptions. The amount so posted shall be forfeited to said District in case the bidder depositing the same does not, within 15 days after written notice that the contract has been awarded to him, enter into a contract with the District.

Contractor shall furnish to District a faithful performance bond and labor material bond as required in said specifications.

Said sealed proposals shall be delivered to the Secretary of said District on or before 2:00 o'clock P.M. of the 8th day of February, 1971, 300 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera, California, said time being at least fourteen days from the time of first publication and posting of this notice. Bids will be publicly opened, examined and declared on said day and hour and referred to and considered by the Sanitary Board at its meeting at 7:30 o'clock P.M. on February 16, 1971.

No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of forty-five (45) days after the date set for the bid opening.

Plans and specifications may be examined at the office of the District, 300 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera, California; at the Builder's Exchange, 850 South Van Ness Avenue, San Francisco, California; at the Builder's Exchange, 321 East 12th Street, Oakland, California; and at the Marin Builder's Exchange, 110 Belvedere Street, San Rafael, California. Plans and specifications may be obtained at the office of Brown and Caldwell, 66 Mint Street, San Francisco, California, upon deposit of $15.00 per set, $5.00 of which will be refunded if the set or sets delivered are returned in good condition within 15 days after the bid opening.

Dated: January 18, 1971

BETTY BEHEL
Secretary of Sanitary District No. 2 of Marin County, a Subsidiary of the Town of Corte Madera

Legal Notice

NOTICE INVITING SEALED PROPOSALS OR BIDS LUCKY ROAD ASSESSMENT DISTRICT

Pursuant to the Municipal Improvment Act of 1913 and the resolution directing this notice adopted on January 4, 1971, by the Sanitary Board of Sanitary District No. 2 of Marin County, a Subsidiary of the Town of Corte Madera, said Board invites sealed proposals or bids for the construction of improvements in said District in accordance with the plans and specifications entitled, "Sanitary Sewers-Lucky Road Assessment District" dated December, 1970, as more particularly described in Resolution of Intention No. 28-70 adopted by said Board on October 19, 1970, as subsequently amended, which resolutions are on file in the office of the Secretary and to which reference is hereby expressly made for a more particular description of the work to be done.

All of said work is to be done at the places and in the particular locations, of the forms, sizes and dimensions and of the materials and to the lines and grades and at the elevations as shown and delineated on the plans, profiles and specifications made therefor and preliminarily approved by said Board on October 19, 1970 and revised and modified by said Board on January 4, 1971.

Payments will be made in cash by said District to the contractor in accordance with the provisions of the specifications and on itemized estimates duly certified and approved by the District Engineer, submitted in accordance therewith, based on labor and materials incorporated into said work during the preceding month by the contractor. However, notice is given that a period of 30 days is given to the property owners in which to pay their assessments, and if cash collections are insufficient to meet such monthly estimates, there will be a delay in making such payments until money is received from the sale of bonds issued upon the unpaid assessments.

Notice is hereby given that on October 19, 1970, the Board adopted a resolution determining the general prevailing rate of per diem wages to be paid to the various craftsmen and laborers required to construct said improvements, a copy of which wage scale is hereto attached and made a part hereof, and also contained in and made a part of the specifications for said work, to which reference is hereby made for further particulars.

All proposals or bids shall be accompanied by cash, cashier's or certified check payable to the order of the District Secretary, amounting to ten percent (10%) of the bid, or by a bond in said amount and payable to said District Secretary signed by the bidder and a corporate surety, or by the bidder and two sureties who shall justify before any officer competent to administer an oath, in double said amount and over and above all statutory exemptions. The amount so posted shall be forfeited to said District in case the bidder depositing the same does not, within 15 days after written notice that the contract has been awarded to him, enter into a contract with the District.

Contractor shall furnish to District a faithful performance bond and labor material bond as required in said specifications.

Said sealed proposals shall be delivered to the Secretary of said District on or before 2:00 o'clock P.M. of the 8th day of February, 1971, 300 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera, California, said time being at least fourteen days from the time of first publication and posting of this notice. Bids will be publicly opened, examined and declared on said day and hour and referred to and considered by the Sanitary Board at its meeting at 7:30 o'clock P.M. on February 16, 1971.

No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of forty-five (45) days after the date set for the bid opening.

Plans and specifications may be examined at the office of the District, 300 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera, California; at the Builder's Exchange, 850 South Van Ness Avenue, San Francisco, California; at the Builder's Exchange, 321 East 12th Street, Oakland, California; and at the Marin Builder's Exchange, 110 Belvedere Street, San Rafael, California. Plans and specifications may be obtained at the office of Brown and Caldwell, 66 Mint Street, San Francisco, California, upon deposit of $15.00 per set, $5.00 of which will be refunded if the set or sets delivered are returned in good condition within 15 days after the bid opening.

Dated: January 18, 1971

BETTY BEHEL
Secretary of Sanitary District No. 2 of Marin County, a Subsidiary of the Town of Corte Madera

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

High Winter Death Rate Due To Acute Respiratory Illness

Northern winters are hard on people with chronic ailments, such as heart trouble and lung disease. Obituary columns get longer, and many individuals wish they had the time and money to go south. Death certificates, however, do not always tell the full story.

Statistics show that mortalities from heart attacks, arteriosclerotic and degenerative heart disease are up one-third during the height of winter. Doctors T. W. Anderson and W. H. le Riche of Ontario, Canada, who analyzed data from the far north, believe the increased mortalities stem from acute respiratory diseases and not from underlying cardiovascular causes.

ACCORDING to their studies, in most fatalities, a single underlying cause of death can be identified. For example, if a 65-year-old man with coronary trouble dies from a cold or severe attack of flu, his heart is likely to be blamed. In our country, any increase in the expected death rate during a flu epidemic usually is blamed on influenza, even though no mention is made as to what was written on the death certificate.

In other words, the cold air we inhale does not necessarily adversely affect the heart. On the other hand, people with narrowed coronary arteries develop angina (chest pain) sooner when the weather if cold. Persons with emphysema and chronic bronchitis also are bothered more in winter. Their symptoms may stem from actual body cooling, by a reflex from cooling of the skin or of inspired air.

IF THE Canadians' theory is applicable to other northern countries (including our own), we can forget the lower temperatures and concentrate on preventing respiratory infections. It includes the widely held belief that shoveling snow is more lethal than equally strenuous activity at other times of the year. The healthy man can shovel snow, but the man with cardiac disease runs the risk of heart attack.

WHITE, NUMB DIGITS

C. A. R. writes: Is there any cure for fingers and toes that turn white and become numb in cold weather?

REPLY

This sounds like Raynaud's disease. In this circulatory condition, the flow of blood to the hands and feet is reduced considerably on exposure to cold or following excitement. In this syndrome, most drugs that dilate blood vessels are powerless to overcome the spasm produced by cold. Surgery (sympathectomy) is advised when symptoms are severe. Mst of these sufferers wear warm clothing in addition to wool hose and two pair of gloves. They avoid the cold as much as possible. Tranquilizers may help when the cause is on an emotional basis.

LYMPH TISSUE CANCER

K. M. writes: What kind of cancer is lymphosarcoma?

REPLY

A malignancy involving the lymph glands, spleen, liver, and bone marrow. The commonest outward manifestation is enlargement of the glands in the neck. Diagnosis is made by removing a gland for biopsy in the laboratory. Treatment consists of surgical excision, X-ray, nitrogen mustard, or the corticosteroids. Other chemotherapeutic drugs include Mustargen, TEM, Cytoxan, vinblastine, and chlorambucil.

WANTS TO DEVELOP

N. L. writes: Is there any exercise to plump up a sunken chest?

REPLY

No. except the exercise involved in putting on falsies.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Law, Reason Fix The Blame

A person who does not act reasonably, and thereby causes injury is legally "negligent." Since the law assumes that the "reasonable man" always obeys the law, he is "negligent per se" (in itself) if his breaking the law brings about injury to someone. However, he sometimes has the right to show facts to excuse or rebut the "presumption" of negligence.

Take the notary public who notarized Hank's signature in the sale of real estate which belonged to Hank and his wife, Hannah. Hank sold their property without telling Hannah, by getting his secretary to forge the deed.

Although the real estate man often dealt with Hank, he had never met Hannah. Hank introduced his secretary to the real estate man as his wife. Together they went to the notary to sign the papers. The notary certified that they were "individuals personally known to her as the person who signed."

Learning of the forgery, Hannah sued her husband, the buyers, and the notary. Hank was clearly liable for damages, but he was now divorced and broke. The buyer still had the property and might lose it.

The notary was also liable to Hannah and the buyer, the court ruled since it refused to allow him to rebut the presumption of negligence. This was so although it may have been customary, as claimed for the notary to take the word of a responsible real estate man, since the law calls on the notary personally to know the signers. The notary didn't and had to pay.

Many negligent actions involved violation of motor vehicle laws such as failure to yield, speeding, improper parking, etc.

The court may excuse such violations only if the injured person was otherwise protected. For example, the law requires certain trucks or other heavy equipment to have warning devices when they back up. One such piece of equipment had no device, but the driver yelled out warnings when he backed up. In this case the court ruled out the presumption of negligence.

Suspect Booked On Burglary

A 25-year-old San Rafael man was arrested yesterday on suspicion of taking a fox fur bed spread and $1,500 camera equipment from a Larkspur home.

Officers said today, Herman Joseph Sanchez, also known as Joseph Rivera, of 16 Meadow Avenue, was arrested at 8:50 a.m. after Claude Delise of 178 Marina Vista spotted Sanchez fleeing the latter's home with the fur bedspread in hand. The fur is valued at $150.

Sanchez, officers said, eluded Delise after a short chase but was caught by Delise, and a neighbor when he returned to his car parked in the neighbor's driveway.

Sanchez was booked into Marin County Jail where he remained today in lieu of $3,750 bail. He was to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Theft Of Car Is Reported

A blue and white Ford Torino, parked overnight yesterday between Grove and Terrace Avenues in Ross Valley, was reported stolen, police said today.

Owner of the 1969 Ford, Harvey H. Hatling, 28, of 204 Terrace Avenue, San Rafael, told police that the car doors and ignition had been locked.

Sleepy Hollow Deadline Set

Sleepy Hollow residents who want to run for the board of directors of the proposed new community services district have until 5 p.m. Feb. 11 to file with the Marin County clerk in the Hall of Justice.

Deputy County Counsel Thomas G. Hendricks said each candidate must file a nomination petition signed by not less then five and not more then 10 registered voters in Sleepy Hollow.

The election, to be held on April 20, will name the top five vote-getters as the directors, if voters in the same election approve the formation of a Sleepy Hollow community services district by majority vote.

This sounds like Raynaud's disease. In this circulatory condition, the flow of blood to the hands and feet is reduced considerably on exposure to cold or following excitement. In this syndrome, most drugs that dilate blood vessels are powerless to overcome the spasm produced by cold. Surgery (sympathectomy) is advised when symptoms are severe. Mst of these sufferers wear warm clothing in addition to wool hose and two pair of gloves. They avoid the cold as much as possible. Tranquilizers may help when the cause is on an emotional basis.

LYMPH TISSUE CANCER

K. M. writes: What kind of cancer is lymphosarcoma?

REPLY

A malignancy involving the lymph glands, spleen, liver, and bone marrow. The commonest outward manifestation is enlargement of the glands in the neck. Diagnosis is made by removing a gland for biopsy in the laboratory. Treatment consists of surgical excision, X-ray, nitrogen mustard, or the corticosteroids. Other chemotherapeutic drugs include Mustargen, TEM, Cytoxan, vinblastine, and chlorambucil.

WANTS TO DEVELOP

N. L. writes: Is there any exercise to plump up a sunken chest?

REPLY

No. except the exercise involved in putting on falsies.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Law, Reason Fix The Blame

A person who does not act reasonably, and thereby causes injury is legally "negligent." Since the law assumes that the "reasonable man" always obeys the law, he is "negligent per se" (in itself) if his breaking the law brings about injury to someone. However, he sometimes has the right to show facts to excuse or rebut the "presumption" of negligence.

Take the notary public who notarized Hank's signature in the sale of real estate which belonged to Hank and his wife, Hannah. Hank sold their property without telling Hannah, by getting his secretary to forge the deed.

Although the real estate man often dealt with Hank, he had never met Hannah. Hank introduced his secretary to the real estate man as his wife. Together they went to the notary to sign the papers. The notary certified that they were "individuals personally known to her as the person who signed."

Learning of the forgery, Hannah sued her husband, the buyers, and the notary. Hank was clearly liable for damages, but he was now divorced and broke. The buyer still had the property and might lose it.

The notary was also liable to Hannah and the buyer, the court ruled since it refused to allow him to rebut the presumption of negligence. This was so although it may have been customary, as claimed for the notary to take the word of a responsible real estate man, since the law calls on the notary personally to know the signers. The notary didn't and had to pay.

Many negligent actions involved violation of motor vehicle laws such as failure to yield, speeding, improper parking, etc.

The court may excuse such violations only if the injured person was otherwise protected. For example, the law requires certain trucks or other heavy equipment to have warning devices when they back up. One such piece of equipment had no device, but the driver yelled out warnings when he backed up. In this case the court ruled out the presumption of negligence.

Suspect Booked On Burglary

A 25-year-old San Rafael man was arrested yesterday on suspicion of taking a fox fur bed spread and $1,500 camera equipment from a Larkspur home.

Officers said today, Herman Joseph Sanchez, also known as Joseph Rivera, of 16 Meadow Avenue, was arrested at 8:50 a.m. after Claude Delise of 178 Marina Vista spotted Sanchez fleeing the latter's home with the fur bedspread in hand. The fur is valued at $150.

Sanchez, officers said, eluded Delise after a short chase but was caught by Delise and a neighbor when he returned to his car parked in the neighbor's driveway.

Sanchez was booked into Marin County Jail where he remained today in lieu of $3,750 bail. He was to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Theft Of Car Is Reported

A blue and white Ford Torino, parked overnight yesterday between Grove and Terrace Avenues in Ross Valley, was reported stolen, police said today.

Owner of the 1969 Ford, Harvey H. Hatling, 28, of 204 Terrace Avenue, San Rafael, told police that the car doors and ignition had been locked.

Legal Notice

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

City of Larkspur, State of California

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the City of Larkspur will receive sealed bids at the office of the City Clerk, City Hall, Larkspur, California, on or before 2:00 p.m. on the 27th day of January, 1971, for the furnishing of all labor, materials, and services required for the following designated project:

REINFORCING
ALTERNATE PROPOSAL
SOLICITATION

Each bid shall be made in accordance with the plans, specifications and contract documents prepared therefor, now on file at the office of the City Clerk, where they may be examined and copies thereof obtained upon deposit of $20.00 per set, which deposit will be refunded upon return of such copies in good condition on or before forty-five (45) days after opening of bids. Bids shall be submitted upon proposal forms furnished by the City Engineer, and shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check, currency or bid bond, equal to ten percent of the aggregate amount of the bid, which amount shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into the contract, if awarded him, and will file the contract bonds required within fifteen days after notice that his bid has been accepted.

The City Council reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to waive any irregularity in any bid received.

Bidders are notified that, pursuant to law, the City Council has ascertained the general prevailing rate of wages and rates in the locality in which the work is to be performed, for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract, and the prevailing rate so determined is set forth in Exhibit A which is on file at the office of the City Clerk attached hereto and incorporated by reference herein. It shall be mandatory that all persons employed in the execution of the contract be paid not less than said specific wages and rates, and that existing labor agreements relative to overtime, holidays, and other special provisions, be recognized.

Bids received by the City Clerk will be opened and read publicly at the time, date and place above specified, and will thereafter be tabluated and submitted to the City Council for consideration.

Sleepy Hollow Deadline Set

Sleepy Hollow residents who want to run for the board of directors of the proposed new community services district have until 5 p.m. Feb. 11 to file with the Marin County clerk in the Hall of Justice.

Deputy County Counsel Thomas G. Hendricks said each candidate must file a nomination petition signed by not less then five and not more then 10 registered voters in Sleepy Hollow.

The election, to be held on April 20, will name the top five vote-getters as the directors, if voters in the same election approve the formation of a Sleepy Hollow community services district by majority vote.

Brodie, Lamonica Have Score To Settle In Pro Bowl

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The quarterbacks of the teams that didn't make it to the Super Bowl, John Brodie of the San Francisco Forty Niners and Daryl Lamonica of the Oakland Raiders, have a score to settle in Sunday's Pro Bowl.

Brodie, the 14-year veteran, has been tabbed to guide the National Football Conference all-stars against Lamonica, who will pilot the American Conference team.

It's an oddity of the game that players whose home bases are a few miles apart on opposite sides of San Francisco Bay should be picked to guide rival conference teams.

Brodie and Lamonica opposed each other just a month ago in the final regular season game. With Oakland having clinched itsdecisionin the AFC and San Francisco needing a win to gain its divisional crown, the incentive was all with the Forty Niners, who scored a 38-7 win.

The emotional factor was enough to tip the scales in favor of Brodie and his team and many felt it was not a fair evaluation of his ability against that of Lamonica.

The coincidence of teams so close to each other sending their star quarterbacks into an all-star game as rivals is carried a step further. Dick Nolan of the Forty Niners coaches the NFC team whil e John Madden of the Raiders coaches the AFC team.

Both Brodie and Lamonica are veterans of such contests. Brodie will be appearing in his third Pro Bowl while Lamonica has played in four American Football League all-star games.

Statistically, as the National Football League rates quarterbacks from both conferences, Brodie has an edge over Lamonica. The former Stanford University star was ranked No. 1 with a completion percentage of 59.0, recording 24 touchdowns with only 2.6 per cent interceptions and averaging 7.78 yards.

Lamonica ranked fourth behind Sunny Jurgensen of Washington and Frank Tarkenton of the New York Giants. The former Notre Dame passer had a 50.3 completion percentage and threw 22 touchdown passes. He averaged 7.07 yards per attempt.

A superb defense that gave Brodie more time to pass this year was largely responsible for his most successful season. Lamonica, on the other hand, suffered a series of painful injuries and he might have been excused if he had sought to beg off appearing in the Pro Bowl.

He missed most of the game against the Baltimore Colts in the divisional playoffs because of a groin injury.

"In this game you have to play with injuries," he said. "I seldom revealed mine during the season.

Although attention, especially in the Bay Area, will center on the individual duel between Brodie and Lamonica, they have versatile alternates in Frank Tarkenton for the NFC and Bob Griese for the AFC.

Coaches Enthusiastic About Jerry Piro

If you think Marin County doesn't produce excellent basketball talent — whatever gave you that idea? — give a listen to Carroll Williams, varsity basketball coach at Santa Clara University.

"I would have to say that if we could play a freshman, Jerry would help our varsity team this year."

Jerry, in this case, is Jerry Piro, the former Redwood High flash who led the Giants to the Tournament of Champions in Oakland last year.

In a chat with Coach Williams the other day, I was told: "Jerry is one of the finest young men I have ever met. He reminds me of our great guard, Kevin Eagleson, of the last three years, both with his play on the court and his maturity and good manners away from the game. He is a very intelligent player with good leadership qualities."

Equally fond of the freshman business major at Santa Clara is his freshman coach, Joe Meagher, who added: "Jerry is very tough mentally and is strong defensively; he can control the tempo of the game, which is a tremendous asset."

Piro is a 6 foot, 2 inch guard and captain of the Bronco frosh. He leads the bronco yearlings in scoring with a 15-point per game average. The Corte Madera resident has approximately a 40.5 per cent field goal average and 82 pct. from the foul line. He also leads the team in assists and steals and from the way the coaches talk I also think he sweeps out the gym, sells tickets and drives the team bus.

Piro was directly responsible for Santa Clara's 69-66 upset victory over University of Pacific at Stockton earlier this season. He scored 20 points and held Pacific's highly-touted John Errecart to just three field goals.

Gosh, it's fun to be in the Sports Department and be able to write such fine things about the fine young men in this world.

BOY OF THE YEAR AND FRIEND

Thirteen-year-old Nate Coleman Jr. (left) last night was named the Marin City Boys' Club's "Boy of the Year," and former San Francisco 49er great R.C. Owens presented the trophy to him at a dinner at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley. Nate, one of seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Nate Coleman Sr., is an eighth grader at Martin Luther King School in Sausalito.

MARK FRIDAY, Feb. 5 on your calendar. That's the date for the sixth annual Marin County Hall of fame and Hot Stove League funfest at Mt. Carmel Auditorium in Mill Valley.

In the past the event, sponsored by the Knights of Columbus of Southern Marin, has honored such outstanding Marin sports products as Walter Mails, Tony Freitas, Sam Chapman, Charley "Buster" Wensloff, Perry Schwartz, Joe DeMaestri, Art Schallock, Mat Palacio Jr. and Claude Capley.

This year some of our outstanding high school and college coaches will be cited. Among the nominees this year are James Langdon, formerly of Tamalpais High; George Gustafson, also Tam; Frank "Ninny" Quinn of San Anselmo; Paul A. Miller of San Rafael High School and Robert J. Troppmann of Redwood High.

More nominees for the Hall will be added and I'll try to keep you up on this worthy project which aids the "Marin Aid to Retarded Children."

Ole Miss' Vaught Era Ends

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—The final gun has sounded for the Vaught era of Ole Miss football.

After nearly a quarter-century at the helm, John Howard Vaught—acting on his doctor's advice — stepped won Thursday as head coach of the Mississippi Rebels to close one of the most successful coaching careers in modern gridiron history

Billy Kinard, an Arkansas assistant and one of Vaught's former players, was named to replace the 61-year-old Vaught, effective Feb. 1. "I'm following probably the greatest football coach, as far as I'm concerned, that ever coached," said Kinard.

University of Mississippi officials also announced that Vaught's chief assistant, Frank "Bruiser" Kinard, Billy's older brother, would succeed retiring C.M. "Tad" Smith as athletic director.

The changes followed a wave of speculation and reports throughout the state that Vaught and Smith were stepping aside and the Kinards would succeed them.

Vaught, dean of Southeastern Conference football coaches, has built one of the nation's most respected football machines since coming to Ole Miss in 1946 as line coach. He was promoted to the head coaching job the following season.

At the time of his retirement, he had a winning record of 185-58-12 that was second only to Nebraska's Bob Devaney among active coaches. During Vaught's 24 years as head coach, only Oklahoma posted a better won-lost mark.

Dr. Porter Fortune, Ole Miss chancellor, said Vaught would remain at Ole Miss as "head coach emeritus" and assistant athletic director. "As his health improves, he will be able to work with our athletic program, especially in a public relations way," said Fortune.

Redwood, Tam Get Tuneups For Big One

The undefeated Redwood Giants and the once defeated Tamalpais Indians take on the Marin County Athletic League's two weakest teams as tuneups for their crucial meeting next Tuesday, but the other two games tonight should be dog-eat-dog affairs.

Tam, which Tuesday was knocked out of first place by Terra Linda, faces winless San Rafael at San Rafael, while Redwood hosts Drake in Larkspur. Barring any major upsets, both these affairs should be cakewalks.

San Marin is at Terra Linda, and Novato hosts Marin Catholic in the remaining games. The former will be a struggle between a high scoring offense (San Marin), and one of the top defenses in the league. The Trojans probably will be flying high after the Tam upset, and before a home crowd they will have the edge. A loss would all but eliminate the Mustangs from the league race.

Marin Catholic, which took San Marin Tuesday, will be favored to stop Novato, but not necessarily Joe DeMaestri. The league's top shooter has been shut off only once, by San Marin. The Wildcats of Kentfield seem to be settling down after losing to Tam and Redwood on successive nights last week.

All varsity games start at approximately 8 o'clock, following 6:45 p.m. junior varsity games.

In Bobsled Race Italians Favored

CERVINIA, Italy (UPI)—The Italians were installed as favorites Friday to win the 1971 world two-man bobsled championship, already overshadowed by death and danger for the 21 competing teams.

The Spanish team withdrew after its captain, 28-year-old Luis Lopez, was killed Thursday in a training run. Another member of the team was seriously injured.

Also out of action is the reigning world and European championship duo of Horst Floth and Pepi Bader. The two West Germans were injured in an earlier smashup.

Flags flew at half-mast in honor of Lopez, the second man to die on European bob courses this season and the second man to die in Cervinia in 12 months.

But officials said the competition would begin as scheduled Saturday.

Golfers Rip Away At Phoenix Course

Par Just Not Good Enough

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) —The guillotine falls today at the halfway mark in the 72-hole $125,000 Phoenix Open and it may fall on the necks of some guys who are under par.

This tournament, third PGA event of the year, got started with the proverbial bang Thursday. The big noise was par breaking all over the place.

Bob Lunn, Fred Marti and Don Massengale emerged from the pack with rounds of 64 and tied for first. They were seven under at the Arizona Country Club where par is 35-36—71.

Weather for the first day was just about ideal. There was little wind and temperatures were in the high 70s.

Out of the starting field of 144, 98 were under par. That may be an all-time record although official statistics are not kept in this department.

It may take a 36-hole score of 139, three under, to stay in contention for the last two rounds.

Last year the lowest cut was at 140, par for the course at the Memphis Classic.

The 64 shot by Mssrs. Lunn, Marti and Massengale was the lowest round of this year on the pro tour. Best previous was a 66 in the Glen Campbell Los Angeles Open and the Crosby Clambake.

Lunn, 25, is a genial Sacramento, Calif., husky who had over $100,000 in earnings last year and started this year by beating Billy Casper in aiplay-off at L.A. Marti and Massengale both Texans in their 30s, have been around quite a while but last year were 81 and 82 on the PGA money list, winning around $26,000.

Gene Littler who has won this tournament three times and set a 72-hole record of 263, 21 under par, in 1969, shot 66.

Littler's 18-hole course record of 62 may fall if the good weather holds—as predicted.

Arnold Palmer shot a first round 68 and said, "I felt like I was one over."

Deadpan Frank Beard told a questioner he shot par—66.

Dave Hill said some of the holes were "unbelievably easy... we were using the ladies' tees."

Seals Host Maple Leafs

OAKLAND (UPI) —It's just the California Golden Seals' luck that they catch the hottest team in the National Hockey League for their next opponent.

Coming into the Oakland Arena tonight will be the Toronto Maple Leafs, who have won 15 and tied two in the last 20 games. The sizzling pace has carried the Leafs from sixth place in the Eastern Division to fourth.

It was only a few weeks ago that the Leafs and expansion Vancouver Canucks were entangled in a survival battle for the last playoff spot. But since the spree, Toronto has pulled ahead by 13 points.

The Seals, plagued by injuries that have trimmed the roster to under the player limit, will welcome back defenseman Wayne Muloin, left wing Gary Croteau and center Mike Laughton for the Toronto encounter. The latter, however, is expected to see only a limited amount of duty.

California, last in the Western Division, has a 13-29-3 record and trails sixth-place Los Angeles by five points.

ASHE LATEST VICTIM

Laver Extends His Win Streak

NEW YORK (UPI) —Australian Rod Laver has extended his mastery over Virginian Arthur Ashe to six straight matches, but the American ace may get a chance for revenge next week because of the "retirement" of his old mentor, ½-year-old Pancho Gonzalez.

Laver subdued Ashe, 7-5, 6-4, 7-5, to win his fifth consecutive $10,000 match in the $210,000 Tennis Champions Classic at Madison Square Garden Thursday night. That boosted the 32-year-old Aussie's lifetime record against Ashe to 6-0, but Ashe could get another crack at the red-haired left-hander next Thursday night at the Garden since the scheduled challenger, Gonzalez, has asked from his Los Angeles home to be released from the tournament.

Mike Davies — executive director of World Championship Tennis, which has Pancho and 31 other pros under contract — said here last night that Gonzalez "has requested to be withdrawn from all major tennis competition during 1971." Davies cited "lack of competitive condition and business pressures" as reasons for the withdrawal request.

Gonzalez, who retired for nearly a year in 1965-66 and announced his intention to do so again late in 1969, was scheduled to enter the six-city, head-to-head Classic tour next Thursday, playing the winner of a $10,000 match Saturday in Detroit between Laver and Dutchman Tom Okker.

Now the winner's opponent will be determined by a Detroit "qualifying match" pairing Ashe against Aussie Ken Rosewall.

Rosewall was a straight sets loser to Laver three weeks ago in the inaugural match of the 1971 Classic, a nine-man "knockout event in which the winner keeps going until beaten. Laver went on to win tough five-setters from Aussies John Newcombe in Rochester and Tony Roche in Philadelphia, then vanquished countryman Roy Emerson in straight sets in Philadelphia last weekend.

By adding Ashe to the list, "Rocket Rod" increased his Classic earnings thus far to $50,000 —nearly one quarter of the record total prize money of $201,953 which he earned last year.

Rec Basketball

In four San Rafael adult basketball games played last night, Southern Marin Towing beat the Kennel Extraordinaire, 44-31, Dornbach Painting knocked off Cal's Steakhouse, 57-41, The Centaurs beat Pinky's 55-37 and the Harding Gophers edged the Don Rumpf Golf Shop, 43-31.

Brodie, Lamonica Have Score To Settle In Pro Bowl

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The quarterbacks of the teams that didn't make it to the Super Bowl, John Brodie of the San Francisco Forty Niners and Daryl Lamonica of the Oakland Raiders, have a score to settle in Sunday's Pro Bowl.

Brodie, the 14-year veteran, has been tabbed to guide the National Football Conference all-stars against Lamonica, who will pilot the American Conference team.

It's an oddity of the game that players whose home bases are a few miles apart on opposite sides of San Francisco Bay should be picked to guide rival conference teams.

Brodie and Lamonica opposed each other just a month ago in the final regular season game. With Oakland having clinched itsdecisionin the AFC and San Francisco needing a win to gain its divisional crown, the incentive was all with the Forty Niners, who scored a 38-7 win.

The emotional factor was enough to tip the scales in favor of Brodie and his team and many felt it was not a fair evaluation of his ability against that of Lamonica.

The coincidence of teams so close to each other sending their star quarterbacks into an all-star game as rivals is carried a step further. Dick Nolan of the Forty Niners coaches the NFC team whil e John Madden of the Raiders coaches the AFC team.

Both Brodie and Lamonica are veterans of such contests. Brodie will be appearing in his third Pro Bowl while Lamonica has played in four American Football League all-star games.

Statistically, as the National Football League rates quarterbacks from both conferences, Brodie has an edge over Lamonica. The former Stanford University star was ranked No. 1 with a completion percentage of 59.0, recording 24 touchdowns with only 2.6 per cent interceptions and averaging 7.78 yards.

Lamonica ranked fourth behind Sunny Jurgensen of Washington and Frank Tarkenton of the New York Giants. The former Notre Dame passer had a 50.3 completion percentage and threw 22 touchdown passes. He averaged 7.07 yards per attempt.

A superb defense that gave Brodie more time to pass this year was largely responsible for his most successful season. Lamonica, on the other hand, suffered a series of painful injuries and he might have been excused if he had sought to beg off appearing in the Pro Bowl.

He missed most of the game against the Baltimore Colts in the divisional playoffs because of a groin injury.

"In this game you have to play with injuries," he said. "I seldom revealed mine during the season.

Although attention, especially in the Bay Area, will center on the individual duel between Brodie and Lamonica, they have versatile alternates in Frank Tarkenton for the NFC and Bob Griese for the AFC.

Coaches Enthusiastic About Jerry Piro

If you think Marin County doesn't produce excellent basketball talent — whatever gave you that idea? — give a listen to Carroll Williams, varsity basketball coach at Santa Clara University.

"I would have to say that if we could play a freshman, Jerry would help our varsity team this year."

Jerry, in this case, is Jerry Piro, the former Redwood High flash who led the Giants to the Tournament of Champions in Oakland last year.

In a chat with Coach Williams the other day, I was told: "Jerry is one of the finest young men I have ever met. He reminds me of our great guard, Kevin Eagleson, of the last three years, both with his play on the court and his maturity and good manners away from the game. He is a very intelligent player with good leadership qualities."

Equally fond of the freshman business major at Santa Clara is his freshman coach, Joe Meagher, who added: "Jerry is very tough mentally and is strong defensively; he can control the tempo of the game, which is a tremendous asset."

Piro is a 6 foot, 2 inch guard and captain of the Bronco frosh. He leads the bronco yearlings in scoring with a 15-point per game average. The Corte Madera resident has approximately a 40.5 per cent field goal average and 82 pct. from the foul line. He also leads the team in assists and steals and from the way the coaches talk I also think he sweeps out the gym, sells tickets and drives the team bus.

Piro was directly responsible for Santa Clara's 69-66 upset victory over University of Pacific at Stockton earlier this season. He scored 20 points and held Pacific's highly-touted John Errecart to just three field goals.

Gosh, it's fun to be in the Sports Department and be able to write such fine things about the fine young men in this world.

MARK FRIDAY, Feb. 5 on your calendar. That's the date for the sixth annual Marin County Hall of fame and Hot Stove League funfest at Mt. Carmel Auditorium in Mill Valley.

In the past the event, sponsored by the Knights of Columbus of Southern Marin, has honored such outstanding Marin sports products as Walter Mails, Tony Freitas, Sam Chapman, Charley ''Buster'' Wensloff, Perry Schwartz, Joe DeMaestri, Art Schallock, Mat Palacio Jr. and Claude Capley.

This year some of our outstanding high school and college coaches will be cited. Among the nominees this year are James Langdon, formerly of Tamalpais High; George Gustafson, also Tam; Frank "Ninny" Quinn of San Anselmo; Paul A. Miller of San Rafael High School and Robert J. Troppmann of Redwood High.

It's Now An Easy Job For 49er Ticket Man

A midweek telephone call to Pete Giannini disclosed that the ticket manager of the 49ers had taken the rest of the week off. Lou Spadia explained that Giannini wasn't playing hookey. "He's earned the time off," said the president of the 49ers.

SPADIA WAS in an expansive mood. It was understandable. Giannini had just given the football club president a report on 49er season ticket sales for 1971. They had topped 36,000, up 15,000 from the 21,000 regulars who have been on Giannini's season list for a number of years.

All of the 1971 tickets bore Candlestick Park imprints, something Giannini has been dreaming of ever since Candlestick was opened in 1960. When the 49ers move into Candlestick next fall, Giannini is confident he won't have a ticket to sell. In fact, he may be sold out on a season basis before the 49ers go to summer camp this year since Candlestick capacity, even with installation of new stands, will be under 50,000, perhaps just a smidge above 45,000.

IF THE 49ers continue playing football as they did during their Silver Anniversary year of 1970, Giannini's job should be a pushover even when Candlestick's seating capacity is increased to 60,000 in the next three years.

Giannini's job was anything but a pushover these past years. He didn't mind the unenviable task of explaining to loyal 49er fans why there weren't enough between-the-goal-line seats to satisfy all of them. He would just show them a seating chart of Kezar Stadium which had only 15,000 good seats between goal lines.

WHAT GIANNINI did not get upset about was the way football fans annually turned his ticket office into a complaint department — about parking or more accuratly lack of parking around Kezar.

Still, Giannini never blew hit top. "It will be different when we get into Candlestick," he would say. "There's an adequate parking lot there."

GIANNINI EVEN would patiently explain how there once were vacant lots reasonably close to Kezar for adequate parking. "Now there are apartment houses on those lots," he would point out.

To his friends, Giannini would say: "Selling tickets is one thing. That's my job. Parking isn't my problem. It's embarrassing trying to explain the parking problem to our season ticket holders. Naturally, they would like better parking accommodations."

THERE IS no doubt that parking around Kezar frayed the nerves of many football fans. They had to do considerable footwork to and from the stadium. But the dispersed nature of Kezar parking did have one plus factor — a reasonably fast getaway after the game. There was no concentration of cars in one big lot at Kezar.

IT WILL be different at Candlestick where the parking lot is capable of handling 8,200 cars. Emptying that lot in orderly fashion will take time, especially in view of the fact there are only two exit streets at present.

Maybe Giannini hasn't heard the last about parking from his 49er season ticket customers.

Lombardi Trophy — Stillwagon

HOUSTON (UPI) — Three weeks ago Jim Stillwagon never even heard of the Vince Lombardi trophy. Today the Ohio State star is recipient of the 45-pound block of granite given to the nation's top collegiate lineman.

And, of course, Stillwagon thinks the trophy is the greatest thing that has ever happened to him outside of the last regularly scheduled college game of his career.

"I was really surprised to win," Stillwagon said. "I was in Hawaii for the Hula Bowl when they notified me I was among the four finalists for the trophy.. At that time I had never heard of the trophy before."

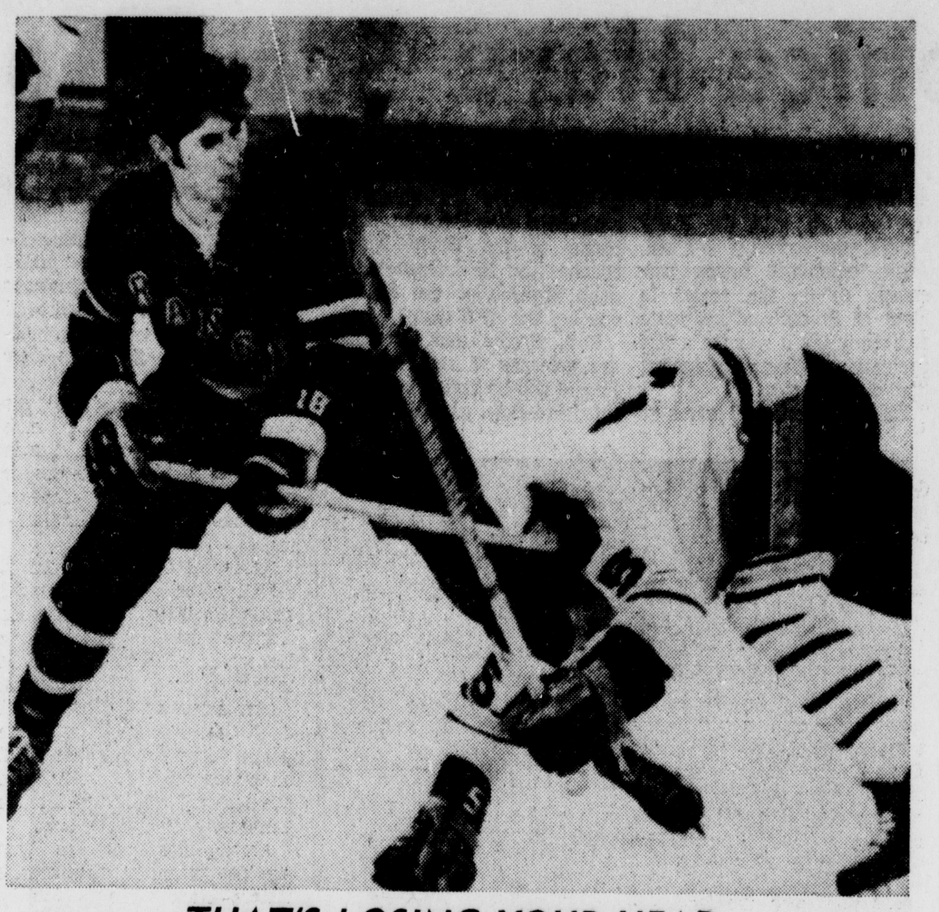
But all that is different now. "This is the greatest award because of what it stood for," Stillwagon said.

The Ohio State middle linebacker said he never met Lombardi but his coach at OSU, Woody Hayes, talked about Lombardi all the time. Stillwagon also said he learned something about the late coach by reading part of Jerry Kramer's book "Instant Replay," which deals with Lombardi and the Green Bay Packers.

Stillwagon is also the winner of the 1970 Outland Trophy

During his three-year college football career, the public recreation major played with a class that graduated with a 27-2 record. They went undefeated (9-0) in 1968 and beat an O.J. Simpson Southern Cal team in the Rose Bowl, lost only to Michigan in 1969 and finished 8-1 and then had a 9-0 regular season mark in 1970 but lost to Stanford in the latest Rose Bowl.

Stillwagon thinks the shining moment of his football days came in last season's revenge win over Michigan which gave the Buckeyes the Big 10 title and the Rose Bowl berth. Stillwagon was credited with 14 tackles in the game.



THAT'S LOSING YOUR HEAD

Wal Tkaczuk of the New York Rangers (18), used his stick to part the hair of Buffalo's Doug Barrie last night in a National Hockey League game in Buffalo. But Barrie, who was attempting a body check when Tkaczuk slammed him, escaped injury, and the infraction escaped detection by the refs. The game ended in a 5-5 tie.

Washington Gridders Deny Racism Charge

SEATTLE (UPI) —Members of the 1970 University of Washington football team have denied charges of racism by coach Jim Owens and urged that such charges be detailed.

Representatives of the squad including Indian quarterback Sonny Sixkiller unanimously rejected the charges against Owens and the athletic department at a news conference Thursday.

"We can no longer remain silent and be misrepresented in the media," said senior defensive back Bob Burmeister.

"It is to the point where our silence is being received as an advocation of the charges of racism against Coach Owens, his staff and the department of sports programs.

"Our silence, until now, has been merely to check the polarity instigated by vague statements expressed through the media. As members of the 1970 football team we emphatically refute the charges of racism against coach Owens and Dr. (Joseph) Kearney.

Kearney is director of sports programs.

"The charges of racism should be made specific so we know what we are talking about."

Herman Houston, flanker and one of four blacks who quit the team last season joined reporters in questioning the panel of eight whites and Sixkiller.

"If the white players say there isn't racism . . . and the black players say there is, where do we go from here?" he asked.

No specific charges have ever been made but a special human rights commission which investigated the charges has said it will make its report public soon.

Ray Jackson, former Washington fullback, was named to the coaching job. Donald K. Smith, former sports writer and currently a press relations supervisor with American Telephone and Telegraph in New York, will assume his post as assistant sports director in about a month.

The school's newspaper, the University of Washington Daily, earlier this week called for the dismissal of Owens in a front page editorial.

A coalition of about 40 black Seattle organizations has demanded the dismissal of Owens and Kearney.

Smith maintains communication, not firing of the two men, is what is needed.

Warriors Vs. Lakers; Top Spot At Stake

The San Francisco Warriors, winners of four straight National Basketball Association games, can move into a tie for the Western Division lead tonight when they meet the front-running Los Angeles Lakers at Inglewood.

But the Warriors, whose last win came Tuesday night against Cincinnati, may be "too rested", according to coach Al Attles, and he said yesterday "I'm afraid we'll lose our edge. We just had a rest last week (because of the All-Star game), You don't want to get too much rest."

In two previous meetings this season, the California teams have split, each winning at home. The Warriors won, 92-88, and then lost, 123-101.

Traffic Relief For Candlestick

SAN DIEGO (UPI) —The California Highway Commission Thursday approved a project to relieve traffic congestion caused by sporting events at Candlestick Park in San Francisco.

The $850,000 project included construction of southbound on-and-off ramps on the Bayshore Freeway at the San Francisco-San Mateo County line and an undercrossing linking these ramps with Harney Lane east of the freeway. San Francisco will contribute $150,000 of the cost.

Football

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Los Angeles Rams quarterback Roman Gabriel will enter St. John's Hospital in Santa Monica Feb. 3 to undergo knee surgery.

The star passer hurt his knee in a pre-season game but played for the full season. The operation on his right knee will be for removal of cartilage, a Ram spokesman said, and Gabriel will be hospitalized for three or four days.

Baseball

CLEVELAND (UPI) —Tony Horton, the Cleveland Indians first baseman who has been hospitalized since last August with an emotional illness, is expected to miss most if not all of the 1971 season.

"I don't think there's any way possible for Tony to play baseball for us in the coming season," said Indians manager Alvin Dark Thursday. "I've talked with his father recently and from all reports I get, I don't see how he can be ready this season."

Basketball

ATLANTA (UPI) — Sidney Wicks' sensational play in moving UCLA toward its fifth consecutive NCAA basketball title today earned the 6-8 forward the January "Player of the Month" designation in candidate voting for the Naismith Trophy.

The Naismith Trophy is presented annually to the nation's outstanding college basketball player at the end of the season after balloting by the nation's sports writers and broadcasters.

Tennis

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)— Top-seeded Mrs. Billie Jean King and No. 2 seed Rosemary Casals scored easy victories Thursday to advance to the quarterfinals in the Virginia Slims Women's Professional Tennis Tournament here.

Mrs. King, of Long Beach, Calif., scored a 6-1, 6-3 victory over Kerry Melville of Australia and Miss Casals, San Francisco, eliminated Esme Emanuel of South Africa 6-2, 6-2 in second-round matches of the $12,500 tourney.

Bowling

Asher, leader since the 11th annual event began Wednesday, triggered one of the 300s—the third of his career—in his second game of the day's second round.

CHICAGO (UPI) — Nelson Burton Jr. was named on 100 of 104 ballots, including 61 first place votes, to be named 1970 Bowler of the Year by the Bowling Writers' Association Friday.

UCLA Gets Stiff Test On Weekend

By United Press International

Is this year's UCLA basketball team really all that good?

The answer to whether the Bruins have the stuff to shoot for a fifth straight national title may be known by Saturday night, since the old demon schedule maker has given the Bruins their toughest test of the campaign tonight and Saturday.

The nationally top-rated and unbeaten Bruins call on Loyola of Chicago tonight and then have to play at Notre Dame Saturday afternoon in a game matching Sidney Wicks of UCLA and Austin Carr of the Irish, possibly the nation's two best college performers.

Action is scattered on the cage front tonight, since it's finals time at many schools. But Pepperdine meets Chico State and USF battles San Francisco State in two non-league tests for West Coast Athletic Conference squads.

Thursday night's heaviest encounter took place at Seattle, where the Chiefs won their biggest victory of the season in edging national powerhouse Weber State. Willie Sojourner of the Wildcats scored 25 but Seattle balance paid off, as five Chief performers hit in double figures.

It's Now An Easy Job For 49er Ticket Man

A midweek telephone call to Pete Giannini disclosed that the ticket manager of the 49ers had taken the rest of the week off. Lou Spadia explained that Giannini wasn't playing hookey. "He's earned the time off," said the president of the 49ers.

SPADIA WAS in an expansive mood. It was understandable. Giannini had just given the football club president a report on 49er season ticket sales for 1971. They had topped 36,000, up 15,000 from the 21,000 regulars who have been on Giannini's season list for a number of years.

All of the 1971 tickets bore Candlestick Park imprints, something Giannini has been dreaming of ever since Candlestick was opened in 1960. When the 49ers move into Candlestick next fall, Giannini is confident he won't have a ticket to sell. In fact, he may be sold out on a season basis before the 49ers go to summer camp this year since Candlestick capacity, even with installation of new stands, will be under 50,000, perhaps just a smidge above 45,000.

IF THE 49ers continue playing football as they did during their Silver Anniversary year of 1970, Giannini's job should be a pushover even when Candlestick's seating capacity is increased to 60,000 in the next three years.

Giannini's job was anything but a pushover these past years. He didn't mind the unenviable task of explaining to loyal 49er fans why there weren't enough between-the-goal-line seats to satisfy all of them. He would just show them a seating chart of Kezar Stadium which had only 15,000 good seats between goal lines.

WHAT GIANNINI did not get upset about was the way football fans annually turned his ticket office into a complaint department — about parking or more accurately lack of parking around Kezar.

Still, Giannini never blew hit top. "It will be different when we get into Candlestick," he would say. "There's an adequate parking lot there."

GIANNINI EVEN would patiently explain how there once were vacant lots reasonably close to Kezar for adequate parking. "Now there are apartment houses on those lots," he would point out.

To his friends, Giannini would say: "Selling tickets is one thing. That's my job. Parking isn't my problem. It's embarrassing trying to explain the parking problem to our season ticket holders. Naturally, they would like better parking accommodations."

THERE IS no doubt that parking around Kezar frayed the nerves of many football fans. They had to do considerable footwork to and from the stadium. But the dispersed nature of Kezar parking did have one plus factor — a reasonably fast getaway after the game. There was no concentration of cars in one big lot at Kezar.

IT WILL be different at Candlestick where the parking lot is capable of handling 8,200 cars. Emptying that lot in orderly fashion will take time, especially in view of the fact there are only two exit streets at present.

Maybe Giannini hasn't heard the last about parking from his 49er season ticket customers.

Lombardi Trophy — Stillwagon

HOUSTON (UPI) — Three weeks ago Jim Stillwagon never even heard of the Vince Lombardi trophy. Today the Ohio State star is recipient of the 45-pound block of granite given to the nation's top collegiate lineman.

And, of course, Stillwagon thinks the trophy is the greatest thing that has ever happened to him outside of the last regularly scheduled college game of his career.

"I was really surprised to win," Stillwagon said. "I was in Hawaii for the Hula Bowl when they notified me I was among the four finalists for the trophy. At that time I had never heard of the trophy before."

But all that is different now.

"This is the greatest award because of what it stood for," Stillwagon said.

The Ohio State middle linebacker said he never met Lombardi but his coach at OSU, Woody Hayes, talked about Lombardi all the time. Stillwagon also said he learned something about the late coach by reading part of Jerry Kramer's book "Instant Replay," which deals with Lombardi and the Green Bay Packers.

During his three-year college football career, the public recreation major played with a class that graduated with a 27-2 record. They went undefeated (9-0) in 1968 and beat an O.J. Simpson Southern Cal team in the Rose Bowl, lost only to Michigan in 1969 and finished 8-1 and then had a 9-0 regular season mark in 1970 but lost to Stanford in the latest Rose Bowl.

Stillwagon thinks the shining moment of his football days came in last season's revenge win over Michigan which gave the Buckeyes the Big 10 title and the Rose Bowl berth. Stillwagon was credited with 14 tackles in the game.

THAT'S LOSING YOUR HEAD

Wal Tkaczuk of the New York Rangers (18), used his stick to part the hair of Buffalo's Doug Barrie last night in a National Hockey League game in Buffalo. But Barrie, who was attempting a body check when Tkaczuk slammed him, escaped injury, and the infraction escaped detection by the refs. The game ended in a 5-5 tie.

Coast Schools Form Frosh Football Loop

DAVIS (UPI) —Three Far Western Conference schools have joined the University of Santa Clara to form the California Freshman Football Conference.

The four-team league is made up of San Francisco State, Sacramento State, U. C. Davis and the Broncos. Play will begin in 1971 with a double round-robin schedule.

SPORTS SHORTS

Traffic Relief For Candlestick

SAN DIEGO (UPI) —The California Highway Commission Thursday approved a project to relieve traffic congestion caused by sporting events at Candlestick Park in San Francisco.

The $850,000 project included construction of southbound on-and-off ramps on the Bayshore Freeway at the San Francisco-San Mateo County line and an undercrossing linking these ramps with Harney Lane east of the freeway. San Francisco will contribute $150,000 of the cost.

Football

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Los Angeles Rams quarterback Roman Gabriel will enter St. John's Hospital in Santa Monica Feb. 3 to undergo knee surgery.

The star passer hurt his knee in a pre-season game but played for the full season. The operation on his right knee will be for removal of cartilage, a Ram spokesman said, and Gabriel will be hospitalized for three or four days.

Baseball

CLEVELAND (UPI) —Tony Horton, the Cleveland Indians first baseman who has been hospitalized since last August with an emotional illness, is expected to miss most if not all of the 1971 season.

"I don't think there's any way possible for Tony to play baseball for us in the coming season," said Indians manager Alvin Dark Thursday. "I've talked with his father recently and from all reports I get, I don't see how he can be ready this season."

Basketball

ATLANTA (UPI) — Sidney Wicks' sensational play in moving UCLA toward its fifth consecutive NCAA basketball title today earned the 6-8 forward the January "Player of the Month" designation in candidate voting for the Naismith Trophy.

The Naismith Trophy is presented annually to the nation's outstanding college basketball player at the end of the season after balloting by the nation's sports writers and broadcasters.

Tennis

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)— Top-seeded Mrs. Billie Jean King and No. 2 seed Rosemary Casals scored easy victories Thursday to advance to the quarterfinals in the Virginia Slims Women's Professional Tennis Tournament here.

Mrs. King, of Long Beach, Calif., scored a 6-1, 6-3 victory over Kerry Melville of Australia and Miss Casals, San Francisco, eliminated Esme Emanuel of South Africa 6-2, 6-2 in second-round matches of the $12,500 tourney.

Bowling

Asher, leader since the 11th annual event began Wednesday, triggered one of the 300s—the third of his career—in his second game of the day's second round.

CHICAGO (UPI) — Nelson Burton Jr. was named on 100 of 104 ballots, including 61 first place votes, to be named 1970 Bowler of the Year by the Bowling Writers' Association Friday.

UCLA Gets Stiff Test On Weekend

By United Press International

Is this year's UCLA basketball team really all that good?

The answer to whether the Bruins have the stuff to shoot for a fifth straight national title may be known by Saturday night, since the old demon schedule maker has given the Bruins their toughest test of the campaign tonight and Saturday.

The nationally top-rated and unbeaten Bruins call on Loyola of Chicago tonight and then have to play at Notre Dame Saturday afternoon in a game matching Sidney Wicks of UCLA and Austin Carr of the Irish, possibly the nation's two best college performers.

Action is scattered on the cage front tonight, since it's finals time at many schools. But Pepperdine meets Chico State and USF battles San Francisco State in two non-league tests for West Coast Athletic Conference squads.

Thursday night's heaviest encounter took place at Seattle, where the Chiefs won their biggest victory of the season in edging national powerhouse Weber State. Willie Sojourner of the Wildcats scored 25 but Seattle balance paid off, as five Chief performers hit in double figures.

Shellfish Beds Periled By Oil

By AL GIDDINGS

The oil spill in San Francisco Bay which eventually stretched from Tiburon and the Angel Island areas all the way down to Pacifica along the coast and to Bolinas, Duxberry Reef and parts of the Pt. Reyes National Seashore Beaches to the north could have far reaching ill effects on the clams, abalone and the other shellfish of the area.

It will take some time to really assess the overall damages. I thought most of the damage at first would be to the inner San Francisco Bay, but in taking a survey, the oil also hit the abalone, clam and cockle beds off the Slide Ranch near Muir Beach and also from Duxberry Reef north to the Double Point area.

Cockles and other aquatic forms of life abound on Duxberry Reef. Razor clams are found at Stinson Beach. Bolinas Lagoon has Gaper, Washington, and cockle clams in abundant numbers in the tidal flats there. Oil was noted in all these areas.

ASIDE FROM the injury to the birds which is so apparent, especially to the cormorants, grebes, loons and scoters, much of the food chain of these birds will show harmful effects.

The volunteers who did loads and loads of work in the cleanup deserve a great deal of thanks from all. All of the officials and even the paid work crews couldn't have made it without the horde of youthful volunteers.

Beards! They were everywhere to be seen. I think the bearded ones with their girls far outnumbered the rest of us. Anyway, the cooperative efforts were something to see, and certainly will pay off.

Just before the oil disaster, the Department of Fish and Game, following a comprehensive study, recommended the maintenance and enhancement of the natural resources of Bolinas Lagoon. Bolinas Lagoon consists of 1,400 acres of shallow salt water, tidal mudflats and sandbars. The lagoon, in spite of pollution and natural filling processes, was still one of the richest and least disturbed tideland areas of the California coast, according to the report.

AT THE time, G. Ray Arnett, Dept. of Fish and Game Director, said, "The report is intended as a guide for all people and administrators interested in the use of estuarine lands and waters. These coastal resources are of extreme ecological importance and the people of the state should carefully consider the consequences of incompatible uses. It is important to remember that more than 60 per cent of the state's original tidal mudflats and marshlands have already succumbed to the bulldozers and the dredge. It would be tragic if Bolinas Lagoon were to suffer the same fate."

CALIFORNIA'S 1970-71 upland game hunting seasons still open in some areas (check the hunting regulations) for quail, chukar, tree squirrels and rabbits all close Sunday, Jan. 31. The season on black sea brant closes Feb. 21. That will wind up most hunting except for the all-year mountain lion, wild pig and jack rabbit season.

Unitas' Wife Suing Him For Divorce

TOWSON, Md. (UPI) — The wife of Baltimore Colts quarterback John Unitas has begun legal proceedings which will end her 16-year marriage to the $100,000 a year signal caller of the Super Bowl champions.

Citing adultery as grounds for divorce, Mrs. Dorothy Unitas said in a petition filed Thursday in Baltimore County Circuit Court there is no hope of reconciliation.

The petition seeks separate maintenance for Mrs. Unitas and the couple's five children—the first step in Maryland divorce proceedings. Unitas, 37, has until Feb. 16 to file a reply.

The children range in age from three to 15.

The Unitases met in high school and were married in Pittsburgh in 1954 when Unitas was playing football at the University of Louisville.

Unitas played one season of sandlot football at $6 a game in Pittsburgh before coming to Baltimore in 1956. He was the starting quarterback when the Colts won pro-football championships in 1958, and 1959 and last Sunday when the Colts topped Dallas 16-13 in the Super Bowl. Unitas was injured in the second quarter and did not play the rest of that game.

He has two years to go on his $100,000 playing contract, and has agreed to stay with the Colts in an undetermined front office position for ten more years.

Flyers Get Schock

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The Philadelphia Flyers of the National Hockey League Thursday acquired center Danny Schock from the Boston Bruins in return for a player to be named later. Schock has no goals in five games this season.

Bengston Rests In Hospital

GREEN BAY, Wis, (UPI)—Former Green Bay Packers Coach Phil Bengtson was reported doing fine at St. Vincent Hospital after stomach surgery.

Bengtson had part of his stomach removed a week ago in a move to alleviate an ulcer condition and he said he hoped to be released from the hospital shortly. He said he will recuperate at home for a few weeks before joining the San Diego Chargers.

Bengtson, who quit as Packers coach and general manager two days before Christmas, has been named defensive coordinator for the Chargers.

Eastern All-Stars Favored

GREENSBORO, N. C. (UPI) —The smaller, quicker East, boasting five of the top six scorers in the American Basketball Association, is favored to end the West's victory streak at two in the fourth annual ABA All-Star game Saturday.

The game in the 15,000-seat Greensboro Coliseum will be televised nationally by CBS-TV, beginning at 11:30 a.m. PST.

Dan Issel of Kentucky, a front-runner for rookie of the year honors, anchors the East offense and leads the league in scoring with a 28.8 average.

Mack Calvin of the Floridians, number two in the scoring race, Pittsburgh's John Brisker, who is third, and the other contender for rookie honors, Virginia's Charlie Scott in fourth, are all starters for Virginia coach Al Bianchi.

The East won the first All-Star game at Indianapolis in 1968, but the West took the last two.

Larry Jones, who scored an all-star record of 30 points in last year's game, is now with the Floridians and on the East squad but not as a starter.

Rounding out the starting five for the East is Joe Caldwell of Carolina, one of five former NBA players in the game.

Veteran Zelmo Beaty of Utah, also a former NBA star, anchors the West starting lineup and is one of four Utah players scheduled to perform for the defending champions for Star coach Bill Sharman.

Utah also placed Red Robbins and Glen Combs on the squad selected by sportswriters and sportscasters, and Sharman selected Ron Boone.

In addition to Beaty, the West starters include Larry Cannon of Denver, the league's fifth leading scorer with a 25.8 average, Don Freeman of Texas, and Bob Netolicky and Roger Brown of the 1970 league champion Indiana Pacers.

Rounding out the West squad are Mel Daniels of Indiana, Wendell Ladner, Steve Jones and Jimmy Jones, all of Memphis.

Stanford Coach Gets New Job

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (UPI)—Ed Peasley, an assistant coach at Stanford University, was appointed head football coach at Northern Arizona University Thursday night.

Peasley's appointment, subject to approval of the State Board of Regents, was unanimously confirmed by a nine-member selection committee.

Peasley will succeed John Symank, who resigned Dec. 28 to become head coach at the University of Texas at Arlington.

Peasley, 36, had been a defensive coordinator specializing in linebackers the past four seasons at Stanford. Before moving to Stanford in 1966, he had been with the University of Washington.

He joined the Washington football staff as a student assistant in 1960 when he graduated with a bachelor of arts degree in education and became a full-time staff member the following year.

Weather Looks Bad For Rally

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (UPI)—The 40th Monte Carlo Auto Rally gets under way today with more than 250 crews battling over the first 3,430 mile stage of the seven day event across Europe.

A new storm over the French Alps Thursday dumped more than a foot of fresh snow on the already icy roads north of here and roads were reported "deteriorating rapidly." Organizers said several of the special sections might have to be rerouted because of the heavy snowfall.

Mild weather over the past few years has given the first stage of the Monte the reputation of being "a milk run" but conditions this year appear so tough only half the starters may get to see the Mediterranean.

Conditions have made the choice of one of the 10 starting cities even more of a gamble. Porsche, the defending champion with a three year winning record, has chosen Warsaw. The six factory Alpine Renaults of France may have the easiest run, however, from Marrakesh, Morocco.

Last year's two top drivers Harry Kallstrom of Sweden and Simo Lampinen of Finland start out early Saturday morning from Athens but could find the going hard in Yugoslavia where some routes were reported blocked by snow.

Other starting points include Almeira, Spain, Oslo, Glasgow, Frankfurt, Rheims, Bucharest, and Monte Carlo itself. Ironically, the 35 crews starting out from here could have the toughest task of all to make it back again because they have to tackle the snowy Alpine section twice.

Roberto's Record

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Roberto Clemente's two-base hit against the Mets on Aug. 8, 1970, brought his career total bases to 4,001. Clemente is the 28th player in major league history to reach the 4,000 mark.

ALL-AMERICAN GAMES IN S.F.

Jim Ryun To Begin His Comeback

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — With an eye on the 1972 Olympics, world record holder Jim Ryun begins his comeback tonight in the indoor All-American Games at the Cow Palace.

He hasn't run competitively since quitting in the AAU mile in Miami in June 1969. But in recent months the newspaper photographer from Topeka, Kan. has been in serious training.

Holder of the mile record at 3:51.1, Ryun has set personal goals for his comeback. He achieved the first one in early December when he ran a 4:04 mile in a time trial in Kansas.

"If, after a few months, I don't feel I'm reaching these goals I've set, then I'll announce my retirement, said the lanky 23-year-old former University of Kansas ace.

Among those opposing Ryun are two young sub-four-minute milers—Rick Riley (3:59.2), Pacific-8 Conference champ, and Duncan MacDonald (3:59.6) of Stanford.

Joining Ryun will be such world-class competitors as shotputter Randy Matson, pole vaulter Bob Seagren, quartermiler Lee Evans, hurdler Willie Davenport and sprinters Don Quarrie of USC and Jamaica, NCAA 100-yard champion Eddie Hart of California, Willie Turner of Oregon State and Ronnie Ray Smith of San Jose State.

George Young, the Arizona school teacher returning to competition after a two-year layoff, is trying to keep alive an unbeaten streak extending over two racing seasons. He and Kerry Pearce of Australia share the indoor world record of 8:27.2 in the two-mile.

Young and Pearce join Frank Shorter and Gerry Lindgren in the two-mile at the eighth annual track meet sponsored by the San Francisco Examiner.

Matson, the burly Texan, tied the world indoor record with a 67-10 heave last week and figures he can surpass it tonight. Challenging him will be Al Feuerbach who had a 67-8 1-2 throw behind Matson last week.

Seagren will have stiff competition from Frenchman Francois Tracanelli, the European junior champion with a 17-8 1-2 best, in his drive to surpass the world indoor height of 17-7.

Tomales Boosters Slate Cage Game

With another classic battle expected, members of the Tomales High School Boosters Club will compete in a North-South basketball game Jan. 30, 8 p.m., in Tomales High's gymnasium.

The South, with men from the Marshall and Point Reyes area, edged the North, represented by Bodega Bay and Valley Ford areas, 58-56 in triple overtime.

Cost for the game, with proceeds going to pay for a new gym at the high school, is $1.25 for adults, 50 cents for student body card holders and 75 cents for students without cards.

Flyers Get Schock

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The Philadelphia Flyers of the National Hockey League Thursday acquired center Danny Schock from the Boston Bruins in return for a player to be named later. Schock has no goals in five games this season.

Eastern All-Stars Favored

GREENSBORO, N. C. (UPI) —The smaller, quicker East, boasting five of the top six scorers in the American Basketball Association, is favored to end the West's victory streak at two in the fourth annual ABA All-Star game Saturday.

The game in the 15,000-seat Greensboro Coliseum will be televised nationally by CBS-TV, beginning at 11:30 a.m. PST.

Dan Issel of Kentucky, a front-runner for rookie of the year honors, anchors the East offense and leads the league in scoring with a 28.8 average.

Mack Calvin of the Floridians, number two in the scoring race, Pittsburgh's John Brisker, who is third, and the other contender for rookie honors, Virginia's Charlie Scott in fourth, are all starters for Virginia coach Al Bianchi.

The East won the first All-Star game at Indianapolis in 1968, but the West took the last two.

Larry Jones, who scored an all-star record of 30 points in last year's game, is now with the Floridians and on the East squad but not as a starter.

Rounding out the starting five for the East is Joe Caldwell of Carolina, one of five former NBA players in the game.

Veteran Zelmo Beaty of Utah, also a former NBA star, anchors the West starting lineup and is one of four Utah players scheduled to perform for the defending champions for Star coach Bill Sharman.

Utah also placed Red Robbins and Glen Combs on the squad selected by sportswriters and sportscasters, and Sharman selected Ron Boone.

In addition to Beaty, the West starters include Larry Cannon of Denver, the league's fifth leading scorer with a 25.8 average, Don Freeman of Texas, and Bob Netolicky and Roger Brown of the 1970 league champion Indiana Pacers.

Rounding out the West squad are Mel Daniels of Indiana, Wendell Ladner, Steve Jones and Jimmy Jones, all of Memphis.

Stanford Coach Gets New Job

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (UPI)—Ed Peasley, an assistant coach at Stanford University, was appointed head football coach at Northern Arizona University Thursday night.

Peasley's appointment, subject to approval of the State Board of Regents, was unanimously confirmed by a nine-member selection committee.

Peasley will succeed John Symank, who resigned Dec. 28 to become head coach at the University of Texas at Arlington.

Peasley, 36, had been a defensive coordinator specializing in linebackers the past four seasons at Stanford. Before moving to Stanford in 1966, he had been with the University of Washington.

He joined the Washington football staff as a student assistant in 1960 when he graduated with a bachelor of arts degree in education and became a full-time staff member the following year.

Weather Looks Bad For Rally

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (UPI)—The 40th Monte Carlo Auto Rally gets under way today with more than 250 crews battling over the first 3,430 mile stage of the seven day event across Europe.

A new storm over the French Alps Thursday dumped more than a foot of fresh snow on the already icy roads north of here and roads were reported "deteriorating rapidly." Organizers said several of the special sections might have to be rerouted because of the heavy snowfall.

Mild weather over the past few years has given the first stage of the Monte the reputation of being "a milk run" but conditions this year appear so tough only half the starters may get to see the Mediterranean.

Conditions have made the choice of one of the 10 starting cities even more of a gamble. Porsche, the defending champion with a three year winning record, has chosen Warsaw. The six factory Alpine Renaults of France may have the easiest run, however, from Marrakesh, Morocco.

Last year's two top drivers Harry Kallstrom of Sweden and Simo Lampinen of Finland start out early Saturday morning from Athens but could find the going hard in Yugoslavia where some routes were reported blocked by snow.

Other starting points include Almeira, Spain, Oslo, Glasgow, Frankfurt, Rheims, Bucharest, and Monte Carlo itself. Ironically, the 35 crews starting out from here could have the toughest task of all to make it back again because they have to tackle the snowy Alpine section twice.

Roberto's Record

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Roberto Clemente's two-base hit against the Mets on Aug. 8, 1970, brought his career total bases to 4,001. Clemente is the 28th player in major league history to reach the 4,000 mark.

ALL-AMERICAN GAMES IN S.F.

Jim Ryun To Begin His Comeback

He hasn't run competitively since quitting in the AAU mile in Miami in June 1969. But in recent months the newspaper photographer from Topeka, Kan. has been in serious training.

Holder of the mile record at 3:51.1, Ryun has set personal goals for his comeback. He achieved the first one in early December when he ran a 4:04 mile in a time trial in Kansas.

"If, after a few months, I don't feel I'm reaching these goals I've set, then I'll announce my retirement, said the lanky 23-year-old former University of Kansas ace.

Among those opposing Ryun are two young sub-four-minute milers—Rick Riley (3:59.2), Pacific-8 Conference champ, and Duncan MacDonald (3:59.6) of Stanford.

Joining Ryun will be such world-class competitors as shotputter Randy Matson, pole vaulter Bob Seagren, quartermiler Lee Evans, hurdler Willie Davenport and sprinters Don Quarrie of USC and Jamaica, NCAA 100-yard champion Eddie Hart of California, Willie Turner of Oregon State and Ronnie Ray Smith of San Jose State.

George Young, the Arizona school teacher returning to competition after a two-year layoff, is trying to keep alive an unbeaten streak extending over two racing seasons. He and Kerry Pearce of Australia share the indoor world record of 8:27.2 in the two-mile.

Young and Pearce join Frank Shorter and Gerry Lindgren in the two-mile at the eighth annual track meet sponsored by the San Francisco Examiner.

Matson, the burly Texan, tied the world indoor record with a 67-10 heave last week and figures he can surpass it tonight. Challenging him will be Al Feuerbach who had a 67-8 1-2 throw behind Matson last week.

Seagren will have stiff competition from Frenchman Francois Tracanelli, the European junior champion with a 17-8 1-2 best, in his drive to surpass the world indoor height of 17-7.

Tomales Boosters Slate Cage Game

With another classic battle expected, members of the Tomales High School Boosters Club will compete in a North-South basketball game Jan. 30, 8 p.m., in Tomales High's gymnasium.

The South, with men from the Marshall and Point Reyes area, edged the North, represented by Bodega Bay and Valley Ford areas, 58-56 in triple overtime.

Cost for the game, with proceeds going to pay for a new gym at the high school, is $1.25 for adults, 50 cents for student body card holders and 75 cents for students without cards.

You are looking at Robert Musel, UPI correspondent for the I-J, who is looking at the familiar London scene. London today has been called the "swinging-est" city in the world. But it also swings with significant news which is Musel's forte as a correspondent.

Musel owns London

BUT HE'S MORE THAN WILLING TO SHARE IT

Robert Musel, our man in London, seems to have a mortgage on everything that happens of great moment in Britain's mother city. Which means not much will happen which you, in turn, won't know about by reading the I-J.

As UPI's senior editor there he has covered three wars. He was one of the first World War II correspondents to ride into combat with fighter pilots. He came under fire in two Arab-Israeli wars.

Inquisitive, aggressive, Musel has reported from every European country and most of the Middle East and Africa. He covered the German blitz of London in World War II, war crimes trials at Darmstadt, the Berlin airlift, the death of King George, the coronation of Queen Elizabeth. He has interviewed George Bernard Shaw and Albert Einstein, even the stripteasers of the Folies Bergere.

A confidante of entertainment personalities, Musel is also a top song writer. His "Band of Gold" ballad sold over one million records, and he did the background music of "To Paris With Love," starring Alex Guinness.

A man of many sides, Musel has unerring direction in homing in on matters of interest and concern to our readers. For news "Made in London", we suggest you turn to the I-J.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Attempt At Diamond Trick Is Silly And Also Very Costly

"Nothing has changed," Sherlock Holmes remarked to Dr. Watson as they watched the play of the hand shown today. "We saw some pretty fruity bridge in the United States when we weren't busy advising Billy Wilder on his movie about us, but the bridge here really takes the cake." And the great detective moved toward the door of the Baker Street Bridge Club. The good doctor followed, wondering what his friend was complaining about. The play of the hand seemed quite reasonable to him.

WITH KING

South won the first trick with the king of spades and led the deuce of diamonds hoping that both opponents would refuse the trick. East won with the ace of diamonds and returned a spade to the ace.

Now declarer tried a finesse with the jack of hearts as his second (and principal) attempt to get a ninth trick. East won with the queen of hearts and led another spade, whereupon West took three spades and the king of diamonds to collect a penalty of 200 points.

Dr. Watson agreed with South that the hand really depended on the heart finesse. What on earth was Holmes so irritable about?

DOUBLE CHANCE

South had two chances for the contract, but the attempt to make a diamond trick was just silly. Both real chances were in hearts. South would make his contract if West had the queen of hearts, but there was no need to rely entirely on this. There was also the chance that West had the ten of hearts.

After winning the first trick with the king of spades, South should lead the eight of hearts and let it ride as a finesse. As the cards lie, East must win with the queen of hearts; and dummy's jack of hearts becomes good for the ninth trick.

VICTORIOUS WAY

If East were able to take the first heart trick with the ten, South could regain the lead and try a finesse with dummy's jack of hearts. He would make his contract if West held either the ten or the queen of hearts.

THE WEEK'S BUSINESS

G.E. Forecasts Good 1970 Report

A preliminary unaudited report from General Electric Co. indicates that this company will show earnings of approximately $3.60 per share for 1970 and sales will be $280 million above those of 1969.

Sales figures for 1970 are estimated at $8,728 million, resulting from a strong fourth quarter.

REYNOLDS METALS CO. net sales for last year were $1,035 million, slightly above the $1,012 recorded in 1969, but net profit dropped to $46 million or $2.51 per share from $55 million or $3.08 per share in 1969. Total shipments for the year were 1,072 million tons, down from 1,108 million tons in 1969.

TRANS WORLD AIRLINES preliminary unaudited results for 1970 show a net loss of $63.9 million or $6.43 per share, compared with earnings of $19.8 million or $1.63 per share in 1969. The company is now restricted by covenants in its senior note agreement from declaring dividends on either common or preferred stock and the regular quarterly dividend on preferred stock has been omitted.

PERINI CORP. president Louis Perini Jr., a resident of Marin County about 10 years ago, has resigned in order to live and work in south Florida where he hopes to establish his own business. His father Louis R. Perini, chairman of the board and chief executive officer, has been elected to resume the presidency.

COMMERCE CLEARING HOUSE, INC. directors have voted to split the company's stock on a three-for-two basis through a 50-per cent distribution of additional $1 par value common stock. A 10-cent cash dividend for the first quarter of 1971 will be declared prior to the stock distribution. Commerce Clearing House's western regional office will be moved from San Francisco to Northgate in Marin this year.

EX-CELL-O CORP. has announced sales and operating revenues for 1970 at $356.9 million a decline of over $1 million from 1969 figures. Net earnings after taxes were $15.3 million, compared with $22.2 million in 1969. Per share earnings dropped to $1.82 from $2.63.

SANTA FE LAND IMPROVEMENT CO. has released plans for a major, four-department store regional shopping center adjacent to the Berkeley Marina. Developers are Ernest W. Hahn, Inc. and Newman Properties both based in Hayward. To be known as Park Marina, it will be located on an undeveloped 90-acre landfill site at University Avenue and the Eastshore Freeway.

HY-LOND ENTERPRISES of Sonoma has announced net income, after provision for taxes, of $187,785 for its first quarter ended Sept. 30, approximately six cents per share. Gross revenues amounted to $1,922,881 before taking into account certain extraordinary items.

PACIFIC FAR EAST LINE, INC. has received government approval to purchase the South Pacific passenger and freight services of Matson Navigation Co. The Pacific Far East Line flag was to be officially raised aboard the Mariposa prior to its sailing today from San Francisco to the South Seas.

VARIAN ASSOCIATES of Palo Alto is purchasing the vacuum equipment division of Norton Co. Facilities are located in Sunnyvale and also in Newton, Mass. The division's 1970 sales were approximately $10 million. It employs about 350 people.

KAISER TRADING CO., Oakland has acquired the business assets of Jack Hilton (Metals) Pty., Ltd., a leading Australian import-export firm. It will be operated as a wholly owned subsidiary of Kaiser.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Improvement Forecast For ELTRA During Year

By Roger E. Spear

Q. I am interested in your opinion of ELTRA Corp. I have shares at a cost of $26 and am wondering about the growth potential of this company. — I. M.

A. For the year ended September 30, 1970, ELTRA Corp. reported a 5 per cent decline in earnings on a 10.5 per cent increase in sales. This represents the first year-to-year decline in the firm's profits since the present company was formed in 1963, as the result of the merger of Electric Autolite into Mergenthaler Linotype. ELTRA experienced two sluggish quarters during 1970 — March and June — due to the trucking strike, high costs of introducing new equipment in the Mergenthaler division, and plant opening and moving expenses. However, some improvement was felt in the final 1970 period; and ELTRA came up with an 11.1 per cent earnings gain and an 11.4 percent sales increase. This uptrend is expected to continue into 1971. Many technologically improved systems have been and will be introduced which should generate substantial demand. And continued success is anticipated for the company's photocomposing systems, the Linotron lines, and the low-priced phototypesetter. Rising sales are also forecast for the automotive sector (32 per cent of sales). Hold shares for further growth.

Q. Could you give me your opinion on Carousel Fashions bought at 13¾? — W. L.

A. Although sales of this wig maker have risen steadily since company's founding in 1965, earnings have fluctuated. For the fiscal nine months ended Oct. 31, 1970, sales gained 43 per cent to $12.9 million, while earnings dropped 36 per cent to 65 cents a share. The decline in profits, according to management, reflected industrywide competitive price cutting. Carousel's 4 distinct style lines are aimed at the popular price market and 60 per cent are sold through 13 customers (distributors, leased department operators and retail chains). Finances are strong. On Jan. 31, 1970, cash items alone exceeded current liabilities by 30 per cent and long term debt was $24,170. Of the 1.4 million common shares outstanding 56 per cent are owned by IHC. While competitive conditions may continue, Carousel's product acceptance should help margins.

Market Is Gaining Near Close

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market headed for another strong close today under the impetus of lower interest rates and belier that president Nixon is fully committed to getting the economy rolling again. Trading was heavy.

Standard & Poor's 500 stock index showed a gain of 0.65 at 94.84. of the 1,654 issues crossing the tape, 895 pointed higher, while 466 retreated.

A four-hour turnover of 15,560,000 shares compared with 13,730,000 shares traded at a comparable period yesterday.

Among the most active big board issues were Trans World Airlines, which traded a 100,000-share block at 16⅜, up ⅝, Sperry Rand, and Avnet.

General Electric continued to attract demand after spurting 3¾ points yesterday. G.E. said the fourth quarter of 1970 will be the best for any quarter in its history, and also painted an encouraging picture for 1971.

Chemicals and rails showed scattered strength, while steels, motors, oils, airlines, aircrafts and conglomerates generally traded in narrow ranges.

Prices were firm in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Stock Split

CHICAGO (UPI) — Directors of Fred S. James & Co. have approved a 2-for-1 stock split distributed as a 100 per cent stock dividend. The company said the dividend would be paid Feb. 15 to stockholders of record Feb. 1.

Redwood Bank Shows Big Net

Redwood Bank's 1970 net income increased 112 per cent, to $1.02 a share, from 48 cents a share a year earlier.

Deposits increased 27 per cent to $31,553,900 on Dec. 31 versus $24,825,500 at year end 1969. Total resources of the bank climbed to $36,465,500 from $29,383,800 at year end 1969.

Real estate loans serviced by Redwood's mortgage banking division increased 160 per cent during 1970. Total real estate loan servicing volume stood at $36,974,200 as compared to a 1969 year end total of $14,276,900.

Wheat Talks May Send Prices Up

GENEVA (UPI) — The world's leading producers and consumers of wheat have began talks on a new international wheat agreement expected to lead to higher bread prices.

The present accord, worked out in 1967, expires June 30. The talks should continue through most of next month.

Officials of the United Conference on Trade and Development and the International Wheat Council said that since surplus stocks and production are declining, a higher price range is anticipated under the projected new agreement.

Approve Plan

BOSTON (UPI) — Stockholders of the USM Corp. have approved the initial phase of a previously announced plan to divest its shoe machinery unit. The divestiture was ordered by he courts.

THE WEEK'S BUSINESS

G.E. Forecasts Good 1970 Report

A preliminary unaudited report from General Electric Co. indicates that this company will show earnings of approximately $3.60 per share for 1970 and sales will be $280 million above those of 1969.

Sales figures for 1970 are estimated at $8,728 million, resulting from a strong fourth quarter.

REYNOLDS METALS CO. net sales for last year were $1,035 million, slightly above the $1,012 recorded in 1969, but net profit dropped to $46 million or $2.51 per share from $55 million or $3.08 per share in 1969. Total shipments for the year were 1,072 million tons, down from 1,108 million tons in 1969.

TRANS WORLD AIRLINES preliminary unaudited results for 1970 show a net loss of $63.9 million or $6.43 per share, compared with earnings of $19.8 million or $1.63 per share in 1969. The company is now restricted by covenants in its senior note agreement from declaring dividends on either common or preferred stock and the regular quarterly dividend on preferred stock has been omitted.

PERINI CORP. president Louis Perini Jr., a resident of Marin County about 10 years ago, has resigned in order to live and work in south Florida where he hopes to establish his own business. His father Louis R. Perini, chairman of the board and chief executive officer, has been elected to resume the presidency.

COMMERCE CLEARING HOUSE, INC. directors have voted to split the company's stock on a three-for-two basis through a 50-per cent distribution of additional $1 par value common stock. A 10-cent cash dividend for the first quarter of 1971 will be declared prior to the stock distribution. Commerce Clearing House's western regional office will be moved from San Francisco to Northgate in Marin this year.

EX-CELL-O CORP. has announced sales and operating revenues for 1970 at $356.9 million a decline of over $1 million from 1969 figures. Net earnings after taxes were $15.3 million, compared with $22.2 million in 1969. Per share earnings dropped to $1.82 from $2.63.

SANTA FE LAND IMPROVEMENT CO. has released plans for a major, four-department store regional shopping center adjacent to the Berkeley Marina. Developers are Ernest W. Hahn, Inc. and Newman Properties both based in Hayward. To be known as Park Marina, it will be located on an undeveloped 90-acre landfill site at University Avenue and the Eastshore Freeway.

HY-LOND ENTERPRISES of Sonoma has announced net income, after provision for taxes, of $187,785 for its first quarter ended Sept. 30, approximately six cents per share. Gross revenues amounted to $1,922,881 before taking into account certain extraordinary items.

PACIFIC FAR EAST LINE, INC. has received government approval to purchase the South Pacific passenger and freight services of Matson Navigation Co. The Pacific Far East Line flag was to be officially raised aboard the Mariposa prior to its sailing today from San Francisco to the South Seas.

VARIAN ASSOCIATES of Palo Alto is purchasing the vacuum equipment division of Norton Co. Facilities are located in Sunnyvale and also in Newton, Mass. The division's 1970 sales were approximately $10 million. It employs about 350 people.

KAISER TRADING CO., Oakland has acquired the business assets of Jack Hilton (Metals) Pty., Ltd., a leading Australian import-export firm. It will be operated as a wholly owned subsidiary of Kaiser.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Improvement Forecast For ELTRA During Year

By Roger E. Spear

Q. I am interested in your opinion of ELTRA Corp. I have shares at a cost of $26 and am wondering about the growth potential of this company. — I. M.

A. For the year ended September 30, 1970, ELTRA Corp. reported a 5 per cent decline in earnings on a 10.5 per cent increase in sales. This represents the first year-to-year decline in the firm's profits since the present company was formed in 1963, as the result of the merger of Electric Autolite into Mergenthaler Linotype. ELTRA experienced two sluggish quarters during 1970 — March and June — due to the trucking strike, high costs of introducing new equipment in the Mergenthaler division, and plant opening and moving expenses. However, some improvement was felt in the final 1970 period; and ELTRA came up with an 11.1 per cent earnings gain and an 11.4 percent sales increase. This uptrend is expected to continue into 1971. Many technologically improved systems have been and will be introduced which should generate substantial demand. And continued success is anticipated for the company's photocomposing systems, the Linotron lines, and the low-priced phototypesetter. Rising sales are also forecast for the automotive sector (32 per cent of sales). Hold shares for further growth.

Q. Could you give me your opinion on Carousel Fashions bought at 13¾? — W. L.

A. Although sales of this wig maker have risen steadily since company's founding in 1965, earnings have fluctuated. For the fiscal nine months ended Oct. 31, 1970, sales gained 43 per cent to $12.9 million, while earnings dropped 36 per cent to 65 cents a share. The decline in profits, according to management, reflected industrywide competitive price cutting. Carousel's 4 distinct style lines are aimed at the popular price market and 60 per cent are sold through 13 customers (distributors, leased department operators and retail chains). Finances are strong. On Jan. 31, 1970, cash items alone exceeded current liabilities by 30 per cent and long term debt was $24,170. Of the 1.4 million common shares outstanding 56 per cent are owned by IHC. While competitive conditions may continue, Carousel's product acceptance should help margins.

Market Is Gaining Near Close

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market headed for another strong close today under the impetus of lower interest rates and belief that president Nixon is fully committed to getting the economy rolling again. Trading was heavy.

Standard & Poor's 500 stock index showed a gain of 0.65 at 94.84. of the 1,654 issues crossing the tape, 895 pointed higher, while 466 retreated.

A four-hour turnover of 15,560,000 shares compared with 13,730,000 shares traded at a comparable period yesterday.

Among the most active big board issues were Trans World Airlines, which traded a 100,000-share block at 16⅜, up ⅝, Sperry Rand, and Avnet.

General Electric continued to attract demand after spurting 3¾ points yesterday. G.E. said the fourth quarter of 1970 will be the best for any quarter in its history, and also painted an encouraging picture for 1971.

Chemicals and rails showed scattered strength, while steels, motors, oils, airlines, aircrafts and conglomerates generally traded in narrow ranges.

Prices were firm in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Stock Split

CHICAGO (UPI) — Directors of Fred S. James & Co. have approved a 2-for-1 stock split distributed as a 100 per cent stock dividend. The company said the dividend would be paid Feb. 15 to stockholders of record Feb. 1.

Redwood Bank Shows Big Net

Redwood Bank's 1970 net income increased 112 per cent, to $1.02 a share, from 48 cents a share a year earlier.

Deposits increased 27 per cent to $31,553,900 on Dec. 31 versus $24,825,500 at year end 1969. Total resources of the bank climbed to $36,465,500 from $29,383,800 at year end 1969.

Real estate loans serviced by Redwood's mortgage banking division increased 160 per cent during 1970. Total real estate loan servicing volume stood at $36,974,200 as compared to a 1969 year end total of $14,276,900.

Wheat Talks May Send Prices Up

GENEVA (UPI) — The world's leading producers and consumers of wheat have began talks on a new international wheat agreement expected to lead to higher bread prices.

The present accord, worked out in 1967, expires June 30. The talks should continue through most of next month.

Officials of the United Conference on Trade and Development and the International Wheat Council said that since surplus stocks and production are declining, a higher price range is anticipated under the projected new agreement.

Approve Plan

BOSTON (UPI) — Stockholders of the USM Corp. have approved the initial phase of a previously announced plan to divest its shoe machinery unit. The divestiture was ordered by he courts.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER J. WIKEL

Refund? Yes, The Sooner You File The Sooner You Get It

How soon can I get my refund?

In a news release dated June 1970, addressed to Tax Practitioners, the IRS said:

"Within ten weeks after filing a refund return, a taxpayer should have received either the refund or a letter stating why the refund is being delayed. Usually, we cannot locate a specific return until ten to twelve weeks after its receipt. Therefore, we urge that taxpayers and practitioners wait until then to write the IRS about a missing refund. We also urge that, before writing, they examine the taxpayer's copy of the return for possible errors that might delay the refund. For instance, verify that the Social Security number was correctly stated, check the mathematical computation and compare the estimated tax credit with the actual payments made. In writing about a missing refund, please state the name, Social Security number, and address shown on the return, the approximate date the return was filed, and any error you have found on the copy of the return."

If you carefully fill in your return fully and completely and mail it early, you could have your refund in as little as three weeks. If you are unlucky, or do a sloppy job that require auditing before the refund can be paid, it could take several months, or even several years in extreme cases.

Interest is allowed on refunds from the date of overpayment to a date preceding the date of the refund check by not more than 30 days, except that no interest is allowed on a refund made within 45 days of the day the tax was due or the several installments thereof, determined without regard to any extension of time for filing the return.

The computer handles your federal income tax returns. Information about you and your returns is permanently stored on magnetic tape and reported income can be compared with data submitted by your employers and others.

Use the preaddressed form. If you cannot use this form, peel off the address label and attach it to your form. If you cannot do this, make sure to list your complete name, address and Social Security number.

Check appropriate blocks concerning your exemptions.

Attach wage forms W-2 to the back of form 1040 in the place indicated.

Write or print legibly, or type.

Show your name and Social Security number exactly as it appears on form 1040 on all schedules accompanying the return. If a joint return, use husband's number.

All applicable items of income, tax computation and deductions should be filled in on the return form and schedules.

Be sure to sign your return. If you file a joint return, both husband and wife must sign, even if only one of you had income.

The IRS people are well trained and know their business, but they are not mind readers.

Be sure to fully explain every detail of your tax return on the return or on an attached statement so that Uncle Sam will understand exactly what you are doing.

Bill Is Seeking Young Members

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill adding persons between the ages of 18 and 21 to county and state Republican central committees has been introduced by Assemblyman Frank Murphy Jr., R-Santa Cruz.

Persons between 18 and 21 who were registered to vote in federal elections would be eligible for appointment to both committees.

The bill would require the elected members of county central committees to appoint one additional member from the age group for each supervisorial district. In Marin, this would mean appointment of five younger members to the county committee.

Murphy's bill was silent on appointments to Democratic central committees.

11 New Names On Senate Rolls

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate took in 11 new members yesterday and some of the names — Humphrey, Tunney, Stevenson, Taft, and Buckley — are already household words.

The bountiful freshman crop included a former vice-president and presidential candidate; seven former congressmen; and a former state treasurer.

Also included were the first member of the Conservative Party elected to the Senate and a man who walked his way to victory.

Three were sworn in after last year's elections and before the last Congress adjourned. They are Sens. Adlai E. Stevenson III, D-Ill., William V. Roth Jr., R-Del., and John V. Tunney, D-Calif. Except for a slight edge in seniority, they are considered rookies.

The first year class breaks down into six Republicans and five Democrats. They are:

—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., 59, 16-year veteran of the Senate ... former assistant Senate Democratic Leader ... former vice president ... 1968 Democratic presidential candidate ... still considered a possibility for the 1972 nomination.

—Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III, D-Ill., 40, son of two-time Democratic presidential nominee and ambassador to THE United Nations ... former Illinois state treasurer ... a certain member of Senate's liberal bloc.

—Sen. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, 53, son of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft and grandson of President William Howard Taft ... twice served in the House ... conservative supporter of administration policies.

—Sen. James L. Buckley, R-N.Y., 47, the first Conservative Party member elected ... brother of columnist William F. Buckley ... no previous elected office ... hopes to join Republican Senate caucus but retain special designation of Conservative-Republican.

—Sen. William Brock III, R-Tenn., 39, handpicked administration candidate ... four-term House member ... has almost solid conservative voting record.

—Sen. John V. Tunney, D-Calif., 36, son of former heavyweight boxing champion Gene Tunney ... three-term congressman ... Kennedy act-alike ... will join Senate's liberal wing.

—Sen. J. Glenn Beall Jr., R-Md., 42, takes over seat held by his late father one term ago ... a self-described "middle-of-the roader". . .served one term in the House.

—Sen. William V. Roth Jr., R-Del., 49 ... past president Delaware Young Republicans ... two-term House member ... congressman chiefly responsible for publication of a catalogue of federal domestic assistance programs.

—Sen. Lowell Weicker, R-Conn., 39, former selectman and state representative ... one term House member ... regarded as liberal Republican ... backed Nixon on war but voted for more liberal housing and education programs.

—Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., 49, a conservative who served six years in the House 1949-55 . . . regarded by administration as part of Nixon's idealogical majority . . . backed by former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

—Sen. Lawton Childs, D-Fla., 40, former state senator and state representative ... generally regarded as a conservative ... walked 1,003 miles across Florida en route to election.

Cash Taken

Burglars took $21 in cash and a radio from an office at Greenbrae School, 74 Eliseo Drive, Greenbrae, sometime last weekend, Marin County sheriff's deputies have reported.

Chamber In Support Of Land Idea

The Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce has joined town officials in a callfor master planning of tidelands in East Corte Madera.

At its morning meeting the chamber board approved forming a special committee to work with the town on planned development of the undeveloped properties adjacent to Highway 101, Barbara Packard, chamber secretary, said today.

She said the board, however, directed that the committee submit its findings and recommendations to the chamber prior to forwarding them to town officials.

The town council on Monday unanimously approved a study of the area and called for a halt to development until the area is master planned and the Golden Gate Bridge District decides where it will put its proposed Central Marin ferry terminal.

Warrant Issued In Car Theft Case

A bench warrant has been issued for Stephen Kent Solon, 26, of Larkspur, who is charged with stealing a car in Mill Valley Jan. 7.

Judge David Menary Jr. set bail on the warrant at $1,000 when Solon failed to appear for a preliminary hearing in Marin Municipal Court.

1,400 Sheep Die Near Test Site

ANTELOPE VALLEY, Utah (UPI)—A team of experts from the Atomic Energy Commission and biologists from the University of Utah joined forces today to try to determine what killed more than 1,400 sheep in two days.

"They're still dying," said Millard County Deputy Sheriff Merlin Jackson.

"A couple of them had just a little blood from the nose. None of them was dying with pain. None of them was kicking. No pain, no nothing. They just lay down and died peacefully," he said.

The deaths occurred about 180 miles northeast of the Nevada nuclear test site, where the AEC detonated a series of underground nuclear explosions in December. Radiation from two of the blasts escaped and spread fallout as far north as the Canadian border.

Based on a report by State Veterinarian James F. Schoenfeld, Gov. Calvin L. Rampton said Thursday night the possibility radiation caused the sheeps' death was remote, but not entirely ruled out.

The federally owned rangeland where the sheep deaths occurred also is 150 miles southwest of the Dugway Proving Ground area, where 6,400 sheep were killed in 1968 by nerve gas released in an Army test. But a spokesman at the Pentagon in Washington said the army has not tested toxic agents in open air at Dugway since 1969, when Congress banned such tests without permission. A spokesman at Dugway also said no tests were conducted.

In Las Vegas an AEC spokesman said a "trace" of radiation was found in melted snow in the area where the latest sheep kill was discovered Thursday morning. Radiation also was found in "forced air samples" taken after the tests, the AEC spokesman said.

A spokesman for Rampton said Antelope Valley is a winter range area. Reports from the scene said recent warm weather melted the snow cover and exposed the ground.

At last report, sheep in the area still were dying. The first indication of the deaths came Thursday morning when about 1,000 carcasses were found on the range.

After returning from the site, Schoenfeld, the state veterinarian, said: "My best opinion is that the sheep died from something they ate." He added there was no danger to any persons living in the area.

Biologists, veterinarians, law enforcement officials and the team from the AEC converged on Antelope Valley, south of Garrison, to try to learn the exact cause of the deaths.

Schoenfeld performed autopsies on several of the carcasses and obtained samples of vital organs and body fluids for further laboratory analysis.

The AEC sent its team to observe the carcasses and make tests and measurements of possible radiation.

An aide to U.S. Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, said recent measurements in the area showed no abnormal levels of radioactive material on the ground or in milk samples.

Also sent to the scene by the governor was Dr. Robert Pendleton, a radiation expert and biologst from the University of Utah.

BOLINAS LAGOON — Oil traps stretch across the inlet to Bolinas Lagoon as efforts to keep pollution from the Monday oil spill continue. The lagoon (top center), a major feeding spot for water fowl, appeared yesterday to be in good condition with birds feeding normally.

SOME OPTIMISM EMERGES ON OIL

As the massive campaign to clean up Monday's oil spill entered its fifth day today, there was a spirit of organization about the effort and a cautious optimism emerging.

Standard Oil Co., owner of the two tankers which collided early Monday morning in heavy fog in San Francisco Bay, causing the oil spill, was directing the operation, manning masses of equipment and supervising hundreds of volunteers.

The company reported today that of the 840,000 gallons spilled, 336,000 is back in the Richmond refinery. This does not include, a company spokesman said, the oil that has been collected on beaches by shoveling it up or soaking it with straw.

The Coast Guard said on Monday that that spillage could run between 500,000 and 1,000,000 gallons and yesterday said that no information was available to confirm or contradict Standard Oil's figures.

The huge spill of bunker oil (a heavy fuel) occurred when the Oregon Standard was struck by her sister ship, the Arizona Standard at 1:45 a.m. in heavy fog under the Golden Gate Bridge.

Six of the Oregon Standard's 26 fuel oil compartments were torn open.

It appeared that tidal action was helping to dissipate the damage to waterfowl and beaches, and although oil-stained beaches remained today both in the bay and along the coast, things were looking up.

"It looks pretty good," Ranger Andreas Cathey, announced as he looked out at Stinson Beach State Park today. The park is closed indefinitely, however, while large equipment is used to clean up the beach.

The Coast Guard reported that there is "light to moderate" oil staining at Bolinas Bay, Muir, Baker and Pacifica beaches with oil streaks and debris floating off Bolinas and Muir beaches.

The cleanup going on today at Point Reyes National Seashore was typical of those on beaches elsewhere in the county and Bay Area.

"Standard Oil has equipment here and is also supervising the volunteers," a young woman volunteer said. At that beach college students and high school seniors (anyone younger is

Fairfax Splits On Backing Of Hub Unification Study

By DAVID DIETZ

The Fairfax City Council gave split-vote endorsement last night of tentative plans by the City of San Anselmo to study consolidation of communities in upper Ross Valley. (See another Fairfax council story, page 6.)

The five-man council, with Lee Nelder and Robert R. Souza dissenting, said it was "in accord in principle" with a preliminary application by San Anselmo for $20,000 in federal funds to look into amalgamation.

Nelder. who had sought to table the issue, felt the proposal was vague, and Souza termed it premature because he felt the matter had not yet been discussed by San Anselmo residents.

Mayor James F. Reed of San Anselmo, prime mover of the study as a route toward solving fiscal problems in the Ross Valley through combination of services. appeared before the council to make a personal appeal for support.

He stressed the proposed study was tentative and said consolidation was only one possible conclusion that could be reached. It might also recommend, he said, partial consolidation, implementation of joint powers agreements or annexation of surrounding unincorporated areas by cities involved.

Besides Fairfax and San Anselmo, areas proposed for inclusion in the study are Ross and the unincorporated areas of Kentfield, Sleepy Hollow and Oak Manor.

Reed said Fairfax could participate in the study, which would be performed by a consultant, by either donating funds toward its full $30,000 cost or by merely contributing data, but the council didn't decide that question last night.

Ross has said it is interested in the study but is loath to contribute funds or staff time, and the Marin County Board of Supervisors, responsible for the unincorporated areas, has withheld endorsement until the cities act.

Support from the council majority was qualified, with only Mayor Frank J. Egger expressing firm endorsement.

Councilman Francis J.

Corps Outlines Plan For Flood Control

The Army Corps of Engineers last night outlined a preliminary plan for a $10.2 million Novato Creek flood control project that would leave most of the creek in its natural state.

Members of the Novato Creek Committee, opposed to having the creek transformed into a concrete channel, backed the plan as the best of five possible choices.

Generally, reaction of about 25 city and county officials was favorable, but there was concern about concrete channeling of Warner Creek, as shown in the preliminary plan.

There also were worried looks when it was estimated that local costs for the project could run to $2 million.

Jacob Harari, section chief, Army Corps of Engineers, said the preliminary plan was "economically feasible," meeting the federal standard that the benefits must exceed the costs.

"At this stage. we're only asking you to agree that this is the best plan. We're not asking you to approve the details," said Col. Charles R. Roberts. district engineer.

The plan calls for Novato Creek flood waters to be diverted east of Simmons Lane by a channel to Warner Creek, making it possible for the creek to remain in its natural state until it joins Warner Creek, near South Novato Boulevard.

Then the creek would run in a concrete channel, 38 feet wide and 14 feet deep, to Highway 101, but once again in open channel 180 feet wide from Highway 101 to Highway 37, levees would be built up along the banks of the creek and a "tieback" levee swinging in a southeast arc from Deer Island back toward Highway 101.

Harari explained the "tieback" levee was to make sure that any water flow in the area "doesn't back into land north of Highway 37, where 1120 acres of low land will be "enhanced" by the project.

Harari estimated the annual operating costs at $540,000 and the annual benefits at $607,000.

A concrete channel, 31 feet wide and 10 feet deep, was indicated for the entire length of Warner Creek, and Supervisor Arnold M. Bap-

6 P.M. Tonight: Nixon's State Of Union Address

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Nixon will outline to the nation tonight what he has termed the boldest and the most comprehensive domestic program in American history.

His 6 p.m. PST State of the Union speech before the two houses of Congress will set forth the domestic reform goals he hopes will form the record of his first term in office and be the basis for another term.

The economy, perhaps the most troublesome problem in his first two years in office, will be dealt with more extensively in his budget message January 29 and annual report to Congress on the state of the economy Feb. 1.

According to White House officials, tonight's address will outline ways of achieving the President's oft-stated view that the federal bureaucracy should be reshaped to make it more responsive to people.

The federal reorganization plan on which Nixon has been working envisions merging some existing Cabinet departments and some independent agencies into four newly named departments. These would be called the Departments of Community Development, Economic Development, Human Resources, and Natural Resources.

There have been differing reports on how many present departments and agencies would be affected. As originally presented to the President, six would be involved. Other reports said expansion of the plan by the White House now covered eight departments, which would be compressed into the four.

The only departments not

Controls On Ships Held Poor

There are few regulations to control ship movements in San Francisco Bay and most commercial vessels are not equipped with basic safety devices which would help prevent collisions, maritime officials revealed at a Sausalito meeting yesterday.

The session was called by Sausalito Mayor Alexander R. Imlay in the wake of Monday's disastrous oil spill, caused by the collision of two Standard Oil Tankers in the Bay. Attending were representatives of six oil companies, the ports of San Francisco and Oakland, the U.S. Coast Guard, conservationist groups, state and local officials and various martime agencies.

At the beginning, Imlay stressed the meeting was to look for ways to prevent future oil spills and not as "a stage for unhappy feelings. We are not here to seek culprits; we are here to seek solutions," the mayor said.

In the course of the two-hour meeting, representatives of the Coast-Guard, American Institute of Merchant Shipping and the San Francisco Bar Pilots Association and Standard Oil Co. revealed that:

1. There is no regulation governing movements of ships outside the Golden Gate Bridge and no rule for the speed or direction of vessels entering or leaving the bay.

2. There is no law requiring most large commercial ships to have radar systems and no effective rule for inspection of radar on ships which have it.

3. The Coast Guard does not have the authority to regulate when ships can go through the Golden Gate or at what speed.

4. A bill proposed in Congress last year to make

By MARY LEYDECKER

A Marin County naturalist today termed ecological damage from the oil spill an "emotional and dramatic thing" but not nearly so serious as constant pollution of the ocean with pesticides and other chemicals.

Clerin W. Zumwalt, chief naturalist for the Audubon Canyon Ranch at Bolinas, said that there has been "a lot of damage to kelp beds and along the rocky shores and beaches" of Marin but doubted that it would be longlasting.

Looking down the steep cliffs of West Marin yesterday, Zumwalt said it is "hard to assess" what kind of damage was being done by the pools of oil below.

Globs of oil and masses of seaweed and straw, he said, clung to the rocks below. Along the rocky shores live myriads of tiny creatures who are the food supply for larger sealife.

Most serious, he said, would be the death of these organisms which will create a dearth of food for such inhabitants of the sea as crabs, mussels and star fish.

"I don't think that adult creatures will be killed but certainly a lot of larvae will die," Zumwalt explained, leaving a shortage of food for sea creatures.

However, the naturalist predicted that life will slowly return to the oil-damaged areas.

"The ocean's awfully big, you know," Zumwalt added.

Much more insidious, he said, is the undramatic and unseen pollution of the sea with chemicals such as mercury and lead as well as pesticides pouring in from the agricultural areas of California.

The naturalist said he hopes that when the drama of the oil spill is over, people will continue to be concerned about pollution from other causes.

A cheerful note was sounded by Zumwalt about conditions at Bolinas Lagoon, vital feeding place for a multitude of birds.

"I made a careful check of the north end of the lagoon yesterday," he said. Among the birds feeding normally in the mudflats were "several thousand sandpipers and the most kildare I've ever seen."

When the tide went out in the lagoon, Zumwalt said that birds fed as usual in the mudflats.

He was also encouraged by spotting 21 great blue herons, the long-legged birds who arrive in Bolinas every year at this time for the nesting season.

College Board Will Try For $16.9 Million Bond

Marin Junior College District trustees last night voted to put a proposed $16,920,000 bond measure on the April 20 ballot.

Four district trustee seats also will be on the ballot.

Voters turned down the bond issue in last November's general election. Trustees worried last night whether it might be rejected again. However, they unanimously agreed to try once more for the funds, needed for construction of the North Campus at Novato, and work on the Kentfield campus.

Trustee Charles Gray questioned Dr. John A. Grasham, district president-superintendent, about the risk of state matching funds not being available in time to use with the proposed bond issue to prepare the North Campus for a 1974 opening.

Grasham said that Sidney W. Brossman, state chancellor of community colleges, had warned that state matching funds might be delayed by a year. However, Grasham said, the chancellor also had "gone to bat for us" three times in the past year, to help preserve the North Campus timetable.

The board members formally adopted a resolution setting the election to fill the seats of Chairman Elizabeth Deedy, Gray, Harry J. Moore and Robert E. Rogers, whose terms expire this year.

Of the four, Gray has indicated he will seek reelection, and Rogers said he will not run again. Mrs. Deedy and Moore said earlier this month that they had not yet decided whether to be candidates again.

The trustee elections and bond issue ballot will be consolidated with other school districts' elections throughout the county.

Federal Budget Is Expected Next Week

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Swordfish Seized

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Federal agents have seized more than 12,500 pounds of mercury-contaminated swordfish in the Los Angeles area this week.

The seizures, announced Thursday, were the first confiscations of swordfish in the nation.

Agents said distributors voluntarily were holding 2.3 million pounds of frozen swordfish in storage around the nation for testing.

Lee Weddig, executive director of the National Fisheries Institute, predicted that between 75 and 90 per cent of the stored fish will exceed the legal limit of .5 parts of mercury per million parts of fish.

Mideast Impasse

Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir said today if Israel accepted all of the Egyptian demands for peace it would lead to another war in the Middle East.

In Cairo, Egyptian Foreign Minister Hahmoud Riad said "obstacles" raised by the Israelis were responsible for the lack of progress in the Middle East talks at the United Nations.

Mrs. Meir said in an interview in the Tel Aviv newspaper Maariv that anyone who thought the talks could be completed in a short time "is either misunderstanding the entire situation or taking for granted that Israel will give in to all that the Arabs want."

"If anyone thinks such a way will lead to peace, I submit it is the way to war," she said.

Test On Ike Coin

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Coin experts at the U.S. Mint here plan to conduct tests Monday on the Eisenhower dollar, a coin made of copper and nickel that is expected to succeed the silver dollar.

A spokesman said the trial striking here is to "see how they're going to look and to perfect the dies for the production of 150 million of them."

The coins probably will be manufactured for general circulation at the U.S. Mint in San Francisco.

Blastoff Near

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—A commercial communications satellite seven times more powerful than the best now in severce is set for launch tonight to kick off the busiest period of space activity here in almost two years.

The 1 1-2 ton, $13.5 million satellite is the first of a series of eight Intelsat 4s built for the Comsat Corp., and its 76 partner nations to greatly expand the glove-girdling communications network.

It is scheduled for launch at 7:01 p.m. EST on a $16 million Atlas-Centaur rocket. The satellite will be protected on its climb through the atmosphere by a nose cone similar to one that failed to separate and fall off as planned in a $98 million observatory launching in November. The observatory was lost as a result.

Snowdon Flight

"This is all part of my convalescence," Snowdon said. "I do not know how long I will be away."

Princess Margaret reportedly will joint her husband next week in Barbados.

Burning Ship Rescue

CAGLIARI, Sardinia (UPI)—Search vessels today rescued 38 crewmen from the 82,882-ton American-owned tanker Universe Patriot, which exploded and burst into flames in the gale-whipped Tyrrhenian Sea.

The rescue ships said the Liberian-registered ship was broken in two and half-submerged. The fate of the remainder of the ship's 50-member Japanese crew was not immediately known, although one man was reported still aboard the burned-out hulk.

The West German skipper, identified only as Capt. Schneider, was among those pulled from the raging seas.

10 Days Given In Pot Case

Cindy Lea French, 22, of Petaluma, has been sentenced in Marin Municipal Court to 10 days in Marin County Jail for possessing marijuana.

Judge Robert A. Smallman gave her credit for time already spent in jail.

She had pleaded guilty to the misdemeanor charge of possessing pot April 22.

Cambodian Air Power Destroyed

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops bombarded Phnom Penh with rockets, mortars and attacked with small arms today, wiping out 95 per cent of the Cambodian Air Force's operational planes. Fighting raged at the heavily damaged airport.

In Saigon, American spokesmen admitted U.S. planes and helicopters are flying "close air support" for the Highway 4 operation in Cambodia and that there are "friendly" troops aboard helicopters controlling air strikes. The U.S. spokesmen also admitted the reasons for their refusal to discuss details of Cambodian and Laotian operations "may be political."

Civilian hospitals in Phnom Penh reported more than 500 casualties from the worst fighting which continued around Pochentong Airport. The Air Force said 16 of its men were killed in the attack, the first on the Cambodian capital since the war broke out 10 months ago. More than 300 communist reinforcements took up positions in a village by the airport.

In the center of the city, public officials marshalled their staffs into defense squads and capital defense troops set up tents in parks and on grounds of government buildings. The Cambodian High Command said the situation was "serious."

Communiques said South Vietnamese Marines were moving closer to Pich Nil Pass on strategic High 4, 60 miles southwest of Phnom Penh. The Cambodian troops trying to recapture the highway took the pass from the south Thursday and only two miles separated the Allies from a linkup.

Russell, 73, Dies; Dean Of Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Richard Brevard Russell, never affected by the conceit of power nor the praise of Presidents, will be returned today to the red clay soil of his native Georgia for burial.

Russell, dean of the Senate, leader of the southern conservative coalition, and a power in shaping the country's destiny for much of his 37-year career, died Thursday at Walter Reed Army Medical Center of a respiratory infection complicated by emphysema.

Russell's family chose to forego funeral services in the Nation's Capital except for a brief military ceremony today at Andrews AFB before his body leaves aboard President Nixon's jet, Air Force One, for Atlanta.

The body will lie in state in the rotunda of the gold-domed Georgia Capitol in Atlanta for 24 hours before it is taken Saturday to Winder, Ga., where he will be buried in Russell Memorial Park behind his rural home.

The family requested that friends make donations to the Thornwell Orphanage in Clinton, S.C. —"a favorite charity" of the senator's —in lieu of flowers.

It was an axiom among his colleagues that the Senate was Russell's life. A life-long bachelor, he lived alone in a Washington apartment, often eating his meals in a nearby Howard Johnson's restaurant and never indulging in the whirl of Washington society.

One of his last acts, only hours before his death, was to give his proxy vote to Sen. Robert Byrd of West Virginia as Democratic Whip. Byrd, who defeated Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said he had considered Russell's proxy the tie-breaking vote in his favor and would not have challenged Kennedy if Russell had died before the 10 a.m. Democratic caucus. Russell's death came at 2:25 p.m. EST. He was 73.

In Atlanta, Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter said he probably would appoint a successor to the unexpired two-year term in about a week.

It was considered likely the appointment would go to former Gov. Ernest Vandiver, who married Russell's niece, and who is a close friend of Carter. It also was considered likely former Gov. Lester Maddox, now Georgia's lieutenant governor, would run for the Senate seat in 1972.

Tax Break For Lumber Interests Wins In Senate

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The lumber interests which operate on federal lands would get a tax break of up to $5 million from a bill in the Assembly today after zipping unopposed through the Senate.

Sen. Randolph Collier, a Democrat whose district includes many Northern California lumbering counties, authored the measure which sharply reduces the amount of taxes that counties can levy on companies cutting timber under federal contracts on U.S. government lands.

Legislative financial experts estimated the bill could cost the counties up to $5 million in lost revenue.

Collier, of Yreka, was not available for comment.

It took less than three days from the time the bill was introduced until it passed the Senate 29-0 Thursday and went to the Assembly.

'Peace And Love' Demo Candidate

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI)—Dakin Williams, brother of playwright Tennessee Williams, has announced his candidacy on a platform of "peace and love" for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate.

"I'm going to emphasize things that appeal to young people, like peace and love," Williams, a Collinsville attorney, said Tuesday. "That might make me sort of a political flower child."

Williams, 51, challenged Adlai Stevenson III in the Democratic primary in 1970. The State Electrical Board disqualified his candidacy on grounds his petitions contained fraudulent signatures.

"They won't be able to do that to me again because I'm planning on having 10,000 signatures this time," Williams said. "I already have 2,000."

Five thousand signatures are required on the candidacy petitions.

Planning Overseas Job? Look Into It

The Better Business Bureau has warned job seekers to investigate before investing their money in employment agencies offering overseas employment.

The bureau reports at least eight companies advertising work overseas in Bay Area newspapers but advises that most do not guarantee employment.

However, it says, the companies do require a sizeable advance fee for preparation of a resume and processing them to firms with overseas operations.

"If these agencies screen out those whose skills or experience leave them little or no chance of getting overseas work, and counsel closely with firms having job openings," the bureau said, "a useful service may be provided."

Some agencies, however, are quick to take the advance fee and then process the resume in a manner barely sufficient to cover contractual obligation, it explained.

It noted that a survey showed 86 per cent of the overseas companies contacted do their own recruiting.

Changes In Phone Listings Still Open

Changes in alphabetical listings or the addition of names of other members of a household may be made until Feb. 26 for the new telephone directory, Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. has announced.

Changes in the yellow pages may be made until Feb. 11 in the directory due for distribution in April.

Development Hinges On Rail Right

A 642-unit residential development on county lands near East Corte Madera hinges on acquisition of an abandoned railroad right-of-way, the town's planning commission has been told.

According to Ronald E. Bartels, town manager, the commission, at a special meeting Tuesday, previewed the planned development of town houses and apartment buildings only to discuss the concept of such a development and the possibilities of its future annexation to the town.

Proposed for the 71-acre Boyd property between Highway 101 and the Northwestern Pacific Railroad right-of-way northeast of the Koch property, the plans outlined Tuesday showed two four-story apartment buildings in the development.

E. C. Harter and Odenthal Investment Co., of Orinda, said the right-of-way was needed to provide access to the property from Paradise Drive and that answer is expected Feb. 15.

The special meeting was called without the 24-hour advance notice to the press required by the Ralph M. Brown Act.

Transmission Is Stolen From Truck

A GMC truck transmission was stolen from a truck parked behind a garage at 521 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, according to police.

Carl H. Setterberg of 972 San Anselmo Avenue reported he had partially bolted the four-speed 1953 transmission in his truck Tuesday night but found it missing when he returned the next morning to complete the job.

Police Services District Is Hit

Las Gallinas Valley Council opposes the proposed formation of a police services district in the unincorporated areas of Marin County.

The proposal for a county service area for police services will get a public hearing on Feb. 23 before the Marin County Board of Supervisors. The hearing had been set for next Tuesday, but supervisors decided that more time is needed to notify all communities.

Las Gallinas Valley Council, composed of 15 organizations from Los Ranchitos to Lucas Valley, this week asked the supervisors to reject the police services district.

The council charged that the proposal is designed to help cities at the expense of the unincorporated areas.

$1 Million Angela Fund Drive Set

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A committee to raise $1 million for the defense of Angela Y. Davis has been formed with headquarters in San Francisco, according to attorney Terence Hallinan.

He said the United Committee to Free Angela Davis will be headquartered in two vacant stores in the city's Fillmore District.

James Bonds, a member of the Young Workers Liberation League, was named San Francisco chairman.

"We're going to hold a continuing series of rallies and fund-raising parties to build support to overcome the lynch mob atmosphere the authorities are trying to create," Hallinan said.

Meanwhile, in Los Angeles supporters of Miss Davis announced formation of a "national committee of the arts" to aid in her defense.

The committee includes Jane Fonda, Elliot Gould, Dalton Trumbo and Mark Lane, it was reported.

OIL

discouraged) are shoveling oil into cans and plastic bags which are then loaded into jeeps and other sand vehicles and dumped into debris boxes provided by the oil company.

The volunteers — both young men and women — are working in four-hour shifts and being sent home at nighttime.

The influx of volunteers to the beach areas — which in many cases had hindered more than helped cleaning operations and rescuing oil-soaked birds — has been controlled.

"We have our own bird-recovery teams," a spokesman at Point Reyes said. There trained persons went out with flashlights at 5 a.m. today, successfully rescuing birds. Earlier volunteers there as elsewhere had caused the death of birds by frightening them into deeper water where they drowned.

Concern was expressed, however, yesterday for the Bay Area crab industry. Dr. Cadet Hand, director of the University of California Marine Laboratory at Bodega Bay, said if the oil slick hovers a few more days off the intertidal zone, it probably will be fatal to crab now breeding there by cutting off their food supply.

Standard Oil reported that its multivessel cleanup fleet worked through the night in the bay and, although rough water forced vessels to abandon efforts in the ocean last night, skimmer operations were resumed this morning.

The company said that a new oil slick sighted southwest of Stinson Beach, one mile at sea, yesterday morning was vacuumed up before it reached beaches.

The public was cautioned against using straw to absorb oil without removing the straw as random drifts of straw have been clogging skimmer mechanisms, the company said.

Company officials also said that the Sausalito waterfront at Bridgeway is about free of oil but cleaning is continuing along the Fort Baker shoreline. There are 40 men and 17 pieces of heavy equipment at work in this area.

The inner harbor at Tiburon was essentially clean yesterday but oil still remained at the Corinthian Yacht Club where two skimmer boats and four vacuum trucks were working in the general area.

Bird cleaning operations also were better organized yesterday with many fowl taken to various stations in the county.

The Marin Ecology Center asked persons who want to volunteer to call the center at 383-6161 so they can be directed to places where they are needed.

About 2,000 oil-smeared birds are estimated to have been rescued and cleaned, some of them with a special compound called A-11. Since the compound not only effectively removes oil, but also natural weatherproofing of bird's feathers, fowl treated with A-11 must be kept and fed on land until at least September.

CREEK

tiste suggested studying the possibility of an earth channel for Warner Creek.

Leroy M. Gerner, co-chairman of the creek committee, said he "was happy" with the plans for Novato Creek, but "wanted to see more what Warner Creek would look like."

Col. Roberts commented: "Warner Creek will look like Corte Madera Creek. If you've seen one concrete channel, you've seen them all."

The engineers will look at the possibility of having an earth channel for Warner Creek, Col. Roberts said.

Baptiste urged combining recreational facilities such as riding, hiking and bicycle trails and picnic areas with the project.

Col. Roberts pointed out the proposed project was a "bare project" and any recreational facilities would result in additional costs. Landscaping would be included in the project, he said.

The plan also calls for a concrete channel for Arroyo Arrichi from its mouth to a culvert near South Novato Boulevard.

Harari said the local cost for land enhancement would be $500,000, to be paid by the sponsoring agencies, in this case the city of Novato and Flood Control Zone No. 1, since the creek lies both in the city and the unincorporated area.

Col. Roberts said in the past the state has paid relocation and easement costs, but there is a move to change the law and have the local agenices share in this cost.

Relocation and easement costs for the proposed project would run about $3 million and the cities probably will have to pay a share of this, he said.

Harari said that only five buildings would have to be removed for the proposed project, three of them homes.

Representatives of the Bel Marin Keys Community Services District asked that a tidal lock at the mouth of Novato Creek to prevent silting be included.

Former Supervisor William A. Gnoss of Novato, noting that the project if undertaken was about "five years away," urged that Novato Creek be dredged this year.

Silt is filling in the creek and if it isn't dredged "there will be terrific flooding," he asserted.

Charles E. Murphy, Marin County flood control engineer, suggested that the Novato Creek Committee hold a public hearing to get the reaction of people in the area to be affected.

If reaction is favorable the corps would proceed with a public hearing in June, and then prepare a final report to be sent to Washington, D.C. by December, 1972, with hope for appropriation by 1974.

NIXON

touched would be State, Defense, Justice and Treasury, according to several published reports.

The reorganization was expected to be a major thrust of the speech which Attorney General John N. Mitchell has characterized as "the most important document since they wrote the Constitution."

It is expected to contain pleas for reform of the welfare system to guarantee a minimum income to all poor families, proposals for sharing federal revenues with state and local governments, a scheme for national health insurance and a plan for coping with pollution of the environment.

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, in a speech at Houston, Tex., Thursday night, said the message would include "a broad new approach to both the financing of health care and the expansion of its delivery systems." He did not go into details.

In remarks to his staff earlier this week on the second anniversary of his inauguration, Nixon said the address and the series of legislative proposals following it "will be by far the most comprehensive, the most far-reaching, the most bold program in the domestic field ever presented to an American Congress."

"It is time to seize this moment and present the American people a new approach to government, one that is relevant to our times," he told them.

Clerks Get Offer Under Strike Gun

I-J Special Report

WALNUT CREEK — Representatives of Bay Area supermarkets early today announced an eleventh-hour contract offer aimed at preventing a walkout by retail clerks in Marin and seven other counties.

Seven locals of the Retail Clerks' Union had threatened to walk out midnight Sunday unless an agreement is reached. The locals, including local 1119 of San Rafael, are to vote on the offer Sunday.

Terms of the offer were not announced pending the vote.

The bargaining session which ended at 4 a.m. today had stretched 18 hours before a proposed settlement was offered by the Food Employers Council to union representatives, according to Bernard Saccone, president of United Markets in San Rafael.

John Bacon, representative of the market owners, and spokesmen for local 1119 could not be reached for comment on the proposal.

Clerks had asked for a raise of about $2.25 to $2.50 per hour on a one-year contract plus concessions on seniority and other working rules, according to Saccone.

The clerks' three-year contract expired Dec. 31, but workers remained on the job while bargaining progressed.

CONTROL

radio telephone systems — for direct communications between vessels — compulsory in large ships was killed by the Senate.

5. The Coast Guard has set up no clear criteria on when to stop vessels from traveling in the harbor when visibility is very poor, even if those ships contain hazardous cargo such as explosives or oil. Coast guard officials revealed there is almost no effort to stop ship movement, even when visibility is zero.

6. The Port Safety Bill, which would have given the Coast Guard additional authority in matters of navigational safety in harbors, was killed in Congress last year.

7. The Coast Guard does not keep any regular record of ships leaving ports in San Francisco Bay.

8. Approximately 80 to 90 per cent of the domestic ships which travel in the bay are oil tankers.

9. The harbor advisory radar system — now operating in the bay on an experimental basis — does not advise vessels which way to proceed and at what speed; it only advises the ships of other traffic in the harbor.

"The lack of controls on all kinds of vessels, particularly those carrying dangerous cargo, is incredible," San Francisco Supervisor Robert H. Mendelsohn said after the meeting. "If the government can't learn from past tragedies, like the Torre Canyon disaster," then it seems to me the people are right in turning away from the government. (About four years ago in Torre Canyon off the coast of England a large tanker collision spilled thousands of tons of crude oil into the sea).

State Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, also expressed the need for additional safety regulations for shipping in harbors and along the coast. "We haven't caught up with the 20th Century in shipping," Behr said.

Freeway Crash Injures Two

Two San Francisco residents were treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday for minor injuries suffered in a collision on Highway 101 near the Civic Center, the California Highway Patrol has reported.

Officers said Teodoro M. Fisher, 26, of San Francisco, was driving south on the freeway at 2:15 p.m. when he started to change lanes and collided with a car driven by Michael J. Smith, 30, of 51 Ross Drive, San Rafael.

Fisher's car then swerved to the right shoulder and overturned, the patrol said. Fisher was treated for a sprained right leg while a passenger, Laurie Hennie, 26, was treated for multiple scrapes and bruises.

Fisher was to be cited by the highway patrol for making an unsafe lane change.

Rabies Clinic For Dogs Set

A rabies innoculation clinic for dogs will be held tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Fine Arts Building at the Sonoma-Marin Fairgrounds, Petaluma.

All dogs over four months will be immunized for a fee of $2. The clinic is sponsored by the Redwood Empire Veterinarians Association and the Sonoma County Public Health Service.

Dog licenses must be purchased by Jan. 31, according to William Matthews, Petaluma animal control officer. They may be purchased from local veterinarians or at the police department weekdays from 8 a.m to 5 p.m.

UNIFY

O'Connell said consolidation would be ideal but feared intrusion of state and federal officials. Councilman Cornelis Van Vliet said a study committee several years ago endorsed consolidation of police, fire and public works services in Fairfax and San Anselmo but the plan was stymied because a special district had to be formed.

Said Egger, "This study would show the advantages and disadvantages" of consolidation. "To my knowledge, no comprehensive study of this question has ever been made and at no time has the city put its money where its mouth is. . . to see if it can provide better services."

Persons in the audience saw consolidation as a means to ease traffic and pollution problems and one, John J. Hourihan, a city planning commissioner, said the study perhaps could be made without government financing to avoid bureaucratic snarls.

Master Plan Gets Village Square Nod

The Village Square Association of Corte Madera yesterday endorsed the proposed master planning of undeveloped lands east of Highway 101.

Janice Valk, association secretary, said today a letter will be forwarded to the town council calling for master planning as soon as possible.

Community Center Use Plan Told

A policy for use of and fees for the Marin City Community Center will be prepared for review, the Marin City Community Services District board has decided.

Secretary Reba G. Mason said the board Thursday instructed Executive Director Daniel Winters to prepare a policy for consideration at the next board meeting.

The policy, she said, would establish what groups may use the center without charge and what the fees will be for other groups. This will clear up "confusion on use of the building," Mrs. Mason said.

Board members also discussed the possibility of a monthly town meeting to air community concerns in Marin City, but came to no conclusion. The idea will be considered again at the board's next meeting, Feb. 18 at 8 p.m. at Manzanita Center.

A Non-Profit Agency Enters Employee Field

A nonprofit employment agency to find jobs for unemployed southern Marin residents — and particularly those who live in Marin City — has opened at St. Andrew Presbyterian Church in Marin City.

Manager Nesbit Crutchfield, a former supervisor for the San Francisco Neighborhood Youth Corps, said the service is available to persons of all ages and job experience and qualifications.

According to Crutchfield, the agency will attempt to get in touch with all Marin County employers who have jobs to offer. He said the service, which is sponsored by the church, will include assistance for all types of jobholders.

The office, located at Drake and Donahue avenues, will be open weekdays from 1 to 5 p.m.

Battery Charge Plea Date Set

Philip Arnold Jacobson, 53, of San Bruno, has been arraigned in Marin Municipal Court on a felony charge of battery on a police officer.

He will plead to the charge next Friday.

Jacobson was arrested Tuesday along Highway 101 in Novato where he was attempting to direct traffic. When a Novato policeman approached him, he allegedly hit the policeman in the cheek, knocking off his glasses and hat.

School Library Equipment Taken

Recording and visual aid equipment valued at $365 were stolen late Wednesday night from the one-story library of Don Timoteo School at 39 Trellis Drive, police reported today.

Principal William B. Van Winkle of 75 Santa Maria, Novato, told police that between 11 p.m. Wednesday and 8:15 a.m. Thursday the library was entered through sliding glass doors on the north side of the building which apparently had not been secured.

OBITUARIES

John Johnson Dies At 81

John August Emil Johnson, 89, a Petaluma resident for 30 years, died yesterday at a local convalescent hospital after a long illness.

A native of Minnesota, he was reared and educated there and had worked as a mill wright in Canada and Montana before moving to Petaluma in 1940.

Johnson had been employed as a machinist for Kresge Manufacturing Co., Petaluma, until his retirement 13 years ago. He was a member of the First Church of God, Petaluma, and the International Machinists Union.

He is survived by his wife, Hulda; three sons, Clarence of Petaluma, Clifford of Montana and Duane of Crescent City; two daughters, Ruby Shaw of Petaluma and Luane Bott of Montana; 19 grandchildren, 38 great-grandchildren and four great-great-grandchildren.

Funeral will be Monday at 2 p.m. at Parent Funeral Chapel, Petaluma, followed by burial at Cypress Hill Memorial Park. Contributions may be made to the building fund of the First Church of God.

MRS. SOLDAVINI

Bambina Soldavini, a resident of San Rafael for almost 50 years, died today at a local hospital after a short illness. She was 64.

Born in Italy, she moved to 121 Clorinda Drive about 1921.

Surviving are her husband, Ambrose Soldavini; four sons, Louis A. Soldavini of Fairfax, Robert R. Soldavini of Rohnert Park, Richard A. Soldavini and Kenneth J. Soldavini, both of Novato; a sister, Rosa Soldavini of San Rafael; 11 grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren.

Mass of the Resurrection will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m. Monday at Saint Raphael's Church in San Rafael followed by burial at Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Sunday at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

The family requested that memorial contributions be made to the American Cancer Society.

Ex-Hub Resident Promoted In Courts

Clifford C. Porter, a former San Anselmo resident, has been promoted to clerk of the state District Court of Appeal in San Francisco.

Porter, who has been chief deputy clerk, said today that he moved from Marin County to San Francisco slightly more than a year ago. He succeeded Lawrence R. Elkington, who was appointed to a newly created position of principal attorney in the appeals court. Elkington will head research and administrative work.

A Marin Call To Aid Ghetto Schools

Affluent Marin Catholics were asked last night to help underwrite financially troubled Catholic schools in the San Francisco ghetto.

The plea came at the end of the first open session of the Board of Education of the Archdiocese of San Francisco ever held in Marin.

Rev. John T. Dwyer of the board told more than 100 persons at Dominican College in San Rafael that parents in San Francisco poverty areas like the Mission District cannot afford more than the $12 a month tuition they pay now.

Yet, he said, "We can't stop the rising cost of education. What I am asking you is this: would you help us to establish some kind of central fund whereby we can help those schools in the poverty areas stay open?"

Dwyer, who is pastor of St. Paul's Church in San Francisco and a member of the board's finance committee, said questionnaires will be sent out to get reactions to the subsidy proposal.

His call for Catholics to pull together came after a wide schism developed during the meeting.

Norma Baumsteiger, representing Parents for Orthodoxy in Parochial Education (POPE), urged the board to forbid use of the controversial Dutch catechism beginning Feb. 1 at Marin Catholic High School.

Use of the method — which relies on experiencing rather than memorizing — she called "a definite threat to the souls of our children." She asked that the traditional Baltimore and Our Lady of St. Paul catechisms, both officially discouraged, be substituted.

Mrs. Baumsteiger also condemned sex education classes beginning at Marin Catholic as "dangerous."

Lengthy applause greeted her remarks, but the other side was also applauded.

Paul Boske of the school board at St. Isabella's School in Terra Linda and board member Sister John Marie S.H.F. of San Jose supported the Dutch catechism.

"I would say the Dutch catechism, in the hands of a cabable teacher, yes, can be used," the nun told Mrs. Baumsteiger.

While the only board comment on the catechism issue opposed her view, the majority of the 11 board members agreed with Mrs. Baumsteiger on junior high school school dances.

St. Isabella's had asked for such dances, but the board turned down the request and yesterday afternoon reaffirmed that vote 7-3.

The majority argued that eighth graders are not mature enough to handle coeducational parties.

The ban, according to chairman John J. Murray of San Francisco, applies even to parties not sponsored by the school held in private homes.

The majority stated that the rule had been carefully reviewed in 1967 and most parents favored it at that time.

Father Dwyer argued, "There is a tendency these days to deprive children of their childhood and try to make them adults too soon."

Delia Alavarez of Santa Clara, who cast one of the dissenting votes, countered, "I become very disturbed when a school board starts dictating what should happen in the home."

The board also heard representatives of three Marin parochial schools argue for autonomy in setting tuition as a means to solve financial difficulties.

Majority Of Inters Refuse To Work In Contract Dispute

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — All but 14 of San Francisco General Hospital's 63 interns are striking today in demands for improved patient care, better facilities and formal contracts covering their work.

Dr. Francis Curry, city health director, who announced 14 had worked Thursday, reported that despite the walkout "There is no problem regarding patient care."

At a news conference, Dr. Russell Buss said he and other interns believe patients are in jeopardy and contended most of the flaws in the city-owned institution resulted from mismanagement.

Dr. David Richman, another spokesman for the interns, declared the strike was designed to "dramatize the needs of the patients" and demands for more X-ray facilities, more doctors and nurses and more supplies.

Interns had been working under an agreement which paid them $8,300 a year for working 65 to 100 hours a week. They seek a contract carrying job descriptions, the amount of pay and fringe benefits.

Curry and Joseph Mignola, assistant public health director for hospital services, agreed with the interns' complaints.

"We're all concerned about the same things," Mignola said. "We know improvements have to be made. We're in agreement about almost everything they want, but we're dealing with City Hall hangups."

"Our workload is going up and we're under-appropriating."

San Francisco is planning a new hospital, but Mignola said, "The interns are young and they have to move fast ... they're not satisfied that a new hospital is going to be built."

He described the interns as the "top of the country," picked from 700 applicants last year.

The interns said they would not picket and would keep three of their members in the hospital at all times in case of an emergency.

Plea Set In Money Stealing

Solomon Marquez Jr., 31, of San Francisco, has been arraigned in Marin Municipal Court on a charge of attempting to steal about $400 in coins collected from Sausalito parking meters.

He is to plead to the charge next Tuesday.

A parking enforcement officer said he saw Marquez take the money from city hall and attempt to stuff it into a paper bag.

LIGHTNING FAST 'AIRTRAIN' MODELED

A Munich train locomotive factory built this model of a 'transrapid' express train without wheels which railroad planners expect to have operational in West Germany within 10 years. The 300-mph train will whiz along on magnetic 'pillows' produced by diesel electric generators. A Munich aircraft company has already built an experimental track for a similar train with 36 heavy cars traveling up to 240 mph.

78-Year-Old Hit By Car, Badly Hurt

A 78-year-old Tamalpais Valley woman was critically injured yesterday when she was struck by a car while walking along Shoreline Highway near her home, the California Highway Patrol has reported.

Maude M. Cochran, of 332 Shoreline Highway, was reported in critical condition today in the intensive care unit at Marin General Hospital. She suffered a fractured pelvis and two broken legs in the mishap.

Officers said she was walking along the highway at 6:50 p.m. when she was struck by a car driven by Glenn M. Jannilla, 21, of 341 Jean Street, Tamalpais Valley.

Jannilla told officers he was nearing a curve at about 30 miles an hour when he saw the woman in front of him. He could not avoid her, he said, and the impact forced her onto the hood of the car.

Inspector Revolts Against City Hall

The Fairfax City Council, after being accused of ignoring rundown conditions in city hall, voted $9,000 last night for repairs. (Another Fairfax Council story, page 1)

The move came after Dale W. Hostrup, city building inspector, rose unexpectedly during the council meeting to criticize the council for failure to take steps to correct long-standing defects in the aging building.

Citing an overloaded electrical system, sagging supports and cracking walls, Holstrup said, "I don't think any employee should be asked to work in that building. There is $9,000 in the budget (for repair work.) Let's get it fixed up."

Holstrup fumed that he was called upon in his official duties to enforce building standards for the private sector but forced to overlook conditions at city hall.

The council, in a 4-1 vote, Mayor Frank J. Egger dissenting, directed city officials to correct wiring defects, acknowledged to be the most critical problem, and then report back to the council on what other repairs can be made with what's left of the $9,000.

Egger, bemoaning voter defeat in 1968 of a $500,000 bond issue to build a new civic center, said the funds would do little to correct the problems.

He noted that the city's previous building inspector had said "in effect that the building should be condemned" and that the council several years ago received reports from other building experts that the structure should be closed.

Holstrup acknowledged the $9,000 would fall far short of bringing city hall up to building standards but said it would at least serve to make the structure more acceptable to employees.

The council also voted $90 to install a partition in the police department — the issue which brought Holstrup's complaints.

The Fairfax City Council also:

POLICEMAN — Voted, 3-2, Robert R. Souza and Lee Nelder dissenting, to hire John Cooper as a probationary patrolman at a monthly salary of $727. The council had gone behind closed doors to discuss the appointment after Nelder expressed fears that Cooper, fourth on an eligibility list, might not be best qualified. His subsequent bid to call for a new list was defeated. The first three on the list either accepted other police jobs or were not recommended for appointment by Chief James Orr.

STREET — Settling a long-standing dispute, voted, 3-2 — Souza and Nelder again opposed —to hire Neil Koch of Novato as a street maintenance man at $613 a month and to let the city's personnel board of review resolve the complaint of Louis Soldavini, who had sought the job but was turned down because he was serving on the city parks and recreation commission.

EXAMS — Voted to ask neighboring communities if they would conduct examinations for openings for police lieutenant and sergeant, as Fairfax is without a city administrator. Because of failure to hold the sergeant's exam, bad morale has developed in the police department, said Mel Dollahite, vice president of the policeman's association.

CABLE TV — Approved a new rate structure for Clearview Systems and altered the cable television firm's franchise with the city to increase city revenue from the pact from 2 per cent to 5 per cent and setting a termination date of 1979.

LABORATORY — Endorsed creation of a county crime laboratory.

STOP SIGN — Voted, 4-1, Egger dissenting, to place a stop sign on Park Road at Merwin Avenue. Egger noted there was a stop sign a block away.

EXTENSION — Allocated $6,000 for a fire line extension on Cypress Drive.

APPOINTMENTS — Renamed Charles L. Eckles to the design review board and Hugh Gallagher and William T. Benson to the personnel board of review. Egger said there was still an opening on the board of review, as well as one on the park and recreation commission.

SIGN — Set a public hearing on the city's proposed sign ordinance for Feb. 22.

DANCE — Denied the request of Headwell Productions to conduct a rock dance Feb. 13 at the Fairfax Pavilion, Nelder, Cornelis Van Vliet and Souza voting against the event.

BUDGET — Heard Egger direct city department heads to prepare preliminary budget requests for fiscal 1971-72.

OAK MANOR — Said Egger could proceed with a study of city annexation of the Oak Manor area.

MEETING — Set its next meeting for 8 p.m. Monday.

Plea Today In Cruising Club Arrest

Four men have been arraigned in Marin Municipal Court on a charge of burglarizing the Sausalito Cruising Club Tuesday.

Eric Ansley Van Horn, 20, of 24 Sunnyside Avenue, Mill Valley, was to plead to the charge today.

The cases of Newton Byrd McCarthy, 20, of Gate 5, Sausalito; Steven Pope Coleman, 18, of no known address, and Mark Rolland McCready, 19, of 47 Coronet Avenue, Mill Valley, were referred to the probation department for a report Feb. 11 on whether they are acceptable to juvenile court.

They were arrested around 3 a.m. Tuesday when a Sausalito resident went to check his boat, docked near the club, for damage from the bay oil spill. He noticed a figure in a window of the club house and apprehended McCarthy at gunpoint.

Sausalito police were called and found Van Horn a short time later on the Napa Street pier. McCready and Coleman were arrested later after they had jumped into the bay to escape

Old Adobe Board Eyes Fifth School

The Old Adobe School District board, Petaluma, decided last night that a fifth school will be on the drawing boards by the time construction begins on Miwok Valley School this spring.

District Supt. Dean D. Magowan said that by using the normal growth pattern set by the state, the district will be able to justify construction of another 14-room school by summertime.

Magowan said building plans will be generally the same as Miwok Valley School to speed the construction process. Miwok Valley is presently set to be a 14-classroom building, but Magowan told the board he would return to the State Building Committee in April or May to report enough growth to warrant a six-classroom addition before construction is even finished.

Magowan said the board would also begin a review of the ratio of staff members to students with the possibility of hiring an additional administrator and 10 staff members to accomodate the expected enrollment increase next September of between 300 and 600 students.

The Old Adobe School District Board Also:

ADVISERS — Approved the establishment of a 20-member citizens committee to study and make recommendations on district philosophies and goals. Magowan said letters would be mailed to prospective members with a meeting scheduled for Feb. 10.

BONDS — Approved the sale of $165,000 in bonds for construction of Miwok Valley School.

TEACHER — Approved the employment of Linda Horciza as a first grade teacher at La Tercera School at a salary of $4,435 for the remainder of the year.

DRESS CODE — Heard that the professional-relations committee of the Old Adobe Teachers Association had approved pantsuits for teachers, but said they must retain a neat appearance.

CUSTODIAN — Authorized an additional custodian position to improve building maintenance.

Scout Will Challenge Show Reply

An Explorer Scout in San Anselmo declared today he will appeal to the Marin County Board of Supervisors for permission to hold a giant sports show at the Civic Center fairgrounds from April 29 through May 3.

"I'm going to take my proposal to Mr. Arrigoni (Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr.) and then to the board of supervisors," said Terry Halbert, a senior at Sir Francis Drake High School. He is a member of Explorer Post No. 15, which wants to put on the show.

Assist. County Administrator Thomas F. Campanella said yesterday that the sports show at the Civic Center ground may be turned down because it has developed into a commercial type of activity, and the expected crowd of 100,000 will create problems in traffic control and security.

Young Halbert replied that the show was a commercial sports show from the beginning, and county officials knew it when they approved the show last November. As for the crowds, Halbert said his group planned all along to take care of its own crowds. "We're willing to pay for security of the show but not for Angela Davis."

The youth said the show will go on.

The San Anselmo Lions Club, which sponsors Halbert's post, is not so sure. George Fish of the club, who serves as liaison with the post, said he had advised the boys that the county had turned down the show. "I called Terry Halbert on Jan. 14 or 15 and gave him a definite no."

Reed Board Hires Aide Under Hollis

Another Marin County Schools office employee has been hired by the Reed School District to fill a district administrative post until a permanent superintendent can be found.

He is Lester Dunn, administrative assistant for the county. The Reed Board agreed Tuesday to pay the county office $80 a day for his services. Acting Supt. Irwin Karp said Dunn will work with him as acting assistant superintendent.

The first county schools employee to work for Reed, Stanley H. Friese, served as interim superintendent from June 8 until Jan. 4, when he was recalled to the county office by County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis.

Friese's stay in the district was the subject of some controversy in October when Reed trustees criticized him for taking time to deliver a report to the county school board.

Hollis reacted by cancelling Friese's contract, and then relented and agreed to allow him to remain on the job until Jan. 4, when the contract for Friese's services expired.

Tuesday's action was an extension of the expired contract, but at a reduced rate and for a different administrator.

In other business, the board heard teachers' comments on five personnel policies proposed for the district, and promised to take them into account before adopting the policies. They included tenure, probationary status, assignment within the district and evaluation of probationary and tenured personnel.

Fund Loss Blamed On Seashore

Shoreline Unified School District is suffering a $250,000 a year loss in tax revenue because of the Point Reyes National Seashore and the placing of land in agricultural preserves.

Supt. Charles A. McCully said the revenue has dropped because the seashore land is off the tax rolls and land in agricultural preserve is assessed about one-third its value.

Trustees last night called for legislation to reimburse the district for such revenue losses, McCully reported "It's having a strong, adverse effect on the district, he said.

McCully said he would seek state legislation on agricultural preserves and make federal officials aware of the tax loss resulting from the seashore.

The Shoreline Unified School District also:

TRUSTEES — Voted to consolidate the trustee election with the Marin County School Board election April 20. Terms of all seven trustees will expire, because it was decided when the district was formed that all would serve until the 1971 election.

OUTDOOR EDUCATION — Approved an agreement for sixth, seventh and eighth grade pupils to attend a Sonoma County outdoor education program May 20-June 4 at Camp Cazadero at a cost of $19 per pupil.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted the resignation of Ralph Nixon, principal at Tomales Elementary School, effective the end of the school year, and the resignations of Thomas Joynt and Joseph Chiara, teaching assistants at Tomales High School.

HIRED — Authorized hiring Susan Eggling as a part-time teacher at Tomales High at a salary of $3,280 for the remainder of the school year.

Hotel Slaps Storer With $25,000 Suit

A $25,000 breach of contract suit has been filed in Marin Superior Court against former Marin County supervisor Thomas T. Storer by the owners of the Marshall Hotel in Marshall.

The suit charges that Storer, and ten John Does, took over the operation of the hotel and tavern in March 1969 and agreed to pay $1,000 monthly rent, as well as to pay all the debts of the hotel.

Storer and others opened the hotel on April 18, 1969, as the Lion's Share, formerly of Sausalito and now operating in San Anselmo.

The suit, filed on behalf of the Marshall Hotel Inc., charges that the hotel operation was closed by the Internal Revenue Service in January 1970 because Sorer and his unnamed partners failed to pay federal withholding taxes.

VANDENBERG AFB, CALIF. (UPI) — A secret satellite employing a Titan III B-Agena combination rocket was launched Wednesday from this coastal aerospace center by an Air Force-industry team.

Study Zone Idea Hit By Cotati

A proposal to declare the entire City of Cotati a study zone was rejected last night by the city council, saying it would await a recommendation from professional planners.

The council had received the proposal from the citizens planning advisory committee, which has been working with planning consultants Herman D. Ruth and Associates of Berkeley on a new general plan.

The council said that a study zone may be necessary later, but that it preferred to wait until May when the planning Consultants' report is scheduled for completion.

The committee had suggested the study zone as a means of putting a freeze on rezonings and development until all facts have been gathered and decisions can be made with more information.

The council set special meetings to review the planning progress for Feb. 23, March 9 and March 23.

The Cotati City Council also:

DOGS — Heard that police officers had difficulty enforcing the new 24-hour leash ordinance because city pound facilities can accommodate only four dogs. The council suggested that an agreement be worked out with private kennels to house the animals.

JOINT MEETING — Set a joint meeting Monday with the Rohnert Park City Council at 7:30 p.m. at the Cotati Veteran's Memorial Building to study a planned residential development and a possible merger of the police departments.

EXTENSION — Granted an extension of a month to Gem Construction Co. to complete the sewer line hook-up with Rohnert Park.

Man Arrested In Assault Case

Brian Lee Gilbert, 20, of 808 Reichert Avenue, Novato, was arrested by Novato police yesterday on suspicion of attempted rape of a 20-year-old Novato woman Dec. 27 at the Nave Shopping Center.

Gilbert, sought for questioning in connection with the alleged rape, was arrested on a traffic warrant at 11:15 a.m. near 1410 South Novato Boulevard.

He was booked into Marin County Jail in lieu of $10,000 bail and scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Harbor Tours Challenges Span Board's Ferryboats

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Harbor Tours and Harbor Carriers filed suit yesterday in superior court seeking an order to prevent the Golden Gate Bridge District from operating tours of San Francisco Bay.

The plaintiff said the district, which recently began operating a commuter ferryboat service, was offering special group rates. The complaint also said the district sold round-trip tickets to persons who have no intention of dismounting from the ferryboat.

These practices, the private tour operators said, are illegal because they are not authorized by laws giving the district its powers. A permanent injunction against the district was requested.

Youths Are Cited For Burglaries

Three youths have been cited by Corte Madera police on suspicion of burglarizing six schools last weekend.

The three youths, Andrew E. Jacobsen, 13, of 30 Kensington Road, San Anselmo; Randy Sturgeon, 13, of 1 Park Way, Lagunitas, and Joe Gardner, 12, of 76 Madrone Avenue, San Anselmo, were cited to juvenile authorities Wednesday after an anonymous tip linked them to the crimes, officers said.

Detective William E. Obershaw said today the youths are suspected of burglarizing Red Hill and Wade Thomas schools in San Anselmo Friday. They also are suspected of entering Adaline Kent and Wolfe Grade schools inKentfield, Del Mar School in Tiburon and Neil Cummins School in Corte Madera on Saturday.

About $40 in cash was taken from Del Mar School, four microphones valued at $95 each from the Neil Cummins School, pocket watches from Wolfe Grade School, small change from Adaline E. Kent School and undetermined matter from Redhill and Wade Thomas schools.

Extension Of Water Channels Wins Approval

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Planning Commission yesterday approved proposals by the Sonoma County Water Agency to extend two water channels in Petaluma.

The planners approved the alignment extending the existing storm drain off Shasta Avenue to serve an additional portion of Shasta Avenue, Petaluma Boulevard North and Cemetery Lane at the Petaluma city limits.

Also approved was the proposed alignment to extend the Capri Creek channel from the Petaluma River eastward across Highway 101 to North McDowell Boulevard to a mile south of Corona Road. The planners suggested that additional trees and landscaping be included in final plans.

Lund Marriage Is Dissolved

The eight-year marriage of Erik H. Lund, former Bolinas-Stinson School District trustee, has been dissolved in Marin Superior Court.

Lund's wife, Deanne, filed for the dissolution.

Mrs. Lund was given custody of the couple's three children, David, 8, and Kristin and Karen, both 6, and was awarded the family home at 9 Avenida Olema, Stinson Beach.

Lund, 30, a pharmaceutical products salesman, served on the school district board from July 1969 until he resigned last October, saying he was moving to Portland.

Possession Charge Is Dismissed

A charge of possessing marijuana against Kimberley Mitchell, 21, of Tiburon, has been dismissed in Marin Municipal Court.

Judge David Menary Jr. dismissed the charge when the district attorney's office said it was not ready to proceed with prosecution of the case.

Motion To Drop Counts Is Denied

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A motion to set aside criminal contempt charges against four unions involved in the strike against the Independent-Journal was turned down yesterday.

U.S. District Judge William T. Sweigert also refused a motion for a new trial on the charges.

Three of the unions, Local 21 of the International Typographical Union, Teamsters Locals 70 and 85, were found guilty of criminal contempt. The three, along with ILWU Local 10, were also found guilty of civil contempt.

Officers of the union appeared yesterday to hear sentences but Sweigert continued the matter until this afternoon after a two-hour hearing.

During the session, Leon Olson, president ITU Local 21, offered to submit all of the strike issues to Sweigert for binding arbitration.

Sausalito Meeting Halted; No Quorum

The regular meeting of the Sausalito Planning Commission, scheduled for Wednesday, was canceled because of a lack of quorum, Planning Director H. Eric Borgwardt reported.

Two Plead Guilty To Charges In Valentine's Day Fracas

I-J Special Report

VALLEJO — Two men arrested at the violent Valentine's Day demonstration against the Independent-Journal pleaded guilty yesterday to misdemeanor charges before Judge William E. Jensen in Vallejo Municipal Court.

Sherwin M. Thomas, 29, of San Francisco, and Conrad H. Pallelias, 56, of Daly City, withdrew innocent pleas and entered guilty pleas to counts of failing to disperse from the scene of a riot after being lawfully warned. Judge Jensen ordered both men to appear Feb. 18 for sentencing.

Marin County Deputy Dist. Atty. Gary Ragghianti moved to dismiss other misdemeanor counts against the two men — three against Thomas and four against Pallellas.

Two other men arrested last Feb. 14 also are to appear before Judge Jensen Feb. 18 for probable disposition of their cases.

They are Renaldo R. Batz, 22, of 101 Carlotta Circle, Mill Valley, and Frank D. Chism, 36, of Fremont.

Batz originally was accused on three counts, but not the failure to disperse charge. Ragghianti yesterday filed an amended complaint adding the fourth count. Batz's attorney, Robert D. Carrow of Novato, indicated that Batz would plead guilty to the failure to disperse count on Feb. 18. Carrow and Ragghianti agreed the other three counts would be dismissed.

The Marin district attorney's office said it planned to ask dismissal of all five charges against him on the basis of insufficient evidence to prosecute.

Disposition of the four misdemeanor cases will complete court action on all 12 arrests made at the rally against the I-J.

The demonstration was organized by Bay Area labor organizations in support of San Francisco International Typographical Union Local 21 which struck the I-J on Jan. 7, 1970.

Eight persons were charged with felonies. One of them, AWOL soldier Robert Henry Watkins, 20, pleaded guilty to assualting a police officer last March and was turned over to the Army.

Four others were convicted of felonies by a Solano Superior Court jury in Fairfield on Jan. 8 after more than 11 weeks of trial. They were among seven persons on trail. Two of the other defendants were convicted of misdemeanor offenses and one defendant was acquitted of all charges.

Judge Jensen, who presided over the trial, has set Feb. 5 for sentencing of those convicted.

All the cases were transferred to Solano County because defense attorneys argued their clients could not receive fair trials in Marin County.

Still pending in Vallejo Municipal Court are the cases of a dozen persons arrested in strike-related incidents, either before or after the riot. All are to appear before Judge Jensen Thursday for setting of jury trial dates.

Innocent Plea To Pot Charge

Gary Joel Rosenberg, 24, of no known address, has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of possessing marijuana.

He is to return to court Tuesday for setting of a date for a preliminary hearing.

A plastic bag allegedly containing hashish was found in Rosenberg's possession when he was booked at Marin County Jail for traffic warrants.

Sonoma Bid To Exclude Part From District

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Board of Supervisors has asked the California Air Resources Board to exclude the northern portion of the county from the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District.

The supervisors reasoned that only Southern Sonoma is in the air basin controlled by the district.

The board said it would ask Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Eureka, and Assemblyman Frank P. Belotti, R-Eureka, to introduce legislation separating the county into separate districts.

James Botz, deputy Sonoma county counsel, warned the supervisors at their meeting Monday that the resources board may insist that the north section become part of the Mendocino Air Pollution District.

Board Chairman Ignazio A. Vella said the county would also ask the district to permit a two-year phase-in to convert two open burning dumps and to eliminate backyard burning.

New Juvenile Officer Named

The appointment of Deputy Sheriff Gary J. Bartolotti to the newly created post of juvenile officer in Tiburon has been announced by Lt. Angelo J. Mecchi.

Bartolotti's duties will include speaking engagements, counseling sessions and organization of special athletic events for youths, Mecchi said. Bartolotti has taken part in youth activities in the past.

Bartolotti's appointment follows an announcement by Mecchi last week that he is reorganizing his department to put special emphasis on juvenile crime, narcotics abuse, burglaries and traffic congestion.

Automotive Repair Center Wins Nod

The Novato Plan Review Committee has approved plans by John Angeloni to construct an automotive repair center at 1029-33 First Street.

Committee members approved Wednesday roofing material for St. Anthony of Padua Church to be constructed on the south side of South Novato Boulevard at the south end of Cambridge Street.

Innocent Pleas To Pot Counts

Karen Scott and Gary Haggett, both of San Rafael, have pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to charges of possession marijuana.

A preliminary hearing was set for Feb. 16.

The charges, stemming from their arrest at their home last September, were dismissed in December when the district attorney's office was unable to have the suspected pot analyzed, but refiled yesterday.

Robbery At Lagunitas Commune

Four men, armed with a shotgun and a pistol, last Thursday robbed what Marin County sheriff's deputies described as a Lagunitas hippie commune, the sheriff's office have reported.

The men forced five residents of China House, 25 Park Lane, plus a visitor, to lie on the floor as they demanded money and drugs.

There were no drugs in the house, one of the residents, James E. Brewster, 34, told deputies, but the men did get $80 in cash.

While the robbers were still in the house, another resident, Cherry L. Philippett, 28, arrived home, saw the men, and ran to a neighbor's house to call the sheriff's office.

As the men fled from the house, Brewster got his .45-caliber automatic and engaged in a short gun battle with the culprits, but no one was injured, deputies said.

The men eluded deputies who arrived at the house a short time later and escaped, apparently in an automobile, deputies said.

Marin Media Asked To Hold Names

Names of juvenile offenders should not be published by the County press, Marin youth commissioners declared Wednesday night at a meeting held at Marin General Hospital.

The commissioners asked Youth Coordinator L. Charles Smith to draft a letter to the newspapers, asking them not to publish names of juveniles who are arrested.

Smith said the commissioners did not specify the age below which names should not be revealed but decided that all those who are subject to juvenile court proceedings should be protected.

Marin youth commissioners also:

AREA MEETING — Appointed Chairman Paul Cohen and Sheila Maloney to arrange for countywide rap session at Tamalpais High School during the third week in February.

PUBLICITY — Named Charles Saul and Howard Hodes, both of San Rafael, to a committee to improve publicity for youth commission activities.

NEXT MEETING — Set the next meeting for 8 p.m. Feb. 2 at Marin General Hospital.

Four Adult Classes Still Have Openings

Four classes at Sir Francis Drake Adult Evening High School still have openings, according to Evelyn Leedy of the school.

They are Conversational Spanish and Women's Physical Education on Tuesdays and Bookkeeping and Typing, and Classical Guitar on Thursdays. The spring semester ends March 11.

Car Is Looted Of Personal Items

Personal items including jewelry and clothes, and tape equipment were reported stolen Dec. 19 from a car parked on Hoag Avenue near Front Street, police said yesterday.

Owner of the car, Larry E. Herrenkohl of 407 Clubhouse Drive in Aptos told police that because he was sick he was unable to make the report earlier. He reported that the items were taken between 8 p.m. and 3 a.m. while he was at the Pepperland Dance Hall on Hoag Avenue.

Jaguar XJ6

It's Here!

"Not only is the XJ6 far away the best saloon that Jaguar have ever made - and their standards have always been high - but we believe that in its behaviour it gets closer to overall perfection than any other luxury car we have yet tested, regardless of price."

Motor 10th. May 1969

Most automotive experts would find that description hard to dispute. And it's our opinion that you'd be of the same opinion once you test drive the new Jaguar XJ Sedan for yourself.

You'll find the XJ's performance extraordinary. The appointments truly luxurious. And the ride so quiet it's literally unnerving.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Some Changes Are Noted In Restaurants In Marin

This is the time of the year for recording changes among the Marin restaurants.

It is one reason why we publish our annual dining and wining guide during the middle of February — to inform readers as early as possible in the year.

After Jan. 1 menus are often changed, new hours or policies are adopted, personnel changes may occur and in some cases the entire business operation may be altered.

Since the first of the year in contacting restaurant owners to up-date copy for the dining guide we have come across several new situations — or events not previously brought to your attention. We are mentioning a number of these today and will add more during the next few weeks.

FOR ONE THING, it happens that Ray and Dee Brunal are in the process of selling their liquor license at Oak Tree Inn in San Geronimo. It means they will give up the restaurant here — but will continue its operation and that of the bar until the sale is consummated, which may take another 30 days.

After that they plan on taking a trip to Australia. How long this will be is not yet certain. Who knows? They may decide to stay there.

Application for their license has been made by Harold and Lilo Heller owners of the Palate in Mill Valley.

WE'VE ALREADY MENTIONED that Bill and Adolph's West End Villa has new chef, Gerhard Sterkel, and you are bound to see some new additions to the menu here as he gets into his stride.

Bill Bisson always seem to be turning up some new way or different way to prepare chicken. Try his chicken Toscana, but give him at least a half-hour to prepare it — or his chicken saute Cappellini with baby clams.

THERE IS NEW ENTERTAINMENT at Le Tonneau in Corte Madera on Friday and Saturday nights from 9:30.

This is Joe Speck on the accordion and he probably will have a man on bass to back him up. Joe started out in a big way with a trio in 1960 in Chicago after he was discharged from the Navy. He tookit around the country, traveling about 35,000 miles a year. Eventually he became one of the musical conductors of Ice Capades until last May when he accepted an offer to front a group at the Holiday Inn on Waikiki, Hawaii.

Under its new schedule, breakfasts and lunches are served from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. and a limited dinner menu is served from 5 to 8 p.m. This will not have more than four or five items, including steaks and steak sandwiches. Breakfast and luncheon groups (up to 50) will be accepted by reservation.

Meanwhile, Ed Hannegan has arranged to have live music here in the evenings, with a combo Wednesday, Friday and Saturday nights. And on Sundays from 2 to 8 p.m. there will be a jam session. Bar and cocktail lounge is now open from noon to 8 p.m. on Sundays.

ALFIE'S BOARDWALK RESTAURANT in Tiburon now has a Wednesday night special — spaghetti and meat sauce and garlic bread, all you can eat for $1.50. On Friday nights try the crab cioppino at $4.25. Alfie's has a wine and beer license.

TWO SPECIALS being served at the Kettle in the Montecito Shopping Center, San Rafael:

JOE SPECK
Now at Le Tonneau

The Manager's Special — a "double-necked" hamburger with French fries and salad at $1 — and the Stockbroker's Special — a $2.95 rib-eye steak.

ROMULUS ITALIAN RESTAURANT in San Rafael now serves complete dinner specials all through the week.

Monday through Thursday nights you'll find veal parmigiana or cross ribs of beef at $3.50 and roast chicken is $3.25.

These are in addition to the regular menu.

LE VIVOIR in the Old Casa Madrona Hotel in Sausalito is not observing its usual January closedown this year, although a number of changes are being planned for the next few months.

Both imported French and California wines are now served and M. Deschamps left for Bordeaux and other parts this week where he hopes to line up some exclusive labels. Dinner hours are now from 6 to 10:30 p.m. (5 to 9:30 on Sundays). Make reservations. Closed Mondays.

THE DECK HOUSE in Sausalito now has entertainment Wednesday through Sunday evenings.

LONDON ARMS on the San Anselmo Miracle Mile is now open seven days a week. The Johnsons have a private room here which will seat 50 or 60 and there is equipment for darts, cribbage, checkers and chess. The Marin County Chess Club uses it every Tuesday night from 8 p.m.

Guitarist Fritz Von Gluck plays in the main dining room Saturday and Sunday nights.

THE WINDJAMMER in Tiburon will have its annual winter closing starting next Monday and extending to Feb. 10. The Dock will remain open as usual during this period.

SENOR ALFREDO'S MEXICAN RESTAURANT in San Anselmo has a new bebida made with white wine and orange juice and some other ingredients called Senorita Tania.

And there will be a new menu with several additions including chicken in a few days.

AT TIBURON LODGE, buffet dinners at $1.50 are now served from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m.

IN CASE YOU haven't already discovered it, The Galley at 402 Third Street, San Rafael, has given up being a self-service restaurant. Waitresses now take your order at the table for breakfast combinations, a la carte lunches and dinners. New hours are from 7 a.m. to midnight, with an extra hour added Friday and Saturday nights.

JEAN VACCARO'S paintings are still on display at Eugene's Country Club Restaurant in San Rafael. One of them is the historical Russian church at Fort Ross, painted about six months before it burned down.

One of Eugene's most popular specials is his bacon cheeseburger at $1.65. And still on the menu is his apple pie, just as he made it 25 years ago.

Bike Repair Shop Opening

Mill Valley youth commissioners have set the opening of a bicycle repair center for Sunday at 10:30 a.m. at the Mill Valley Drop-In House, 550 Miller Avenue.

Secretary Mark Noguchi said the commission, at its Wednesday meeting, decided the center would be open until 5:30 p.m. Sundays and from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m. on Mondays. Hours will be expanded if the use warrants it, Noguchi said.

Volunteer workers at the center will teach bicycle repairing and render assistance. Special tools and a bicycle holding jib have been donated, Noguchi reported.

A special feature of Sunday's opening will be a bicycle ride through Mill Valley beginning at 11 a.m. A longer ride along Paradise Drive is planned if enough older riders are present.

Boosters Dance

Marin Catholic Athletic Boosters second annual dinner dance will be held tomorrow night beginning at 6:30 in the Kentfield high school's cafeteria.

College Board Eyes Funds For Oil Study

College of Marin has an unique opportunity to learn what damage an oil spill can do to shoreline ecology, and should ask for state and federal funding for the study, Marin Junior College District trustees agreed last night. (Another college board story, page 1)

Russell Ridge, chairman of the college's biology department, gave a brief summary of activities of the marine biological laboratory at Bolinas. A Standard Oil Co. tanker collision Monday spilled about 800,000 gallons of oil into the Pacific and San Francisco Bay. Much of the oil reached the Stinson Beach-Bolinas shore.

Ridge reported that the laboratory had become a community center for the battle to keep oil from invading Bolinas Lagoon, as well as a main station for treating oil-damaged wildfowl. He had high praise for Craig Hansen, a technologist and adult class teacher at the laboratory, for the way he coordinated operations.

Ridge proposed that the board consider providing staff assistance to Hansen both during the crisis and later, to help evaluate the effects of oil on marine life.

Trustee Robert E. Rogers urged going a step further, in view of the large amounts of data the college amassed earlier on the coastal ecology. He urged action to obtain federal and state funding for studies of the oil's impact.

Standard Oil Co. has paid for additional telephone lines into the laboratory, and has pledged to reimburse the college for other expenses in the oil battle, Ridge noted. He said the firm might also help fund studies of the oil's effects.

The Marin Junior College District board also:

SPECIAL MEETINGS — Set a workshop for board, staff, faculty and students on master planning the north campus, for 8 p.m. Tuesday; a workshop on working drawings for the Kentfield Campus library for 8 p.m. Thursday, and a workshop on the Kentfield campus plan for 5,000 students, for 7:30 p.m. Feb. 1.

BIKE TRAILS — Approved "in principle" county proposals for bicycle paths along both sides of Corte Madera Creek, but stressed the need of preventing motorbikes and scooters from using the trails.

COLLECTIONS — Approved a contract with National Account Systems for collection of delinquent loans from students.

FINANCIAL AID — Postponed to Feb. 4 proposals for addition of a financial aid committee to the college policy and procedures handbook. Student Jerry Coleman spoke, telling the board that the Bible urges help for the poor.

POLLUTION — As the board approved proposals to use glass pipes to handle corrosive waste materials in the Science Center, debated trustee Charles Gray's question as to what extent the materials pollute the Ross Valley. College Supt.-President John A. Grasham said that community sewage treatment facilities always have handled the materials, apparently with no difficulty.

PERSONNEL — Approved a raise, retroactive to Sept. 1, for instructor Eduardo Bodipo-Malumba; agreed to limit part-time teachers' to nine teaching units each, granted faculty members Dorothy Kinkaid and Murray Peterson the right to participate in tax sheltered annuity programs, and received but postponed to Feb. 4 action on sabbatical leave proposals for seven faculty members. Dean of Students Irwin P. Diamond was granted a sabbatical April 1 through June 30.

GIFTS — Accepted donation of a printing press from R. G. Fontana of San Anselmo, and of $500 "for the protection of district property" from the Marin County Association of Insurance Agents.

REPRESENTATIVES — Was introduced to Diane Wickstrom, anthropology instructor and first woman president ofthe Academic Senate, and Bob Mayer, new Associated Students representative and College Center commissioner.

OLD BUSINESS — Approved course changes, the 1971-72 school year calendar and plans to repair storm damage to a service road near the College Center, all discussed at earlier meetings.

ADJOURNED — In memory of Jiri A. Herrmann, late supporter of the college's drama department.

Trustee Harry J. Moore was absent due to illness.

Revised Station Plan Approved

The Fairfax Design Review board has approved a revised plan for a Standard Oil gas station at the intersection of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Bank Street and Broadway.

The plan was turned down April 10, 1970, according to board secretary Ernestine Healy, but accepted on Wednesday night because the oil company reversed the positions of three repair stalls and an office to provide more open space.

Conditions of approval were that vine planting be done on the Broadway frontage; that at least two trees be planted on the Drake side; and that glare under the pump canopy be reduced as much as possible, Mrs. Healy said.

Bay Area Banks Cut Savings Interest Rates

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Bank of America and the Wells Fargo Bank announced Tuesday they were cutting prime interest rates paid to their savers.

Both had been paying 5½ per cent interest rates on one-year time deposits and 5¾ per cent to two-year time deposits.

The banks said those rates would be paid until the maturity of present contracts but that then such rates would be 5 per cent, as compared to the 4½ per cent passbook rate.

Plea Set On Theft Of Car

Steven Terry Odom, 20, of Santa Rosa, was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on a charge of car theft.

He will enter a plea to the charge next Thursday.

Odom was arrested Monday when the car he was driving developed engine trouble on Highway 101 in San Rafael. A California Highway Patrol officer who stopped to assist him noticed there was no key in the ignition. A check revealed the auto had been stolen.

THOMAS E. McCORMICK
Heads psychiatric center

Director Is Selected For Clinic

Dr. Thomas E. McCormick, a Kentfield psychiatrist, was appointed clinical director of the Ross Psychiatric Center, directors of the Marin Mental Health Foundation announced yesterday.

Dr. McCormick succeeds Dr. William J. Dickerson of Kentfield who held the position for over five years.

A member of the staffs of Marin and Ross general hospitals, McCormick is also medical director of the San Francisco Psychodrama Institute, and member of the American Psychiatric and Northern California Psychiatric Associations.

McCormick, who resides in Ross, has practiced in Marin since 1960. He was also in psychiatric residency at Presbyterian Hospital in San Francisco and in Herrick Memorial Hospital in Berkeley.

Lecture To Feature Educational Theories

George von Hilsheimer, founder of a free experimental school in Florida, will speak tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Unitarian Fellowship, San Rafael, on his theories of education.

Hilsheimer, author of the book "How to Live With Your Special Child" is a supporter of the theory that children's problems in education are physical not mental. He heads the Green Valley School in Orange City, Fla.

Harry Guggenheim, Philanthropist, Dies

SANDS POINT, N.Y. (UPI)— Harry F. Guggenheim, a noted financier, philanthropist and former publisher of Newsday, died at his Long Island estate today, police reported.

Cause of death was not immediately known. He was 80 years old.

Guggenheim was publisher of Newsday, a Long Island newspaper, until last year when he sold his controlling interest in the company to the Los Angeles Times. He was the senior partner in the mining and metallurgical firm of Guggenheim Brothers, the head of several foundations, a former ambassador to Cuba, an author and a naval aviator in World Wars I and II.

Guggenheim was born on Aug. 23, 1890, at West End, N.J. After graduating from the Columbia Grammar School in New York City, he studied briefly at Yale University but left to serve an apprenticeship in mining and metallurgy with the American Smelting and Refining Co. in its plants in Mexico from 1907 until 1910.

His great-grandfather, Simon Meyer Guggenheim had begun building the family fortune in mining after he emigrated to the United States from Switzerland in 1848.

In 1910, Guggenheim resumed his education at Cambridge University in England, receiving a BA degree in 1913 and an MA degree in 1918. He played on the Cambridge tennis team.

Also in 1910, he married the first of his three wives, Helen Rosenberg of New York, who gave him two daughters, Mrs. Joan Van de Maele and Mrs. Nancy Williams.

On Feb. 3, 1923, he married Caroline Morton, also of New York, and one daughter, Mrs. Diane Meek, was born to them. On July 1, 1939, Guggenheim married Alicia Patterson of Port Washington, N.Y., the daughter of the late Joseph Medill Patterson, founder and publisher of the New York Daily News, and great-granddaughter of Joseph Medill, founder of the Chicago Tribune.

He and the third Mrs. Guggenheim established Newsday in 1940 with him as its president and Mrs. Guggenheim as editor and publisher until her death on July 2, 1963. He became publisher then and editor two years later. He relinquished his posts at Newsday with its sale to the Los Angeles Times.

Guggenheim also operated a timber and cattle plantation at Cain Hoy, S.C., and bred thoroughbred race horses at Lexington, Ky. His horse, Dark Star, won the Kentucky Derby in 1953, handing Native Dancer the only defeat of his career. He also owned Bald Eagle, the winner of the Washington, D.C., International in 1959 and 1960.

College Forum For Angela Davis

Attorney Terence Hallinan will speak at a forum on the Angela Davis case at 7:30 p.m. today in the student center of the College of Marin in Kentfield, according to Walter Turner of the Marin Steering Committee to defend Miss Davis.

Turner said other speakers will include Carolyn Hughes, a spokesman for Women's Liberation, and Cassandra Davis of the Bay Area Committee to Defend Angela Davis.

Miss Davis is charged with murder, kidnapping and conspiracy to murder and kidnap in the Aug. 7 attempt to free prisoners at the Marin Hall of Justice. During the abortive escape try, Judge Harold J. Haley, Jonathan Jackson (who allegedly brought the guns into Judge Haley's courtroom) and two San Quentin convicts, James McClain and William Christmas were killed.

Leaders Of Scouts Get Top Honors

Three adult Boy Scout leaders received Silver Beaver awards and officers of the Marin Council of Boy Scouts of America were installed for 1970.

The Silver Beavers are the highest honors a local council can bestow. They went to George L. Daum, scoutmaster of Troop 80 in Corte Madera; Richard S. Goldsmith, assistant scoutmaster of Troop 37 in Mill Valley, and Russell F. Dwyer, Kentfield resident and former Boy Scout district chairman and council vice president.

Carroll Walker of San Rafael was installed for a second term as council president. Vice presidents seated were Herbert K. Walton Jr. and Robert A. Roumiguiere of San Rafael, Dr. C. Ray Leininger of Greenbrae and H. J. Haynes of Kentfield. Elmer S. Palmquist of San Rafael began a new term as treasurer, and Robert A. Joy of San Rafael was seated as council commissioner.

Cerruti To Lead Ecumenical Group

Elmo Cerruti of Greenbrae, marketing manager for the Del Monte Corp. has been elected to head the Marin Ecumenical Association for 1971.

He succeeds Douglas P. Ferguson.

Elected with Cerruti were vice president Jean Lovejoy of San Rafael, representing the League of Women Voters of Marin, and secretary-treasurer Jackie Parnell of Tiburon, representing the co-op of Marin.

Named to the executive committee were Henry Arian, Jerry A. Cannon, Ferguson and Ned Weed.

The Marin Ecumenical Association also:

FUNDS — Heard from housing consultant E. Morton Schaffran that more federal funds have been released for lower income housing units and that $4,000 would go toward design of a 66-unit housing development for the elderly planned on Lincoln Avenue in San Rafael by the Catholic Social Service Agency.

HILARITA — Approved a loan of $2,000 to the Tiburon Ecumenical Association to proceed with engineering design for 112 units of family housing planned at the Hilarita Housing Project in Tiburon. This loan supplements $3,000 raised in Tiburon as part of a drive for $7,500 in engineering funds.

Rec Group Names New Officers

The Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission has elected David R. Seyler as "permanent" chairman for the two remaining years of Seyler's terms as commissioner.

Mrs. Joan Walla was elected secretary.

The commission voted to co-sponsor a youth dance Feb. 19 in the Fairfax Youth Commission. The recreation commission said it would require at its next meeting an audit of dance finances from the youth commission, as well as reports from the city recreation director, Police Chief James R. Orr and Fire Chief Charles F. Thornton on their attendance at the dance.

Commissioners also decided Tuesday to require personal appearances by youth spokesmen making any future requests because letters previously received were felt to lack sufficient information for decisions.

The Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission also:

RESTROOMS — Ordered public works crews to begin installation of toilets at the city ballfield before Little League season begins in April.

MATS — Vetoed purchase of new mats for gymnasium and boxing ring use.

At Least Two More Years For Hamilton

I-J Special Report

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Hamilton Air Force Base, widely rumored to be facing a shutdown, has at least two more years of life, according to an Air Force spokesman.

Maj. David J. Shea, an Air Force public information officer in the Pentagon, said yesterday that while he could not assure the life of the base in the event of drastic trims in defense spending, there is no plan to close Hamilton in either the next fiscal year or in fiscal 1972-73.

Shea said Hamilton's immediate future would be imperiled only if Congress chose to make unforeseen drastic cuts in military spending. Only then, it was emphasized, would Hamilton face possible shutdown, as would other military installations.

Congress is under increased pressure to make trims in defense spending, and Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird is expected within the new few weeks to announce cutbacks and possibly closings at Armed Forces installations.

Whether Hamilton faces cutbacks, which would be effective in the coming fiscal year, is not known, although it has been strongly rumored that Two Rock Station in Petaluma will be phased out.

Shea's report in part coincided with one given Wednesday by Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District.

Mailliard said Laird told him at a recent conference that the Defense Department intends to keep Hamilton open.

Restaurant's Register Looted

Money amounting to $100 was taken from the cash register of the Chinese Kitchen at 4220 Redwood Highway, police reported yesterday.

Manager Tom Dai Hon of 1615 Grand Avenue, San Francisco, told police that the burglary occurred between 9:30 p.m. Tuesday and 10:30 p.m. Wednesday. No other items were reported taken.

Country Club Owners Elect

Col. Ralph R. Patterson has been reelected president of the Marin Country Club Estates Homeowners Association.

Don B. Curran was elected vice president. Treasurer Harold W. Collin and secretary Joan E. Kett, secretary, were reelected.

Membership was reported Tuesday at a record 215 as compared to 189 last year. The association donated $25 toward formation of a cub scout troop.

Hearing Planned In Possession

A preliminary hearing has been set in Marin Municipal Court for David Raymond Minard, 18, of no known address.

Minard is charged with possessing marijuana Dec. 15 when Novato police stopped his car because of a broken tail light.

Dismiss Charges In Property Case

Charges of possession of stolen property against Robert Gordon Baldwin, 27, of Richmond, and Albert Roy Roberts, 39, of San Pablo, have been dismissed by Judge David Menary Jr. of Marin Municipal Court.

The two were arrested Dec. 9 by Berkeley police who said they saw the men unloading televisions and stereo equipment allegedly stolen only hours before from Braverman's Furniture Store in San Anselmo.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Milton Hyams said an investigation disclosed the men were not responsible for the burglary and so could not be tried in Marin.

The possession of stolen property case will be referred to Alameda County authorities, Hyams said.

Houseboat Motor Reported Stolen

A motor, valued at $300, was stolen from a houseboat parked at a service station on Redwood Highway near Mill Valley Jan. 6 or 7, Marin County Sheriff's Office reported yesterday.

The motor and the boat were owned by Kenneth S. Garwick of 245 Richardson Drive, Strawberry, deputies said.

Novato Industrial Park Name Backed By Chamber

The Novato Chamber of Commerce Board recommended yesterday that the name Novato Industrial Park be restored for the industrial development planned by Marin Soiland in Ignacio.

Directors were disappointed that the development, formerly known as Novato Industrial Park, had been renamed Ignacio Industrial Park, reported Billie Garl, chamber secretary.

It is the only industrial park planned in the Novato area and directors felt it should be identified with Novato, Mrs. Garl said.

Soiland and associates plan to develop the park on 260 acres along Bel Marin Keys Boulevard, east of Hamilton Industrial Park.

The Novato Chamber of Commerce board also:

MEMBERSHIP — Announced that Richard Oddie of the area department of the Bank of America, San Francisco, will talk about growth in the North Bay at the membership luncheon at noon Feb. 4 at Alvarado Inn.

MEETINGS — Voted to change its meeting time from evenings to noon on the third Thursday of each month, with meetings to be at various restaurants.

Assault Case Plea Slated

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Morgan Gilbert Doyle of Ross is to plead next Friday in Superior Court to a charge of assaulting a police officer.

Doyle, 19, a student at the University of California, was indicted earlier this month for allegedly attacking a San Francisco patrolman during the tumultuous finale to an antiwar demonstration on Nob Hill.

The demonstration was to protest the speech of Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky before the Commonwealth Club at the Fairmont Hotel.

An Optimistic Report On Releases Of Radiation

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A Federal Atomic Energy Commissioner says the quantities of radiation released from nuclear power plants "are quite low and will remain low for the next generations."

James T. Ramey, a member of the Atomic Energy Commission, made the statement Thursday to the State Environmental Quality Council, a conservation advisory board which is investigating the potential impact on the natural environment of nuclear-powered electric plants.

Helen B. Reynolds, a council member, asked Ramey how the AEC could be "confident" that radiation exposure to humans at a certain level was safe "when it takes 10 to 20 years for cancer and leukemia to appear."

He replied that radiation had been studied by scientists for "25-odd years" and that much more is known about the effects than is known about other scientific phenomenon.

Ramey said as far as radiation from nuclear plants was concerned, "we believe these levels are quite low and will remain low for the next generations and will be safe."

He also pointed out "there hasn't been a significant accident in the whole history of licensed nuclear plants."

Government monitoring of atomic power plants, he said, has shown that quantities of radiation "released are so small that it has been difficult to measure any increase in radioactivity above natural background levels in the rivers and streams."

May's Comedy Set Feb. 2

Elaine May's comedy "Adaptation" will be presented Feb. 2 at Dominican College in San Rafael by the American Conservatory Theater touring company.

Scheduled for 8 p.m. at Angelico Hall, "Adaptation" employs the format of a television game show in which the contestant is confronted with numerous moral and emotional situations.

The touring company is under the direction of James Milton.

Her Campaign For Tiburon Bike Path

By PAT BALMES

"Don't be afraid of your ideas to keep our environment healthy," urges Mrs. Bonnie Raisin of Tiburon, who brought to a swift, successful conclusion a lengthy effort to obtain the two-mile strip of Northwestern Pacific Railroad right-of-way for a bicycle and pedestrian path along heavily traveled Tiburon Boulevard.

"Write letters! Call up and be put on your city council's agenda! City councils are only as effective as their interested citizens," Bonnie advises.

The mother of four says,

"I had very strong feelings when I heard the condemnation hearing had been postponed again. I was sad when I thought we weren't going to get a safe bike path because I was riding to work in Tiburon, with my flats on, along that busy state highway. Me and my worry beads! And my 10-year-old daughter was riding with me to Reed School."

BONNIE KNEW a safe bicycle path would link friends in different neighborhoods, shoppers to downtown merchants and exercise-seeking businessmen to bike racks at the ferry harbor. An increasing number of students prefer to ride their bicycles to school instead of traveling by crowded school busses, according to the Tiburon mother. "With a safe bike path, more people will find it feasible to ride bikes: that will clean our air," says conservation-minded Bonnie.

Rearing four children single-handed and working as secretary in a Tiburon real estate firm, Bonnie has little time for causes.

"But I wanted to help my children. I could do a simple thing like arranging a safe place for them to ride bikes; that could be the most important thing," says Bonnie pointing out recent accidents to bicyclists.

"Young people need to see results," she says, noting the great satisfaction she felt from her work to raise funds for one operation for one of the Napalm victims.

Influenced toward community affairs by her family background, Mrs. Raisin relates,

"My father was a criminal attorney and, later, judge in Santa Barbara where I was reared on a five-acre fruit ranch. I had my own horse, learned to swim in the Pacific and backpacked with my family. My great grandfather was sheriff of Lompoc, 50 miles north of Santa Barbara. Even my sister, who lives in Oregon, is attending city council meetings to urge building an indoor tennis court."

A graduate of University of California at Los Angeles, Bonnie did modeling in Los Angeles and came to San Francisco to work in an advertising agency in 1955.

"I used to walk up the hills to work with my high heels in my hand," says Bonnie, who avails herself of the outdoors whenever possible.

BONNIE BIKES, swims at Tiburon Peninsula Club and plays touch football with her children, John, 12; Sally, 10; Preston, 8 and Capp, 5. She runs at 7 a.m. — almost every morning for the past two years. With neighbors she covers a mile-and-a-half to two miles along Tiburon's ridge.

"I particularly enjoyed running in Mill Valley recently and jogging into a pancake breakfast at the First Baptist Church, served on the last Thursday of each month."

Fifth-generation Californian Bonnie says,

"I would like to feel I had done a few things to contribute to this environment," indicating boxes of cans and bottles ready for her children to pedal to Tiburon Recycling Depot on Saturday.

A woman of many enthusiasms, Bonnie would love to see residents cultivate an organic garden for a greenbelt in Tiburon, similar to Santa Barbara's. And she is delighted that a 4-H chapter is forming in Tiburon.

ATTENDING A CITY council meeting, she heard two Belvedere girls, Leslie Anixter and Jany Nyhan, students at Del Mar School, plead,

"Presently many Del Mar students are riding their bicycles along Tiburon Boulevard to and from school. We feel this is a hazardous situation and would appreciate your help in securing a safer route for bicycles. We have heard of two incidents of bikes being struck by cars so far this school year..."

They offered to sell chocolates to defray expenses of blacktopping.

So Bonnie launched her whirlwind campaign at Thanksgiving. First she wrote to Larry Hoyt, vice president of Northwestern Pacific Railroad, stating in part,

"We are deeply concerned that these delays are endangering the safety of increasing numbers who are presently bicycling and walking on Tiburon Boulevard."

With encouragement from Tiburon's City Council, Bonnie got officials endorsement, or separate letters sent to Mr. Hoyt, from Belvedere City Council, Tiburon Planning Commission, Reed Union School District board of trustees, Tiburon Peninsula Advisory Committee and Belvedere-Tiburon Committee for Environment. She explained the impact for children of a safe bicycle path to new interim superintendent Stanley Friese.

Bonnie printed stacks of copies of her letter to be circulated for signatures in Tiburon.

"We had to start a separate one for poeple who wanted to endorse the petition, but lived in other areas."

Card tables were set up in shopping centers and staffed by children, soliciting signatures.

A TIBURON resident for the past 13 years, Bonnie knew key people in different neighborhoods who would recruit neighbors to distribute about 20 letters each. Their children usually did the leg work of soliciting signatures. She knew these key people through her work for Mother's March of Dimes and the Democratic Party.

Two thousand, eight hundred signatures were sent with Bonnie's letter to the railroad.

"We were promised five minutes to talk to Mr. Hoyt, but we got half an hour," remembers Bonnie, remarking on the good will earned by the railroad because negotiations were amicable.

Bonnie's only setback was the failure of the new interim superintendent of Reed Union School District to expedite her effort.

"It was an exasperating thing, after my letter was endorsed by Reed Union School District's board of trustees, not to have support of the schools. I was discouraged by the difficulty in getting approval for what seemed an obvious need of the children," Bonnie relates.

"The superintendent would not approve my poster contest in the schools in time to promote the festival, or a free period for student discussion of the bike path or allow my letter to be circulated freely in the schools. He would only put me on the next agenda of the board of trustees, which was too late! Nor would he take the phone vote of the trustees or give his O.K." reports Bonnie.

HER NEXT step was a pep rally, "Festival for Pedalers." To attract bicyclists Bonnie started a children's poster contest. A unicycle was donated by a Mill Valley cyclery to the winner and the posters were displayed in Tiburon stores.

About 700 bicyclists started from a grocery store at the point of Tiburon on Dec. 13 at 12:30 p.m. to dramatize the need for safe bicycle paths in Marin by riding to Richardson Bay Park behind a Sheriff's Department escort. Pedalers brought bag lunches and stayed for Dixieland music, speeches and prizes for youngest and oldest participants.

"Our churches and young people encourage such getting together. The spontaneous community effort helped push this bike path through," says Bonnie.

BONNIE'S TRIUMPH came at Tiburon City Council meeting Jan. 11 when deeds were accepted to a 60-foot wide right-of-way from Trestle Glen to Mar West Streets, thus ending the long effort to obtain the strip for use as a bicycle path.

But Bonnie warns,

"It's imperative that the bike path be finished before something else takes precedence. Individuals who said they wanted the bike path should watch its progress. It gets very lonely at city council meetings! The bike path could be put on the agenda at an early hour, so students could attend."

MRS. BONNIE Raisin of Tiburon lured Northwestern Pacific Railroad out of court and to the bargaining table, after a near-stalemate on a bicycle and pedestrian path on its right-of-way along Tiburon Boulevard. Showing what a woman can do from her own backyard, Bonnie attended city council meetings, drafted a letter to the railroad, recruited adults and children to get 2,800 signatures for her petition and ran a poster contest and a pep rally.

MISS AMERICA of 1966, Debbie Bryant Wilson, who logged over 300,000 air miles of travel during her "reign," continues to travel, make commercial films, television appearances and to play hostess of the Miss America Pageant. No gourmet herself, she was in San Rafael yesterday promoting a new quick-dinner food product.

Former Miss America: 'Pageant Is Relevant'

By BETH GAEDDERT

The Miss America pageant is not exploitive of women, says Debbie Bryant Wilson, Miss America of 1966, who was at the I-J yesterday promoting a food product.

"There are pageants, I grant, that do judge women only on beauty and do exploit them to an extent," she said, explaining that 50 per cent of the judging for the Miss America pageant is on talent and a great deal depends on the personal interview.

"The interview is not necessarily to judge intelligence," she said, but rather to ascertain whether the contestant "is able to meet people, think on her feet, things like that."

"Miss America is not supposed to be the most beautiful girl in the country," said Debbie who came dressed in rose velveteen pants with matching midi coat.

She said Miss America appears throughout their year for the three main sponsors of the pageant who use advertising time on the television show and who are responsible for $250,000 in scholarships distributed on local, state and national levels.

"That's all the sponsors have to do with it," she said.

"Her duties vary," said Debbie. "She does make appearances for those three sponsors, but she also attends fund-raising events for civic organizations, sponsored by groups like the Jaycees and Chambers of Commerce."

In her year Debbie Bryant, former Miss Kansas also appeared for United Fund, cancer crusades and for U.S. Savings Bonds.

"There are a lot of things to which she just gives her time," she said.

The Miss America pageant is relevant, she said, because it is directed toward girls who are interested in furthering their education. But Debbie admitted that meeting her husband ended the ambition to be a pediatrician, which she professed during the contest.

Many former Miss Americas "simply want to become homemakers," said Debbie who, when not traveling on promotion trips for several companies, lives in Maitland, Fla., a suburb of Orlando, with Rod Wilson, her attorney husband.

"I'm home for three or four months and I'm ready to travel again," she said.

A native of Kansas City, Mo., she returned to attend the University of Kansas after her "reign" and then changed her major from chemistry to English. She was graduated from Christian College in Columbia, Mo., in 1965 and from KU in 1969.

She met Rod Wilson at the university through a friend who was dating one of his fraternity brothers. He survived being labeled, "Mr. America" of the law school because he is very outgoing, she said. He was treated as a celebrity by his friends when he started dating her but later they realized the experience didn't really change him and, just like movie stars, he was really the same "before he made it big," she laughed.

Debbie enjoys the public life, making appearances and traveling. She would like to continue for a while but does "see a claming down" in the future. She wants to go back to school to get a masters degree in English.

"I'd like to do some writing, analazying and critiquing literature," she said.

Debbie claims she was unaware that as Miss America she would be expected to travel for a year, although she said she had always wanted to enter the competition, and became seriously interested in it in high school when she did some free lance modeling in Kansas City.

"I guess I should have known about the traveling because as a state winner you travel a lot," she said, adding that she enjoyed the "excitement of being in new and different cities, staying in the hotels and going to Broadway plays."

Lack of privacy and time to be alone were the only things she missed during her year. "Very often you are recognized and it's usually when your hair doesn't look right or you slept late and weren't ready." Also, in 1966 it wasn't proper for Miss America to be seen in slacks. Now she can wear a pantsuit, however. "Always being 'on' was tiresome," Debbie remarked.

In Florida, where she isn't recognized, she goes shopping in shorts and can

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Some Days Are For Dreaming, Not For Solving Problems

DEAR HELEN:

Remember 10 years ago when you lived in Oregon and the rains came down for three months straight, and you wrote a "cabbages and kings" column called "I Wish, I Wish"?

Well, I still live in Oregon, and the skies still endlessly open up, and I wish, I wish, I wish you'd reprint that column. As I remember, it started "Today isn't for p r o b l e m s, but for ng . . ." — PLEASE???

DEAR PLEASE:

Be glad to, since your letter arrived during a dreary California rain — just right for "wishing." Forthwith:

I wish I could lie in tall grass and name the cloud people and perhaps see a V-neof wild geese flying; or ashion necklaces from ohnny-jump-ups and whises out of hollow weeds; or aybe find a doodlebug's ole and blow in it to make im surface. (But instead I t at the window and watch e gutters flood).

I wish peanut butter sandiches didn't give me the iccoughs.

I w i s h I'd look out the i n d o w and see an elehant, with a turbanned aharaja on top, plodding p the front walk — but not n the lawn.

I wish my daffodils would l blossom pink and blue ith lavender stripes and g around as dahlias, and ouldn't that wow the local arden club?

I wish just once I could atch a television mystery riller without someone king, "What happened hile I was out of the om?"

I wish the U.S. m a i l s ould go on strike for three d one-half weeks except r greeting cards, gifts and ecks.

I wish I'd take the next i r t road I see and it ouldn't get me stuck in a ud hole, but would lead to tree-enshrined farmhouse ere a motherly lady rves huckleberry wine d homemade bread and arhound candy.

I wish I were the zany pe who would jet to New ork just for a blintz (where they make 'em best) and then fly home again without even going uptown.

I wish I c o u l d catch a hummingbird, with or without salt.

I wish we had an automatic conveyor from our woodpile to the fireplace, and not unpredictable kids either.

I wish I had the perfect answer to every problem in my m a i l. (And for every question our kids ask.)

I wish an airplane would crash (gently) in our back yard and its unhurt passengers were world leaders, and lasting peace would be arranged in our front room.

I wish I had t a k e n up parachute jumping (well . . . sky-diving then) when it was the adventure I longed for most, because now I no longer long for it and I'll never know what I missed.

I wish I could wish my ironing done.

I wish my husband would tell me I'm the most beautiful, desirable, glamorous, delectable woman on earth without me first reminding him with a small kick on the shins.

I wish I c o u l d find all those fabulous quips I have written on envelopes, bills and margins torn from magazines, so I could produce just one perfect column.

I wish I were a famous comedienne, and could sing and dance, and write like Mark Twain with Leacock overtones, and also that my hair would stay curled in dry climates.

I wish just once I wouldn't get a static electric shock when I take synthetics out of the dryer.

I wish there'd come a time when I'm wearing my slinky hostess gown instead of blue jeans when unexpected guests arrive.

I wish our cat's nesting instincts wouldn't take him to the back of my top file because green eyes shining from darkness is worse than electric shocks from synthetics.

remain anonymous. But on a trip home to Kansas City during the holidays she was noticed everywhere, she said.

While traveling she calls her husband every night.

"He tells me he exists on bologna sandwiches, shw said. Debbie freezes some dinners such as lasagne and tuna casserole, and this trip left him some of the quick dinners she is promoting now.

She says she likes to try new recipes but doesn't do much gourmet cooking.

"All those sauces — and of course clean-up afterward is terrible," she said.

She doesn't think former Miss Americas necessarily have an obligation to continue in some kind of public life unless they enjoyed it to begin with.

"A lot of doors are open to you and a lot of opportunities are made available," she said, adding that some Miss Americas don't take advantage of them and "afterward they just melt into oblivion."

Debbie isn't ready to melt yet.

Italians Contribute Both Romantic Dresses, Shorts

By BRENDA W. ROTZOLL

ROME (UPI)—The big word in Roman high fashions this year was an old and much-used one —romance.

Shorts grabbed the headlines but romantic dresses in soft fabrics adrift with pleats and ruffles garnered the most applause during the six days of shows by some 40 designers.

Paris designers went severe after the 1968 "Paris Spring" of student riots. Then came the hang-up on how to get off the miniskirt craze. The counsels of moderation did not prevail, and skirts tumbled to midcalf or even the ground.

That was fine for Italy, but bad for sales in the prime market of the United States, where women loved their short skirts. What Italy proposes as the next answer is double-barrelled approach—shorts for the woman who wants to bare, and the old "normal" just below the knee length skirt for the woman who does not care to.

VALENTINO HAD both shorts and skirts to the top of the calf in his collection which wound up fashion week Wednesday night — a fitting timing as he still ranks as Rome's top designing name.

The glittering crowd jamming his white and brown salon included actress Gina Lollobrigida, who sported an evening gown with a full red chiffon skirt and a sleeveless bodice made of tiny metal squares. Half the crowd was in red as he asked friends invited to an after-show party to appear in that color.

Red white and blue—in the shades of the U.S. flag — were Valentino's pet colors. He combined them in twos and threes for daytime in a series of dresses with coats, dresses with jackets and gilets (tight short vests), and suits with skirts which unbuttoned over coordinated shorts.

EVENING WEAR was 1930s and 40s glamor girl style with Ginger Rogers hairdos of huge soft curls framing the face and falling to the shoulder.

Long white skirts came slit over black shorts outfits, but the biggest applause of the night came for an ante bellum collection of drifting chiffon field flower prints, all ruffly. They were worn with huge-brimmed hats weighted down with masses of artificial flowers.

Summing up for the Italian summer 1971 — shorts, yes, but also shorter fuller skirts and a move toward the cool cotton shirtwaist dress.

Just 'Quiet Day At Home' On Their 81st Anniversary

MACON, Mo. (UPI)—Ward McDaniel, 102, and his wife Anne, 101, celebrated their 81st year of marriage yesterday.

They spent a quiet day in their small cottage, just as they have done for most of the 29,585 other days of their married life. The McDaniels wanted no celebration.

"They decided they would just rather spend a quiet day at home," said their son Cyril. "After all, there have been a lot of other anniversaries.

"They really get along pretty well," he said. "Dad's sight is poor and mother is deaf, but he is her ears and she is his eyes and they get along."

The odds, according to the U.S. Census Bureau, of both a wife and husband surviving to celebrate their 81st wedding anniversary are 34.4 million to one.

The McDaniels live by themselves, and in a secluded house with no telephone.

Cyril McDaniel, 70, and other members of the family have urged the elderly couple to move for years, and for years they have refused.

Cyril, therefore, drives the 200-mile round trip from his home in Columbia, Mo., at least once a week and sometimes more often to check on his mother and father. He, and other family members, made the drive Thursday.

"But we have finally persuaded them to come live with me and my wife in an apartment I'm building for them in our house in Columbia," Cyril said.

He said his mother continues to do most of her house work and reads, while his father often takes walks in good weather.

Special features you'll enjoy:

Another in the series of manuscripts on early-day Marin written by historian Florence Donnelly prior to her death spotlights another pioneer in tomorrow's Independent-Journal Marin Magazine. This time her subject is Dr. John Henry Kuser, beloved country doctor. And the story deals particularly with Marin's struggle against the influenza epidemic of 1918, a battle in which Dr. Kuser as county health officer player an heroic role.

And the popular "Profile of a Marinite" series continues to spotlight leading residents of the county today. For tomorrow's issue of the Marin Magazine, I-J reporter C. P. McCarthy has written the profile of San Rafael's chief of police, Joe Brusatori. It is the story of the man who rose from school crossing guard to head of the force in a dedicated law enforcement career that began in 1939 and is continuing today.

Opportunities For Women To Be Topics At AAUW Meeting Tuesday

Equal opportunities for women in the fields of education and employment will be the the subject of the public general meeting of the Mill Valley Branch of the American Association of University Women Tuesday at 10 a.m. in the gallery of the Mill Valley Library.

Speakers will be Jacqueline Bradford, deputy regional director of the Equal Employment Opportunities Commission in San Francisco, and Mrs. Doris Zimmerman of Pleasanton, chairman of the Status of Women Section of the California State Division of the AAUW.

Miss Bradford will discuss recent developments in California for the equal education and employment of women, and Mrs. Zimmerman will present the AAUW position on legislation pending in this field.

SAN RAFAEL Assembly 195, International Order of Rainbow for Girls will hold a faith's tea Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m. at the home of Miss Irene Vanden Bos.

Honored guests will be Karen Carter, Dana Gauld, Wendy George, Donna Hudson, Lauren Hurchison, Karen Lex, Marilyn Nederman, Susie Peterson, Cathy Selmi, Anne Sundberg and Mary Urquhart.

DIANE JESSUP, a Redwood High School junior, will be installed worthy advisor of the Tamalpais Assembly of the International Order of Rainbow for Girls tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Masonic Temple in Larkspur. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowden Jessup of Greenbrae.

DIANE JESSUP

Other officers to be installed are Marilyn Thompson, worthy associate advisor; Linda Holtz, charity; Susan Suomi, hope; Marybeth Boerger, faith; Jill Butscher, recorder; Terri Guasco, treasurer; Kellie Oneal, chaplain; Susanne Andrews, drill leader; Debbie Lewis, love; Lo Mae Mathis, religion; Cheryl Guasco, nature; Cindy Lamberg, immortality; Debbie Morgan, fidelity; Patti Stahl, patriotism; Donna Rose, service; Alicen Smith, confidential observer; Lois Colmstock, outer observer; Ruth Edgar, musician; Bonnie Burke, choir director; Kathy Lazurus, banner bearer; and Vickie Landerville, historian.

Hostess is Mrs. Howard Stahl, and members of Ross Valley Chapter, Order of DeMolay, will act as ushers and flag escorts.

A reception and dance will follow the ceremony.

AN ART demonstration by Lawyers' Wives of Marin members will highlight the group's luncheon meeting Wednesday at noon at the Kentfield home of Mrs. Joseph Wilner.

Reservations chairmen are Mmes. Herman Scampini and James Kennedy, both of San Rafael.

THE PETALUMA Coordinating Council will have a luncheon Monday at 12:30 at the Lamplighter Smorgette in Petaluma.

Speaker will be Mrs. Albert Battaglia Jr., who will explain the purpose of the new Volunteer Bureau of Sonoma County.

MARY FISCHER of San Rafael will be the speaker at the third session of the Marin YWCA's "Electoral Sampler" series Tuesday at 10 a.m. at Co-Op of Marin in Corte Madera.

Mrs. Fischer will present "An Introduction to Grapho-Analysis." Through the use of slides, she will illustrate handwriting characteristics so that those attending may discover what their own handwriting reveals. The signatures of well known personalities will also be analyzed during the session.

For information or registration for this or future sessions call the Marin YWCA.

DOUGLAS J. MALONEY, Marin County Counsel, will discuss "The Legal Aspects of Zoning" at a public luncheon meeting sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Central Marin on Tuesday at the Pepperwood restaurant in San Anselmo.

Mr. Maloney, a San Franvisco native and graduate of the University of San Francisco, has been involved for a decade with the legal problems relating to zoning and planning.

Mrs. Leo Wagner of Novato is chairman of the league committee studying and evaluating local zoning ordinances and practices in Marin County.

Reservations chairman is Mrs. David Applen of Novato.

Mrs. Quadros Serves Again

Mrs. Leo Quadros of Mill Valley has been chosen for the third time as president of the Star of the Sea Institute 97, Young Ladies Institute, of Sausalito. Her previous terms were in 1944 and 1965.

The new president says a celebration is planned in October to mark the 50th anniversary of the Sausalito unit. Its long history accounts for the fact that officers and members who formerly lived in Sausalito now live all over the county and in San Francisco.

Other new officers are Miss Catherine Grinsell of Sausalito, first vice president; Mrs. Adelino Ferrera of Novato, second vice president; Mrs. George King of Santa Venetia, Marshal; Mrs. Matt Grbac of Tiburon, outside sentinel; Miss Eleanor Mortinez of Mill Valley, financial secretary; Miss Mary Folli of San Francisco, recording secretary; Mrs. Arthur Jewett of Sausalito, treasurer; and Mmes. Walter Silva and Harry Bowers of Sausalito, trustees.

ON BEING BLACK

Young Blacks Should See Classical Ballet

By SANDRA HAGGERTY

"How come we keep seeing all these colored people, Mommie?" the little blonde girl gave us a look of puzzlement as we stood in the theater lobby during the intermission of the "Nutcracker Suite" ballet.

The mother was woefully embarrassed and tried in vain to change the subject. The other people in the lobby, most of whom happened to be white, became silent, seemingly embarrassed for the unexpected faux pas.

Similar incidents have occurred on numerous occasions, and smiling at my group of multi-hued nieces and nephews I said to them quietly, but distinctly, "Okay, come all ye colored people; back to our seats."

THE CHILDREN'S eyes shone as they tried to suppress their giggles — for this particular group of black children, the word colored is passe, laughable.

The surrounding crowd was obviously relieved and smiled as the children obediently headed back into the theater.

The fact of the matter is, the little blonde's observation was well taken. For not only were there more than the usual handful of blacks in the audience, but there were even blacks in the performance. Can you imagine black snowflakes?

Even for me, this appearance was notably different, for in all the years that I have gone to see the "Nutcracker" — the 19th-centry Russian ballet that has become a traditional part of Christmas entertainment — this was the first year I had seen blacks perform in a professional rendition of the ballet.

BLACKS HAVE not formerly participated in classical ballet for a number of obvious reasons — among them, lack of exposure, training and money.

Many contemporary blacks feel that a ballet such as the "Nutcracker" (a white Russian ballet) is not relevant to today's blacks. Bah, humbug! Not only is the magical fairy tale a delight to all children, but the "Nutcracker" is, indeed, "one of dancing's most beautiful gifts to the world." Tchaikovsky's music is revelant to the world.

Classical ballet is an arena that more young blacks should be exposed to. This is certainly not to say that we should not have a knowledge and apprecaition of our own ethnic dance heritage — African ballet and tribal traditions. On the contrary, the ideal would be to have an awareness and appreciation of the best of all worlds.

The discipline involved in classical ballet instruction is particularly impressing and the whole of dance instruction comes to mind when I think of the "needed arena" for black girls to excel in, which could be comparable to athletics for boys.

Watching the mesmerized faces of my young theater party as they watched the "Nutcracker" performance solidified its relevancy. Any and everything that is a part of this world is relevant to our children.

Wendy Wilder Is Engaged

The engagement of Wendy Elizabeth Wilder to William Yamokoski has been announced by her mother Mrs. Ruthe Olds Wilder of San Rafael.

Wendy is a graduate of Terra Linda High School. She attended Chico State College and is employed in San Angelo, Tex. Grant Wilder of San Rafael is her brother.

William, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Yamokoski of Silver Lake, Ohio, is a graduate of the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo. He is attending school in Goodfellow, Tex., and is the brother of Tom Yamokoski of New Jersey and Gary Yamokoski of Ohio.

Mrs. Theodore Wight Is New President Of Guild

The new president of Mill Valley's Tamalpais Guild of Sunny Hills is Mrs. Theodore Wight.

A member of the guild for nearly two years, Suzie Wight has served as knitting chairman and recording secretary. Her hobbies include gourmet cooking, needlework, knitting, horseback riding and bridge. She is also an active member of the Marin General Hospital Volunteers.

The new president was educated at Washington State University and Monterey Peninsula College, majoring in fine arts.

Her husband is an investment banker in San Francisco. The Wights came to California in 1967 and have a daughter, Leslie, who is 3 years old.

Mrs. Wight says this year guild members will be working on their annual fund-raising dinner dance in May and on the hand sewn and knitted children's clothes featured at the Grape Festival in the fall. The Sesame Puppets will again be a special feature.

Other new officers this year are Mmes. Susan Nickerson, vice president; Lloyd Yates, recording secretary; Edward Ober, corresponding secretary; and Robert McVey, treasurer.

MRS. THEODORE WIGHT

Lorang-Sims Vows Exchanged

MRS. JOSEPH LORANG

Elizabeth Adams Sims Belvedere became the bride of Joseph John Lorang of Colfax on Jan. 9 at the century-old Dutch Flat Methodist Episcopal Church in Dutch Flat, Placer County.

The bride is the daughter of Justice and Mrs. Richard M. Sims Jr. of Belvedere. Her maid of honor was Jacqueline Miles of Colfax. Bridesmaids were Margaret Airola of Sacramento and Aptos, Mrs. J. Kenton Brown of Dutch Flat and the bride's sister Alice Sims of Belvedere.

Joseph is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lorang of Eden Valley, Colfax.

Best man was Michael Lorang, the bridegroom's cousin. Ushers were John S. Fonseca of Dutch Flat and brothers of the bride, Robert Sims of Belvedere and Richard Sims III of San Francisco.

Dutch Flat Community Center Center was the scene of the reception. The couple left on a wedding trip to Nevada and Baltimore, Md., where they plan to live.

Battle Of The Environment: It Must Be World-Wide

(This is the last in a five-part Drummond series — "The Battle of the Environment.")

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — Many Americans seem to think the United States suffers from environmental decay more than any other nation.

Not so.

The blight of pollution of air, water and land is worldwide. The cure will have to be the same.

The world is deeply divided on the pollution issue. The advanced industrial countries feel an acute need to deal with the environmental crisis. The developing countries feel an acute need to get industrialized even at the expense of their environment.

NO NATION can alone adequately arrest the dire consequences of pollution unless the other nations will act together.

An encouraging start has been made through the United Nations, NATO and a score of other international agencies. But so far it is mostly talk — useful talk but not much more.

Just as pollution is no respecter of state lines, it doesn't stop at national or ideological frontiers. It falls on Communist and capitalist countries alike.

The United States has plenty of company. At stake isn't the survival of just part of the human race: it is the survival of man himself.

The Rhine is filthier than the Hudson.

Swedish forests are withering under acid rains bearing sulphur from the Ruhr.

Sturgeon and, therefore, caviar are disappearing from the Caspian Sea.

The average lifespan of a citizen of Milan is three years shorter than that of other Italians because of smog.

In some parts of Rome's Tiber River, a fish will die in 15 minutes.

CONSIDER ANOTHER vivid example of how far pollution has gone. The Baltic Sea is already sick almost beyond recovery. It is choked with industrial and human waster flowing steadily from the economically dynamic countries on its shores — Germany, Denmark, Sweden, Finland, Poland and the Soviet Union.

These countries are talking about doing something to clean up the Baltic. The Russians appear interested. That itself is significant. It suggests that ideology need not stand in the way of averting ecological disaster.

Even an alliance of several states could not shield itself from the polluted winds which carry man's poisons to the outer boundaries of the planet. Example:

The winds have carried pesticides 3,600 miles from Africa to the Caribbean and during the past 25 years have dropped 2,600 tons of DDT onto the Antartic ice where penguins and fish now carry this poison in their bodies.

THERE ARE TWO urgent and paramount matters which can be dealt with only on a worldwide basis:

1 — How to arrest the world's population growth which is continuing to rise at a rate this planet simply cannot sustain.

2 — How to encourage and help the developing nations — where the population pressures are the greatest — to achieve a critically needed, ordered industrialization without bringing down upon themselves and the rest of the world the environmental perils which the advanced nations failed to avert as they moved into the Industrial Age.

The population problem is grim in the extreme. If the growth rate continues as is, in another 30 years there will be twice as many people — seven billion — trying to live on the earth. They will not be able to do so. There is not enough habitable living space. There will not be enough food. There will be mass starvation unless drastic reductions in population growth are achieved and there will be considerable starvation even if they are.

At the rate children are being born today in most countries, the ravages of pollution will be doubled by the year 2000. If the environmental blight is not steadily reversed by that time, there may well not be enough clean air to breathe or enough drinkable water to drink, or enough energy and natural resources to support western man in the style to which he has been accustomed or enable the developing countries to industrialize.

IN THE CAUSE of our own survival, the United States will have to take the lead in both of these critical areas.

We can persuade other nations to limit population growth only if we limit it ourselves. The United States with 6 per cent of the world's population, cannot indefinitely keep using more than 40 per cent of the world's output of scarce or nonreplacable resources and expect the have-nots to sit idly by.

20,000 In Marin Lose Franchise By Not Voting

About one of every five Marin voters forfeited his or her voting rights by failing to cast a ballot in the November election.

Statewide, the figure was closer to one of every four.

This offers a sad commentary on the importance that Marinites and Californians attach to the right to vote — the basic right upon which representative, democratic government is based.

STATEWIDE FIGURES released this week by Secy. of State Edmund G. Brown Jr. showed the voting rolls declined 23 per cent as result of purging those who did not cast ballots in November. This means more than two million Californians who had been on the voting rolls failed to go to the polls. It takes no account of those who are eligible to register to vote but never have done so; their number is unknown.

In Marin, about 20,000 forfeited voting rights by not balloting in November. Only about 2,000 have reinstated their rights by re-registering. But, pointed out Peter C. Meyer, county elections supervisor, they have until Feb. 25 to do so to vote in school board elections and the San Rafael city election.

THESE ELECTIONS, upcoming April 20, should show the heaviest voter turnout; but past experience has shown they will not. The registration rolls will not recover to last year's total until the 1972 presidential campaign reawakens many people's consciousness of the importance of the ballot.

There is an anomaly in this.

In presidential elections, the individual vote has a tiny influence. And even those millions do not vote directly for the President, the final decision being based on the electoral vote which may not accurately reflect the popular vote.

In elections for local school boards and city officials, every vote counts a great deal. It is not unusual for such elections to be decided by margins of half a dozen votes — or even one vote. It has happened often in Marin County.

DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT must grow from the grass roots; it cannot filter down from the top.

It will be interesting to see how many of those 20,000 in Marin, who for some reason or no reason did not go to the polls in November, consider their local voting rights important enough to re-register by Feb. 25 so they can vote in April.

And it will be interesting to see how many of them then cast the votes for which they are eligible.

Titmice or Titmouses?

A friend of ours with a feeling for proper English recently pointed out that we were in error using titmice as the plural for titmouse. He pointed out that the "mouse" in titmouse did not refer to the small gray mammal, nor for that matter did the ''tit'' refer to the mamary gland. The "mouse" derived from the French and German and refers to a family of small birds. And the ''tit'' is from Old English and means small, like in tidbit. All of this our friend quoted to us from a book about the romance of words.

While feeling grateful for our friend's interest, this is to let him know that the word-nuts haven't told the bird-nuts. We have half a dozen bird books that call these feathered creatures titmice.

But regardless, we think everyone will agree the titmouse, taken singly or in the plural, is a charming little bird.

Nothing's Safe Any More — Not Even Getting Potted

By JACK COOPER

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Life is getting to be a scary proposition these days, what with all the dire warnings about things we have taken for granted up to just recently.

We never put the detergent in our dishwasher without a quick glance at the morning paper to see if the signals have changed overnight about which kind is best for the environment.

And we regarded our canned tuna with suspicion until we learned that some New York researchers found higher mercury levels in fish caught 43 years ago, far from any industrial sites.

Now we aren't sure we would take a drink of water over in Lake or Mendocino counties, where all those cinnabar deposits are. Maybe they leak mercury into the streams.

WE ARE PUTTING on weight because the Department of Health, Education and Welfare undertook to save our pancreas at the expense of our paunch by taking away the cyclamates we used to put in our coffee.

We don't know whether or not to expect catastrophic results from our daily bacon and eggs. One newspaper doc says watch the cholesterol. Another says to forget it.

At our age we would feel embarrassed to go out jogging, and we confess to feeling nervous about not having a can of DDT around the place against the open declaration of war by the insects.

Now and again we console ourself with a drop of something or other because the authorities say it opens the capillaries and relaxes us. Although other authorities say it will turn up our blood pressure.

WE SHARE MANY of these concerns with a number of our friends in the artsy-craftsy set, many of whom jog, bike and have hobbies — like making pottery.

And comes now the California Department of Public Health to warn us that the pottery may poison us, especially the handcrafted kind made by the artsy-craftsy set.

Acid in food can dissolve the glaze on improperly fired earthenware, releasing toxic lead, Dr. Louis Saylor advises us. Only an expert can teil if the glaze is safe, and the cost of testing is higher than the cost of the earthenware.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Cost Precludes Use Of Orchestra

On Jan. 5, your reader Alan Lees of Greenbrae lamented the lack of a live orchestra to accompany the Marin Civic Ballet in its production of the "Nutcracker." Nothing would please the ballet more than to perform with a live orchestra. The problem is a simple and universal one: money.

At present, the "Nutcracker" is presented in Marin County each year at a ticket price of $2. This price is made possible by the fact that the dancers are not paid, and much behind-the-scenes work is done by volunteers. Each year between 2,000 and 3,000 people attend; a substantial percentage are children. Their value received for this $2 is considerable: a fine, well-trained group of young dancers, performing with increased polish and style each year, a handsome production, the excellent facilities of the College Of Marin Theater, and Peter Tchaikowsky's Christmas Ballet, although, indeed, the music is on tape. When all is considered, it would seem to be a production of which Marin County can be proud at a reasonable price.

If the Marin Civic Ballet Association were to hire an orchestra, the production would certainly be enhanced. But any orchestra available to us would have to be paid, with the result that the cost of tickets would have to be raised much above the current $2. We wonder, then, how many parents would feel they could treat their children to this delightful artistic experience.

Pollution Poses Basic Problem

The Marxists of 100 years ago were wrong. It was not the capitalist system that degraded workers, it was the low technological level of society. Our use of technology and high energy has raised the living standards of so much of society that class war has been foreclosed by it.

But now the by-products of this high energy society in the form of waste and pollution is likely to make the world eventually uninhabitable.

So now all the advanced nations of the world including the Marxist nations are between the Scylla of pollution if we continue with our high energy society and the Charybdis of class war if we revert to a lower technological social level.

It is this, not Vietnam nor the Middle East nor East-West rivalry, that is the core problem in the world today. All other problems are peripheral parts of this basic one.

Society Sick; Is It Terminal?

A short time ago, if I recall correctly, you published an editorial to the effect that there was little, if any, evidence to support pronouncements that ours is a "sick" society.

Well — when the vice president of the United States advocates seriously, and in public, that the indigent sick, who are suffering from so-called "terminal" diseases, be let die "natural" deaths rather than burden the taxpayer with the cost of treating these illnesses, and perhaps prolonging their lives, I submit that our society is not only sick, but that it is just about morally bankrupt.

The very fact that there has not been a wave of indignation in response to Agnew's incredibly callous remarks is merely further indication, in my opinion, that ours is indeed a very, very sick society. Let's hope this sickness is not terminal.

Early Candidate Rush Is Commentary On Nixon

By ERNEST B. FURGURSON

WASHINGTON — The most professional testimony so far offered on Richard Nixon's political performance up to the halfway point in this term comes from about half a dozen senators of the opposition party — those who have ambitions to succeed him in the White House.

Not that what they say publicly will be anything but self-serving (it can be that and eloquent and true, too). It is what they are doing that speaks most realistically, and what they are doing is cranking up early and eager because they think the President will be beatable next year.

THAT CONVICTION, which crowds the competition with announced, taken-for-granted and toe-dabbling candidates, assures that the long 1972 primary season will be contested with heat from New Hampshire to California. For of the whole group only two have any foreseeable chance of being nominated by the Democratic convention after bypassing the primary route. They are Edward Kennedy and Hubert Humphrey.

Despite the disparity in their ages and experience, each of these two would offer to a divided and frustrated convention an opportunity to return to the womb of familiar things past. Each has good reason to avoid the primaries if possible: The name of Kennedy's is Chappaquiddick; the name of Humphrey's is 1968.

When they think of the former vice president, more poeple still think of the Chicago convention nightmare than of the fact that Humphrey fought back from the crushing disadvantage to come within half a million votes of catching Mr. Nixon.

DIFFERENT disadvantages borne by the other aspirants, even including the far-out-frontrunner, Edmund Muskie, have the opposite effect of forcing them to undergo primary trials if their ambitions are serious.

The one shortcoming they share — Muskie less than the rest — is relative lack of familiarity to the national public. All the early announcements of candidacy, foreign trips and Senate crusades they can schedule in the coming year will not give them the kind of day-to-day publicity they will gain from primary competition in state after state.

Muskie, acknowledged by all to be the man to beat, is encumbered among many Democrats by the fact that he has never been willing to stick his neck out first on any dangerously controversial issue. His overcautious image was made more so when he came back from his visit to Moscow, the Middle East and Western Europe and called a press conference — but refused to give any but the vaguest answers to questions about what he had heard and said abroad. He wanted the publicity (his press conference was on the day George McGovern announced he would run) but didn't want to take any chances.

His potential challengers also think Muskie is not hard-hitting enough to rouse a partisan crowd to nominate him to get out there and smite Mr. Nixon. Sincere and thoughtful through the tube, yes. But lacking fire.

MCGOVERN'S EARLY announcement was an acknowledgement that he needs more media exposure. He intends to contrast his forthrightness on the issues with Muskie's temporizing. In so doing, he will continue his vulnerability for taking so many risky stands, but he hopes the effort will help erase his identification as a one-issue (Vietnam) candidate. He also suffers from a lack of telegenic star quality which may not be overcome by the candor he projects firthand.

Birch Bayh's principal liability is that he looks even younger than his age (his 43rd birthday is Friday) and is not well known nationally. Where he is well known, it is mainly because of his successful leadership of the drives to reject Mr. Nixon's Clement Haynsworth and Harrold Carswell nominations last year. That is a heavy millstone in the South but a strong plus among the blacks, organized labor, intellectuals and younger voters. Bayh is yet to announce, but he is assertively "exploring" his prospects and opening a Washington precampaign office this month.

Henry Jackson is popular in the South because he is hawkisk and an outspoken advocate of more and bigger aircraft, like the SST. The same positions hurt him among the more liberal Democrats. As for Harold Hughes, he is so new on the scene that his he-man personality is still unwitnessed by most Democrats.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Brasilia And Stop-Work Order: Recital From 'Remember When'

The I-J editorial of Dec 22, "Cuts In Private Sector — How About Public One?" was what I had planned to comment on this week. However, a phone call has caused a change.

Late Wednesday afternoon the fine, eager voice of a high school student was on the line when I answered. He is writing a term paper and must have it ready by next Wednesday. His topic is the Civic Center. He wanted to have a chat with me and record it on his tape machine and said the I-J had opened their files for him and that he would like to record why I voted against the project.

It was impossible to arrange a time so I told him I would write about the recent "Remember When's,," which were about the Civic Center. Here goes:

"JAN. 12, 1961 — An angry gathering of more than 300 Marinites formed the 'Citizens for the Civic Center' to battle for resumption of work on the Frank Lloyd Wright building after it was halted by a 3-2 vote."

"Jan, 14, 1961 — Immediate start of a campaign to recall Supervisor William D. Fusselman was demanded at a mass meeting of Citizens for the Civic Center."

"Jan. 16, 1961 — The Marin County Board of Supervisors ordered resumption of work on the Civic Center after receiving a report from architects Eugene E. Craford and George V. Banning that it would not be feasible to convert the partially completed building into a county hospital.

"Dec 7, 1960 — The Marin County Board of Supervisors received from Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell a report that $1,212,309 would have to be raised next fiscal year for Civic Center construction."

THESE ARE the phases I will comment on now, although there were basic factors that guided my thinking and voting on the project. And as long as Brasilia is in the center of attention now, it would seem that for the benefit of the taxpayers who were not here 10 or 12 years ago it would well to carry the story along in the manner I did with the British Columbia Indians transition.

For some 12 years prior to that time I had been chairman of the health and welfare committee of the board of supervisors, so the things I will relate are from personal knowledge.

THE BUILDING at the county farm out Lucas Valley way, in which the indegent sick were housed, was constructed in such a manner that it was a crime to leave those poor and helpless ones even one day there. The outer walls were constructed with two tiers of bricks. There were no upright girders to carry the load. The mortar was a dry crumbly type. Any stress could have brought the upper floor, filled with beds, down on those below. When I discovered this, I tried to have remedial construction authorized, but received no support whatever for several years.

The hospital was operated under a state permit. They became aware of the condition and gave us a deadline to construct some guards or else we would have to close it up and place the patients in private hospitals. This would have been a staggering expense. Fiscally things were bad, as well as the humanities involved. Two bond issues for construction of decent housing for both the hospital and juvenile hall had been defeated.

ONE DAY, as I was driving out Highway 101, I noticed that construction on the Civic Center had been stopped because of the stormy weather. The first floor was in and the girders were sticking up all over the layout.

This is when the idea occurred to me that by partially constructing this building, as designed, a slight conversion could make it possible to use it for hospital purposes until we could work out the finance problem to construct out at Lucas Valley.

The stop order was for not to exceed two weeks, while we submitted it to the architects who had been working on the plans for the hospital before we had submitted it for a vote by the folks who would have to validate the bond issus — the taxpayers. When these architects gave a negative opinion, we cancelled the stop order and resumed construction. Contrary to claims made by the Civic Center proponents, this didn't cost the county a penny.

Unless other matters of overpowering import take place this story will be told in its entirety. Many who lived here then were never aware of all the factors involved.

Grapefruit Bill Signed Into Law

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —Gov. Ronald Reagan Tuesday signed the first bill of the 1971 legislative session —a measure allowing the sale of California grapefruit which are slightly more sour.

But the author, Sen. Gordon Cologne, R-Indio, said the consumer will hardly notice the difference because the change permitting less sweet grapefruit was mostly "technical."

The measure is designed to put California into a better competitive position with Arizona and Texas grapefruit. Cologne said the unusually cool autumn in California produced grapefruit with a higher than normal amount of acid.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By GEORGE NEVIN

Anti-Commune Zoning Ordinance May Be Case Of Overkill

Mill Valley city councilmen, in their campaign to keep communes out of the city, may be going in for overkill.

The council heard on first reading Monday an ordinance that defines family as no more than five unrelated persons living together as a single housekeeping unit, and further prohibits any but a family from living in a single-family residential zone. The law obviously is aimed at hippie-style communes.

Second reading and adoption could come at the council's Feb. 1 meeting. It appears the ordinance will pass easily, as all five councilmen voted for the measure on first reading.

COUNCILMAN ROBERT H. Andresen had some very good points in mind when he first proposed the ordinance last year: increased density in residential zones, noise and littering associated with communes, and the parking of cars on narrow city streets.

However, Mill Valley already has tools to cope with these problems.

Noise and litter? It's unfair to say that all communes are guilty of these sins, and that all conventional families are blameless, but even assuming that hippies are noisy and dirty the city has a nuisance abatement procedure to eliminate noise and filth.

Overcrowding and high density? Plenty of conventional families, including those of two Mill Valley city councilmen, have more than five persons. I come from a family of eight. This argument just doesn't hold water.

Blocking of streets? This point perhaps has some validity, in that commune members are likely to own more automobiles than a family of similar size.

But council could take Councilman Jean S. Barnard's advice and charge residents a fee for parking cars on city streets.

THERE ARE some very definite reasons against the ordinance:

1. It will add an enforcement burden on the police and planning departments. "We just don't have the staff to enforce this law," said a city worker.

2. The City of Larkspur, which adopted a similar ordinance in 1969, has been involved in a costly suit for almost a year over its enforcement. Despite a federal court ruling that held a similar Palo Alto ordinance constitutional, the Mill Valley law might also be challenged in the courts.

The real reason for the ordinance, I suspect, is that the councilmen object to the immorality of communes. But legislating morality is a tricky business, doomed to failure.

Israel is increasing exports of canned fruits and vegetables.

Hearing Listed On Police Issue

A public seminar on police-community relations has been scheduled for Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Campbell Hall, Christ Episcopal Church in Sausalito.

The workshop is to include a film showing a sensitivity session of the San Francisco police with militant radicals and a panel discussion with Sausalito police, businessmen, Councilman Robin Sweeny and members of the street ministry.

The film is to be at 10 a.m. followed by the panel discussion at 11 a.m.

Concerts Planned In Mill Valley

Two Bach-to-Mozart concerts will be performed Sunday at Brown's Hall in Mill Valley.

At 2:30 p.m. children of school age will hear a program of baroque and other music. Raymond Duste will explain part singing in chorale, march rhythms and melodies and dances in three-quarter time, and some of the Bach-to-Mozart group will demonstrate with music by Mozart, Bach, Handel, Beethoven, Tchaikovsky, Mendelssohn and Bartok.

Children who took part in the coloring contest at the first junior concert this season are to bring their art work to be judged for prizes, marking each piece with name and age.

The adult candlelight concert at 8 p.m. will feature music by some little-known composers, such as the cantata "Veni Consolator" of Damian Stachovicz, who composed in Poland around 1699, and the Concerto for Piccolo Clarinet of Joachim Melchior Molter, who composed in Manheim, Germany, around 1757.

Frealon Bibbins, San Francisco Symphony clarinetist, has composed a suite of four songs for soprano Gwen Curatilo, with clarinet, which will be premiered at this concert.

Other numbers on the program are a suite from Handel's "The Water Music"; Haydn's Quartet No. 28, Opus 74, No. 1, and the Cantata No. 202 (Wedding) of J. S. Bach.

Musicians performing will be Gwen Curatilo, Soprano; Raymond Duste, oboe; Edward Haug, trumpet; Frealon Bibbins, clarinet; George Nagata and Donna Salarpi, violins; Asbjorn Finess, viola, and Teressa Adams, cello.

Dominican Season To Open

The spring concert season at Dominican College of San Rafael will open Tuesday with the University of Nevada Concert Jazz Band performing in Angelico Hall at 11 a.m.

The 22-member band is one of six bands on the Reno campus under the direction of Dr. John Carrico. The group on tour will be conducted by Eugene Isaeff, trombonist for six years with the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra and a former member of the faculty of the University of Minnesota.

Included in the program will be blues, some rock and solo improvisations on special compositions and arrangements provided for the concert jazz band by prominent composers and band leaders such as Louis Bellson, Stan Kenton, Raoul Romero and Rick Davis.

Experts, CIA: Real Khrushchev

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The State Department says a group of experts on the Soviet Union has studied the published memoirs of former Soviet premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and determined the writings are essentially authentic.

The experts included Llewellyn E. Thompson and George F. Kennan, both former ambassadors to Moscow, plus other authorities and representatives of the Central Intelligence Agency. The memoirs were published last month by Little, Brown & Co. of Boston after excerpts appeared in Life Magazine.

Youth Orchestra To Perform On Sunday

The first concert of its season will be presented by the Marin Youth Orchestra Sunday at 3 p.m. at the San Rafael High School auditorium with two Marin high school sophomores, violinist Carol Tomlinson of Terra Linda and cellist Jed Barahal of San Rafael, as soloists.

The orchestra, composed of some 78 outstanding musicians from music departments of all public and private schools in the county, will perform: "La Grande Paque Russe" (Russian Easter) by Rimsky-Korsakov; Tchaikovsky's Variations on a Roccoco Theme, with Barahal as soloist; the Mendelssohn Violin Concerto first movement featuring Carol Tomlinson; and Beethoven's Symphony No. 7

Carol has won Marin Music Chest scholarships, a Pepsi-Cola Young Musicians contest and soloed in a youth concert of the San Francisco Symphony.

Jed the outstanding scholar at San Rafael High School, maintained a straight A record and work load that places him so far ahead that he can take the next year off to accompany his family to Europe next fall. He hopes to devote full time to studying at the Music Academy in Vienna.

Truman Wants To leave Hospital: Little Pain

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)— Former President Harry S Truman still is experiencing some mild pains, but has told his doctors he wants to go home.

Truman, 86, was hospitalized Thursday with stomach pains. Doctors say he will remain in Research Hospital for "a few days" pending the outcome of tests.

Doctors said Truman's condition is good, and his "vital signs are stable and within normal limits. It also means the patient's progress is good or excellent."

The exact nature of his illness was not diagnosed.

"The situation is not alarming," said Dr. Wallace D. Graham, Truman's personal physician since his White House days. "I expect to run tests and will have more information when results are available."

John P. Dreves, a hospital spokesman, said Truman was experiencing only mild pain late Thursday. He said Truman expressed a desire to return home only a few hours after being rushed by ambulance 15 miles to the hospital from his home in Independence.

President Nixon sent Truman a telegram and wished him a speedy recovery.

"Our thoughts and prayers are joined with those of all your countrymen as Mrs. Nixon and I wish you quick recovery from your illness," the telegram said.

Truman, who was America's 33rd president from April 12, 1945—the day Franklin D. Roosevelt died—until Jan. 20, 1953, was admitted to the hospital at 9:28 a.m. EST Thursday.

He was carried on a stretcher to a private room on the third floor of the hospital. But, at the door to his room, he got off the stretcher and walked to his bed.

His wife, Bess, who will be 86 Feb. 13, at his side.

Westwood was asked if "things are looking up" shortly after Truman was admitted.

"Things were never looking down," Westwood replied.

Truman's hospitalization was his sixth since Gen. Dwight D.. Eisenhower succeeded him as president in 1953. His last illness two years ago stemmed from a stomach disorder.

Mary Jane Truman, his younger sister, said from her home in Grandview' Mo.: "He has these little setbacks every once in a while. He's going to be all right."

Nonwhites Near 5th Of Federal Workers

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Civil Service Commission reports that nonwhites, who comprise 12 per cent of the nation's population, held 19.4 per cent of the nearly 2.6 million federal jobs as of last May.

The commission said the figure was an increase from the 19.2 per cent reported in the last previous survey, November of 1969. The commission classifies Negroes, Spanish-surnamed, oriental and American Indians as nonwhite.

FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

Tryouts Are Set For Thurber Play

Tryouts for the San Geronimo Valley Player's production of "Thurber Carnival" will be tomorrow and Monday, according to Barbara Scott of the theatrical group.

Auditions will begin at 7:30 p.m. each night at the San Geronimo Valley Art Center on the Lagunitas School grounds, she said.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies now being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and the Parent's Magazine unless otherwise noted. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY

"Out-Of-Towners" — Refreshingly funny spoof on the big city life is glimpsed through hilarious misadventures of a small city businessman who takes his wife with him for his final job interview in New York City.

"Twelve Chairs" — Slapstick historical comedy about family jewels that were hidden in a chair before the revolution in Russia. Motivated by pure greed the frantic search provides a delightfully entertaining treat. Don't miss it.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Fools" — Two lonely people, one married, chance to meet and fall in love while exploring San Francisco. An interesting background and script make this romantic film entertaining. Some sex scenes well handled.

"Patton" — Excellent characterization by George C. Scott who portrays an indomitable spirit that could achieve its destiny only in wartime. A strong film makes use of violence and frequent profanity.

"Private Life of Sherlock Holmes" — Hitherto "suppressed" story about another side of famous sleuth's character. It questions his sexuality as well as the cocaine binges he goes on when bored or distressed, plus mystery tale involing top secret government project.

"Take The Money and Run" — Woody Allen's fans will love this hilarious farce that pokes fun at a little sad sack and the foibles of the world around him as he tries to climb the crooked ladder to dishonest success.

"You Only Live Twice" — In Japan James Bond does a workmanlike job of probing volcanic craters to discover launching pad of a missile that is swallowing up U.S. and Russian Space ships. Usual quota of girls, gunfights and gadgets.

BORDERLINE

(Most sources say Adults Only)

"I Love My Wife" — Satirical comedy about sexual activities of young marrieds. Very well defined characterizations. Not a profound film but pleasantly entertaining. (Motion Picture Herald)

"Little Fauss and Big Halsy" — Contemporary motorcycle drama about two men who compete both off and on the track. Fast pace covers shallow content. Lots of nude girls, a Johnny Cash soundtrack and a predictable ending.

"Lovers and Other Strangers" — Amusing and touching story about what happens to friends and family of two young people who decide to marry. Some nudity.

"Thunderball" — This time James Bond is underwater in the Bahamas trying to locate a NATO training plane and two atomic bombs. Sex is casual and salacious. Unpalatable cruelty is passed off as "spoof." Many amazing gadgets and much violence.

ADULTS ONLY

"Black Angels" — Two rival motorcycle gangs massacre each other when it is revealed that one of the "white" gang is really black. Police watch the blood bath from a hilltop. (Box-office Magazine).

"Diary of a Mad Housewife" — Acidly funny look at the disintegration of a modern marriage in New York. Good comedy with sex and dialogue that is very frank.

"Five Easy Pieces" — Free-form portrait of an exile from a highbrow musical family who cops out of a routine lower middle class existence. Explicit sex and frank dialogue.

"Joe" — Chilling but excellent tragi-comedy about our troubled society. Two men form an unlikely alliance founded on their envy and hatred of today's youth. Language and sex scenes are shockingly bold and violence of the ending will haunt the viewer.

Diarrhea Babies Are Released

All four babies which contracted a mysterious viral diarrhea this week at Marin General Hospital have been released, a hospital spokesman said yesterday.

Ray K. Bolinger, hospital administrator, said no new case has been reported but precautionary measures established several weeks ago at the hospital will continue.

BOB, THE COPY CAT

A frequent visitor to the Independent-Journal's Mill Valley office, Bob looks up from his accustomed position in a desk-top copy basket. The first office employee to arrive each morning usually finds Bob waiting to be let in, and the cat often stays the whole day. A sign announcing "The Cat Is In" has been prepared for the times when Bob is cat-napping in his basket.

Tanker Terminal Asked Outside Bay

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Removal of oil tanker operations from San Francisco Bay to a terminal outside the Golden Gate was proposed yesterday by the Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

Dr. William F. Upton of San Rafael made the proposal, noting he had pushed five years ago for the same proposal. Monday's tanker collision that spilled 800,000 gallons of oil in the bay was inevitable, he said.

"What's a disaster in the ocean is a catastrophe in the bay," Dr. Upton declared.

Dr. Upton said it was fortunate that the spill came at a time of the year when there was a heavy flow of fresh water from the delta to help flush the bay of the oil.

An offshore ocean terminal, he said, would be far less costly to the oil companies than the cost of cleaning up from such a spill.

Dr. Upton wrly read from the BCDC plan for the bay, drawn in 1968, which said that such a spill was "unlikely" for several reasons, including "constantly improving navigation aids."

The BCDC plan envisioned a supertanker terminal in the central bay, but Dr. Upton suggested that the idea be discarded in favor of an ocean terminal.

The commision's staff will draft changes to the bay plan and set them for a public hearing.

Innocent Plea In Car Chase

Kathryn Ann Ours, 27, of San Francisco, has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to misdemeanor charges of reckless driving and failure to heed a red light and siren.

A jury trial was set for March 1.

She was arrested Jan. 1 after a high-speed chase which began in Kentfield and ended when she rammed two Marin County sheriff's cars with her auto on Waldo Grade.

Marin City Youngsters Will Have Reading, Math Chances

Marin City youngsters having trouble with reading or mathematics will receive special help in both subjects in Saturday classes which begin tomorrow at 10 a.m. in the Manzanita Center, Marin City.

Mrs. Royce McLemore said the Marin City Learning Center has been organized by concerned parents of Marin City, a group which has in past months criticized the quality of education in the Sausalito School District.

About 125 children have signed up for the three-hour classes which will be held each Saturday "for as long as there is a need."

Mrs. McLemore said six credentialed teachers and about 30 volunteers, many of them with teaching experience, have agreed to instruct the children.

"We want to compensate for what the children are missing in the Sausalito School District," Mrs. McLemore said. "Black children in the district are the ones who have the most difficulty with reading and math. We think we can help correct that situation."

The reading classes will stress phonetics (sound of words) and utilize many of the same texts the district uses. Math classes will start out "with basic fundamentals," according to Mrs. McLemore, including addition, subtraction, division, multiplication, decimals, fractions and the new math.

The school, which has almost no funds for operation, is sorely in need of about $500 in contributions for materials, she said. Persons who wish to contribute can send donations to the Marin City Learning Center, 975 Drake Avenue, Marin City.

Final Bike Path Link Wins Approval

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The final link in Southern Marin's bicycle path won final and unanimous approval yesterday from the Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

The county's application was for a permit to fill 2,700 square feet of Richardson Bay for a path 450 feet long and six feet wide, the final link between the Richardson Bay Bridge and Sausalito.

Pierre Joske, county director of parks and recreation, said yesterday's action culminated a four-year effort involving the county, Army, Golden Gate Bridge District, Northwestern Pacific Railroad, Marin Municipal Water District, San Francisco, Sausalito, Mill Valley and the state.

The state is expected to grant $30,000 to pay for the project.

It was endorsed yesterday by the Marin Conservation League and Marin Cyclists Club. There was no opposition.

Fears by the BCDC staff that the railroad could revoke its lease with the county for the right-of-way were met by county assurances that the county would resume condemnation proceedings against the railroad if the $1,000-a-year lease were canceled.

The BCDC fill permit stipulated that the county must remove the fill if it ever is used for any other purpose.

The county's lease from the railroad is renewable on a year-to-year basis after the first three years.

No Closed Talks On Pay Scales

San Rafael City Council will not attempt to meet behind closed doors to discuss salaries for elected city department heads.

The council last Monday night decided to take up the pay of city attorney, clerk and treasurer at a closed session, provided the city attorney held it to be legal.

However, City Atty. Frederick C. Robbins Jr. has advised that such a session would be contrary to the Ralph M. Brown Act, so it will not be held, City Mgr. James H. McCown said today.

Salaries for the three elected officials for their next four-year terms must be set prior to the April 20 city election. This requires enactment of a salary ordinance, involving two reading, before that date.

McCown said he is working on a salary proposal which he hopes to have ready for submission to the council at its next meeting, Feb. 1.

In the past, the police chief's salary also had to be set by ordinance prior to election, but that position becomes appointive at the end of the current term, under a charter change voted by the electorate in 1969. The council therefore can set the police chief's pay annually.

Petaluma Burglary

Cash and checks totaling $412 were stolen yesterday from the Lane Medical Building, 9 West El Rose Drive, Petaluma.

Plans to Ease Two Fill Restrictions Attacked

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Proposals to ease two restrictions on bay filling yesterday were criticized sharply before the Bay Conservation and Development Commission by the legislator who wrote the law under which the commission operates.

Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, branded the proposed changes as "extremely dangerous" and "not advisable at this time."

The first change would allow filling for water-oriented commercial-recreation when an amount of existing fill equivalent to the new fill is removed from the bay.

The second change also would extend to publicly owned land the right, now limited to private holdings, of filling for water-oriented commercial-recreation where the property is "substantially on existing land."

The changes were suggested by the BCDC staff after the commissioners last month rejected a permit for the Ferry Port Plaza project north of the ferry building. It included an office building and hotel, and the attorney general ruled that such projects were not water-oriented.

As for San Francisco's threat to seek legislation to allow such projects, Knox predicted that the city's move would be defeated in Sacramento.

Behr To Bay Panel

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, yesterday was named as the Senate's representative on the Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

Behr previously served on the commission as a representative of the now defunct Bay Area Transportation Study Commission. He was a leader of the citizens' campaign that successfully backed legislation in 1969 making the BCDC a permanent agency.

Behr's appointment by the Senate Rules Committee filled a BCDC vacancy left by the retirement of Behr's predecessor, John F. McCarthy of Belvedere.

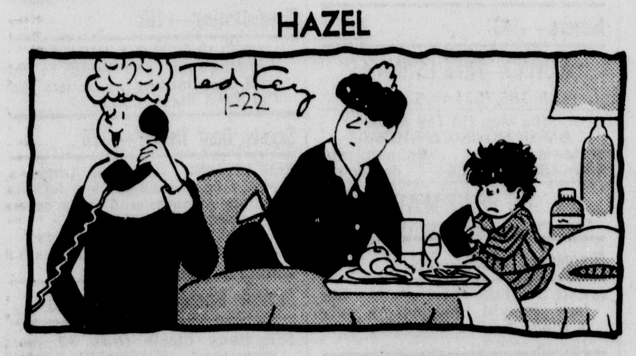
Behr was endorsed unanimously for the appointment in a caucus of Bay Area senators.

Teen-Ager Recovers From Broken Back

A San Rafael teen-ager was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital with a spinal fracture suffered in a fall from a second-story porch Jan. 15.

San Rafael police said Adrienne Josephine Arago, 19, of 1563 Lincoln Avenue, was leaving her residence when she tumbled over a railing.

HAZEL



"... He's feeling so much better we'd like to ask one of his classmates to bring us his homework."

"Relapse."

Arraignment On Burglary

David Mathew Sliney, 18, of San Rafael, was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on a charge of burglary.

He will plead to the charge next Thursday.

Sliney was arrested Monday after having been identified as the man who allegedly was in a home at 832 Tamarack Drive, San Rafael, when the owner returned home Sunday evening.

NOTICE INVITING SEALED PROPOSALS OR BIDS

LUCKY ROAD ASSESSMENT DISTRICT

Pursuant to the Municipal Improvment Act of 1913 and the resolution directing this notice adopted on January 4, 1971, by the Sanitary Board of Sanitary District No. 2 of Marin County, a Subsidiary of the Town of Corte Madera, said Board invites sealed proposals or bids for the construction of improvements in said District in accordance with the plans and specifications entitled, "Sanitary Sewers-Lucky Road Assessment District" dated December, 1970, as more particularly described in Resolution of Intention No. 28-70 adopted by said Board on October 19, 1970, as subsequently amended, which resolutions are on file in the office of the Secretary and to which reference is hereby expressly made for a more particular description of the work to be done.

All of said work is to be done at the places and in the particular locations, of the forms, sizes and dimensions and of the materials and to the lines and grades and at the elevations as shown and delineated on the plans, profiles and specifications made therefor and preliminarily approved by said Board on October 19, 1970 and revised and modified by said Board on January 4, 1971.

Payments will be made in cash by said District to the contractor in accordance with the provisions of the specifications and on itemized estimates duly certified and approved by the District Engineer, submitted in accordance therewith, based on labor and materials incorporated into said work during the preceding month by the contractor. However, notice is given that a period of 30 days is given to the property owners in which to pay their assessments, and if cash collections are insufficient to meet such monthly estimates, there will be a delay in making such payments until money is received from the sale of bonds issued upon the unpaid assessments.

Notice is hereby given that on October 19, 1970, the Board adopted a resolution determining the general prevailing rate of per diem wages to be paid to the various craftsmen and laborers required to construct said improvements, a copy of which wage scale is hereto attached and made a part hereof, and also contained in and made a part of the specifications for said work, to which reference is hereby made for further particulars.

All proposals or bids shall be accompanied by cash, cashier's or certified check payable to the order of the District Secretary, amounting to ten percent (10%) of the bid, or by a bond in said amount and payable to said District Secretary signed by the bidder and a corporate surety, or by the bidder and two sureties who shall justify before any officer competent to administer an oath, in double said amount and over and above all statutory exemptions. The amount so posted shall be forfeited to said District in case the bidder depositing the same does not, within 15 days after written notice that the contract has been awarded to him, enter into a contract with the District.

Contractor shall furnish to District a faithful performance bond and labor material bond as required in said specifications.

Said sealed proposals shall be delivered to the Secretary of said District on or before 2:00 o'clock P.M. of the 8th day of February, 1971, 300 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera, California, said time being at least fourteen days from the time of first publication and posting of this notice. Bids will be publicly opened, examined and declared on said day and hour and referred to and considered by the Sanitary Board at its meeting at 7:30 o'clock P.M. on February 16, 1971.

No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of forty-five (45) days after the date set for the bid opening.

Plans and specifications may be examined at the office of the District, 300 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera, California; at the Builder's Exchange, 850 South Van Ness Avenue, San Francisco, California; at the Builder's Exchange, 321 East 12th Street, Oakland, California; and at the Marin Builder's Exchange, 110 Belvedere Street, San Rafael, California. Plans and specifications may be obtained at the office of Brown and Caldwell, 66 Mint Street, San Francisco, California, upon deposit of $15.00 per set, $5.00 of which will be refunded if the set or sets delivered are returned in good condition within 15 days after the bid opening.

Dated: January 18, 1971

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

High Winter Death Rate Due To Acute Respiratory Illness

Northern winters are hard on people with chronic ailments, such as heart trouble and lung disease. Obituary columns get longer, and many individuals wish they had the time and money to go south. Death certificates, however, do not always tell the full story.

Statistics show that mortalities from heart attacks, arteriosclerotic and degenerative heart disease are up one-third during the height of winter. Doctors T. W. Anderson and W. H. le Riche of Ontario, Canada, who analyzed data from the far north, believe the increased mortalities stem from acute respiratory diseases and not from underlying cardiovascular causes.

ACCORDING to their studies, in most fatalities, a single underlying cause of death can be identified. For example, if a 65-year-old man with coronary trouble dies from a cold or severe attack of flu, his heart is likely to be blamed. In our country, any increase in the expected death rate during a flu epidemic usually is blamed on influenza, even though no mention is made as to what was written on the death certificate.

In other words, the cold air we inhale does not necessarily adversely affect the heart. On the other hand, people with narrowed coronary arteries develop angina (chest pain) sooner when the weather if cold. Persons with emphysema and chronic bronchitis also are bothered more in winter. Their symptoms may stem from actual body cooling, by a reflex from cooling of the skin or of inspired air.

IF THE Canadians' theory is applicable to other northern countries (including our own), we can forget the lower temperatures and concentrate on preventing respiratory infections. It includes the widely held belief that shoveling snow is more lethal than equally strenuous activity at other times of the year. The healthy man can shovel snow, but the man with cardiac disease runs the risk of heart attack.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

WHITE, NUMB DIGITS

C. A. R. writes: Is there any cure for fingers and toes that turn white and become numb in cold weather?

REPLY

This sounds like Raynaud's disease. In this circulatory condition, the flow of blood to the hands and feet is reduced considerably on exposure to cold or following excitement. In this syndrome, most drugs that dilate blood vessels are powerless to overcome the spasm produced by cold. Surgery (sympathectomy) is advised when symptoms are severe. Mst of these sufferers wear warm clothing in addition to wool hose and two pair of gloves. They avoid the cold as much as possible. Tranquilizers may help when the cause is on an emotional basis.

LYMPH TISSUE CANCER

K. M. writes: What kind of cancer is lymphosarcoma?

REPLY

A malignancy involving the lymph glands, spleen, liver, and bone marrow. The commonest outward manifestation is enlargement of the glands in the neck. Diagnosis is made by removing a gland for biopsy in the laboratory. Treatment consists of surgical excision, X-ray, nitrogen mustard, or the corticosteroids. Other chemotherapeutic drugs include Mustargen, TEM, Cytoxan, vinblastine, and chlorambucil.

WANTS TO DEVELOP

N. L. writes: Is there any exercise to plump up a sunken chest?

REPLY

No. except the exercise involved in putting on falsies.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Law, Reason Fix The Blame

A person who does not act reasonably, and thereby causes injury is legally "negligent." Since the law assumes that the "reasonable man" always obeys the law, he is "negligent per se" (in itself) if his breaking the law brings about injury to someone. However, he sometimes has the right to show facts to excuse or rebut the "presumption" of negligence.

Take the notary public who notarized Hank's signature in the sale of real estate which belonged to Hank and his wife, Hannah. Hank sold their property without telling Hannah, by getting his secretary to forge the deed.

Although the real estate man often dealt with Hank, he had never met Hannah. Hank introduced his secretary to the real estate man as his wife. Together they went to the notary to sign the papers. The notary certified that they were "individuals personally known to her as the person who signed."

Learning of the forgery, Hannah sued her husband, the buyers, and the notary. Hank was clearly liable for damages, but he was now divorced and broke. The buyer still had the property and might lose it.

The notary was also liable to Hannah and the buyer, the court ruled since it refused to allow him to rebut the presumption of negligence. This was so although it may have been customary, as claimed for the notary to take the word of a responsible real estate man, since the law calls on the notary personally to know the signers. The notary didn't and had to pay.

Many negligent actions involved violation of motor vehicle laws such as failure to yield, speeding, improper parking, etc.

The court may excuse such violations only if the injured person was otherwise protected. For example, the law requires certain trucks or other heavy equipment to have warning devices when they back up. One such piece of equipment had no device, but the driver yelled out warnings when he backed up. In this case the court ruled out the presumption of negligence.

Suspect Booked On Burglary

A 25-year-old San Rafael man was arrested yesterday on suspicion of taking a fox fur bed spread and $1,500 camera equipment from a Larkspur home.

Officers said today, Herman Joseph Sanchez, also known as Joseph Rivera, of 16 Meadow Avenue, was arrested at 8:50 a.m. after Claude Delise of 178 Marina Vista spotted Sanchez fleeing the latter's home with the fur bedspread in hand. The fur is valued at $150.

Sanchez, officers said, eluded Delise after a short chase but was caught by Delise, and a neighbor when he returned to his car parked in the neighbor's driveway.

Sanchez was booked into Marin County Jail where he remained today in lieu of $3,750 bail. He was to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Theft Of Car Is Reported

A blue and white Ford Torino, parked overnight yesterday between Grove and Terrace Avenues in Ross Valley, was reported stolen, police said today.

Owner of the 1969 Ford, Harvey H. Hatling, 28, of 204 Terrace Avenue, San Rafael, told police that the car doors and ignition had been locked.

Sleepy Hollow Deadline Set

Sleepy Hollow residents who want to run for the board of directors of the proposed new community services district have until 5 p.m. Feb. 11 to file with the Marin County clerk in the Hall of Justice.

Deputy County Counsel Thomas G. Hendricks said each candidate must file a nomination petition signed by not less then five and not more then 10 registered voters in Sleepy Hollow.

The election, to be held on April 20, will name the top five vote-getters as the directors, if voters in the same election approve the formation of a Sleepy Hollow community services district by majority vote.

What modern-size Posturepedic comfort is all about.

Buying a new mattress is a decision you both should make. After all, you both have to sleep on it. Because proper rest is so important right from the start we recommend our best—Sealy Posturepedic. It's so pampering. Especially in the big new sizes (incidentally, the old double bed size may have been OK for your folks—but it's probably too cramped for the two of you). Besides being big on comfort, Posturepedic promises "no morning backache from sleeping on a too-soft mattress". It's actually designed in cooperation with leading orthopedic surgeons for firm support. Come on in and try one for your size. $359.95

Brodie, Lamonica Have Score To Settle In Pro Bowl

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The quarterbacks of the teams that didn't make it to the Super Bowl, John Brodie of the San Francisco Forty Niners and Daryl Lamonica of the Oakland Raiders, have a score to settle in Sunday's Pro Bowl.

Brodie, the 14-year veteran, has been tabbed to guide the National Football Conference all-stars against Lamonica, who will pilot the American Conference team.

It's an oddity of the game that players whose home bases are a few miles apart on opposite sides of San Francisco Bay should be picked to guide rival conference teams.

Brodie and Lamonica opposed each other just a month ago in the final regular season game. With Oakland having clinched itsdecisionin the AFC and San Francisco needing a win to gain its divisional crown, the incentive was all with the Forty Niners, who scored a 38-7 win.

The emotional factor was enough to tip the scales in favor of Brodie and his team and many felt it was not a fair evaluation of his ability against that of Lamonica.

The coincidence of teams so close to each other sending their star quarterbacks into an all-star game as rivals is carried a step further. Dick Nolan of the Forty Niners coaches the NFC team whil e John Madden of the Raiders coaches the AFC team.

Both Brodie and Lamonica are veterans of such contests. Brodie will be appearing in his third Pro Bowl while Lamonica has played in four American Football League all-star games.

Statistically, as the National Football League rates quarterbacks from both conferences, Brodie has an edge over Lamonica. The former Stanford University star was ranked No. 1 with a completion percentage of 59.0, recording 24 touchdowns with only 2.6 per cent interceptions and averaging 7.78 yards.

Lamonica ranked fourth behind Sunny Jurgensen of Washington and Frank Tarkenton of the New York Giants. The former Notre Dame passer had a 50.3 completion percentage and threw 22 touchdown passes. He averaged 7.07 yards per attempt.

A superb defense that gave Brodie more time to pass this year was largely responsible for his most successful season. Lamonica, on the other hand, suffered a series of painful injuries and he might have been excused if he had sought to beg off appearing in the Pro Bowl.

He missed most of the game against the Baltimore Colts in the divisional playoffs because of a groin injury.

"In this game you have to play with injuries," he said. "I seldom revealed mine during the season.

Although attention, especially in the Bay Area, will center on the individual duel between Brodie and Lamonica, they have versatile alternates in Frank Tarkenton for the NFC and Bob Griese for the AFC.

Coaches Enthusiastic About Jerry Piro

If you think Marin County doesn't produce excellent basketball talent — whatever gave you that idea? — give a listen to Carroll Williams, varsity basketball coach at Santa Clara University.

"I would have to say that if we could play a freshman, Jerry would help our varsity team this year."

Jerry, in this case, is Jerry Piro, the former Redwood High flash who led the Giants to the Tournament of Champions in Oakland last year.

In a chat with Coach Williams the other day, I was told: "Jerry is one of the finest young men I have ever met. He reminds me of our great guard, Kevin Eagleson, of the last three years, both with his play on the court and his maturity and good manners away from the game. He is a very intelligent player with good leadership qualities."

Equally fond of the freshman business major at Santa Clara is his freshman coach, Joe Meagher, who added: "Jerry is very tough mentally and is strong defensively; he can control the tempo of the game, which is a tremendous asset."

Piro is a 6 foot, 2 inch guard and captain of the Bronco frosh. He leads the bronco yearlings in scoring with a 15-point per game average. The Corte Madera resident has approximately a 40.5 per cent field goal average and 82 pct. from the foul line. He also leads the team in assists and steals and from the way the coaches talk I also think he sweeps out the gym, sells tickets and drives the team bus.

Piro was directly responsible for Santa Clara's 69-66 upset victory over University of Pacific at Stockton earlier this season. He scored 20 points and held Pacific's highly-touted John Errecart to just three field goals.

Gosh, it's fun to be in the Sports Department and be able to write such fine things about the fine young men in this world.

BOY OF THE YEAR AND FRIEND

Thirteen-year-old Nate Coleman Jr. (left) last night was named the Marin City Boys' Club's "Boy of the Year," and former San Francisco 49er great R.C. Owens presented the trophy to him at a dinner at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley. Nate, one of seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Nate Coleman Sr., is an eighth grader at Martin Luther King School in Sausalito.

MARK FRIDAY, Feb. 5 on your calendar. That's the date for the sixth annual Marin County Hall of fame and Hot Stove League funfest at Mt. Carmel Auditorium in Mill Valley.

In the past the event, sponsored by the Knights of Columbus of Southern Marin, has honored such outstanding Marin sports products as Walter Mails, Tony Freitas, Sam Chapman, Charley "Buster" Wensloff, Perry Schwartz, Joe DeMaestri, Art Schallock, Mat Palacio Jr. and Claude Capley.

This year some of our outstanding high school and college coaches will be cited. Among the nominees this year are James Langdon, formerly of Tamalpais High; George Gustafson, also Tam; Frank "Ninny" Quinn of San Anselmo; Paul A. Miller of San Rafael High School and Robert J. Troppmann of Redwood High.

More nominees for the Hall will be added and I'll try to keep you up on this worthy project which aids the "Marin Aid to Retarded Children."

GIRL WATCHERS, ATTENTION: There will be more than 200 cutie pies in the Novato High School gym tomorrow starting at 9:15 a.m., for an all-day Marin County Athletic League girls' gymnastics championship, according to meet director Margaret Schaulis. Guess where I'll be tomorrow with my camera? Heck, I might even put some film in it.

Ole Miss' Vaught Era Ends

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—The final gun has sounded for the Vaught era of Ole Miss football.

After nearly a quarter-century at the helm, John Howard Vaught—acting on his doctor's advice — stepped won Thursday as head coach of the Mississippi Rebels to close one of the most successful coaching careers in modern gridiron history

Billy Kinard, an Arkansas assistant and one of Vaught's former players, was named to replace the 61-year-old Vaught, effective Feb. 1. "I'm following probably the greatest football coach, as far as I'm concerned, that ever coached," said Kinard.

University of Mississippi officials also announced that Vaught's chief assistant, Frank "Bruiser" Kinard, Billy's older brother, would succeed retiring C.M. "Tad" Smith as athletic director.

The changes followed a wave of speculation and reports throughout the state that Vaught and Smith were stepping aside and the Kinards would succeed them.

Vaught, dean of Southeastern Conference football coaches, has built one of the nation's most respected football machines since coming to Ole Miss in 1946 as line coach. He was promoted to the head coaching job the following season.

At the time of his retirement, he had a winning record of 185-58-12 that was second only to Nebraska's Bob Devaney among active coaches. During Vaught's 24 years as head coach, only Oklahoma posted a better won-lost mark.

Dr. Porter Fortune, Ole Miss chancellor, said Vaught would remain at Ole Miss as "head coach emeritus" and assistant athletic director. "As his health improves, he will be able to work with our athletic program, especially in a public relations way," said Fortune.

Redwood, Tam Get Tuneups For Big One

The undefeated Redwood Giants and the once defeated Tamalpais Indians take on the Marin County Athletic League's two weakest teams as tuneups for their crucial meeting next Tuesday, but the other two games tonight should be dog-eat-dog affairs.

Tam, which Tuesday was knocked out of first place by Terra Linda, faces winless San Rafael at San Rafael, while Redwood hosts Drake in Larkspur. Barring any major upsets, both these affairs should be cakewalks.

San Marin is at Terra Linda, and Novato hosts Marin Catholic in the remaining games. The former will be a struggle between a high scoring offense (San Marin), and one of the top defenses in the league. The Trojans probably will be flying high after the Tam upset, and before a home crowd they will have the edge. A loss would all but eliminate the Mustangs from the league race.

Marin Catholic, which took San Marin Tuesday, will be favored to stop Novato, but not necessarily Joe DeMaestri. The league's top shooter has been shut off only once, by San Marin. The Wildcats of Kentfield seem to be settling down after losing to Tam and Redwood on successive nights last week.

All varsity games start at approximately 8 o'clock, following 6:45 p.m. junior varsity games.

In Bobsled Race Italians Favored

CERVINIA, Italy (UPI)—The Italians were installed as favorites Friday to win the 1971 world two-man bobsled championship, already overshadowed by death and danger for the 21 competing teams.

The Spanish team withdrew after its captain, 28-year-old Luis Lopez, was killed Thursday in a training run. Another member of the team was seriously injured.

Also out of action is the reigning world and European championship duo of Horst Floth and Pepi Bader. The two West Germans were injured in an earlier smashup.

Flags flew at half-mast in honor of Lopez, the second man to die on European bob courses this season and the second man to die in Cervinia in 12 months.

But officials said the competition would begin as scheduled Saturday.

Golfers Rip Away At Phoenix Course

Par Just Not Good Enough

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) —The guillotine falls today at the halfway mark in the 72-hole $125,000 Phoenix Open and it may fall on the necks of some guys who are under par.

This tournament, third PGA event of the year, got started with the proverbial bang Thursday. The big noise was par breaking all over the place.

Bob Lunn, Fred Marti and Don Massengale emerged from the pack with rounds of 64 and tied for first. They were seven under at the Arizona Country Club where par is 35-36—71.

Weather for the first day was just about ideal. There was little wind and temperatures were in the high 70s.

Out of the starting field of 144, 98 were under par. That may be an all-time record although official statistics are not kept in this department.

It may take a 36-hole score of 139, three under, to stay in contention for the last two rounds.

Last year the lowest cut was at 140, par for the course at the Memphis Classic.

The 64 shot by Mssrs. Lunn, Marti and Massengale was the lowest round of this year on the pro tour. Best previous was a 66 in the Glen Campbell Los Angeles Open and the Crosby Clambake.

Lunn, 25, is a genial Sacramento, Calif., husky who had over $100,000 in earnings last year and started this year by beating Billy Casper in aiplay-off at L.A. Marti and Massengale both Texans in their 30s, have been around quite a while but last year were 81 and 82 on the PGA money list, winning around $26,000.

Thirteen pros turned in 65s including Bruce Crampton, Dave Hill, Tom Weiskopf, Bill Garrett, George Archer and Paul Harney.

Defending champion Dale Douglass was in a group of 118 pros at 67, a mere four under.

Gene Littler who has won this tournament three times and set a 72-hole record of 263, 21 under par, in 1969, shot 66.

Littler's 18-hole course record of 62 may fall if the good weather holds—as predicted.

Arnold Palmer shot a first round 68 and said, "I felt like I was one over."

Deadpan Frank Beard told a questioner he shot par—66.

Dave Hill said some of the holes were "unbelievably easy... we were using the ladies' tees."

Seals Host Maple Leafs

OAKLAND (UPI) —It's just the California Golden Seals' luck that they catch the hottest team in the National Hockey League for their next opponent.

Coming into the Oakland Arena tonight will be the Toronto Maple Leafs, who have won 15 and tied two in the last 20 games. The sizzling pace has carried the Leafs from sixth place in the Eastern Division to fourth.

It was only a few weeks ago that the Leafs and expansion Vancouver Canucks were entangled in a survival battle for the last playoff spot. But since the spree, Toronto has pulled ahead by 13 points.

The Seals, plagued by injuries that have trimmed the roster to under the player limit, will welcome back defenseman Wayne Muloin, left wing Gary Croteau and center Mike Laughton for the Toronto encounter. The latter, however, is expected to see only a limited amount of duty.

California, last in the Western Division, has a 13-29-3 record and trails sixth-place Los Angeles by five points.

ASHE LATEST VICTIM

Laver Extends His Win Streak

NEW YORK (UPI) —Australian Rod Laver has extended his mastery over Virginian Arthur Ashe to six straight matches, but the American ace may get a chance for revenge next week because of the "retirement" of his old mentor, ½-year-old Pancho Gonzalez.

Laver subdued Ashe, 7-5, 6-4, 7-5, to win his fifth consecutive $10,000 match in the $210,000 Tennis Champions Classic at Madison Square Garden Thursday night. That boosted the 32-year-old Aussie's lifetime record against Ashe to 6-0, but Ashe could get another crack at the red-haired left-hander next Thursday night at the Garden since the scheduled challenger, Gonzalez, has asked from his Los Angeles home to be released from the tournament.

Mike Davies — executive director of World Championship Tennis, which has Pancho and 31 other pros under contract — said here last night that Gonzalez "has requested to be withdrawn from all major tennis competition during 1971." Davies cited "lack of competitive condition and business pressures" as reasons for the withdrawal request.

Gonzalez, who retired for nearly a year in 1965-66 and announced his intention to do so again late in 1969, was scheduled to enter the six-city, head-to-head Classic tour next Thursday, playing the winner of a $10,000 match Saturday in Detroit between Laver and Dutchman Tom Okker.

Now the winner's opponent will be determined by a Detroit "qualifying match" pairing Ashe against Aussie Ken Rosewall.

Rosewall was a straight sets loser to Laver three weeks ago in the inaugural match of the 1971 Classic, a nine-man "knockout event in which the winner keeps going until beaten. Laver went on to win tough five-setters from Aussies John Newcombe in Rochester and Tony Roche in Philadelphia, then vanquished countryman Roy Emerson in straight sets in Philadelphia last weekend.

By adding Ashe to the list, "Rocket Rod" increased his Classic earnings thus far to $50,000 —nearly one quarter of the record total prize money of $201,953 which he earned last year.

Rec Basketball

In four San Rafael adult basketball games played last night, Southern Marin Towing beat the Kennel Extraordinaire, 44-31, Dornbach Painting knocked off Cal's Steakhouse, 57-41, The Centaurs beat Pinky's 55-37 and the Harding Gophers edged the Don Rumpf Golf Shop, 43-31.

It's Now An Easy Job For 49er Ticket Man

A midweek telephone call to Pete Giannini disclosed that the ticket manager of the 49ers had taken the rest of the week off. Lou Spadia explained that Giannini wasn't playing hookey. "He's earned the time off," said the president of the 49ers.

SPADIA WAS in an expansive mood. It was understandable. Giannini had just given the football club president a report on 49er season ticket sales for 1971. They had topped 36,000, up 15,000 from the 21,000 regulars who have been on Giannini's season list for a number of years.

All of the 1971 tickets bore Candlestick Park imprints, something Giannini has been dreaming of ever since Candlestick was opened in 1960. When the 49ers move into Candlestick next fall, Giannini is confident he won't have a ticket to sell. In fact, he may be sold out on a season basis before the 49ers go to summer camp this year since Candlestick capacity, even with installation of new stands, will be under 50,000, perhaps just a smidge above 45,000.

IF THE 49ers continue playing football as they did during their Silver Anniversary year of 1970, Giannini's job should be a pushover even when Candlestick's seating capacity is increased to 60,000 in the next three years.

Giannini's job was anything but a pushover these past years. He didn't mind the unenviable task of explaining to loyal 49er fans why there weren't enough between-the-goal-line seats to satisfy all of them. He would just show them a seating chart of Kezar Stadium which had only 15,000 good seats between goal lines.

WHAT GIANNINI did not get upset about was the way football fans annually turned his ticket office into a complaint department — about parking or more accuratly lack of parking around Kezar.

Still, Giannini never blew hit top. "It will be different when we get into Candlestick," he would say. "There's an adequate parking lot there."

GIANNINI EVEN would patiently explain how there once were vacant lots reasonably close to Kezar for adequate parking. "Now there are apartment houses on those lots," he would point out.

To his friends, Giannini would say: "Selling tickets is one thing. That's my job. Parking isn't my problem. It's embarrassing trying to explain the parking problem to our season ticket holders. Naturally, they would like better parking accommodations."

THERE IS no doubt that parking around Kezar frayed the nerves of many football fans. They had to do considerable footwork to and from the stadium. But the dispersed nature of Kezar parking did have one plus factor — a reasonably fast getaway after the game. There was no concentration of cars in one big lot at Kezar.

IT WILL be different at Candlestick where the parking lot is capable of handling 8,200 cars. Emptying that lot in orderly fashion will take time, especially in view of the fact there are only two exit streets at present.

Maybe Giannini hasn't heard the last about parking from his 49er season ticket customers.

Lombardi Trophy — Stillwagon

HOUSTON (UPI) — Three weeks ago Jim Stillwagon never even heard of the Vince Lombardi trophy. Today the Ohio State star is recipient of the 45-pound block of granite given to the nation's top collegiate lineman.

And, of course, Stillwagon thinks the trophy is the greatest thing that has ever happened to him outside of the last regularly scheduled college game of his career.

"I was really surprised to win," Stillwagon said. "I was in Hawaii for the Hula Bowl when they notified me I was among the four finalists for the trophy. At that time I had never heard of the trophy before."

But all that is different now.

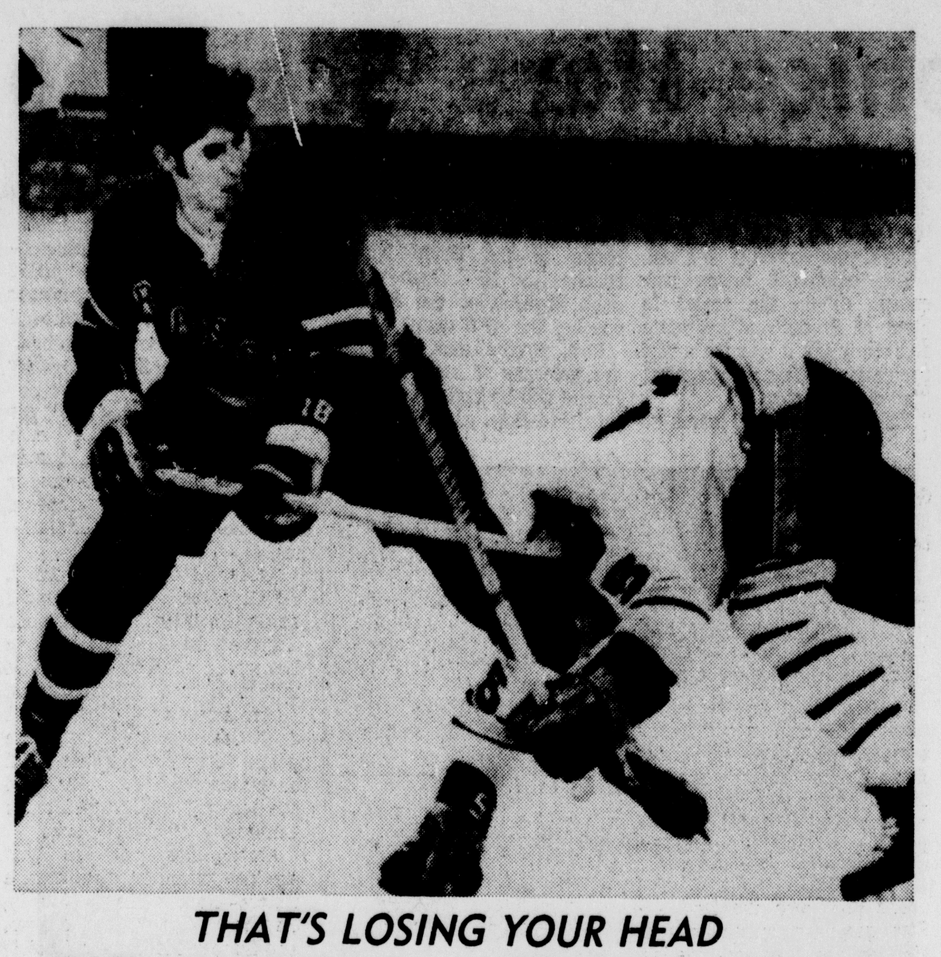
"This is the greatest award because of what it stood for," Stillwagon said.

The Ohio State middle linebacker said he never met Lombardi but his coach at OSU, Woody Hayes, talked about Lombardi all the time. Stillwagon also said he learned something about the late coach by reading part of Jerry Kramer's book "Instant Replay," which deals with Lombardi and the Green Bay Packers.

Stillwagon is also the winner of the 1970 Outland Trophy

During his three-year college football career, the public recreation major played with a class that graduated with a 27-2 record. They went undefeated (9-0) in 1968 and beat an O.J. Simpson Southern Cal team in the Rose Bowl, lost only to Michigan in 1969 and finished 8-1 and then had a 9-0 regular season mark in 1970 but lost to Stanford in the latest Rose Bowl.

Stillwagon thinks the shining moment of his football days came in last season's revenge win over Michigan which gave the Buckeyes the Big 10 title and the Rose Bowl berth. Stillwagon was credited with 14 tackles in the game.



THAT'S LOSING YOUR HEAD

Wal Tkaczuk of the New York Rangers (18), used his stick to part the hair of Buffalo's Doug Barrie last night in a National Hockey League game in Buffalo. But Barrie, who was attempting a body check when Tkaczuk slammed him, escaped injury, and the infraction escaped detection by the refs. The game ended in a 5-5 tie.

Washington Gridders Deny Racism Charge

SEATTLE (UPI) —Members of the 1970 University of Washington football team have denied charges of racism by coach Jim Owens and urged that such charges be detailed.

Representatives of the squad including Indian quarterback Sonny Sixkiller unanimously rejected the charges against Owens and the athletic department at a news conference Thursday.

"We can no longer remain silent and be misrepresented in the media," said senior defensive back Bob Burmeister.

"It is to the point where our silence is being received as an advocation of the charges of racism against Coach Owens, his staff and the department of sports programs.

"Our silence, until now, has been merely to check the polarity instigated by vague statements expressed through the media. As members of the 1970 football team we emphatically refute the charges of racism against coach Owens and Dr. (Joseph) Kearney.

Kearney is director of sports programs.

"The charges of racism should be made specific so we know what we are talking about."

Herman Houston, flanker and one of four blacks who quit the team last season joined reporters in questioning the panel of eight whites and Sixkiller.

"If the white players say there isn't racism . . . and the black players say there is, where do we go from here?" he asked.

No specific charges have ever been made but a special human rights commission which investigated the charges has said it will make its report public soon.

The school's board of regents ordered the hiring of a black assistant football coach and a black assistant sports director.

Ray Jackson, former Washington fullback, was named to the coaching job. Donald K. Smith, former sports writer and currently a press relations supervisor with American Telephone and Telegraph in New York, will assume his post as assistant sports director in about a month.

The school's newspaper, the University of Washington Daily, earlier this week called for the dismissal of Owens in a front page editorial.

A coalition of about 40 black Seattle organizations has demanded the dismissal of Owens and Kearney.

Smith maintains communication, not firing of the two men, is what is needed.

Coast Schools Form Frosh Football Loop

DAVIS (UPI) —Three Far Western Conference schools have joined the University of Santa Clara to form the California Freshman Football Conference.

The four-team league is made up of San Francisco State, Sacramento State, U. C. Davis and the Broncos. Play will begin in 1971 with a double round-robin schedule.

Warriors Vs. Lakers; Top Spot At Stake

The San Francisco Warriors, winners of four straight National Basketball Association games, can move into a tie for the Western Division lead tonight when they meet the front-running Los Angeles Lakers at Inglewood.

But the Warriors, whose last win came Tuesday night against Cincinnati, may be "too rested", according to coach Al Attles, and he said yesterday "I'm afraid we'll lose our edge. We just had a rest last week (because of the All-Star game). You don't want to get too much rest."

In two previous meetings this season, the California teams have split, each winning at home. The Warriors won, 92-88, and then lost, 123-101.

Hanner Moves Up

GREEN BAY, WISC. (UPI)— Dave Hanner, an assistant coach and scout for the Green Bay Packers the past few years, Thursday was named defensive line coach of the professional football club by new head coach Dan Devine.

Traffic Relief For Candlestick

SAN DIEGO (UPI) —The California Highway Commission Thursday approved a project to relieve traffic congestion caused by sporting events at Candlestick Park in San Francisco.

The $850,000 project included construction of southbound on-and-off ramps on the Bayshore Freeway at the San Francisco-San Mateo County line and an undercrossing linking these ramps with Harney Lane east of the freeway. San Francisco will contribute $150,000 of the cost.

Football

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Los Angeles Rams quarterback Roman Gabriel will enter St. John's Hospital in Santa Monica Feb. 3 to undergo knee surgery.

The star passer hurt his knee in a pre-season game but played for the full season. The operation on his right knee will be for removal of cartilage, a Ram spokesman said, and Gabriel will be hospitalized for three or four days.

Baseball

CLEVELAND (UPI) —Tony Horton, the Cleveland Indians first baseman who has been hospitalized since last August with an emotional illness, is expected to miss most if not all of the 1971 season.

"I don't think there's any way possible for Tony to play baseball for us in the coming season," said Indians manager Alvin Dark Thursday. "I've talked with his father recently and from all reports I get, I don't see how he can be ready this season."

Basketball

ATLANTA (UPI) — Sidney Wicks' sensational play in moving UCLA toward its fifth consecutive NCAA basketball title today earned the 6-8 forward the January "Player of the Month" designation in candidate voting for the Naismith Trophy.

The Naismith Trophy is presented annually to the nation's outstanding college basketball player at the end of the season after balloting by the nation's sports writers and broadcasters.

Tennis

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)— Top-seeded Mrs. Billie Jean King and No. 2 seed Rosemary Casals scored easy victories Thursday to advance to the quarterfinals in the Virginia Slims Women's Professional Tennis Tournament here.

Mrs. King, of Long Beach, Calif., scored a 6-1, 6-3 victory over Kerry Melville of Australia and Miss Casals, San Francisco, eliminated Esme Emanuel of South Africa 6-2, 6-2 in second-round matches of the $12,500 tourney.

Bowling

Asher, leader since the 11th annual event began Wednesday, triggered one of the 300s—the third of his career—in his second game of the day's second round.

CHICAGO (UPI) — Nelson Burton Jr. was named on 100 of 104 ballots, including 61 first place votes, to be named 1970 Bowler of the Year by the Bowling Writers' Association Friday.

UCLA Gets Stiff Test On Weekend

By United Press International

Is this year's UCLA basketball team really all that good?

The answer to whether the Bruins have the stuff to shoot for a fifth straight national title may be known by Saturday night, since the old demon schedule maker has given the Bruins their toughest test of the campaign tonight and Saturday.

The nationally top-rated and unbeaten Bruins call on Loyola of Chicago tonight and then have to play at Notre Dame Saturday afternoon in a game matching Sidney Wicks of UCLA and Austin Carr of the Irish, possibly the nation's two best college performers.

Action is scattered on the cage front tonight, since it's finals time at many schools. But Pepperdine meets Chico State and USF battles San Francisco State in two non-league tests for West Coast Athletic Conference squads.

Thursday night's heaviest encounter took place at Seattle, where the Chiefs won their biggest victory of the season in edging national powerhouse Weber State. Willie Sojourner of the Wildcats scored 25 but Seattle balance paid off, as five Chief performers hit in double figures.

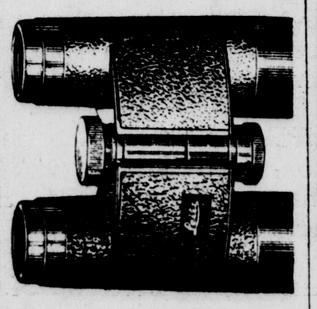
HOWDY!

A Totally New Concept . . .



Leitz Trinovid Binoculars

Creators of the world-famous Leica camera have perfected a new prism system that dramatically reduces binocular size and weight. It's the first truly significant binocular advancement in over fifty years. The all new Trinovid 7x35 has an amazing 450-foot-wide panoramic viewing field at 1000 yards. The 8x32 and even the 10x40 Trinovids are more compact than conventional binoculars of much lower power. And all the new Trinovid models — have fast-action central focusing, are hermetically sealed, dustproof and weatherproof.

Shellfish Beds Periled By Oil

By AL GIDDINGS

The oil spill in San Francisco Bay which eventually stretched from Tiburon and the Angel Island areas all the way down to Pacifica along the coast and to Bolinas, Duxberry Reef and parts of the Pt. Reyes National Seashore Beaches to the north could have far reaching ill effects on the clams, abalone and the other shellfish of the area.

It will take some time to really assess the overall damages. I thought most of the damage at first would be to the inner San Francisco Bay, but in taking a survey, the oil also hit the abalone, clam and cockle beds off the Slide Ranch near Muir Beach and also from Duxberry Reef north to the Double Point area.

Cockles and other aquatic forms of life abound on Duxberry Reef. Razor clams are found at Stinson Beach. Bolinas Lagoon has Gaper, Washington, and cockle clams in abundant numbers in the tidal flats there. Oil was noted in all these areas.

ASIDE FROM the injury to the birds which is so apparent, especially to the cormorants, grebes, loons and scoters, much of the food chain of these birds will show harmful effects.

The volunteers who did loads and loads of work in the cleanup deserve a great deal of thanks from all. All of the officials and even the paid work crews couldn't have made it without the horde of youthful volunteers.

Beards! They were everywhere to be seen. I think the bearded ones with their girls far outnumbered the rest of us. Anyway, the cooperative efforts were something to see, and certainly will pay off.

Just before the oil disaster, the Department of Fish and Game, following a comprehensive study, recommended the maintenance and enhancement of the natural resources of Bolinas Lagoon. Bolinas Lagoon consists of 1,400 acres of shallow salt water, tidal mudflats and sandbars. The lagoon, in spite of pollution and natural filling processes, was still one of the richest and least disturbed tideland areas of the California coast, according to the report.

AT THE time, G. Ray Arnett, Dept. of Fish and Game Director, said, "The report is intended as a guide for all people and administrators interested in the use of estuarine lands and waters. These coastal resources are of extreme ecological importance and the people of the state should carefully consider the consequences of incompatible uses. It is important to remember that more than 60 per cent of the state's original tidal mudflats and marshlands have already succumbed to the bulldozers and the dredge. It would be tragic if Bolinas Lagoon were to suffer the same fate."

CALIFORNIA'S 1970-71 upland game hunting seasons still open in some areas (check the hunting regulations) for quail, chukar, tree squirrels and rabbits all close Sunday, Jan. 31. The season on black sea brant closes Feb. 21. That will wind up most hunting except for the all-year mountain lion, wild pig and jack rabbit season.

Unitas' Wife Suing Him For Divorce

TOWSON, Md. (UPI) — The wife of Baltimore Colts quarterback John Unitas has begun legal proceedings which will end her 16-year marriage to the $100,000 a year signal caller of the Super Bowl champions.

Citing adultery as grounds for divorce, Mrs. Dorothy Unitas said in a petition filed Thursday in Baltimore County Circuit Court there is no hope of reconciliation.

The petition seeks separate maintenance for Mrs. Unitas and the couple's five children—the first step in Maryland divorce proceedings. Unitas, 37, has until Feb. 16 to file a reply.

The children range in age from three to 15.

The Unitases met in high school and were married in Pittsburgh in 1954 when Unitas was playing football at the University of Louisville.

Unitas played one season of sandlot football at $6 a game in Pittsburgh before coming to Baltimore in 1956. He was the starting quarterback when the Colts won pro-football championships in 1958, and 1959 and last Sunday when the Colts topped Dallas 16-13 in the Super Bowl. Unitas was injured in the second quarter and did not play the rest of that game.

He has two years to go on his $100,000 playing contract, and has agreed to stay with the Colts in an undetermined front office position for ten more years.

Flyers Get Schock

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The Philadelphia Flyers of the National Hockey League Thursday acquired center Danny Schock from the Boston Bruins in return for a player to be named later. Schock has no goals in five games this season.

Eastern All-Stars Favored

GREENSBORO, N. C. (UPI) —The smaller, quicker East, boasting five of the top six scorers in the American Basketball Association, is favored to end the West's victory streak at two in the fourth annual ABA All-Star game Saturday.

The game in the 15,000-seat Greensboro Coliseum will be televised nationally by CBS-TV, beginning at 11:30 a.m. PST.

Dan Issel of Kentucky, a front-runner for rookie of the year honors, anchors the East offense and leads the league in scoring with a 28.8 average.

Mack Calvin of the Floridians, number two in the scoring race, Pittsburgh's John Brisker, who is third, and the other contender for rookie honors, Virginia's Charlie Scott in fourth, are all starters for Virginia coach Al Bianchi.

The East won the first All-Star game at Indianapolis in 1968, but the West took the last two.

Larry Jones, who scored an all-star record of 30 points in last year's game, is now with the Floridians and on the East squad but not as a starter.

Rounding out the starting five for the East is Joe Caldwell of Carolina, one of five former NBA players in the game.

Veteran Zelmo Beaty of Utah, also a former NBA star, anchors the West starting lineup and is one of four Utah players scheduled to perform for the defending champions for Star coach Bill Sharman.

Utah also placed Red Robbins and Glen Combs on the squad selected by sportswriters and sportscasters, and Sharman selected Ron Boone.

In addition to Beaty, the West starters include Larry Cannon of Denver, the league's fifth leading scorer with a 25.8 average, Don Freeman of Texas, and Bob Netolicky and Roger Brown of the 1970 league champion Indiana Pacers.

Rounding out the West squad are Mel Daniels of Indiana, Wendell Ladner, Steve Jones and Jimmy Jones, all of Memphis.

Bengston Rests In Hospital

GREEN BAY, Wis, (UPI)—Former Green Bay Packers Coach Phil Bengtson was reported doing fine at St. Vincent Hospital after stomach surgery.

Bengtson had part of his stomach removed a week ago in a move to alleviate an ulcer condition and he said he hoped to be released from the hospital shortly. He said he will recuperate at home for a few weeks before joining the San Diego Chargers.

Bengtson, who quit as Packers coach and general manager two days before Christmas, has been named defensive coordinator for the Chargers.

Weather Looks Bad For Rally

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (UPI)—The 40th Monte Carlo Auto Rally gets under way today with more than 250 crews battling over the first 3,430 mile stage of the seven day event across Europe.

A new storm over the French Alps Thursday dumped more than a foot of fresh snow on the already icy roads north of here and roads were reported "deteriorating rapidly." Organizers said several of the special sections might have to be rerouted because of the heavy snowfall.

Mild weather over the past few years has given the first stage of the Monte the reputation of being "a milk run" but conditions this year appear so tough only half the starters may get to see the Mediterranean.

Conditions have made the choice of one of the 10 starting cities even more of a gamble. Porsche, the defending champion with a three year winning record, has chosen Warsaw. The six factory Alpine Renaults of France may have the easiest run, however, from Marrakesh, Morocco.

Last year's two top drivers Harry Kallstrom of Sweden and Simo Lampinen of Finland start out early Saturday morning from Athens but could find the going hard in Yugoslavia where some routes were reported blocked by snow.

Other starting points include Almeira, Spain, Oslo, Glasgow, Frankfurt, Rheims, Bucharest, and Monte Carlo itself. Ironically, the 35 crews starting out from here could have the toughest task of all to make it back again because they have to tackle the snowy Alpine section twice.

Stanford Coach Gets New Job

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (UPI)—Ed Peasley, an assistant coach at Stanford University, was appointed head football coach at Northern Arizona University Thursday night.

Peasley's appointment, subject to approval of the State Board of Regents, was unanimously confirmed by a nine-member selection committee.

Peasley will succeed John Symank, who resigned Dec. 28 to become head coach at the University of Texas at Arlington.

Peasley, 36, had been a defensive coordinator specializing in linebackers the past four seasons at Stanford. Before moving to Stanford in 1966, he had been with the University of Washington.

He joined the Washington football staff as a student assistant in 1960 when he graduated with a bachelor of arts degree in education and became a full-time staff member the following year.

ALL-AMERICAN GAMES IN S.F.

Jim Ryun To Begin His Comeback

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — With an eye on the 1972 Olympics, world record holder Jim Ryun begins his comeback tonight in the indoor All-American Games at the Cow Palace.

He hasn't run competitively since quitting in the AAU mile in Miami in June 1969. But in recent months the newspaper photographer from Topeka, Kan. has been in serious training.

Holder of the mile record at 3:51.1, Ryun has set personal goals for his comeback. He achieved the first one in early December when he ran a 4:04 mile in a time trial in Kansas.

"If, after a few months, I don't feel I'm reaching these goals I've set, then I'll announce my retirement, said the lanky 23-year-old former University of Kansas ace.

Among those opposing Ryun are two young sub-four-minute milers—Rick Riley (3:59.2), Pacific-8 Conference champ, and Duncan MacDonald (3:59.6) of Stanford.

Joining Ryun will be such world-class competitors as shotputter Randy Matson, pole vaulter Bob Seagren, quartermiler Lee Evans, hurdler Willie Davenport and sprinters Don Quarrie of USC and Jamaica, NCAA 100-yard champion Eddie Hart of California, Willie Turner of Oregon State and Ronnie Ray Smith of San Jose State.

George Young, the Arizona school teacher returning to competition after a two-year layoff, is trying to keep alive an unbeaten streak extending over two racing seasons. He and Kerry Pearce of Australia share the indoor world record of 8:27.2 in the two-mile.

Young and Pearce join Frank Shorter and Gerry Lindgren in the two-mile at the eighth annual track meet sponsored by the San Francisco Examiner.

Matson, the burly Texan, tied the world indoor record with a 67-10 heave last week and figures he can surpass it tonight. Challenging him will be Al Feuerbach who had a 67-8 1-2 throw behind Matson last week.

Seagren will have stiff competition from Frenchman Francois Tracanelli, the European junior champion with a 17-8 1-2 best, in his drive to surpass the world indoor height of 17-7.

Tomales Boosters Slate Cage Game

With another classic battle expected, members of the Tomales High School Boosters Club will compete in a North-South basketball game Jan. 30, 8 p.m., in Tomales High's gymnasium.

The South, with men from the Marshall and Point Reyes area, edged the North, represented by Bodega Bay and Valley Ford areas, 58-56 in triple overtime.

Cost for the game, with proceeds going to pay for a new gym at the high school, is $1.25 for adults, 50 cents for student body card holders and 75 cents for students without cards.

Robert Musel, our man in London, seems to have a mortgage on everything that happens of great moment in Britain's mother city. Which means not much will happen which you, in turn, won't know about by reading the I-J.

As UPI's senior editor there he has covered three wars. He was one of the first World War II correspondents to ride into combat with fighter pilots. He came under fire in two Arab-Israeli wars.

Inquisitive, aggressive, Musel has reported from every European country and most of the Middle East and Africa. He covered the German blitz of London in World War II, war crimes trials at Darmstadt, the Berlin airlift, the death of King George, the coronation of Queen Elizabeth. He has interviewed George Bernard Shaw and Albert Einstein, even the stripteasers of the Folies Bergere.

A confidante of entertainment personalities, Musel is also a top song writer. His "Band of Gold" ballad sold over one million records, and he did the background music of "To Paris With Love," starring Alex Guinness.

Today is Friday, Jan. 22, the 22nd day of 1971.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Mars, Jupiter and Venus. The evening star is Saturn.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Aquarius.

British poet Lord Byron was born Jan. 22, 1788.

On this day in history:

In 1789 the first American novel, "The Power of Sympathy," by Sarah Morton, was published in Boston.

In 1952 former Secretary of War Robert Patterson was among 29 persons killed when an airliner crashed into a row of apartment houses in Elizabeth, N.J.

In 1963 French President De Gaulle and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer signed a treaty pledging cooperation in foreign policy defense and cultural affairs.

A thought for today: British scientist Havelock Ellis said, "A man must not swallow more beliefs than he can digest."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Attempt At Diamond Trick Is Silly And Also Very Costly

"Nothing has changed," Sherlock Holmes remarked to Dr. Watson as they watched the play of the hand shown today. "We saw some pretty fruity bridge in the United States when we weren't busy advising Billy Wilder on his movie about us, but the bridge here really takes the cake." And the great detective moved toward the door of the Baker Street Bridge Club. The good doctor followed, wondering what his friend was complaining about. The play of the hand seemed quite reasonable to him.

Opening lead – ♠ Q

WITH KING

South won the first trick with the king of spades and led the deuce of diamonds hoping that both opponents would refuse the trick. East won with the ace of diamonds and returned a spade to the ace.

Now declarer tried a finesse with the jack of hearts as his second (and principal) attempt to get a ninth trick. East won with the queen of hearts and led another spade, whereupon West took three spades and the king of diamonds to collect a penalty of 200 points.

Dr. Watson agreed with South that the hand really depended on the heart finesse. What on earth was Holmes so irritable about?

DOUBLE CHANCE

South had two chances for the contract, but the attempt to make a diamond trick was just silly. Both real chances were in hearts. South would make his contract if West had the queen of hearts, but there was no need to rely entirely on this. There was also the chance that West had the ten of hearts.

After winning the first trick with the king of spades, South should lead the eight of hearts and let it ride as a finesse. As the cards lie, East must win with the queen of hearts; and dummy's jack of hearts becomes good for the ninth trick.

VICTORIOUS WAY

If East were able to take the first heart trick with the ten, South could regain the lead and try a finesse with dummy's jack of hearts. He would make his contract if West held either the ten or the queen of hearts.

THE WEEK'S BUSINESS

G.E. Forecasts Good 1970 Report

A preliminary unaudited report from General Electric Co. indicates that this company will show earnings of approximately $3.60 per share for 1970 and sales will be $280 million above those of 1969.

Sales figures for 1970 are estimated at $8,728 million, resulting from a strong fourth quarter.

General Electric's economists predict a good year for 1971.

REYNOLDS METALS CO. net sales for last year were $1,035 million, slightly above the $1,012 recorded in 1969, but net profit dropped to $46 million or $2.51 per share from $55 million or $3.08 per share in 1969. Total shipments for the year were 1,072 million tons, down from 1,108 million tons in 1969.

TRANS WORLD AIRLINES preliminary unaudited results for 1970 show a net loss of $63.9 million or $6.43 per share, compared with earnings of $19.8 million or $1.63 per share in 1969. The company is now restricted by covenants in its senior note agreement from declaring dividends on either common or preferred stock and the regular quarterly dividend on preferred stock has been omitted.

PERINI CORP. president Louis Perini Jr., a resident of Marin County about 10 years ago, has resigned in order to live and work in south Florida where he hopes to establish his own business. His father Louis R. Perini, chairman of the board and chief executive officer, has been elected to resume the presidency.

COMMERCE CLEARING HOUSE, INC. directors have voted to split the company's stock on a three-for-two basis through a 50-per cent distribution of additional $1 par value common stock. A 10-cent cash dividend for the first quarter of 1971 will be declared prior to the stock distribution. Commerce Clearing House's western regional office will be moved from San Francisco to Northgate in Marin this year.

EX-CELL-O CORP. has announced sales and operating revenues for 1970 at $356.9 million a decline of over $1 million from 1969 figures. Net earnings after taxes were $15.3 million, compared with $22.2 million in 1969. Per share earnings dropped to $1.82 from $2.63.

SANTA FE LAND IMPROVEMENT CO. has released plans for a major, four-department store regional shopping center adjacent to the Berkeley Marina. Developers are Ernest W. Hahn, Inc. and Newman Properties both based in Hayward. To be known as Park Marina, it will be located on an undeveloped 90-acre landfill site at University Avenue and the Eastshore Freeway.

HY-LOND ENTERPRISES of Sonoma has announced net income, after provision for taxes, of $187,785 for its first quarter ended Sept. 30, approximately six cents per share. Gross revenues amounted to $1,922,881 before taking into account certain extraordinary items.

PACIFIC FAR EAST LINE, INC. has received government approval to purchase the South Pacific passenger and freight services of Matson Navigation Co. The Pacific Far East Line flag was to be officially raised aboard the Mariposa prior to its sailing today from San Francisco to the South Seas.

VARIAN ASSOCIATES of Palo Alto is purchasing the vacuum equipment division of Norton Co. Facilities are located in Sunnyvale and also in Newton, Mass. The division's 1970 sales were approximately $10 million. It employs about 350 people.

KAISER TRADING CO., Oakland has acquired the business assets of Jack Hilton (Metals) Pty., Ltd., a leading Australian import-export firm. It will be operated as a wholly owned subsidiary of Kaiser.

Improvement Forecast For ELTRA During Year

By Roger E. Spear

Q. I am interested in your opinion of ELTRA Corp. I have shares at a cost of $26 and am wondering about the growth potential of this company. — I. M.

A. For the year ended September 30, 1970, ELTRA Corp. reported a 5 per cent decline in earnings on a 10.5 per cent increase in sales. This represents the first year-to-year decline in the firm's profits since the present company was formed in 1963, as the result of the merger of Electric Autolite into Mergenthaler Linotype. ELTRA experienced two sluggish quarters during 1970 — March and June — due to the trucking strike, high costs of introducing new equipment in the Mergenthaler division, and plant opening and moving expenses. However, some improvement was felt in the final 1970 period; and ELTRA came up with an 11.1 per cent earnings gain and an 11.4 percent sales increase. This uptrend is expected to continue into 1971. Many technologically improved systems have been and will be introduced which should generate substantial demand. And continued success is anticipated for the company's photocomposing systems, the Linotron lines, and the low-priced phototypesetter. Rising sales are also forecast for the automotive sector (32 per cent of sales). Hold shares for further growth.

Q. Could you give me your opinion on Carousel Fashions bought at 13¾? — W. L.

A. Although sales of this wig maker have risen steadily since company's founding in 1965, earnings have fluctuated. For the fiscal nine months ended Oct. 31, 1970, sales gained 43 per cent to $12.9 million, while earnings dropped 36 per cent to 65 cents a share. The decline in profits, according to management, reflected industrywide competitive price cutting. Carousel's 4 distinct style lines are aimed at the popular price market and 60 per cent are sold through 13 customers (distributors, leased department operators and retail chains). Finances are strong. On Jan. 31, 1970, cash items alone exceeded current liabilities by 30 per cent and long term debt was $24,170. Of the 1.4 million common shares outstanding 56 per cent are owned by IHC. While competitive conditions may continue, Carousel's product acceptance should help margins.

Market Is Gaining Near Close

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market headed for another strong close today under the impetus of lower interest rates and belief that president Nixon is fully committed to getting the economy rolling again. Trading was heavy.

Standard & Poor's 500 stock index showed a gain of 0.65 at 94.84. of the 1,654 issues crossing the tape, 895 pointed higher, while 466 retreated.

A four-hour turnover of 15,560,000 shares compared with 13,730,000 shares traded at a comparable period yesterday.

Among the most active big board issues were Trans World Airlines, which traded a 100,000-share block at 16⅜, up ⅝, Sperry Rand, and Avnet.

General Electric continued to attract demand after spurting 3¾ points yesterday. G.E. said the fourth quarter of 1970 will be the best for any quarter in its history, and also painted an encouraging picture for 1971.

Chemicals and rails showed scattered strength, while steels, motors, oils, airlines, aircrafts and conglomerates generally traded in narrow ranges.

Prices were firm in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Stock Split

CHICAGO (UPI) — Directors of Fred S. James & Co. have approved a 2-for-1 stock split distributed as a 100 per cent stock dividend. The company said the dividend would be paid Feb. 15 to stockholders of record Feb. 1.

Redwood Bank Shows Big Net

Redwood Bank's 1970 net income increased 112 per cent, to $1.02 a share, from 48 cents a share a year earlier.

Deposits increased 27 per cent to $31,553,900 on Dec. 31 versus $24,825,500 at year end 1969. Total resources of the bank climbed to $36,465,500 from $29,383,800 at year end 1969.

Real estate loans serviced by Redwood's mortgage banking division increased 160 per cent during 1970. Total real estate loan servicing volume stood at $36,974,200 as compared to a 1969 year end total of $14,276,900.

Wheat Talks May Send Prices Up

GENEVA (UPI) — The world's leading producers and consumers of wheat have began talks on a new international wheat agreement expected to lead to higher bread prices.

The present accord, worked out in 1967, expires June 30. The talks should continue through most of next month.

Officials of the United Conference on Trade and Development and the International Wheat Council said that since surplus stocks and production are declining, a higher price range is anticipated under the projected new agreement.

Approve Plan

BOSTON (UPI) — Stockholders of the USM Corp. have approved the initial phase of a previously announced plan to divest its shoe machinery unit. The divestiture was ordered by the courts.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER J. WIKEL

Refund? Yes, The Sooner You File The Sooner You Get It

How soon can I get my refund?

The sooner you file, the sooner you get the refund.

In a news release dated June 1970, addressed to Tax Practitioners, the IRS said:

"Within ten weeks after filing a refund return, a taxpayer should have received either the refund or a letter stating why the refund is being delayed. Usually, we cannot locate a specific return until ten to twelve weeks after its receipt. Therefore, we urge that taxpayers and practitioners wait until then to write the IRS about a missing refund. We also urge that, before writing, they examine the taxpayer's copy of the return for possible errors that might delay the refund. For instance, verify that the Social Security number was correctly stated, check the mathematical computation and compare the estimated tax credit with the actual payments made. In writing about a missing refund, please state the name, Social Security number, and address shown on the return, the approximate date the return was filed, and any error you have found on the copy of the return."

If you carefully fill in your return fully and completely and mail it early, you could have your refund in as little as three weeks. If you are unlucky, or do a sloppy job that require auditing before the refund can be paid, it could take several months, or even several years in extreme cases.

Interest is allowed on refunds from the date of overpayment to a date preceding the date of the refund check by not more than 30 days, except that no interest is allowed on a refund made within 45 days of the day the tax was due or the several installments thereof, determined without regard to any extension of time for filing the return.

The computer handles your federal income tax returns. Information about you and your returns is permanently stored on magnetic tape and reported income can be compared with data submitted by your employers and others.

Here are some hints which may help get your refund faster.

Use the preaddressed form. If you cannot use this form, peel off the address label and attach it to your form. If you cannot do this, make sure to list your complete name, address and Social Security number.

Check appropriate blocks showing your filing status, i.e., "single, married, filing joint return", etc.

Check appropriate blocks concerning your exemptions.

Attach wage forms W-2 to the back of form 1040 in the place indicated.

Write or print legibly, or type.

Show your name and Social Security number exactly as it appears on form 1040 on all schedules accompanying the return. If a joint return, use husband's number.

All applicable items of income, tax computation and deductions should be filled in on the return form and schedules.

If you use attachments to supplement information on the official forms, put the totals on the proper lines on the tax form 1040 schedule.

Be sure to sign your return. If you file a joint return, both husband and wife must sign, even if only one of you had income.

The IRS people are well trained and know their business, but they are not mind readers.

Be sure to fully explain every detail of your tax return on the return or on an attached statement so that Uncle Sam will understand exactly what you are doing.

Bill Is Seeking Young Members

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill adding persons between the ages of 18 and 21 to county and state Republican central committees has been introduced by Assemblyman Frank Murphy Jr., R-Santa Cruz.

Persons between 18 and 21 who were registered to vote in federal elections would be eligible for appointment to both committees.

The bill would require the elected members of county central committees to appoint one additional member from the age group for each supervisorial district. In Marin, this would mean appointment of five younger members to the county committee.

Murphy's bill was silent on appointments to Democratic central committees.

11 New Names On Senate Rolls

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate took in 11 new members yesterday and some of the names — Humphrey, Tunney, Stevenson, Taft, and Buckley — are already household words.

The bountiful freshman crop included a former vice-president and presidential candidate; seven former congressmen; and a former state treasurer.

Also included were the first member of the Conservative Party elected to the Senate and a man who walked his way to victory.

Three were sworn in after last year's elections and before the last Congress adjourned. They are Sens. Adlai E. Stevenson III, D-Ill., William V. Roth Jr., R-Del., and John V. Tunney, D-Calif. Except for a slight edge in seniority, they are considered rookies.

The first year class breaks down into six Republicans and five Democrats. They are:

—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., 59, 16-year veteran of the Senate ... former assistant Senate Democratic Leader ... former vice president ... 1968 Democratic presidential candidate ... still considered a possibility for the 1972 nomination.

—Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III, D-Ill., 40, son of two-time Democratic presidential nominee and ambassador to THE United Nations ... former Illinois state treasurer ... a certain member of Senate's liberal bloc.

—Sen. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, 53, son of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft and grandson of President William Howard Taft ... twice served in the House ... conservative supporter of administration policies.

—Sen. James L. Buckley, R-N.Y., 47, the first Conservative Party member elected ... brother of columnist William F. Buckley ... no previous elected office ... hopes to join Republican Senate caucus but retain special designation of Conservative-Republican.

—Sen. William Brock III, R-Tenn., 39, handpicked administration candidate ... four-term House member ... has almost solid conservative voting record.

—Sen. John V. Tunney, D-Calif., 36, son of former heavyweight boxing champion Gene Tunney ... three-term congressman ... Kennedy act-alike ... will join Senate's liberal wing.

—Sen. J. Glenn Beall Jr., R-Md., 42, takes over seat held by his late father one term ago ... a self-described "middle-of-the roader". . .served one term in the House.

—Sen. William V. Roth Jr., R-Del., 49 ... past president Delaware Young Republicans ... two-term House member ... congressman chiefly responsible for publication of a catalogue of federal domestic assistance programs.

—Sen. Lowell Weicker, R-Conn., 39, former selectman and state representative ... one term House member ... regarded as liberal Republican ... backed Nixon on war but voted for more liberal housing and education programs.

—Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., 49, a conservative who served six years in the House 1949-55 . . . regarded by administration as part of Nixon's idealogical majority . . . backed by former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

—Sen. Lawton Childs, D-Fla., 40, former state senator and state representative ... generally regarded as a conservative ... walked 1,003 miles across Florida en route to election.

Cash Taken

Burglars took $21 in cash and a radio from an office at Greenbrae School, 74 Eliseo Drive, Greenbrae, sometime last weekend, Marin County sheriff's deputies have reported.

Chamber In Support Of Land Idea

The Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce has joined town officials in a callfor master planning of tidelands in East Corte Madera.

At its morning meeting the chamber board approved forming a special committee to work with the town on planned development of the undeveloped properties adjacent to Highway 101, Barbara Packard, chamber secretary, said today.

She said the board, however, directed that the committee submit its findings and recommendations to the chamber prior to forwarding them to town officials.

The town council on Monday unanimously approved a study of the area and called for a halt to development until the area is master planned and the Golden Gate Bridge District decides where it will put its proposed Central Marin ferry terminal.

Warrant Issued In Car Theft Case

A bench warrant has been issued for Stephen Kent Solon, 26, of Larkspur, who is charged with stealing a car in Mill Valley Jan. 7.

Judge David Menary Jr. set bail on the warrant at $1,000 when Solon failed to appear for a preliminary hearing in Marin Municipal Court.
